COAL and WOOD

Order now or take a chance of being left in the cold when winter sets in. There is a shortage of coal at present and this will become more acute later on.

We are now taking orders for coal. Where buyers will take the fuel direct from the car themselves the cost will be considerably less. Where this cannot be done we will deliver.

Do not delay. Every agency, from the government down, is warning of a fuel famine this coming winter.

We also handle wood and can deliver on short notice.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO HELP EX-DOUGHBOYS

$15 PER MONTH BONUS BILL IS PASSED UNANIMOUSLY AT SESSION TUESDAY.

BILL GOES TO GOVERNOR

CLAIMS MAY BE FILED WITH CLERK OF COURT OR ADJUTANT GENERAL

The senate on Tuesday by a unanimous vote passed the House bill providing a bonus of $15 for each month of service for soldiers, sailors and marines who served the colors at some time between April 6, 1917 until November 11, 1918. The minimum bonus is $50.

The bonus bill was also unanimously passed in the house a few days previous and the bill now goes to Governor Burnquist for his signature.

The house bonus bill was ready for passage last Friday. The appropriation and military affairs committee gave it esteemed consideration again before the house convened, and adopted an amendment by Ralph Parker providing for the payment of the bonus to soldiers' widows. Some of the committee wanted to extend the payment to mothers and to dependent children. This was rejected on the ground that it involved probate proceedings and expense to the claimants.

The house bill provides for the immediate payment of the bonus in a lump sum. In this it gives the Minnesota service men an advantage over those in North Dakota, where the money is to be raised by a small tax levy and only $800,000 a year will be available. Minnesota will have the full $20,000,000 to give to the soldiers as soon as claims can be listed and the certificates sold, probably within three months.

Terms Defined.

"Soldiers," as defined in the act, will include enlisted men in the army, sailors, marines, nurses and officers. Each will receive $15 a month for each month spent in the service, with a minimum of $50. Claims may be filed either with the adjutant general or with the clerk of courts in the county where the soldier lives. The applications will be passed on by a board consisting of the adjutant general, state auditor and state treasurer, and when one is approved a voucher will be issued. The state auditor will accept this and issue a warrant on the state treasurer who will pay the claim by check.

The funds will be raised by issuing certificates of indebtedness for not more than $20,000,000, bearing five per cent interest and maturing in not more than 12 years. They are to be paid off by a tax levy at the rate of $2,000,000 a year.

Deduct Tuition Expense.

Money advanced by the state for tuition under the law passed last winter for returned service men will be deducted from the bonus. Those who claimed exemption as conscientious objectors or claim to be aliens and refused to perform military service are not entitled to the bonus.

CAPTURES THUGS AT POINT OF GUN

E. J. OLSON, FORMER PENNINGTON COUNTY MAN, PULLS GOOD ONE AT BIG FORK.

E. J. Olson, formerly residing northeast of Goodridge, now station agent at Margie, Koochiching county, captured three yeggmen at the point of a revolver on the depot platform last week, after he had been informed over the wire of a robbery in Big Fork the evening before.

The men had broken into the Charles Anderson hardware store and after rifling the cash register, began helping themselves to the stock of revolvers, jack-knives and compasses.

When it was discovered that the place had been entered, the wires in all directions running out of Bik Fork were kept hot in an attempt to locate the yeggmen.

The bandits came into Margie on a freight and loitered around the depot for the next train out, but before they could make their escape a message arrived for Agent Olson asking him to be on the lookout for the men. Suspicioning the men outside the depot, Olson went out and at the point of his revolver demanded their surrender. The authorities at Big Fork were notified and came to the scene immediately. The yeggs have confessed to the charge and are now awaiting a prison sentence.

LOST YOUR FORD? SHERIFF HAS ONE

MACHINE WITH LICENSE OFF IS PICKED UP ON THIRD STREET.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree is looking for the rightful owner of a Ford roadster picked up on Third street Monday morning in front of the Thief River cafe, where it had been standing for two days.

The sheriff has the machine incarcerated in the Borry garage to await the claimant. The machine is lacking a license number and appears to be in good shape. It is provided with a new side tire and the back windows have been torn and are roughly sewed. At the first it was thought to be the car stolen near the auditorium last Friday night but later investigations showed that the missing machine is a five passenger car. It is thought that the car has been stolen somewhere and abandoned here by the thieves on the completion of their jaunt.

Footballers Work Out.

Coach Tommerassen is putting the high school football candidates thru some stiff practicing this week although the taking up of plays has not as yet begun. Passing the ball, punting and a little limbering up make up the evening's work. Several veterans of last year's team have come out for practice and things are rapidly shaping themselves towards the formation of a crack team. By next week it will be possible to practically pick the team and the fight for positions is now on.

Heard President Wilson.

John Morgan, F. H. Herrick and E. M. Stanton returned Friday morning from Minneapolis, where they had gone for the purpose of hearing President Wilson's speech on the peace treaty and League of Nations. Mr. Morgan stated there were fully 10,000 people who were unable to hear the president talk and the majority of them were Minneapolis people.

The New Princess.

"Hitting the High Spots" is booked for tonight's feature at the New Princess with Bert Lytell, celebrated movie star playing the stellar role. It is written by Mr. Lytell himself and contains adventure, suspense and romance. Picturesque Mexico is the background used in many scenes and the hero braves the wrath of hostile Mexican rebels.

On Friday "The Blinding Trail" is offered in six reels. The locale of the picture is in two great woods of the far North; in the winter snows and the home of a millionaire lumber camp owner. Monroe Salisbury is featured. The story is that of a rugged camp boss, who marries a luxury city girl, whose friends, alone of the two, senses the greatness of the man.

The Princess will remain closed all day Saturday to allow the manager, John Brumund, who served with the A. E. F., to partake in the big Homecoming celebration.

Sunday evening Douglas Fairbanks and his smile will be seen on the screen in "His Majesty, The American." This is the first motion picture to be made by the inimitable "Doug" as a member of the "Big Four" and its presentation should be a genuine event among movie fans here. The picture is a knockout and gives "Doug" a chance to get away with an entirely new line of tricks. It's a jolly mixup from beginning to end.

The Lyceum.

Friday's offering at the Lyceum is a corker. It's a picture featuring Wallace Reid in "The Love Burglar." Threatened on every side with the weapons of the underworld, the wealthy "white black sheep" batters down all opposition with his mighty fists and with the girl emerges triumphant from the bowery that held them both in its grip.

The big feature for Homecoming day, at which time all former service men and a lady will be admitted free, is "Prudence on Broadway," starring Olive Thomas. The play is full of situations that amuse. The picture is unusual in that it features Olive Thomas, first famed dancer, with the Ziegfield Follies, as a demure little Quaker girl who creates havoc in a school and later when she is launched by her worldly aunt into fashionable gaities. Fatty Arbuckle will also be seen in a comedy entitled "The Sheriff."

"The Dark Star," written by Robert W. Chambers, is billed for Sunday evening and the cast is headed by Marion Davies. In this picture there are the usual Chamber mysteries and involves a girl from a mission in Turkey, a boy from a N. Y. village, a daughter of Russia, a wayward son of the Caucasus—all swept together into a maelstrom of mystery and intrigue. It's great.

A picture that should make a hit with movie fans will be shown Monday night when Madge Kennedy, beautiful, magnetic and charming actress, will appear in "Day Dreams." It depicts the life of a country girl, whose wild dreams have surrounded her with fairyland folk-princes, white knights and all.

On Tuesday evening a special feature will be shown, featuring Miss Beatriz Michelena, the beautiful emotional actress, in "Just Squaw." The wild and wooly west of dime novel days provides the setting for the new play. Life in the bad lands, chasing outlaws, stage holdup, death fight with Indians and bad men are among the thrilling things to be seen.

Manager Lawrence has booked one of the greatest features of the season for a two-day run here next Wednesday and Thursday. The picture stars Theda Bara in "Salome," and has made phenomenal runs in all the large cities. It is Oscar Wilde's story of the siren of old Judea whose alluring beauty made her more powerful than kings. It is a massive cinema spectacle. Two performances will be given daily.

GREAT SHOW OF FARM PRODUCE AND LIVE STOCK

TRI-COUNTY FAIR AT GOODRIDGE HOLDS GREATEST SURPRISE OF YEAR.

CORN A LEADING FEATURE

EXPERTS DECLARE NO BETTER DISPLAY MADE IN NORTHWEST THIS SEASON.

Surprises met the visitor at every turn on a visit to the Tri-County fair held at Goodridge on Monday and Tuesday. It was expected that there would be some sort of effort to force a showing against adverse circumstances and all were prepared to make allowances for the undoubtedly unfavorable conditions under which farming operations have been conducted in eastern Pennington, western Beltrami and southern Marshall counties during the past year. The visitor acquainted with conditions went to Goodridge in the hope of encouraging the natives in their efforts but prepared to be extremely disappointed so far as the fair itself was concerned.

All such might have spared their concern. None of their anticipations were verified. Instead of a rather pitiable makeshift in the way of an exhibition they found the best fair of its size anywhere in the Northwest. They found the people prosperous, happy and immensely proud of the showing they were able to make—and they had a right to be.

A Splendid Beginning.

The Times representative visited the stock sheds first. Ample provision had been made for housing the large number of cattle, hogs and sheep, and while the stalls were not all filled the specimens shown were of high quality and of every variety which experience has proven adaptable to this region. At that the stock exhibit was not representative. Many breeders residing at a distance hardly considered it worth while to bring their animals in view of the fact that premium awards were of necessity small. These will not hold back another year. The competition itself will prove of sufficient interest to bring out the best there is.

Among Those Present.

In the first stall was shown a splendid Guernsey bull, the property of [illegible]mes Crosby and George Wagner. Next came the cows and heifers of the same breed belonging to Stewart

WILL BE NOTIFIED OF HEARING DATE

MAYOR G. A. PENNEY CLOSELY WATCHING DEVELOPMENTS IN PHONE RATE CASE.

In common with all other citizens of Minnesota who are telephone subscribers, the people of Thief River Falls are watching developments in the rate increase demand, a hearing on which is expected shortly to be held before the Railroad and Warehouse commission at St. Paul. Mayor G. A. Penney has been in correspondence with the secretary of the commission with a view to finding out the exact date on which the case will come up and has been assured that he will be notified in ample time to enable the city he represents to make arrangements for having its advocate on the ground.

The mayor has taken pains to keep fully in touch with the developments in this important matter as he particularly desires the city to be among those who present an objection to the proposed increase.

EXCELLENT YIELD ON GAMBELL TRACT

PETER PAULSON DEMONSTATES HOW RESULTS CAN BE OBTAINED IN RUST YEAR.

Twenty-three bushels per acre of No. 1 Northern wheat is the yield obtained on the Dr. F. H. Gambell 14-acre tract of land adjoining Thief River Falls just east of the city. The wheat crop has just been harvested by Peter Paulson, who has worked the land since last spring.

This excellent yield indicates what can be obtained even in a rust year as the result of thorough cultivation and early seeding.

This is the best yield recorded this fall, so far as is known, and The Times will be glad to publish more of these excellent crop yields.

ERECTION OF NEW BAKE SHOP STARTS

STRUCTURE 41x54 JUNG BROS. PLAN—IMPROVEMENTS FOR FUTURE.

Excavating operations for a 41x54 foot basement were begun at the rear of the Jung Brothers bakery shop Tuesday morning for the erection of a two story brick building.

The proprietors of the bakery have been contemplating building for some time owing to the fact that their ever increasing business has outgrown their present quarters. The work of laying brick will begin immediately on the completion of the basement and W. Jung stated this morning that the contractor expects to have the building ready for occupancy by the time snow flies.

The building will be located 41 feet from the alley and the plans call for the erection of one of the most up-to-date and latest bake shops in the Northwest.

"This bake shop will be separate from our present building" said Mr. Jung today, "and we expect to use our present site for store purposes only, but within a year or so we intend to remove the present wooden building and put up an entire new structure," he continued.

By the erection of the 41x54 bake shop, which will later be joined with the proposed structure of next year, the popular bakers will have a home which they can well be proud of. When their new bake room is completed the room shortage will be relieved considerably.

Walter and Carl Jung came to Thief River Falls four years ago and have built up a business reputation that is hard to beat. Besides supplying a large part of the city with their popular products the company enjoys a large outside patronage and along every line leading out of the city their "Victory" bread is sold.

STATE TO HELP EXPERIMENT ON 20 FARM PLOTS

DIVISION OF SOILS, FARM BUREAU AND FARMERS WILL CO-OPERATE

TRACTS ON ELWELL ROAD

PEAT WILL NOT PARTICULARLY BE SOUGHT OUT FOR THIS WORK

Twenty plots, located on different farms along the Elwell road between Thief River Falls and Goodridge, have been selected for demonstration work by the bureau of soils of the University of Minnesota. The plots will be worked in conjunction with the Pennington County Farm bureau and with the assistance of the farmers on whose land the tracts are situated. The state will furnish the acid phosphate and superintend its application, after which the work will be under the direction of County Agent J. J. McCann and the local bureau. The farmers will be asked to contribute nothing except the labor of hauling the phosphate from the station to the field.

One Acre in Size.

The plots will be one acre in size and tracts adjacent to the highway will be selected as these will furnish the best opportunity for observation. The selections will be made by representatives of the division of soils and will be distributed along the 20 miles of the Elwell highway between Thief River Falls and Goodridge. This stretch contains practically every kind of soil to be found in the county and the experiments should therefore be very thorough. While there will be no attempt made to single out peat plots for treatment, it will be the aim to include several of these in the experiments.

Will Employ Phosphate.

The bureau of soils will employ different systems of fertilization in the tests, but all will be based on the addition of phosphate to whatever else may be used. This plan was followed at Golden Valley and in the neighborhood of Goodridge last year and although the heavy rains during July destroyed the crop it was demonstrated that there was a marked improvement where the phosphate had been applied. In some instances the grain yield was increased two and threefold where the phosphate was used.

The experimental plots will be conveniently located and should prove of great value to the farmers, particularly those with peat soil on their property.

Playground Equipment Here.

The little tads at the different school buildings are rejoicing over the arrival of much playground apparatus for their enjoyment during the recess hour and before school. A giant stride and set of swings for each building have been received to be set up. A slide also arrived for the Washington school, and if the contrivance proves satisfactory each school will be provided with one. The affair is on the order of a toboggan chute.

HALL BROS. ENGAGE IN BUSINESS HERE

OPEN WITH FULL HARDWARE LINE AT O. N. OLSON FORMER STAND.

A new firm is bidding for its share of the hardware business of this section in a location devoted to this line of business for many years. This week the former O. N. Olson place at 113 Horace avenue north was leased by Hall Brothers, who will use the premises for the same purpose as the former owner. Their stock has already arrived to a very large extent and the store is open and ready for business.

The establishment will be under the direct management of W. A. Hall, Jr., who recently returned after having served with the army for a couple of years. He is a young man who has spent his life practically in the different branches of the hardware business, and just before going into the army put in a year in this particular section as traveling salesman for one of the foremost houses in the country. He believes there is an opening for a store such as he intends to conduct and with his new and up-to-date stock feels certain that he will be a contendor for his share of the business of the community. He is a clean-cut and energetic young man who will not hesitate to employ modern methods in the conduct of his store.

$500,000 GIVEN FLOOD VICTIMS AS STATE AID

MEMBERS FROM SECTION AFFECTED ASKED FOUR TIMES THIS SUM

SPECIFIC RELIEF DENIED

BILL FOR ASSISTING NORTHWEST FARMERS DIES IN SENATE

Senator O. A. Naplin of Pennington county and Representative H. O. Berve of Marshall county, returned last week from attendance at the special session of the legislature. They both admit that considerabel legislation of an excellent character was enacted, but figure that the section of the state represented by them was hardly given the consideration to which it was entitled under the circumstances. They particularly figure that the reduction of the suggested appropriation for the relief of settlers who lost their crops by reason of the floods visiting this section last July was a severe blow.

Asked Two Millions.

Representative Berve introduced a bill for general relief for victims of calamities of every kind, Representative Enstrom of Roseau county being his colaborator. The bill provided for the appointing of a committee for the handling of this fund, which was placed at $2,000,000 in the bill. This commission would be authorized to render immediate assistance where this was found necessary and to approve of loans for seed and feed at an interest rate not exceeding four per cent. Senator Naplin at the same time presented an identical measure to the senate.

Representative Wicker of Dodge county introduced a similar bill, but one which did not provide for low-interest loans, nor were seed and feed mentioned. At the hearing before the committee Mr. Wicker's bill was reported out although it was by no means as practical a measure as the Berve-Naplin bill.

Cut in Two Twice.

When the Wicker bill came before the committee having such legislation in charge, the amount was cut to $1,000,000. This sum the senate again cut in two, the final result being that $500,000 was appropriated for the purpose of assisting the people where a calamity has temporarily this sum to cover the entire state. The committee in charge of the displaced them in a helpless position. tribution is composed of the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer.

This Will Help Some.

It is probable that this half million dollars will be used largely to relieve the situation in the northwestern counties. It is very important that all those wishing to take advantage of its provisions at once get into communication with the commissioner of agriculture, as he has all the evidence and data on the subject. The matter will without question receive immediate attention in this manner as the commission will be in a position to act promptly and to good purpose.

Both Senator Naplin and Representative Berve strongly urge that this be done without delay.

Measure For Local Relief.

Mr. Berve also introduced another measure having in view the relief of the farmers of the seven northwestern counties, although it would have covered any other section of the state as well. This bill provided that the commissioner of agriculture and two members to be appointed by the governor should have the matter of distribution in charge. The measure was supported by Enstrom of Roseau, Rako of Beltrami and McPartland of Koochiching. In the senate Senator Naplin was joined in the presenting of an identical bill by Senators Hegnes of Marshall and Nord of Koochiching. The measure was drawn by Attorney General Hilton and passed the house without a dissenting vote but was killed in the senate at six o'clock on the last day.

Four More Ditches.

Mr. Berve also introduced a bill at the request of the people of eastern Marshall county providing for additional ditches in that section. An appropriation was asked sufficient to cover the cost of surveys and preliminaries, the balance remaining to be applied on the cost of construction. This measure was killed in committee.

The Flood Bill Passed.

The drainage and flood control bill was passed in the senate, amended in the house, and the amendments first rejected and the bill knocked out by the senate, then reconsidered and finally passed as amended by the house, limiting assessments to $1 an acre.

GYM EQUIPMENT TO BE HERE SOON

ROOM IN BANK BASEMENT UNDERGOING REPAIRS FOR GRAND OPENING.

"The gym is a go," said G. A. Fallness this morning to The Times "and if the equipment which has been ordered arrives here at the promised time, the place will be opened about the last week in October," he continued.

Workmen are busy in the room under the Citizens State bank building, which has been rented for the purpose and everything is being fixed up and redecorated. The fixtures and lockers have also been ordered and will be in place within a short time. Every little detail connected with the gym is being looked after and when it is formally opened the adherents of clean sport will have an excellent place where they can indulge in an hour or two of vigorous exercise.

Some of the gym equipment to be installed includes Indian clubs, dumb bells, punching bag, exercising rings, arm and chest exercises, horizontal bars, vaulting horse, parallel bars, wrestling mat and other articles.

There will also be boxing on hand and it is expected some good contests will be put on by those who have experience in the game. During the war boxing received a great boost and many of the boys, who never had the gloves on before, have become quite proficient in the fistic art. Among the returned service men there is some good material and something interesting is looked for by the dues in the gym.

There will be four shower baths going at all times, and while this is all free with the membership, the price of two or three baths otherwise would cost as much as one month's its, the certificate and credits may be

BANKING HOUSE SOON TO OCCUPY SCANDIA BLOCK

FIRST AND PEOPLES INTERESTS ACQUIRE ONE OF CITY'S BEST BUILDINGS

MANY CHANGES PLANNED

PROVISION MADE FOR EXPANSION THROUGH PURCHASE OF ADJOINING LOT

A property transfer of more than ordinary interest was consummated this week when the directors of the First and Peoples State bank entered into an agreement with the owners of the Scandia block for the purchase of that property. The building is situated in the middle of the block between LaBree and Main avenue on Third street, being thus in the center of the business district. The lot has a frontage of 55 feet and is occupied by a practically new cream pressed brick building which is modern in every detail.

Purchased Additional Lot.

In order to make provision for enlargement, should this be needed in the future, the lot extending along the rear of the property and facing on Main avenue also was acquired, the property thus forming an "L" with the Evenson block, now occupied by the Loken store, filling the space between the extreme ends.

The bank will proceed at once to remodel the east room of the building, it being the intention to begin work as soon as plans can be secured from an architect. The room in which the bank will be housed is now occupied by the Lambert Drug store and it is the intention to move this to the west room, in which the grocery store of O. L. Cronstrom is now located. The probabilities are that the latter will move directly across the street to the building now occupied by the Hanson restaurant. This is also a First and Peoples property.

New Vault and Fixtures.

The new fixtures for the bank will be of the latest and best. The vault will be of burglar proof and fire proof construction and will be erected at the rear of the room as it now stands. The fixtures and furniture will be in keeping with the rest of the surroundings, it being the intention to spare nothing that will in any manner prove an aid to efficiency and convenience.

Windows will be placed along the east wall of the building and a new front appropriate for a banking institution will be added. The present Cronstrom store will also undergo a number of alterations, a new front being a part of the plan.

Result of Steady Growth.

The bank which thus acquires a new and modern home has been established for 27 years. Its growth has been steady and substantial until at the present time it is regarded as one of the strongest institutions in the state. The quarters now occupied by the bank have long been recognized as inadequate to its needs but the directors have had some hesitancy in engaging upon the erection of a new building under present conditions. The Scandia block offered a welcome solution to the problem when it was discovered that the property could be secured at a figure that is understood to have been decidedly attractive.

A. M. Sheldon, president, and F. P. Sheldon, director and one of the heaviest stockholders, came up from Minneapolis for the purpose of looking the situation over. They approved the steps thus far taken and the deal was closed before they left the city.

John is A Hustler.

Holt Weekly News: John H. Brumund, manager of the Princess theatre in Thief River Falls, was here last Friday putting advertising matter for the "Unpardonable Sin," which was shown there Monday and Tuesday evenings and was well attended by the people of Holt and vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Siljesstrom of Golden Valley invited the editor and wife to go down there Tuesday evening to see the pictures and of course we accepted their kind offer and greatly enjoyed the trip and the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Brumund is running the best pictures he can get and his friends in Holt wish him much success in the venture.

Will Install Bakery.

Stanton Brothers of the Thief River Falls Restaurant, have rented the Giller building on Third street and will in about three weeks open a home bakery. An experienced woman baker will be in charge and it is the intention to specialize in pies, cakes and similar bakery products. All this kind of work for the restaurant will also be done at the new location, a shortage of room making this impossible at the present time.

SPEECHES AND EATS PROVIDE FINE PROGRAM

FALL MEETING OF MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION PROVES BIG WINNER.

BIG GATHERING PRESENT

CURTIS JOHNSON DELIVERS ROUSING ADDRESS—LOCAL MEN GIVE TALKS.

Seated at five tables beneath a massive flag of Stars and Stripes, over 200 people gathered at the Commercial club rooms on Tuesday evening to attend the merchants banquet and listen to a fine program of speeches and music.

It was the first fall meeting of the Thief River Falls Merchants association at which time all the clerks were invited to attend as the guests of their employers. The event was a decided success from start to finish and never before has such a large attendance been recorded at a function of this kind given by the businessmen.

The main address of the evening was given by Curtis Johnson of Rush City, this state, while A. S. Sapero and E. O. Mogensen both gave interesting talks on the subjects they had chosen. H. O. Loken was toastmaster and carried his end out ably.

There was orchestra music, a vocal solo by Miss Grace Loken and community singing, led by Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher.

Eats at 6:30 p. m.

The five large banquet tables, beautifully decorated, were filled shortly after 6:30 p. m., and the serving of the eats began immediately. During the banquet inspiring music was played by a five piece orchestra seated behind an array of artificial orange trees. After the serving of the two course banquet, every one was feeling right and all were ready for the fine program that followed.

Mr. Hay Speaks.

Toastmaster H. O. Loken in a few well chosen remarks introduced a man who was not on the program but one whom everyone was pleased to see and hear and that man was J. H. Hay, who happened to be in the city after having made an address at

LA COUNT IS HELD FOR WIFE MURDER

FORMER CITIZEN OF THIEF RIVER FALLS AND COMPANION UNDER ARREST.

Ralph LaCount, formerly a resident of Thief River Falls, is held by the authorities of Hennepin county on a charge of having murdered his wife, Madeline, who was found dead on the estate of Charles J. Winton near Lake Minnetonka, last week. The woman's skull had been crushed with a base ball bat and her throat cut. The Minneapolis Journal gives the following account of the activities of the police in ferreting out the perpetrators of the crime:

"Formal charges of murder in the first degree today were placed against Ralph La Count and Oscar Lindgren, charging them with the murder of Mrs. Madelyn La Count at Lake Minnetonka, Sept. 12. Both were given preliminary hearing, waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury which meets next Tuesday. La Count was the husband of the dead woman and Lindgren was employed as a gardener on the estate of C. J. Winton, where the murder was committed."

The La Counts formerly lived in Thief River Falls and are well remembered by many present residents. The elder La Count was a few years ago suspected of being mixed up in the murder of a man whose body was found in a sparcely settled section of Marshall county, but the authorities were unable to prove a case against him.

FOOTBALL LID TO BE OFF SATURDAY

EAST GRAND FORKS ELEVEN WILL BE TAKEN ON IN OPENING CONTEST

The lid of the high school football season for 1919 will pop off Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time the cruel cleat of the football shoe will again tear up the turf at the fair grounds gridiron when Coach Tommerassen's proteges will take on a fast aggregation representing the East Grand Forks high school.

The local high school boys have been going through some stiff practicing of late and feel they are ready to begin the season with a win. A sufficient number of men have been available to form two teams and the boys have been put through tough scrimmage work all week. Much time has been taken up in the perfecting of plays which are sure to baffle the East Grand Forks bunch.

The lineup for Saturday's contest has not been given out, but Dennis McGinn will likely be placed at quarterback. The Irish lad is a bear when he gets going and will be a hard man to stop.

The halves will be played by Reuben Hadrath and Elmer Larson, if present plans pan out, while young Barzen will hold down the fullback position. Stanley Sorenson also will be put in as a halfback when the occasion makes it necessary.

Gordon LaBree, who is proving a brick wall at center, will no doubt get the job for Saturday's game, while Henry Aastad and Joseph Weirus will be the tackles. The two guards will undoubtedly be Kenneth Russell and Ernest Zeh. The ends will be held down by Leland Schuster and James Parenteau, both of whom are wiry lads and quick on their feet.

The game will be called at about 2 p. m. so as to allow the East Grand Forks boys to catch the afternoon train for home. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand to encourage the boys in their first game. No doubt some mighty interesting contests will be played before the season is over.

ATTENTION, MASONS

There will be a special meeting of Northern Lodge No. 236, A. F. & A. M., next Monday evening for work in the first degree. There are a number of candidates and it is greatly desired that as many numbers as possible be present. Visiting Masons particularly invited.

BITULITHIC IS FAVORITE WITH INVESTIGATORS

CITY DADS SPEND DAY AT ST. CLOUD AND TWO DAYS IN THE TWIN CITIES

SEE VARIOUS PAVEMENTS

GET VALUABLE INFORMATION AS TO METHODS EMPLOYED BY OTHERS

That the bitulithic form of paving is the best and most durable is the opinion expressed by the four members of the city council who returned to Thief River Falls Saturday, after a three-day trip of inspection. They looked over the paving at St. Cloud and in the Twin Cities.

Bitulithic is defined by Webster as designating a kind of paving, the main body of which consists of broken stone, cemented together with bitumen or asphalt.

The councilmen left here last week and passed Thursday at St. Cloud, where they had a chance to inspect the work as the paving was being laid. They left the same evening for Minneapolis and spent two days in the Mill City looking over many different kinds of paved streets, and arrived at the conclusion that the bitulithic form of paving is the most satisfactory of all. Creosote blocks are a close second.

Well Pleased.

"It's a good idea to look into the work of paving and see what is best before we go ahead," said Alderman Carl Froseth this morning. "We surely gained some good ideas on the trip."

All of the councilmen who made the trip were well pleased and the ideas obtained will help them a long ways in the selection of the kind of paving that is to be placed in the business section of Thief River Falls next year. Two members of the council were unable to make the trip, these being Aldermen Brumund and Ide. Mr. Brumund was busy with the Homecoming celebration arrangements and found it impossible to get away, while business matters detained the president of the council.

MORE SHEEP FOR NEARBY FARMERS

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED HEAD EXPECTED HERE TODAY FROM MONTANA.

The demand for sheep on the part of farmers living in Pennington county has reached a point never considered possible. Several carloads of Montana stock have already been disposed of and more are coming. Olaf Ramstad, president of the Citizens State bank, Chris Larson of Kratka township, and Elev Aaker of Goodridge, are expected to return from the West today, bringing with him 1,700 head of the animals, many of which have already been spoken for. The sheep will be sold to farmers in this section.

At the rate the animals are now being placed it will be but a short time until practically every farm in the county has a herd of these profitable assistants. Many farmers are buying them for their value as weed eradicators, but others are seriously engaging in the sheep raising business. Those who have tried it have become convinced that there is a good profit to be realized in this line.

HERMANSON STORE IN NEW LOCATION

The Hermanson Hardware company this week moved to its new location in the Williams block, corner of Third and Main. The building has been remodeled and refitted for the accommodation of the concern and now provides ideal quarters for a business of this kind. The shelving and other interior finishing is in place and the stock is daily arriving. Slow shipments have delayed Mr. Hermanson in making the change but he will soon be in position to meet any demand in his line.

Mr. Hermanson is one of the latest additions to the list of business men in the city but he has already made a place for himself by his activity in every direction and his generally approved business methods. While his business at the former stand was satisfactory, he believes himself justified in anticipating a decided increase at the more central location.

12,000 PEOPLE HERE FOR BIG SOLDIER FETE

PENNINGTON COUNTY CITIZENS HONOR RETURNED FIGHTERS IN FITTING STYLE.

PARADE THRILLS CROWDS

GREATEST DAY IN HISTORY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS—FINE PROGRAM OF SPORTS.

More than 12,000 persons from all parts of Pennington and surrounding counties gathered in Thief River Falls Saturday to participate in the Homecoming celebration in honor of the olive-drab warriors who fought in the World War and all those who were in the military service during the emergency.

The event will go down in the history of Pennington conuty as being the biggest and best ever attempted and the day was one that will be remembered by the men just as long as will be those days when German "G. I. cans" were bursting over the front lines.

The weather man behaved remarkably well, but at an early hour there was a light precipitation and things did not look very promising. By noon the sky was clearing off in fine shape and at three o'clock Old Sol was on the job and stayed there until sundown.

Parade Thrills Crowd.

By the time the parade was forming there were around 9,000 people gathered, while there were many who remained away at this time owing to the threatening weather. By noon the attendance was at its height and cars were entering the city in streams from the country districts. The parade, scheduled to start moving at 9:30 a. m., was postponed for an hour and promptly at 10:30 o'clock, at the command of Marshal H. D. Keene, the line started to move, headed by the Thief River Falls band, all of whom had seen service overseas with the exception of three members. It was an impressive spectacle. Following the khaki clad band, came the colors and guards. Soldiers, sailors and marines marched as one unit, there being more than 300 of them. Many of the boys wore gold chevrons on their right arm. As the fighters came up LaBree avenue there was applause and men stood with bared heads in honor of the passing heroes. The same was true along the entire parade route and automobiles full of people scurried around from one block to another to get several glimpses of the men as they were passing. Marching erect, with heads up like a body of trained West Pointers the crowd received a thrill, and there was much favorable comment from everyone for the manner in which the service men carried themselves.

Red Cross Makes Showing.

Following the service men came the Red Cross workers and Woman's club and they made one of the best showings in the parade. Then following the speakers of the day, community singers, Grand Forks band and Elks lodge, represented by a large number of girls carrying the lodge colors. All the schools were represented, from the high school down to the kindergarten. The high school service flag with about a hundred stars on it was carried in this section of the parade. Thief River Falls has seen many parades but the one on Saturday was the greatest ever, and for length it easily exceeded all previous affairs.

Vernon Speaks.

About half an hour after the procession reached the fair grounds the grand stand was filled. Mayor G. A. Penney made a few remarks in opening the program and then introduced Mr. Vernon, who served during the war, who delivered a fine address on the work of the troops in France and the part played by America in the conflict. The speaker impressed upon the minds of the large crowd the debt the world owes to the gallant sons of America and the Allies in delivering the world from the grip of Hun autocracy. "You cannot pay these men in money for the services rendered" he exclaimed, "and our men are going to demand the departation of those who evaded service on the grounds of being aliens." His speech was interrupted throughout by hearty applause as he delivered blow after blow for 100 per cent Americanism. He pointed out the necessity of teaching a real and true history of the nation in the schools and believed the coming generations should receive a thorough course in civics. He also laid special emphasis on the fact that it is time to put a stop to all meetings that are not held in the American language.

Response by Chommie.

Attorney H. O. Chommie responded in behalf of the returned service men and said if it were possible the men would put on a celebration for the citizens of the county to show their appreciation of the splendid reception given them on Saturday.

Mayor Penney asked the people in the grand stand to rise and with bowed heads engage in one minute of solemn devotion for the boys who fell on the field of honor. This concluded the morning program and all service men were invited to the mess hall to partake of the excellent lunch provided.

Real Homemade Eats.

Goldfish and corned willy? Not on your life. Real roast beef carved from the barbecued beeves, bread, pickles, butter, doughnuts, piping hot coffee with lots of cream, lemonade, ice cream 'n everythin' was there and it didn't cost a cent. The men were given a pleasant reminder of the days when they had to "lineup for chow," but they didn't mind that, for the Elks were on the job in the hall and they pushed them all through in jig time.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO HELP EX-DOUGHBOYS

$15 PER MONTH BONUS BILL IS PASSED UNANIMOUSLY AT SESSION TUESDAY.

BILL GOES TO GOVERNOR

CLAIMS MAY BE FILED WITH CLERK OF COURT OR ADJUTANT GENERAL

The senate on Tuesday by a unanimous vote passed the House bill providing a bonus of $15 for each month of service for soldiers, sailors and marines who served the colors at some time between April 6, 1917 until November 11, 1918. The minimum bonus is $50.

The bonus bill was also unanimously passed in the house a few days previous and the bill now goes to Governor Burnquist for his signature.

The house bonus bill was ready for passage last Friday. The approptiation and military affairs committee gave it esteemed consideration again before the house convened, and adopted an amendment by Ralph Parker providing for the payment of the bonus to soldiers' widows. Some of the committee wanted to extend the payment to mothers and to dependent children. This was rejected on the ground that it involved probate proceedings and expense to the claimants.

The house bill provides for the immediate payment of the bonus in a lump sum. In this it gives the Minnesota service men an advantage over those in North Dakota, where the money is to be raised by a small tax levy and only $800,000 a year will be available. Minnesota will have the full $20,000,000 to give to the soldiers as soon as claims can be listed and the certificates sold, probably within three months.

Terms Defined.

"Soldiers," as defined in the act, will include enlisted men in the army, sailors, marines, nurses and officers. Each will receive $15 a month for each month spent in the service, with a minimum of $50. Claims may be filed either with the adjutant general or with the clerk of courts in the county where the soldier lives. The applications will be passed on by a board consisting of the adjutant general, state auditor and state treasurer, and when one is approved a voucher will be issued. The state auditor will accept this and issue a warrant on the state treasurer who will pay the claim by check.

The funds will be raised by issuing certificates of indebtedness for not more than $20,000,000, bearing five per cent interest and maturing in not more than 12 years. They are to be paid off by a tax levy at the rate of $2,000,000 a year.

Deduct Tuition Expense.

Money advanced by the state for tuition under the law passed last winter for returned service men will be deducted from the bonus. Those who claimed exemption as conscientious objectors or claim to be aliens and refused to perform military service are not entitled to the bonus.

CAPTURES THUGS AT POINT OF GUN

E. J. OLSON, FORMER PENNINGTON COUNTY MAN, PULLS GOOD ONE AT BIG FORK.

E. J. Olson, formerly residing northeast of Goodridge, now station agent at Margie, Koochiching county, captured three yeggmen at the point of a revolver on the depot platform last week, after he had been informed over the wire of a robbery in Big Fork the evening before.

The men had broken into the Charles Anderson hardware store and after rifling the cash register, began helping themselves to the stock of revolvers, jack-knives and compasses.

When it was discovered that the place had been entered, the wires in all directions running out of Bik Fork were kept hot in an attempt to locate the yeggman.

The bandits came into Margie on a freight and loitered around the depot for the next train out, but before they could make their escape a message arrived for Agent Olson asking him to be on the lookout for the men. Suspicioning the men outside the depot, Olson went out and at the point of his revolver demanded their surrender. The authorities at Big Fork were notified and came to the scene immediately. The yeggs have confessed to the charge and are now awaiting a prison sentence.

LOST YOUR FORD? SHERIFF HAS ONE

MACHINE WITH LICENSE OFF IS PICKED UP ON THIRD STREET.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree is looking for the rightful owner of a Ford roadster picked up on Third street Monday morning in front of the Thief River cafe, where it had been standing for two days.

The sheriff has the machine incarcerated in the Borry garage to await the claimant. The machine is lacking a license number and appears to be in good shape. It is provided with a new side tire and the back windows have been torn and are roughly sewed. At the first it was thought to be the car stolen near the auditorium last Friday night but later investigations showed that the missing machine is a five passenger car.

It is thought that the car has been stolen somewhere and abandoned here by the thieves on the completion of their jaunt.

Footballers Work Out.

Coach Tommerassen is putting the high school football candidates thru some stiff practicing this week although the taking up of plays has not as yet begun. Passing the ball, punting and a little limbering up make up the evening's work. Several veterans of last year's team have come out for practice and things are rapidly shaping themselves towards the formation of a crack team. By next week it will be possible to practically pick the team and the fight for positions is now on.

Heard President Wilson.

John Morgan, F. H. Herrick and E. M. Stanton returned Friday morning from Minneapolis, where they had gone for the purpose of hearing President Wilson's speech on the peace treaty and League of Nations. Mr. Morgan stated there were fully 10,000 people who were unable to hear the president talk and the majority of them were Minneapolis people.

The New Princess.

"Hitting the High Spots" is booked for tonight's feature at the New Princess with Bert Lytell, celebrated movie star playing the stellar role. It is written by Mr. Lytell himself and contains adventure, suspense and romance. Picturesque Mexico is the background used in many scenes and the hero braves the wrath of hostile Mexican rebels.

On Friday "The Blinding Trail" is offered in six reels. The locale of the picture is in two great woods of the far North; in the winter snows and the home of a millionarie lumber camp owner. Monroe Sallbury is featured. The story is that of a rugged camp boss, who marries a luxury city girl, whose friends, alone of the two, senses the greatness of the man.

The Princess will remain closed all day Saturday to allow the manager, John Brumund, who served with the A. E. F., to partake in the big Homecoming celebration.

Sunday evening Douglas Fairbanks and his smile will be seen on the screen in "His Majesty, The American." This is the first motion picture to be made by the inimitable "Doug" as a member of the "Big Four" and its presentation should be a genuine event among movie fans here. The picture is a knockout and gives "Doug" a chance to get away with an entirely new line of tricks. It's a jolly mixup from beginning to end.

The Lyceum.

Friday's offering at the Lyceum is a corker. It's a picture featuring Wallace Reid in "The Love Burglar." Threatened on every side with the weapons of the underworld, the wealthy "white black sheep" batters down all opposition with his mighty fists and with the girl emerges triumphant from the bowery that held them both in its grip.

The big feature for Homecoming day, at which time all former service men and a lady will be admitted free, is "Prudence on Broadway," starring Olive Thomas. The play is full of situations that amuse. The picture is unusual in that it features Olive Thomas, first famed dancer, with the Ziegfield Follies, as a demure little Quaker girl who creates havoc in a school and later when she is launched by her worldly aunt into fashionable gaities. Fatty Arbuckle will also be seen in a comedy entitled "The Sheriff."

"The Dark Star," written by Robert W. Chambers, is billed for Sunday evening and the cast is headed by Marion Davies. In this picture there are the usual Chamber mysteries and involves a girl from a mission in Turkey, a boy from a N. Y. village, a daughter of Russia, a wayward son of the Caucasus—all swept together into a maelstrom of mystery and intrigue. It's great.

A picture that should make a hit with movie fans will be shown Monday night when Madge Kennedy, beautiful, magnetic and charming actress, will appear in "Day Dreams." It depicts the life of a country girl, whose wild dreams have surrounded her with fairyland folk-princess, white knights and all.

On Tuesday evening a special feature will be shown, featuring Miss Beatriz Michelena, the beautiful emotional actress, in "Just Squaw." The wild and wooly west of dime novel days provides the setting for the new play. Life in the bad lands, chasing outlaws, stage holdup, death fight with Indians and bad men are among the thrilling things to be seen.

Manager Lawrence has booked one of the greatest features of the season for a two-day run here next Wednesday and Thursday. The picture stars Theda Bara in "Salome," and has made phenomenal runs in all the large cities. It is Oscar Wilde's story of the siren of old Judea whose alluring beauty made her more powerful than kings. It is a massive cinema spectacle. Two performances will be given daily.

GREAT SHOW OF FARM PRODUCE AND LIVE STOCK

TRI-COUNTY FAIR AT GOODRIDGE HOLDS GREATEST SURPRISE OF YEAR.

CORN A LEADING FEATURE

EXPERTS DECLARE NO BETTER DISPLAY MADE IN NORTHWEST THIS SEASON.

Surprises met the visitor at every turn on a visit to the Tri-County fair held at Goodridge on Monday and Tuesday. It was expected that there would be some sort of effort to force a showing against adverse circumstances and all were prepared to make allowances for the undoubtedly unfavorable conditions under which farming operations have been conducted in eastern Pennington, western Beltrami and southern Marshall counties during the past year. The visitor acquainted with conditions went to Goodridge in the hope of encouraging the natives in their efforts but prepared to be extremely disappointed so far as the fair itself was concerned.

All such might have spared their concern. None of their anticipations were verified. Instead of a rather pitiable makeshift in the way of an exhibition they found the best fair of its size anywhere in the Northwest. They found the people prosperous, happy and immensely proud of the showing they were able to make—and they had a right to be.

A Splendid Beginning.

The Times representative visited the stock sheds first. Ample provision had been made for housing the large number of cattle, hogs and sheep, and while the stalls were not all filled the specimens shown were of high quality and of every variety which experience has proven adaptable to this region. At that the stock exhibit was not representative. Many breeders residing at a distance hardly considered it worth while to bring their animals in view of the fact that premium awards were of necessity small. These will not hold back another year. The competition itself will prove of sufficient interest to bring out the best there is.

Among Those Present.

In the first stall was shown a splendid Guernsey bull, the property of Samuel Crosby and George Wagner. Next came the cows and heifers of the same breed belonging to Stewart

WILL BE NOTIFIED OF HEARINC DATE

MAYOR G. A. PENNEY CLOSELY WATCHING DEVELOPMENTS IN PHONE RATE CASE.

As common with all other citizens of Minnesota who are telephone subscribers, the people of Thief River Falls are watching developments in the rate increase demand, a hearing on which is expected shortly to be held before the Railroad and Warehouse commission at St. Paul. Mayor G. A. Penney has been in correspondence with the secretary of the commission with a view to finding out the exact date on which the case will come up and has been assured that he will be notified in ample time to enable the city he represents to make arrangements for having its advocate on the ground.

The mayor has taken pains to keep fully in touch with the developments in this important matter as he particularly desires the city to be among those who present an objection to the proposed increase.

EXCELLENT YIELD ON GAMBELL TRACT

PETER PAULSON DEMONSTATES HOW RESULTS CAN BE OBTAINED IN BUST YEAR.

Twenty-three bushels per acre of No. 1 Northern wheat is the yield obtained on the Dr. F. H. Gambell 14-acre tract of land adjoining Thief River Falls just east of the city. The wheat crop has just been harvested by Peter Paulson, who has worked the land since last spring.

This excellent yield indicates what can be obtained even in a bust year as the result of thorough cultivation and early seeding.

This is the best yield recorded this fall, so far as is known, and The Times will be glad to publish more of these excellent crop yields.

ERECTION OF NEW BAKE SHOP STARTS

STRUCTURE 41x54 JUNG BROS. PLAN—IMPROVEMENTS FOR FUTURE.

Excavating operations for a 41x54 foot basement were begun at the rear of the Jung Brothers bakery shop Monday morning for the erection of a two-story brick building.

The proprietors of the bakery have been contemplating building for long time owing to the fact that the ever increasing business has outgrown their present quarters. The work of laying brick will begin immediately on the completion of the basement. W. Jung stated this morning that the contractor expects to have the building ready for occupancy by the time snow flies. The building will be located 41 feet from the alley and the plans call for the erection of one of the most up-to-date and latest bake shops in the Northwest.

"This bake shop will be separate from our present building" said Mr. Jung today, "and we expect to use our present site for store purposes only, but within a year or so we intend to remove the present wooden building and put up an entire new structure," he continued.

By the erection of the 41x54 bake shop, which will later be joined with the proposed structure of next year, the popular bakers will have a home which they can well be proud of. When their new bake room is completed the room shortage will be relieved considerably.

Walter and Carl Jung came to Thief River Falls four years ago and have built up a business reputation that is hard to beat. Besides supplying a large part of the city with their popular products the company enjoys a large outside patronage and along every line leading out of the city their "Victory" bread is sold.

STATE TO HELP EXPERIMENT ON 20 FARM PLOTS

DIVISION OF SOILS, FARM BUREAU AND FARMERS WILL CO-OPERATE

TRACTS ON ELWELL ROAD

PEAT WILL NOT PARTICULARLY BE SOUGHT OUT FOR THIS WORK

Twenty plots, located on different farms along the Elwell road between Thief River Falls and Goodridge, have been selected for demonstration work by the bureau of soils of the University of Minnesota. The plots will be worked in conjunction with the Pennington County Farm bureau and with the assistance of the farmers on whose land the tracts are situated. The state will furnish the acid phosphate and superintend its application, after which the work will be under the direction of County Agent J. J. McCann and the local bureau. The farmers will be asked to contribute nothing except the labor of hauling the phosphate from the station to the field.

One Acre in Size.

The plots will be one acre in size and tracts adjacent to the highway will be selected as these will furnish the best opportunity for observation. The selections will be made by representatives of the division of soils and will be distributed along the 20 miles of the Elwell highway between Thief River Falls and Goodridge. This stretch contains practically every kind of soil to be found in the county and the experiments should therefore be very thorough. While there will be no attempt made to single out peat plots for treatment, it will be the aim to include several of these in the experiments.

Will Employ Phosphate.

The bureau of soils will employ different systems of fertilization in the tests, but all will be based on the addition of phosphate to whatever else may be used. This plan was followed at Golden Valley and in the neighborhood of Goodridge last year and although the heavy rains during July destroyed the crop it was demonstrated that there was a marked improvement where the phosphate had been applied. In some instances the grain yield was increased two and threefold where the phosphate was used.

The experimental plots will be conveniently located and should prove of great value to the farmers, particularly those with peat soil on their property.

Playground Equipment Here.

The little tads at the different school buildings are rejoicing over the arrival of much playground apparatus for their enjoyment during the recess hour and before school. A giant stride and set of swings for each building have been received to be set up. A slide also arrived for the Washington school, and if the contrivance proves satisfactory each school will be provided with one. The affair is on the order of a toboggan chute.

HALL BROS. ENGAGE IN BUSINESS HERE

OPEN WITH FULL HARDWARE LINE AT O. N. OLSON FORMER STAND.

A new firm is bidding for its share of the hardware business of this section in a location devoted to this line of busines for many years. This week the former O. N. Olson place, at 113 Horace avenue north was leased by Hall Brothers, who will use the premises for the same purpose as the former owner. Their stock has already arrived to a very large extent and the store is open and ready for business.

The establishment will be under the direct management of W. A. Hall, Jr., who recently returned after having served with the army for a couple of years. He is a young man who has spent his life practically in the different branches of the hardware business, and just before going into the army put in a year in this particular section as traveling salesman for one of the foremost houses in the country. He believes there is an opening for a store such as he intends to conduct and with his new and up-to-date stock feels certain that he will be a contender for his share of the business of the community. He is a clean-cut and energetic young man who will not hesitate to employ modern methods in the conduct of his store.

MEMBERS FROM SECTION AFFECTED ASKED FOUR TIMES THIS SUM

BILL FOR ASSISTING NORTHWEST FARMERS DIES IN SENATE

Senator O. A. Naplin of Pennington county and Representative H. O. Berve of Marshall county, returned last week from attendance at the special session of the legislature. They both admit that considerabel legislation of an excellent character was enacted, but figure that the section of the state represented by them was hardly given the consideration to which it was entitled under the circumstances. They particularly figure that the reduction of the suggested appropriation for the relief of settlers who lost their crops by reason of the floods visiting this section last July was a severe blow.

Asked Two Millions.

Representative Berve introduced a bill for general relief for victims of calamities of every kind, Representative Enstrom of Roseau county being his colaborator. The bill provided for the appointing of a committee for the handling of this fund, which was placed at $2,000,000 in the bill. This commission would be authorized to render immediate assistance where this was found necessary and to approve of loans for seed and feed at an interest rate not exceeding four per cent. Senator Naplin at the same time presented an identical measure to the senate.

Representative Wicker of Dodge county introduced a similar bill, but one which did not provide for low-interest loans, nor were seed and feed mentioned. At the hearing before the committee Mr. Wicker's bill was reported out although it was by no means as practical a measure as the Berve-Naplin bill.

Cut in Two Twice.

When the Wicker bill came before the committee having such legislation in charge, the amount was cut to $1,000,000. This sum the senate again cut in two, the final result being that $500,000 was appropriated for the purpose of assisting the people where a calamity has temporarily this sum to cover the entire state. The committee in charge of the displaced them in a helpless position. tribution is composed of the governor, secretary of state and state treasurer.

This Will Help Some.

It is probable that this half million dollars will be used largely to relieve the situation in the northwestern counties. It is very important that all those wishing to take advantage of its provisions at once get into communication with the commissioner of agriculture, as he has all the evidence and data on the subject. The matter will without question receive immediate attention in this manner as the commission will be in a position to act promptly and to good purpose.

Both Senator Naplin and Representative Berve strongly urge that this be done without delay.

Measure For Local Relief.

Mr. Berve also introduced another measure having in view the relief of the farmers of the seven northwestern counties, although it would have covered any other section of the state as well. This bill provided that the commissioner of agriculture and two members to be appointed by the governor should have the matter of distribution in charge. The measure was supported by Enstrom of Roseau, Rako of Beltrami and McPartland of Koochiching. In the senate Senator Naplin was joined in the presenting of an identical bill by Senators Hegnes of Marshall and Nord of Koochiching. The measure was drawn by Attorney General Hilton and passed the house without a dissenting vote but was killed in the senate at six o'clock on the last day.

Four More Ditches.

Mr. Berve also introduced a bill at the request of the people of eastern Marshall county providing for additional ditches in that section. An appropriation was asked sufficient to cover the cost of surveys and preliminaries, the balance remaining to be applied on the cost of construction. This measure was killed in committee.

The Flood Bill Passed.

The drainage and flood control bill was passed in the senate, amended in the house, and the amendments first rejected and the bill knocked out by the senate, then reconsidered and finally passed as amended by the house, limiting assessments to $1 an acre.

GYM EQUIPMENT TO BE HERE SOON

ROOM IN BANK BASEMENT UNDERGOING REPAIRS FOR GRAND OPENING.

"The gym is a go," said G. A. Fallness this morning to The Times "and if the equipment which has been ordered arrives here at the promised time, the place will be opened about the last week in October," he continued.

Workmen are busy in the room under the Citizens State bank building, which has been rented for the purpose and everything is being fixed up and redecorated. The fixtures and lockers have also been ordered and will be in place within a short time. Every little detail connected with the gym is being looked after and when it is formally opened the adherents of clean sport will have an excellent place where they can indulge in an hour or two of vigorous exercise.

Some of the gym equipment to be installed includes Indian clubs, dumb bells, punching bag, exercising rings, arm and chest exercises, horizontal bars, vaulting horse, parallel bars, wrestling mat and other articles.

There will also be boxing on hand and it is expected some good contests will be put on by those who have experience in the game. During the war boxing received a great boost and many of the boys, who never had the gloves on before, have become quite proficient in the fistic art. Among the returned service men there is some good material and something interesting is looked for by the dues in the gym.

There will be four shower baths going at all times, and while this is all free with the membership, the price of two or three baths otherwise would cost as much as one month's its, the certificate and credits may be

BANKING HOUSE SOON TO OCCUPY SCANDIA BLOCK

FIRST AND PEOPLES INTERESTS ACQUIRE ONE OF CITY'S BEST BUILDINGS

PROVISION MADE FOR EXPANSION THROUGH PURCHASE OF ADJOINING LOT

A property transfer of more than ordinary interest was consummated this week when the directors of the First and Peoples State bank entered into an agreement with the owners of the Scandia block for the purchase of that property. The building is situated in the middle of the block between LaBree and Main avenue on Third street, being thus in the center of the business district. The lot has a frontage of 55 feet and is occupied by a practically new cream pressed brick building which is modern in every detail.

Purchased Additional Lot.

In order to make provision for enlargement, should this be needed in the future, the lot extending along the rear of the property and facing on Main avenue also was acquired, the property thus forming an "L" with the Evenson block, now occupied by the Loken store, filling the space between the extreme ends.

The bank will proceed at once to remodel the east room of the building, it being the intention to begin work as soon as plans can be secured from an architect. The room in which the bank will be housed is now occupied by the Lambert Drug store and it is the intention to move this to the west room, in which the grocery store of O. L. Cronstrom is now located. The probabilities are that the latter will move directly across the street to the building now occupied by the Hanson restaurant. This is also a First and Peoples property.

New Vault and Fixtures.

The new fixtures for the bank will be of the latest and best. The vault will be of burglar proof and fire proof construction and will be erected at the rear of the room as it now stands. The fixtures and furniture will be in keeping with the rest of the surroundings, it being the intention to spare nothing that will in any manner prove an aid to efficiency and convenience.

Windows will be placed along the east wall of the building and a new front appropriate for a banking institution will be added. The present Cronstrom store will also undergo a number of alterations, a new front being a part of the plan.

Result of Steady Growth.

The bank which thus acquires a new and modern home has been established for 27 years. Its growth has been steady and substantial until at the present time it is regarded as one of the strongest institutions in the state. The quarters now occupied by the bank have long been recognized as inadequate to its needs but the directors have had some hesitancy in engaging upon the erection of a new building under present conditions. The Scandia block offered a welcome solution to the problem when it was discovered that the property could be secured at a figure that is understood to have been decidedly attractive.

A. M. Sheldon, president, and F. P. Sheldon, director and one of the heaviest stockholders, came up from Minneapolis for the purpose of looking the situation over. They approved the steps thus far taken and the deal was closed before they left the city.

John is A Hustler.

Holt Weekly News: John H. Brumund, manager of the Princess theatre in Thief River Falls, was here last Friday putting advertising matter for the "Unpardonable Sin," which was shown there Monday and Tuesday evenings and was well attended by the people of Holt and vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Siljestrom of Golden Valley invited the editor and wife to go down there Tuesday evening to see the pictures and of course we accepted their kind offer and greatly enjoyed the trip and the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Brumund is running the best pictures he can get and his friends in Holt wish him much success in the venture.

Will Install Bakery.

Stanton Brothers of the Thief River Falls Restaurant, have rented the Giller building on Third street and will in about three weeks open a home bakery. An experienced woman baker will be in charge and it is the intention to specialize in pies, cakes and similar bakery products. All this kind of work for the restaurant will also be done at the new location, a shortage of room making this impossible at the present time.

SPEECHES AND EATS PROVIDE FINE PROGRAM

FALL MEETING OF MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION PROVES BIG WINNER.

BIG GATHERING PRESENT

CURTIS JOHNSON DELIVERS ROUSING ADDRESS—LOCAL MEN GIVE TALKS.

Seated at five tables beneath a massive flag of Stars and Stripes, over 200 people gathered at the Commercial club rooms on Tuesday evening to attend the merchants banquet and listen to a fine program of speeches and music.

It was the first fall meeting of the Thief River Falls Merchants association at which time all the clerks were invited to attend as the guests of their employers. The event was a decided success from start to finish and never before has such a large attendance been recorded at a function of this kind given by the businessmen.

The main address of the evening was given by Curtis Johnson of Rush City, this state, while A. S. Sapero and E. O. Mogensen both gave interesting talks on the subjects they had chosen. H. O. Loken was toastmaster and carried his end out ably.

There was orchestra music, a vocal solo by Miss Grace Loken and community singing, led by Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher.

Eats at 6:30 p. m.

The five large banquet tables, beautifully decorated, were filled shortly after 6:30 p. m., and the serving of the eats began immediately. During the banquet inspiring music was played by a five piece orchestra seated behind an array of artificial orange trees. After the serving of the two course banquet, every one was feeling right and all were ready for the fine program that followed.

Mr. Hay Speaks.

Toastmaster H. O. Loken in a few well chosen remarks introduced a man who was not on the program but one whom everyone was pleased to see and hear and that man was J. H. Hay, who happened to be in the city after having made an address at

FORMER CITIZEN OF THIEF RIVER FALLS AND COMPANION UNDER ARREST.

Ralph LaCount, formerly a resident of Thief River Falls, is held by the authorities of Hennepin county on a charge of having murdered his wife, Madeline, who was found dead on the estate of Charles J. Winton near Lake Minnetonka, last week. The woman's skull had been crushed with a base ball bat and her throat cut. The Minneapolis Journal gives the following account of the activities of the police in ferreting out the perpetrators of the crime:

"Formal charges of murder in the first degree today were placed against Ralph La Count and Oscar Lindgren, charging them with the murder of Mrs. Madelyn La Count at Lake Minnetonka, Sept. 12. Both were given preliminary hearing, waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury which meets next Tuesday. La Count was the husband of the dead woman and Lindgren was employed as a gardener on the estate of C. J. Winton, where the murder was committed."

The La Counts formerly lived in Thief River Falls and are well remembered by many present residents. The elder La Count was a few years ago suspected of being mixed up in the murder of a man whose body was found in a sparcely settled section of Marshall county, but the authorities were unable to prove a case against him.

FOOTBALL LID TO BE OFF SATURDAY

EAST GRAND FORKS ELEVEN WILL BE TAKEN ON IN OPENING CONTEST

The lid of the high school football season for 1919 will pop off Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that time the cruel cleat of the football shoe will again tear up the turf at the fair grounds gridiorn when Coach Tommerassen's proteges will take on a fast aggregation representing the East Grand Forks high school.

The local high school boys have been going through some stiff practicing of late and feel they are ready to begin the season with a win. A sufficient number of men have been available to form two teams and the boys have been put through tough scrimmage work all week. Much time has been taken up in the perfecting of plays which are sure to baffle the East Grand Forks bunch.

The lineup for Saturday's contest has not been given out, but Dennis McGinn will likely be placed at quarterback. The Irish lad is a bear when he gets going and will be a hard man to stop.

The halves will be played by Reuben Hadrath and Elmer Larson, if present plans pan out, while young Barzen will hold down the fullback position. Stanley Sorenson also will be put in as a halfback when the occasion makes it necessary.

Gordon LaBree, who is proving a brick wall at center, will no doubt get the job for Saturday's game, while Henry Aastad and Joseph Weirus will be the tackles. The two guards will undoubtedly be Kenneth Russell and Ernest Zeh. The ends will be held down by Leland Schuster and James Parenteau, both of whom are wiry lads and quick on their feet.

The game will be called at about 2 p. m. so as to allow the East Grand Forks boys to catch the afternoon train for home. It is hoped that a large crowd will be on hand to encourage the boys in their first game. No doubt some mighty interesting contests will be played before the season is over.

BITULITHIC IS FAVORITE WITH INVESTIGATORS

CITY DADS SPEND DAY AT ST. CLOUD AND TWO DAYS IN THE TWIN CITIES

GET VALUABLE INFORMATION AS TO METHODS EMPLOYED BY OTHERS

That the bitulithic form of paving is the best and most durable is the opinion expressed by the four members of the city council who returned to Thief River Falls Saturday, after a three-day trip of inspection. They looked over the paving at St. Cloud and in the Twin Cities.

Bitulithic is defined by Webster as designating a kind of paving, the main body of which consists of broken stone, cemented together with bitumen or asphalt.

The councilmen left here last week and passed Thursday at St. Cloud, where they had a chance to inspect the work as the paving was being laid. They left the same evening for Minneapolis and spent two days in the Mill City looking over many different kinds of paved streets, and arrived at the conclusion that the bitulithic form of paving is the most satisfactory of all. Creosote blocks are a close second.

Well Pleased.

"It's a good idea to look into the work of paving and see what is best before we go ahead," said Alderman Carl Froseth this morning. "We surely gained some good ideas on the trip.

All of the councilmen who made the trip were well pleased and the ideas obtained will help them a long ways in the selection of the kind of paving that is to be placed in the business section of Thief River Falls next year. Two members of the council were unable to make the trip, these being Aldermen Brumund and Ihle. Mr. Brumund was busy with the Homecoming celebration arrangements and found it impossible to get away, while business matters detained the president of the council.

MORE SHEEP FOR NEARBY FARMERS

SEVENTEEN HUNDRED HEAD EXPECTED HERE TODAY FROM MONTANA.

The demand for sheep on the part of farmers living in Pennington county has reached a point never considered possible. Several carloads of Montana stock have already been disposed of and more are coming. Olaf Ramstad, president of the Citizens State bank, Chris Larson of Kratka township, and Elev Aaker of Goodridge, are expected to return from the West today, bringing with him 1,700 head of the animals, many of which have already been spoken for. The sheep will be sold to farmers in this section.

At the rate the animals are now being placed it will be but a short time until practically every farm in the county has a herd of these profitable assistants. Many farmers are buying them for their value as weed eradicators, but others are seriously engaging in the sheep raising business. Those who have tried it have become convinced that there is a good profit to be realized in this line.

HERMANSON STORE IN NEW LOCATION

The Hermanson Hardware company this week moved to its new location in the Williams block, corner of Third and Main. The building has been remodeled and refitted for the accommodation of the concern and now provides ideal quarters for a business of this kind. The shelving and other interior finishing is in place and the stock is daily arriving. Slow shipments have delayed Mr. Hermanson in making the change but he will soon be in position to meet any demand in his line.

Mr. Hermanson is one of the latest additions to the list of business men in the city but he has already made a place for himself by his activity in every direction and his generally approved business methods. While his business at the former stand was satisfactory, he believes himself justified in anticipating a decided increase at the more central location.

PENNINGTON COUNTY CITIZENS HONOR RETURNED FIGHTERS IN FITTING STYLE.

PARADE THRILLS CROWDS

GREATEST DAY IN HISTORY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS—FINE PROGRAM OF SPORTS.

More than 12,000 persons from all parts of Pennington and surrounding counties gathered in Thief River Falls Saturday to participate in the Homecoming celebration in honor of the olive-drab warriors who fought in the World War and all those who were in the military service during the emergency.

The event will go down in the history of Pennington conuty as being the biggest and best ever attempted and the day was one that will be remembered by the men just as long as will be those days when German "G. I. cans" were bursting over the front lines.

The weather man behaved remarkably well, but at an early hour there was a light precipitation and things did not look very promising. By noon the sky was clearing off in fine shape and at three o'clock Old Sol was on the job and stayed there until sundown.

Parade Thrills Crowd.

By the time the parade was forming there were around 9,000 people gathered, while there were many who remained away at this time owing to the threatening weather. By noon the attendance was at its height and cars were entering the city in streams from the country districts. The parade, scheduled to start moving at 9:30 a. m., was postponed for an hour and promptly at 10:30 o'clock, at the command of Marshal H. D. Keene, the line started to move, headed by the Thief River Falls band, all of whom had seen service overseas with the exception of three members. It was an impressive spectacle. Following the khaki clad band, came the colors and guards. Soldiers, sailors and marines marched as one unit, there being more than 300 of them. Many of the boys wore gold chevrons on their right arm. As the fighters came up LaBree avenue there was applause and men stood with bared heads in honor of the passing heroes. The same was true along the entire parade route and automobiles full of people scurried around from one block to another to get several glimpses of the men as they were passing. Marching erect, with heads up like a body of trained West Pointers the crowd received a thrill, and there was much favorable comment from everyone for the manner in which the service men carried themselves.

Red Cross Makes Showing.

Following the service men came the Red Cross workers and Woman's club and they made one of the best showings in the parade. Then following the speakers of the day, community singers, Grand Forks band and Elks lodge, represented by a large number of girls carrying the lodge colors. All the schools were represented, from the high school down to the kindergarten. The high school service flag with about a hundred stars on it was carried in this section of the parade. Thief River Falls has seen many parades but the one on Saturday was the greatest ever, and for length it easily exceeded all previous affairs.

Vernon Speaks.

About half an hour after the procession reached the fair grounds the grand stand was filled. Mayor G. A. Penney made a few remarks in opening the program and then introduced Mr. Vernon, who served during the war, who delivered a fine address on the work of the troops in France and the part played by America in the conflict. The speaker impressed upon the minds of the large crowd the debt the world owes to the gallant sons of America and the Allies in delivering the world from the grip of Hun autocracy. "You cannot pay these men in money for the services rendered" he exclaimed, "and our men are going to demand the departation of those who evaded service on the grounds of being aliens." His speech was interrupted throughout by hearty applause as he delivered blow after blow for 100 per cent Americanism. He pointed out the necessity of teaching a real and true history of the nation in the schools and believed the coming generations should receive a thorough course in civics. He also laid special emphasis on the fact that it is time to put a stop to all meetings that are not held in the American language.

Response by Chommie.

Attorney H. O. Chommie responded in behalf of the returned service men and said if it were possible the men would put on a celebration for the citizens of the county to show their appreciation of the splendid reception given them on Saturday.

Mayor Penney asked the people in the grand stand to rise and with bowed heads engage in one minute of solemn devotion for the boys who fell on the field of honor. This concluded the morning program and all service men were invited to the mess hall to partake of the excellent lunch provided.

Real Homemade Eats.

Goldfish and corned willy? Not on your life. Real roast beef carved from the barbecued beeves, bread, pickles, butter, doughnuts, piping hot coffee with lots of cream, lemonade, ice cream 'n everythin' was there and it didn't cost a cent. The men were given a pleasant reminder of the days when they had to "lineup for chow," but they didn't mind that for the Elks were on the job in the hall and they pushed them all through in jig time.

The success of this part of the program was largely due to the excellent and untiring work of H. A. Brumund, a pact which the other committee members cheerfully acknowledge.

Sports Program.

A 100 yard dash was the first event on the sports program and first money was carried away by John Maney, of Grygla, a returned soldier. He also won first prize in the next event for ex-service men only.

There were several children's foot races and a hand grenade throwing contest. Great interest was manifested in the Indian pony race, although there was no set distance.

5 Mile Ford Race.

The Ford stock touring car race was the source of much laughter. There were ten entries and contestants were required to start their engines after the race was called and to stop each time around in front of the grand stand, stop the engine and start again. The drivers showed great skill in handling the machines and there was some livery maneuvering on their part after each trip around the track. John Maney won first money in this event, Leonard DuChamp, second and Clyde Nason came in third.

There was also a short football contest between service men and the high school team. Goodridge and St. Hilaire staged a ball game at the close of the races.

Boxing Contests.

Two preliminary boxing contests took place in the ring before the Gibbons brothers gave their exhibition in the fistic art. Roy Miller put on the gloves against Bernard Burggraf for five lively rounds and the boys went into the scrap rather heavy at times.

Hal Stanton and Derby Anderson put up a good exhibition and went through several fast rounds. Both men showed a knowledge of the game and were exceptionally quick on their feet.

Gibbons Boys Please.

Mike and Tommy Gibbons proved a big drawing card and everyone was anxious to get a glimpse of the famous St. Paul battlers. "Packy" McFarland, of this city, refereed and occasionally Mike and Tommy would misque and land on the popular garage owner. At any rate, "Packy" fulfilled his duties well as the third man in the ring. The Gibbons brothers went through many rounds and everyone was satisfied with their work.

Indian Pow-Wow.

Old timers of Thief River Falls, who recall the early days when the city was nothing but a trading post and the Indians used to hold forth at Squaw Point with their war dances, were given a reminder of those days during the afternoon when several red men from the Red Lake reservation gave a real Indian pow-wow. The Indians had their old buckskin drum on the grounds and around it danced several of the Chippewa tribe, attired in typical Indian fashion and painted up for the occasion. This proved a big attraction for both young and old and even some of the old time residents were seen trying to get a glimpse of the performers.

5,000 Cups Go Quickly.

After the ex-doughboys were fed up the civilian line was formed and people were being fed throughout the entire afternoon until the supply was exhausted. Over 5,000 paper cups and plates were used and around 2,000 people were given whatever they could get away with in their hands.

The Thief River Falls and Grand Forks bands played alternately thruout the morning and afternoon so there was plenty of spirited band music at all times.

Aeroplane Flights.

Al Forseth, returned flyer who served for a year on active duty in France, furnished thrills for the large crowd with his aeroplane flights and met with the full approval of everyone. At times he would "cork-screw" down from a great height, loop-the-loop and do other flying stunts to thrill the crowd. It will be remembered that several years ago Mr. Forseth together with J. Piper was experimenting with a machine here and made several short flights near the old fair grounds. This was in the early stages of the flying game, however, and today Mr. Forseth is recognized as one of the best flyers in the Northwest.

Colors Everywhere.

Everywhere—from houses and from persons—flew the official colors and decorations of the day. Buildings were decorated with bunting and the decorating committee had strung the Allied flags across the streets in the business section. The White Way also had on its new dress, the top globe being decorated with a piece of bunting and presented a very pretty appearance at night. The store windows were full of flags and Old Glory was everywhere to be seen.

Through the courtesy of the First and Peoples State bank, the school children were provided with large flags and the bank also loaned out flags to other places to assist in the decorating.

The Times' window display was a source of great interest, and large crowd at times nearly blocked the sidewalk viewing the several German war trophies and a collection of actual scenes from the front.

Through the courtesy of the First National bank a miniature Statue of Liberty belonging to the banking institution was loaned and used to good advantage.

Credit Due Committees.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the Homecoming celebration committees, who worked untiringly to make the affair the success it proved to be. Every one of the men assigned to the work of making the arrangements lost a great deal of his time and nothing could stop him in seeing that his end of the work was carried out to the letter.

Evening Program.

The evening program consisted of free movies at the Auditorium, band concert and dancing. After the conclusion of the movie show, the auditorium floor was cleared and dancing began shortly before ten o'clock "with real American girls," as those signs along the Rhine and in French villages used to read. But there was not that little handful of Y. W. C. A. girls and Red Crossers and Salvation Army lassies the boys used to hobnob with. There were just oodles of girls—Thief River Falls and Pennington county girls, most of them. Dancing was also enjoyed at the roller skating rink and both places were filled to their capacity. Splendid music was provided for both affairs. The Grand Forks band rendered a short concert shortly before seven o'clock and drew a large crowd.

'Twas A Grand Day.

Taken as a whole the Homecoming celebration was a day that will live long in the memory of all and the satisfying manner in which everything was staged has been the subject of appreciative comment among all those who had the good fortune to be present.

McLeod, followed by individuals from the farms of Charles Thompson and C. N. Urdahl. E. Jenson, a recent arrival who is farming the former Gates place, had a good showing of Holsteins, as did also Olaf Johnsrud. Mr. Thompson also had on display two beef Shorthorns while Morgan Vaughan showed excellent specimens of the milking variety. An interesting exhibit was the Aberdeen Angus calves entered by Fred DuChamp.

Also worthy of more than passing mention was the purebred Shorthorns exhibited by A. Hammerstein of Highlanding, and Nick Urdahl of Goodridge.

A Guernsey heifer belonging to Mr. Thompson was the winner of the sweepstakes prize, Prof. Gousseff of Crookston pronouncing her one of the best specimens he had ever judged.

The Red Polled cattle from the herd of Ramstad & Melgaard were easily the winners in the beef class, while the best in the dairy division was a Guernsey belonging to Stewart McLeod.

Boys and Girls Display.

The boys and girls clubs of the neighborhood are entitled to much credit for the interest taken in the fair. They had farm animals of all kinds on display, the calves being particularly fine. Their fancy apparently runs to Guernseys and Red Polls. The first prize in the beef type division went to Daniel Vaughan while the second was captured by Noble and Ludvig Urdahl. In the dairy type division Evelyn Palmer was first, Eddie Kusmak second, and Ward Thompson third.

Hogs and Sheep.

There was quite a display of hogs and sheep. Among the latter was a ram purchased at the state fair by Mr. Benson, who paid $100 for him. The prize winners among the hog exhibitors were: J. J. McAnnelly, boar, first; Joe Oski, Mulefooted pair, second. In the Poland China division Andrew Wells received first and Henry Henrickson second.

The sheep display created a great deal of comment. Robinson brothers had a fine pen of grade Shropshires, while the purebred ram belonging to Morgan Vaughan was easily the leader next after the Benson animal. P. P. Palmer also exhibited a ram of the same breed with all the earmarks of a prizewinner. Mrs. Walberg's grade ewes, also Shropshires, were in fine condition and showed the result of care in handling. Charles Thompson favors Oxfords and the specimen displayed won commendation from the judges.

Wonderful Corn Exhibit.

All three floors of the consolidated school building were given over to the display of grains and grasses, and articles of home and school manufacture. While everything was of superior quality, the corn exhibit elicited unfeigned exclamations of admiration. Every variety ever attempted in this section was in evidence, but the Northwestern Dent and Minnesota No. 13 predominated. Matured ears nearly a foot in length and with the kernels perfectly developed and ripened clear to the tip were to be seen along all four sides of the large room. Profs. Gousseff and Christianson both stated without hesitation that no finer display was to be found in any section of the Northwest this year. Hard, clean and of excellent color, this corn display was one in which the citizens of any community in the country might well be proud. The sweepstakes prize was awarded to William Stanley of Grygla on his display of Minnesota 13.

Was Under Water.

The surprising thing, when the results are noted, is that very little of this corn was planted with any expectation of its making a crop. It was all drilled and the care possible when the crop is check-rowed was lacking. In spite of this the crop matured—even to the fodder varieties. There were specimens 12 feet high with fully matured ears, which is something seldom seen in this latitude. The fields from which many of the specimens were taken stood under water for a week in the early part of July and the crop was given up as a total loss even by experts. As soon as the flood receded, however, the plants began picking up and no one would ever be able to tell by the outcome that there had ever been a setback.

Small Grains Good.

The wheat, oats and barley shown was as good as any found in this section this year. The displays were not numerous as there is nothing so very remarkable about a fine crop of small grains in this section. Bundles of excellent flax were in evidence, while millet and clover abounded. One specimen of the third cutting of alfalfa received rather more than its share of notice.

Joe Oski of Mavie, threshed out a sample of wheat with a flail in order to have it ready for the exhibition and he won a prize with it, too.

Potatoes From Grygla.

The Grygla section bids fair to become the potato region of northwestern Minnesota. Spuds of fine shape and the preferred size were in evidence everywhere in the room, the Burbanks predominating. The farmers of that section have learned that, taken one year with another, the potato is a good friend to tie to and they are steadily working toward better stock and more uniform results.

The garden vegetable display was astounding for its variety and excellence. There were peanuts, green peppers, watermelons, cantaloupe, Citrons and many other products rather rare in this section.

School and Home.

The exhibit of home and school manufacture were by everybody adjudged to be better than those seen at any regular county fair in Thief River Falls. The same is perhaps true of the canning exhibit. There were hundreds of articles in the fancy work divisions, many of them from Grygla, and each was worthy of a place at any fair in the country. This was all appropriately topped off with the horticultural exhibit, made up of hundreds of house and garden plants and flowers.

In the canning exhibit Mrs. Morgan Vaughan took first prize on canning collection, Mrs. M. H. Dahl second, Mrs. M. G. Thorson third, and Mrs. Martin Olson was awarded a special. Miss Vivian Thorson was first for her collection of children's club work. Miss Louise Besancon was the prize winner in the baking contest.

They Worked Hard.

The officials and their assistants have every reason for congratulating themselves on the success of their fair. J. P. Jensen, president, and Stewart McLeod, secretary-treasurer, of the Tri-County Fair association, have performed a service for their neighbors for which the latter should be grateful. They wish, however, for no such demonstration. Both those gentlemen stated that if it were not for the wholehearted support given the undertaking by the farmers and the citizens generally the fair would have been practically impossible in the first place and it certainly could not have been the unqualified success it was.

Good Speakers Present.

Not much in the way of an amusement program could be provided. A ball game between Goodridge and Grygla resulted in a score of 8 and 3 on Monday, with the game called off in the thirteenth inning.

On Monday Prof. J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, delivered an address in his usual interesting manner. There is not a man in the state who understands better what the people of that particular section have had to contend with, and his advice and counsel is always appreciated. Attorney Hans O. Chommie of Thief River Falls, was the speaker on the second day. He gave a good talk on the duties of citizenship, the value of cooperation and the inspiration of such gatherings.

RESOLUTION OF THANKS ADOPTED BY SERVICE MEN

On behalf of the returned soldiers, sailors and marines of Pennington county, the following resolution was adopted at a meeting of the American Legion last Saturday, to thank the people of the county for the magnificent celebration tendered the boys on that day:

Resolved, at a regular meeting of the Pennington county post of the American Legion, that through the newspapers of the county, the post express the appreciation of the returned service men for the gigantic Homecoming celebration tendered by the citizens of Pennington county to the service men of the world war, and to all those persons serving in organization work and committee work in the conduct of the celebration.

Words have not been coined that will express the innermost feelings of the boys have a keen sense of realization of their place in the minds of the citizens of Pennington county and the spirit shown, and the untiring efforts expended are in conformity with the work and efforts that made the service men of Pennington county expend their best efforts in the great conflict, knowing well that the citizens stood back of them solidly. By this resolution the service men in a feeble way desire to express their keen satisfaction in the manner in which Pennington county responded to the call for money, labor and moral support, and especially to the women of the county who gave of their funds, time and energy, and especially of devotion to their sons, husbands and relatives in the service. The service men of the county respond as one man and render honor to the women of Pennington county.

To the loan organizations, savings organizations, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, Boy Scouts, Elks' Lodge, Masons, Sons and Daughters of Norway, I. O. O. F., and the many other kindred organizations, the service men extend their heartfelt thanks in appreciation of the noble work that was done so ably by them at home, and to the citizens who so willingly responded to every request made upon them by the above mentioned organizations.

To the Salvation Army and especially to the "Doughnut Girl," the love, reverence, respect and honor of men in service is such that the trend of thought of no human being can express the innermost feelings of those men who received the direct administration of untiring efforts and to their buddies who would have received the same treatment had they been in the line. To them the hat of every service man in Pennington county and every service man in the army and navy are off in a true sense of devotion to that wonderful organization.

We, the service men of Pennington county, are proud and pleased to be back among the citizens of Pennington county, and desire that our demeanor will be such that we may always retain the profound respect that we feel you have towards all those who doffed the mufti and put on the khaki and blue.—Returned Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

DOROTHY PHILLIPS HAS WONDER PLAY

"DESTINY" COMING TO PRINCESS NEXT WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY.

Dorothy Phillips' first Jewel picture since the memorable "Heart of Humanity" will be seen Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 1 and 2 at the Princess theatre. It is called "Destiny" and it is based on a widely-read novel by Charles Neville Buck, the noted author.

"Destiny" presents several novelties. In the first place, the leading man, William Stowell, is Miss Phillips' brother instead of the customary sweetheart, the latter part being played by Harry Hilliard, once Theda Bara's leading man.

In the second place, the picture presents parallel lines of action starting from the same point and arriving at widely separated conclusions, as in the stage technique of such present-day playwrights as Max Marcin, Samuel Chipman and Channing Pollock.

"Destiny," in its main line of progress, shows the results of Stowell's overweening lust for power and determination to conquer the world. This ambition, presented in a laudable light at first, is gradually transformed into an evil thing, which wrecks the lives of those dearest to him, and his own. Then the alternative development of the theme is shown.

The picture is presented with an admirable cast, including beside those already named, Gertrude Astor, Stanhope Wheatcroft, Walt Whitman, Antrim Short, Tom Ashton, Nanine Wright, Allan Sears and Edgar Sherrod. It was directed by Rollin Sturgeon from a scenario by Elliott J. Clawson.

BUILD a HOME

THE man who follows this advice now will realize that he was wise before another year has past. He will have the pleasure and satisfaction of living in a place suited to his needs and will know that he made money by building before prices went higher. There is no prospect of a reduction in the cost of building material. In fact, the tendency is just the other way.

Building operations are better than for years past. It is realized that to delay means additional cost. Be wise and get started before winter sets in.

We are always glad to assist you with the plans for anything you may need in this line.

CREAM CHECKS 06 PER DAY VER YEAR AGO

E IN AMOUNT PAID NS FOR AUGUST WAS 26.71 PER CENT.

RE OVER $100 MARK

LY STILL BRINGS HERDSMEN OVER $1,000 EVERY 24 HOURS.

The Thief River Falls Cooperative creamery association paid its patrons total of $25,960.49 for the milk and cream brought to the plant during the month of August according to the report of Secretary Peter Engelstad. This is not the banner month in the history of the creamery, but the amount paid out is nevertheless greater than for the corresponding month a year ago by $6,134.68. This represents an average increase of $206.12 per day, Sundays included, and is a very good showing when all things are considered.

There were 122 patrons in the $50-or-better class, three of these going over the $200 mark. The Guernsey herd of Peter Engelstad heads the list, having taken the lead position from Hans Anton's bunch, which has held it during the greater part of the summer.

The 122 top-notchers received $15,502 between them, an average of $172, which is a record seldom equalled. This leaves $1[illegible],477 for those who have not yet reached the point where their herds bring in $50 per month.

VERNON GIVES ROUSING TALK TO LEGION MEN

MINDS OF SERVICE MEN COULD NOT BE TURNED TO SERIOUS MATTERS.

90 NEW MEMBERS SECURED

POST WILL PUT ON CONCERT AND LECTURE BY OSTEN-SACKEN NOV. 21-22.

The minds of the service men could not be turned to serious matters on Saturday, owing to the fact that the Homecoming committees had arranged such a corking good program, and as a result the meeting of the American Legion scheduled to take place at 4:45 p. m., did not pan out well. About five o'clock the men adjourned until 7 p. m., and only a small attendance was registered at the evening session.

During the membership drive staged Saturday ninety new members were enrolled as members of the post and organizers of the post are gratified to know that the men are interested and that a complete membership of our returned men will soon be enrolled. All members having memberships are requested to turn them in to G. Howard Smith at once so they may receive the American Legion Weekly, which is forwarded to all members until Nov. 11, 1919, without charge.

The meeting was opened by an invocation and tribute to deceased comrades by Miss Wolverton of the Salvation Army.

A short address was made by H. O. Chommie urging all service men to join the Legion and make it the mouthpiece of the service men and to make it express the true sentiment of all of the men.

Vernon Speaks.

Mr. Vernon explained his stand on military training which was misunderstood in his address at the fair grounds. The training that he recommends is physical training that will keep young America fit to fight in the event that it is necessary that their country engage in war and he is not in favor of compulsory military training under the present proposed systems and those practiced in Europe.

The speaker pointed out that with physical training in schools, men who were found unfitted in the late war owing to minor defects, would be enabled to overcome them in the training and make them more fit in civil life as well as possible military life.

Mr. Vernon pointed out the fact that The American Legion was wholly responsible for the bonus bill and called attention to the fact that the last regular session of the legislature refused to pass a $5.00 bonus bill and it was not until the fight was made by the Legion that the final bill was passed.

Secure Rights.

The future efforts of the Legion will be directed to secure legislation to get better insurance rates, secure lump sum payments of policies and to secure better compensation for wounded men and secure better terms of vocational training, national bonus bill of one year's pay, land grants and loans to service men for farming operations, home building and entering into legitimate business. Although as an individual one may not be interested in these things but as a comrade in arms it is the duty to organize and help your buddy secure his rights. All matters of insurance, back pay, bonds, etc., should be referred to George Werstlein, Thief River Falls, Minn., insurance officer of the post and they will be transmitted through Legion channels direct to Washington where they will receive immediate attention.

Some service men are of the opinion that joining the Legion is re-entering the army, but the Legion is absolutely non-military and non-political and you can rest assured that the professional politician can see nothing to the Legion that will be of benefit to him although he is making every effort to grant every reasonable and just request presented by the Legion. No military titles are to be used in the Legion.

All members joining between the organization of the post and Nov. 11, 1919, will be considered charter members which is done to give the men that who have not returned an equal chance with those now out of the service and all township chairmen are requested to make a special effort to secure the applications of all service men in their district and turn them in to the post adjutant before the next meeting which will be held in the commercial club rooms, Thief River Falls, Minn., at 8 p. m. sharp on Thursday, Oct. 2, 1919.

One Big Post.

G. Howard Smith has been appointed chairman for the county of Pennington for the purpose of organizing posts in the county and owing to the fact that Pennington county is a small county he is of the opinion that one large post centrally located with representation on the board of officers and staff would be better than a number of small posts. As Thief River Falls is centrally located all service men can attend meetings here but if any community in the county desires to form a separate post, application can be made by 15 returned service men. A charter will be granted but as there is strength in numbers and unity of action in one big organization let each member put his shoulder to the wheel and secure another member and put the membership over the 220 mark that has been alloted to Pennington county to bring the membership of the Legion up to the 2,000,000 mark. Minnesota has already gone over its allotment with 35,000 members up to August 1, 1919.

Resolutions were presented at the meeting covering aliens, slackers and conscientious objectors but they were referred to the meeting of October 2nd at which time the post will be named after the first Pennington county boy who fell in battle, and the constitution and by-laws of the local post will be adopted.

A motion was made and carried that the Post adjutant draw up suitable resolutions expressing the appreciation of the returned boys for the wonderful homecoming celebration put on by the people of Pennington county.

A vote of thanks was extended to A. H. Vernon for his excellent address and the meeting was adjourned to October 2, 1919.

The date of the lecture of Fritz Osten Sacken and the concert to be put on by the local post has been set as November 21 and 22 and the arrangement committee headed by L. H. Lawrence are engaged in making all necessary arrangements for the event.

Raymond Johnson, chairman of the dance committee reports that arrangements for a dance to be given by the local Post are being made and that the event will take place in about two weeks. The exact date will be announced as soon as the committee meets.

War Department Announcement.

An announcement from the War Department today made public by Lieut.-Col. E. L. Hooper, 311 Nicollet avenue, is aimed at attorneys who are obtaining fees for representing ex-soldiers in adjusting differences.

The announcement reads: A large number of applications for information from the official records of the War Department are made through attorneys employed for the purpose.

"The employment of the services of an attorney is unnecessary for this purpose. Applications for information from official records may be addressed by the person directly interested to the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C."

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing to our friends and neighbors our sincere thanks for their kind assistance at the sad death and at the funeral of our beloved husband and father. We also wish to express our thanks for the many beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. Theodore L. Olson and Children. a25p

SOLDIER BONUS TO BE CHRISTMAS GIFT

STATE TREASURER SAYS 3 MONTHS WILL ELAPSE BEFORE PAYMENT BEGINS.

Christmas holidays may bring the first payments of the soldiers' bonuses from the $20,000,000 fund voted by the legislature, according to predictions during a preliminary meeting of the bonus board.

Anticipating favorable action by the governor on the bonus bill, an organization meeting was held Saturday at St. Paul by the administrative board made up of State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, State Treasurer Henry Rines and Adj.-Gen. W. F. Rhinow. The latter was elected chairman and it was agreed to meet again early this week to adopt definite administrative plans.

Treasurer Hines' statement that although payments of bonuses will begin as soon as possible, three months may elapse before disbursements can start, was agreed upon by the other members. Bonds must be sold, office staffs organized, and blank forms worked out and printed before any money can be paid to the benefiting soldiers, it was explained.

NEW RURAL ROUTE THROUGH TO ERIE

GOES BY WAY OF BRUNKEBERG AND HIGHLANDING; RETURNS BY KUEHNEL.

Another rural route connecting the eastern section of the county with the postoffice at Thief River Falls will be put in operation on Nov. 1. Sealed proposals for the carrying of the mail will be received at the office of the fourth assistant postmaster general until Oct. 14.

The new route is laid out as follows: From Thief River Falls by Kratka, Brunkeberg and Highlanding, returning by way of the latter place and Kuehnel. The distance is 32.27 miles.

The notice for bids stipulates that a motor vehicle must be used during the months that this is possible, teams being permissible otherwise. The schedule of delivery when made by auto is as follows: Leave Thief River Falls 7 a. m., arrive Erie 11:00 a. m. Leave Erie 11:30, arrive Thief River Falls 3 p. m. When motor vehicle cannot be used the following schedule will be in effect: Leave Thief River Falls 7 a. m.; arrive Erie 6:30 p. m. Leave Erie 7 a. m., arrive Thief Thief River Falls 4:25 p. m.

Shipments Are Delayed.

Postmaster John Morgan has been notified that while there has been some delay in the shipment of the orders for goods ordered at the time of the government's sale of army supplies, these will be made just as rapidly as transportation facilities permit. The sale was vastly more successful than any person connected with its innauguration thought possible and delays are therefore but natural. The total amount of such goods ordered from the Chicago warehouse alone was over 160,000,000 pounds and shipments are being made as rapidly as possible.

Will Remain at Warren.

Frank Truhn, Superintendent of the Warren Municipal Electric Light, Water and Power Plant, received a tempting offer from Thief River Falls to fill a similar position in that city. In justice to himself, Mr. Truhn felt that he could not afford to pass up such an opportunity to better himself and consequently resigned his position here to accept the one at Thief River Falls. But in view of Mr. Truhn's faithful and efficient service during the time he has had charge of the plant here, the city light, water and power commission would not accept his resignation but instead offered him a substantial increase in salary. In view of this action of the commission and also because he likes Warren and its people, Mr. Truhn has decided to stay and give to the people of this city the same excellent service in the future as he has in the past.—Warren Sheaf.

Misses Marie Nelson and Blanche Johnson left this morning for Little Falls as delegates from the Girls' Community club, to attend the State Federation convention of Woman's clubs. Miss Johnson will return on Saturday, while Miss Nelson will continue her trip to her parental home in Eau Claire, Wis., to visit for a week. Before returning she will visit for a few days with friends in Chicago.

For once we are all agreed. If there is a dissenting voice or a dissatisfied participant he or she has sense enough not to let the fact be known.

It is of course understood that every community regards its own soldier welcome as the biggest and best thing of its kind ever attempted, but very few have the reason for this feeling that the people of Pennington county share. It was not only the biggest thing in the way of a celebration we have thus far undertaken, but it is certain that no other community in the state the size of Thief River Falls even distantly approached it either in interest, attendance or efficient management.

The occasion of course warranted the very best obtainable in the way of entertainment as well as the largest attendance in the city's history. It was expected that a large crowd would be present but all calculations fell far short. It is not safe to make even an estimate of the number of persons on the fair grounds on Saturday afternoon, but those who have had some experience in handling crowds place the figure at somewhere between 12,000 and 15,000. Never before has any city in this section seen such gathering.

The people of the county and city have a right to feel proud of the success of their experiment. There was not an untoward circumstance to mar the perfect carrying out of the arrangements, every detail coming off exactly as announced in the program. There did occur a slight shortage in the commissary department, but no blame is coming to any one for this. Provision had been made for feeding between seven and eight thousand people, the arrangements being ample for this number. It was early discovered that portions would have to be cut some if the grub was to hold out, however, and even with a program of curtailment in effect the committee fell short. Not that this mattered much, everybody seeming to understand the situation perfectly and willing to make the best of it.

The soldiers, sailors and marines had a good time. They appreciated the fact that an entertainment of such magnitude must have required the outlay of a considerable sum of money as well as much hard work. Every returned service man who in any manner expressed himself on the subject was unsparing in his praise.

To the officials of the county of Pennington and the city of Thief River Falls is largely due the credit for making this homecoming event such a success. They assisted liberally in every manner possible—in fact the carrying out of the undertaking would have been impossible had it not been for their hearty co-operation. The citizens' committees worked energetically and intelligently and should come in for a large share of the credit. It is the returned men themselves, however, who made the affair the great success it unquestionably was. Had they taken the attitude that the matter was one of but slight importance to them there would have been no celebration worthy of the name. Every detail of the program hinged on their presence and participation, and neither was withheld—not so it could be noticed. The boys had a good time, it being the particular duty of the rest of the population to see that such was the case.

The occasion will linger long in the memory of the people of the county as one of the most enjoyable in which they have ever taken part.

THE GOODRIDGE FAIR.

For a first attempt it was certainly a hummer. The weather man was not noticeably kind, particularly on the first day, but redeemed himself somewhat on Tuesday. The attendance was very good—in fact in proportion to the generally accepted importance of the event it was more of a success in this respect than many of regular county fairs held in this neighborhood.

The section about Goodridge and Grygla proved one thing absolutely. The impression that the region is devoted almost exclusively to grain growing was demonstrated to be mistaken. In fact the grain exhibit was a small part of the very excellent showing, although there was enough of this to show that the rather discouraging season had not cleaned the growers out entirely—not by a long shot.

The live stock section undoubtedly attracted the greatest interest. Large, well-lighted barns had been constructed purposely for housing the stock and it was displayed to very good advantage. Nearly every breed of dairy and beef critter was represented and the specimens ranked high in quality. One of the surprises was the extensive potato exhibit. For a region reputed to have been injured by too much water the display was a wonder. Potatoes will form an important item in the scheme of diversified farming which the people of the East End are now following.

The putting on of this show took a lot of work, a considerable amount of courage and an absolute faith in the ability of the region to furnish products that would stand the test of comparison. This faith was not misplaced. The district has every reason to be proud of the record made.

Goodridge citizens are to be congratulated for the manner in which they handled the affair. The village is not large nor are the general accommodations metropolitan. So well was everything handled, however, that not a visitor has been heard to enter a complaint of any sort.

There are those who question the advisability of holding two fairs in the county, but it is not likely that Goodridge will be selected for the Eastern show next year. As matters turned out it was a good thing for the entire section that this supplementary fair was held, the undertaking being particularly valuable as an advertisement for a very much misunderstood and somewhat neglected region.

THE ORE TAX VETO.

Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist is through politically in Minnesota. His veto of the measure providing for a tax on iron ore makes this absolutely certain.

The ore tax measure introduced by Representative Bendixen and passed by large majorities in both houses is so far different from the general run of tonnage tax measures proposed during the past few years that it is probably not very well understood by most of the people in the state. It was almost identical with the bill having the same purpose in view and introduced by the Nonpartisan members of the legislature at the regular session. The latter put up no holler on this score, being only anxious that some measure of the kind should be passed.

The Bendixen bill provided simply for a tax on the profits of iron ore and this was fixed at the low figure of five per cent. The people in the iron counties of the northwestern section set up the cry that the tax was confiscatory and that it would put many of the smaller companies out of business. There is nothing to the claim. A mining company would have to show a profit on its operations after all expenses were paid before being liable to pay anything under the provisions of the act. No fairer taxing measure was ever attempted in this state and many who were opposed to any kind of a surtax on mines or any other kind of property admitted the fairness of the law. The governor evidently did not, however. He may be entitled to credit for the courage he displayed in vetoing a measure recognized as eminently just by every person in the state except those occupying a very small section, and where the big mining operators have absolute control of things.

The vetoing of this measure was a mistake from every point of view. The principle of the tax was right and should have been applied. It was popular generally and the governor would therefore have been wise to follow the trend of public opinion. The veto only postpones the ultimate acceptance of some such law and the next one proposed is liable to be more severe. Finally, the governor has put the Republican party in the state on the defensive.

If the mining companies were behind the fight made on this bill they are almost as unwise as the governor. The tax proposed was neither unreasonable nor burdensome and its defeat has simply made a political issue of the matter. It will come up again and it is safe to predict that some man will at that time be governor who will see his duty in a different light.

A VERY POOR DIVISION.

The extra session of the legislature made quite a record. The legislation passed is all of a constructive and progressive nature and it was turned out with neatness and dispatch. The members were sometimes not as careful about detail and absolute fairness as they might have been, but this was perhaps to be expected when the amount of work confronting them is taken into consideration.

The Wicker bill, providing for an emergency fund with which to meet situations arising by reason of floods, forest fires, cyclones and from other causes, called for an appropriation of $2,000,000. This was clipped to $1,000,000 in the house and was again cut in two when it reached the senate. This half million dollars is expected to meet any requirement which may arise in the state.

The amount is woefully inadequate but would not have looked so bad had not the legislature at the same time appropriated $165,000 for the relief of citizens of Fergus Falls. The last-named city was visited by a cyclone the past summer and there is no denying the fact that a great amount of damage was done. When compared to the loss occasioned by floods and forest fires, however, it was a mere bagatele. The people all over the state came to the relief of the stricken city but none have as yet offered to help out the farmers who were cleaned out in northwestern Minnesota. Yet the state appropriates one-third as much to meet the needs of one city as is provided for the rest of the state and covering losses arising from calamities of every nature.

Representative Berve of Marshall, Rako of Beltrami, Enstrom of Roseau and McPartlin of Koochiching counties introduced a bill providing for a fund of $200,000 and creating a commission for its expenditure in assisting flood sufferers, it being understood that this would apply particularly to the seven northwestern counties. This bill passed the house by a vote of 95 to 0, but was sidetracked in the senate where it was sponsored by Senator Naplin of Pennington, Hegnes of Marshall and Nord of Koochiching. The passage of this measure would have afforded immediate relief to a large section and the unconcern with which it was regarded by the senate is not greatly to the credit of that body.

The people wiped out by forest fires have to a great extent been helped back onto their feet and special legislation and donations should place Fergus Falls where not much more will be required. This leaves a large part of the half million appropriated to be used in assisting the people of the northwest section and they should get their claims before the proper parties without delay. This can perhaps best be done through the commissioner of agriculture. His office has all the files and evidence bearing on the subject and it is certain that action can most quickly be secured by engaging his interest.

IS CORN A SAFE BET?

The corn exhibit at the Tri-County fair at Goodridge was the most surprising thing in a whole galary of surprises. Practically every variety regarded as possible of production in Minnesota was there on display and the quality was such as to call forth the admiration of experts.

The people in the eastern end of the county are of the opinion that corn can be depended on as certainly as any other cereal. The past season has been in no manner so strikingly different from others as to account for the exceptionally fine crop secured. The great trouble seems to be that people are afraid to plant early enough to permit the corn to mature before frost comes. It is now generally recognized that there is greater danger of damage from this cause late in the summer when the corn is ripening than in the early part of the season when it is just getting a start.

However this may be, it is certain that the outcome this year will have the effect of greatly increasing the corn acreage of the county next season.

The merchants of Thief River Falls are enjoying the best early fall business in years. In spite of the rather unsatisfactory merchandising conditions they have been able to get goods about the same as usual. Compared with a year ago the prices on most articles are not high and the variety is as great as usual and the quality about the same. Any person who sends away for goods of any kind before looking over the stock in the local stores deserves to get the worst of it—and the chances are that such will be the case. Give the home merchant a chance to show what he has to offer at any rate before sending your money away to some mail order house.

The Modern Highway says that the Standard and other big oil companies should and can be made to pay for paved highways. In fact, there is no way for these concerns to escape paying for such improvements. The gasoline consumption will be cut to such an extent that they will be the only losers on the deal. There should be no very great objection on the part of the ordinary citizen to this procedure.

Norway Gets Spitzbergen

(Minneapolis Journal.)

When the Polar Sea was a tropical water and Greenland was covered with fronds instead of ice, the rank vegetation of Spitzbergen prepared the coal layers which now thickly cumber those islands. Stored sunheat, which literally coal is, today underlies the snows of that region, and men extract from the Artic soil fuel to drive machines and to warm homes in lands far below the Frigid Zone.

The Paris Conference has awarded Spitzbergen to Norway, the cables report. That mist-enshrouded and night-haunted archipelago, some six hundred miles due north from the North Cape, is a prize. It is nearest Norway, and Norway has the best historic claim. Also the Paris Conference considered Norway's services to the Allies throughout the war. Norway suffered materially from German ruthlessness, but was better able to serve the cause by continuing as an ostensible neutral and avoiding the chance of being victimized. Spitzbergen may be regarded in the light of a reward.

The exploitation of Spitzbergen ought to compensate many-fold Norway's losses, will do so in the long run. The coal measures of the archipelago are abundant and rich in quality. They are superficially located, afford easy mining and allow direct transportation. Market for the product will be found in coalless Scandinavia, in Finland and northern Russia, as no doubt in Britain itself. Loaded from the mines virtually at waterside, the coal can be transported to all Scandinavian and Baltic ports, to Archangel on the White Sea; it can reach northern Sweden, the New Sweden of lumber and ores, north of the Dal, by short haul from the Ototen Fjord, Victoria Haven.

Norway before the war owned one of the great merchant marines. But she had nothing except fish, some lumber and dairy products wherewith to trade. Her income from the fleet was earned as transportation service for other countries and between alien ports. Her flag was on every sea, thicker than in Bergen or Christiania harbors. She owned no colonies from which to draw raw materials and to which to sell stuff, as did smaller countries like Holland and Belgium. Yet her people are among the chief seafarers and have been so since the days of the Vikings.

Spitzbergen therefore ought to prove an immense asset for Norway. The superlative raw material for trading purposes in this age is coal; it betters even cotton or rubber or coffee. With coal to dispense Norway can secure anything she wants.

It will be British capital very largely that Norway will use to develop Spitzbergen. Although Norway has no centuries-old treaty of alliance with England as Portugal has, her interest is quite as much attached to Britain, and although she did not enter the war as Britain's ally as did the Lusitanian Republic, she actually afforded England equal or greater aid.

The Norwegians by blood are more closely related to the Scotch and English than any other race, and they more nearly approach the latter psychologically by reason of experience and association.

Has Peat a Future?

(Editorial in Duluth Herald.)

If, as confidently asserted by those who have studied the question, there is a vast reserve of good and cheap fuel in Minnesota's peat bogs, why should the Northwest continue the slave of anthracite?

If peat can be easily and cheaply turned into fuel as good as hard coal, isn't it folly to refrain longer from making it accessible?

If those who make these claims for it are mistaken, it will be easy to find it out, and it will not cost much to make the test. If they are right, it is costing the Northwest millions of dollars a year to neglect this potential asset.

Professor E. K. Soper of the University of Minnesota, who issued a bulletin on "The Peat Resources of Minnesota" after investigation and tests, says that "the total quantity of peat available in Minnesota for machine peat fuel of good quality is nearly seven billion short tons." He adds that if this peat were converted into machine peat bricks and sold at only three dollars a ton, it would be worth more than twenty billion dollars.

To this low price should be added the chemical by-products which can be extracted without impairing the fuel value. The total value of this utterly neglected asset then would be staggering in amount.

It is also asserted that "producer" gas plants could be installed in the peat bogs, capable of producing electrical power in almost unlimited amount. Another confident assertion is that the ammonium sulphate in these peats, recoverable without affecting their fuel value, if applied to lean lands would make them produce twice as much as the best lands do now. Another is that rough air-dried peat, being high in nitrogen, is a highly valuable fertilizer. Still another is that the fibrous peats combined with wood can be used in making clothing.

Isn't peat worth looking into? In the face of claims so confident and so positive, and in the face of permanent high prices for coal, isn't it indeed a stupid folly not to give it a thorough test immediately?

Power of the Rural Press

(Publishers Auxiliary.)

The average man can live in a big city all his life and never see his name in the paper, but the farmer and the average man and woman in any small town will see their names in their local country newspaper at least ten times a year, and always connected with some worthy cause, some faithful service, something that brings joy all through life. The country newspaper is the paper that spreads happiness and content.

Don't you always want to read about the ball game you saw the day before? If you witness a fire you read the details of that fire with double interest. If you hadn't seen the blaze perhaps you would not read the story at all. Why is this? asks the Oelwein (Ia.) Iowan. It is because the things you know about are the things you like to read about. That is why country newspapers have such a tremendous hold on their readers. They tell them about the comings and goings of their friends and neighbors, the people they know. Nothing on earth is as interesting to the farmers and people living in the town as the news of their babies, the marriage of their boys and girls, their social and church events, the illness and the deaths among their friends. Year after year the country newspaper records the history of its community.

Is it any wonder the country newspaper is the most powerful advertising medium on earth? Just as its power is great in holding its readers' interest, so is it helpful in shaping thought and powerful as an advertising medium. It turns the printed word almost into the spoken word.

No metropolitan daily, no magazine, no billboard, no farm journal—good as they all are—rings the bell with farmers and small town people as does their home newspaper. It is an integral part of the community that cannot be filled by any other medium.

IT WAS WAR!

They had gone too far. The friends of his youth—his redwoods—towering on the slopes he loved, to these vandal "pioneers" were only "lumber."

And when they felled the hoary giant that guarded his mother's grave—then it was man against man, camp against camp—to the death!

A picture of rugged hills and of rugged hearts. Filled with the tang of boundless forests. Rich with the blood of untamed men. Come!

"I'm delighted to be here, friends," said Mr. Hay, "and this splendid meeting of businessmen is indicative of co-operation and co-ordination. The time to think co-operation is when you don't need it, so when you do need it, you'll have it," he continued. Mr. Hay, after congratulating the business men on the splendid spirit shown said a few words in praise of the main speaker of the evening.

Johnson a Whirlwind.

Curtis Johnson of Rush City, Minn., delivered the main address of the evening and chose for his subject, "The Road to Happiness," and the manner in which he handled the topic astounded his interested listeners. From the time he began talking until he recited the closing poem he had the audience with him and kept them covered with smiles. His sentences were punctuated with applause whenever he mentioned the gallant work of the American doughboys in France and what they did to save the world. There was patriotism in his speech, humor, and at times pathos.

"Columbus sailed across the Atlantic to prove the world was round," he declared, "and we sent our American doughboys to France to prove to the world we were square. We did it. But what was it that did it?" he asked. "Enthusiasm is what did it. Our boys were unstoppable," he continued.

Give Bouquets.

"Don't be stingy with your bouquets" said Mr. Johnson. "If a man does a good thing pat him on the back and tell him to go ahead and do some more. The trouble in a great many towns is the same as the story about two Irishmen. One was willing to pull the whole load and the other was perfectly willing that he should. Let's get together on ideas" he said. "The time to give bouquets to a man is when he is living and in a great many cases where churches are heaped full of flowers that man should have had those bouquets when he was living."

"Ambition."

As the speaker went along he impressed upon the minds of his listeners certain words and whenever he came to his favorite he would place it on a large chart. The first word was Efficiency, second Ambition, third Enthusiasm and fourth Optimism.

"An optimist is a person who sees a light where there is none and a pessimist is one who sneaks in the back door and blows the light out," Mr. Johnson said.

"These four things made America the success it is today," he declared "and these are the things that will make Thief River Falls a success. You cannot afford to sow seed of jealousy and envy because no one will reap them but yourself," he explained, and then drew a word picture of a rock in the road and showed how everyone would get a bump from it in passing over until it was finally crushed and helped gravel the road.

Pithy Sentences.

"No town owes any man a living," he declared.

"Life is just one fool thing after another and love is two fool things chasing each other."

"If you want a friend, be one."

Favors League.

"I'm for a League of Nations and a League of Businessmen always going ahead to greater and better attainments. Let's go ahead," he said, "and the only thing that can save this country is close thought. Stand by the leaders."

Advertising is Great.

Mr. Johnson told the audience that advertising was the greatest thing in the world and that the value of advertising is something wonderful.

In closing he reviewed the hardships undergone by our country's forefathers of 1776 and touched on every great war that the United States had been involved in up to the present day, telling how each time a rock in the road to happiness had been removed. His closing sentences praised the work of the American Doughboy in France and told how another rock in the highway of life had been taken out after the Lusitiana had struck this large rock of Imperialism.

The Merchants association feels highly fortunate to have secured his services and everyone declared his address was a treat.

G. Howard Smith, secretary of the association, gave an account of the activities during the past year and this was followed by a vocal solo by Miss Grace Loken.

Sapero Delivers Talk.

"The Business Man's Relationship to Public Affairs," was the subject to which A. S. Sapera confined himself and his speech showed a large amount of work and preparation. The many points emphasized by Mr. Sapero were well brought out and his speech was well received.

E. O. Mogensen delivered an interesting talk on the subject of "Relationship Between Employer and Clerk" and brought up many facts along that line. His speech also showed that he had applied himself to a good deal of hard work in its preparation and he also told of his own experiences during the years he has been in the clothing business.

Business Meeting.

At the business meeting it was determined to stage a membership campaign and raise the membership dues. It was also decided to put the secretary's salary at a fixed amount instead of the present system.

A committee consisting of Anton Langseth, chairman, E. O. Mogensen, A. S. Sapero, Carl Larson and E. K. Ansen were appointed to make general arrangements for the drive and make up the budget for dues.

General Discussion.

A general discussion followed on matters vitally interesting to business men and short addresses were made by W. W. Prichard, Sr., Math Barzen, C. L. Hansen, Anton Langseth and H. W. Protzeller.

Officers and members of the association feel that more can be done for the business men and community if the business men are members. A general invitation is extended to all business men to join.

CROOKSTON CHOSEN FOR TEACHER MEET

NORTHWEST EDUCATORS WILL HOLD THREE-DAY CONVENTION IN OCTOBER.

Crookston was selected as the meeting place for the annual convention of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association at a gathering attended by ten superintendents and school men from the northwest in that city Friday evening. Dates of the convention were fixed as October 29, 30 and 31.

J. P. Bengtson of the Northwest School of Agriculture was elected president of the association at last evening's session: Hans Hanson, county superintendent of the Kittson county schools and G. Sanberg, superintendent of the Crookston schools, were named on the executive board. C. H. Geise is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The Northwestern Minnesota Educational Association comprises Polk, Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall, Kittson, Roseau, Mahnomen and part of Norman and Clearwater counties.

AIM IS TO CREATE PATTERN SCHOOL

STATE OFFICIAL FINDS THIEF RIVER FALLS SCHOOLS IN FINE SHAPE.

A. L. Gile of the state departfent of education wants to make the high school in this city an institution that will serve as a model for others.

Mr. Gile was here the first of the week looking after the agricultural work that is being carried on in the high school under the Smith-Hughes law, and found everything highly satisfactory. He was much impressed with the school system and praised it very highly.

The work given at the high school under the new law was begun in spite of the fact that it was declared no state aid would be given for the work this year. Mr. Gile has informed Supt. Ziegler, however, that it is probable the local school will be reimbursed to a considerable extent. Owing to the excellent situation of Thief River Falls, Mr. Gile predicted a great future for the schools and said they should be made a model for others to pattern after.

A. L. Tripp, instructor in agriculture at the high school, is rounding up as many as he can to take advantage of this course under the Smith-Hughes law. This law provides for the enrollment of many who were unable to finish school and for good reasons were forced to drop out.

"Burden of Proof" Reached.

When the dispute over the burden of proof section of the prohibition enforcement bill is reached, which is expected today the last dissent between the house and senate conferees will have ended and the bill will be made ready for final action.

The final dispute hinges on whether defendants or the government should bear the burden of proof in prohibition violations. The senators contend the government should prove the defendant guilty while the house conferees maintain the defendant should prove his innocense.

Prohibition leaders plan to bring the bill to a vote the last of this week. They believe passage of the bill will stop immediately the sale of light wines and beers.

NEW SCHOOL NURSE IN CHARGE OCT. 1

MISS LULU B. SAUCER CHOSEN FOR POSITION BY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A competent nurse to look after the welfare of the school children in the city will take up her duties about Oct. 1. She is Miss Lulu B. Saucer, last year nurse at Benson but who has been spending her vacation with relatives at Waterloo, Iowa.

Miss Saucer comes highly recommended as a most competent lady, being vouched for by Miss Frances V. Brink, superintendent of nurses for the Minnesota State Board of Health.

The service of a school nurse was first secured for this city last year when Miss Laura Haggart was appointed to the place. So well pleased was the board with the plan that arrangements were made for continuing it permanently. Miss Haggart was not a candidate for the place again and it has been a difficult matter to secure just the person wanted. The board members are satisfied that they have made a wise selection.

Election at High School.

Students at the Thief River Falls high school intend to put a mock presidential election thru in the very near future. Members of the civics class are making a special study of the various political party platforms and they are finding out daily why they want to be a Republican, Democrat, Nonpartisan or Socialist. The candidates for office are to be made up from members of the civics class and the whole school will vote on them. The students are getting information on many subjects from the representatives in the state legislature from this section and are daily becoming connected with the big issues of the day and making a thorough study of them. Supt. Ziegler believes the students should learn these things while in school so when they graduate they will have a bigger idea of problems, and believe further in the solving of practical principles. There are some real live suffragists in the class and they know the party principles well.

Supt. Ziegeler intends to take up with the English instructors the proposition of having the students write on subjects connected with the school and the best essays will be printed in The Times. They will also be asked to write on other live subjects of the day such as The League of Nations, tonnage tax bill and other subjects. No doubt there will be some good essays result from the innovation when carried out.

By reason of the fact that there was not a quorum of councilmen present Tuesday evening, the meeting was postponed until Tuesday, Sept. 30, at which time some important matters will be taken up.

NO TRACE FOUND OF BANK YEGGMEN

SHERIFF AND POLICE ON LOOKOUT FOR SUSPICIOUS CHARACTERS.

No trace has yet been found of the yeggmen, who last Thursday morning entered the Merchants State bank at St. Hilaire and attempted to crack the vault, and who after being frightened away started their cars and drove up the road leading to this city.

Sheriff W. J. LaBree and the local police have been keeping a sharp lookout for suspicious characters but nothing has turned up.

It appears the yeggmen tackled a tough job when they tried to tunnel into the vault of the St. Hilaire bank for it stood the assault in fine shape and no doubt the yeggs would have been kept busy for two days before they would have been able to get thru the double steel walls, beyond the first brick section at the rate they were working.

Sheriff LaBree is of the opinion that it is the work of novices as they had evidently not stopped to give the toughness of the job at hand any consideration.

SERVICE MEN INVITED.

Dr. Watson of Red Lake Falls, through Mayor G. A. Penney, has issued an invitation to the soldiers and sailors residing here, as well as the civilian population, to attend the Homecoming celebration in that city on the last day of the Red Lake County fair—Sept. 30. Last year the Home Guard went down there and had a most enjoyable time. It is proposed to give the returned soldiers the same kind of a reception if they will make the trip this year.

Do You Know What a "Q.S.S." Is?

A "Q.S.S." is a Quality Service Store, the opposite of a Cash-and-Carry store.

The Cash-and-Carry store in cutting prices and offering you certain articles at less than retail cost, insists that you not only pay cash for every penny's worth of merchandise as you buy it, but that you further inconvenience yourself by carrying home with you all of your purchases.

In contrast to this store, the Quality-Service Store extends to you the convenience of a charge account. It goes further than this—your groceries are delivered to your own door; you do not even have to go to the store to do your ordering, for it may be done over the phone.

Ours is a Quality-Service Store and we carry for your selection only "quality" goods, thus establishing your confidence in our stock.

An example of this quality is RYZON.

RYZON is the baking powder used by the best hotels, clubs, institutions, food experts and "quality service stores" all over the conutry. We sell it because we've tested it and we've used the RYZON Baking Book. We recommend both—RYZON is 40c per pound.

DR. MILAN'S CLINIC IS STILL CONTINUED

EXAMINED 22 AT GATZKE LAST WEEK—MIDDLE RIVER OCTOBER 3.

The public health clinic which was held at Gatzke last Thursday when 22 people were examined by Dr. M. G. Milan, chest and throat specialist of the Oakland Park Sanitorium, Thief River Falls, was as well attended proportionately as any of the four previous clinics, and the findings were relatively the same. The people of the eastern part of Marshall county are to be commended for the readiness with which they have responded to this health movement, for it is the first work of its kind to be introduced into their locality.

The next public health clinic will be held in Middle River on October 3. While these are occasional clinics, they cannot be repeated except at intervals of considerable length due to the size of the county. People are therefore advised to take advantage of the opportunity where it presents itself.

Course in Mechanics.

Supt. Ziegler has a plan to submit to the school board when it convenes and that is to inaugurate in the high school a course in mechanics. Such a course would include electrical wiring, blacksmith work, concrete work, auto repairing and other trades. This course would be offered under the Smith-Hughes law and should it be acted upon favorably by the school board, it should attract a vast amount of attention. The classes would be headed by experts from this city for each of the various departments.

Another matter to be brought up before the board is that of securing more teachers for the Lincoln high as the classes are altogether too large and the present staff is unable to handle the large crowd of students, who have enrolled. At present there are about forty-nine instructors employed by Independent School District No. 18.

Former School Lad Injured.

Jelle Smith, graduate of the local high school with the '18 class and former rooter king, passed through the city the first of the week enroute to his home at Lancaster from Minneapolis, where he had been laid up in the hospital for several days as the result of an accident that befell him while in the Mill City on business. The accident happened when the young man was about to take a bath at his room in one of the Minneapolis hotels. It appears he fainted away and in falling struck some sharp object in the room and a large gash was cut in his side. Twenty or more stitches were necessary to close the wound after he had been rushed to the hospital, where he remained for several days.

The young man is conducting his father's store at Lancaster during the latter's absence.

Norwegian Lecturer Coming.

Einar Lund, Norwegian editor, who is in the United States studying agriculture and writing for the Stavanger Press association, will deliver a lecture in Our Saviors church basement on Tuesday evening, Sept. 30. He is at present making a tour of the Northwest and has spoken at Fosston, McIntosh, Gonvick, Erskine and Clearbrook, the newspapers in those places giving him great praise. Mr. Lund tells how the Scandinavian countries fared during the late war and of the difficulties they had in maintaining their neutrality. He is said to be a speaker of wide knowledge and experience who tells of things as he himself saw them during the darkest days of the great struggle.

He is scheduled to speak at Crookston after leaving this city and will later contineu to North Dakota.

Sign For Citations.

All firms that have re-employed men who formerly worked for them, after their return from military service, and all those who are willing to employ returned soldiers are requested to sign the petition which has been left at the First National bank for signature. When the list is completed it will be forwarded to Arthur Woods, at the war department in Washington and each business man will receive a handsome printed citation from the government.

HIS JINX AT WORK

Traveler Felt It When He Saw Those Whiskers.

But That Didn't Prevent Him "Falling" for Probably the Oldest "Sucker" Game in Existence, and Then Kicking.

"Nice day!" said the stout man as he lowered himself on the seat beside me in the day car with a parlor-car look.

"Nice," I remarked just to humor him, although I must say that I always try to avoid a man who wears whiskers. This man was wearing a No. 5 face fungus with ear flaps. I thought at first of asking him if he had to take out a license for his face trimmings. But, after all, I felt that he had a kind face—what I could see of it—behind the shrubbery, as it were.

"Are you a commercial traveler?" he asked, stroking his beard to starboard.

"No," I replied, "but I once had a fourth cousin who did seven years in jail for another offense. That was the only member of my family who strayed from the narrow path of virtue."

"Lucky for you!" he snapped out, pushing his plantation in my face. "It's a dog's life. Everywhere you go people talk about the peace."

"Ah!" I interposed, "there is a peace on, then? I thought I saw something about it in the press."

"Are you an American?" he rapped out, getting nasty.

"Yes," I said. "Are you? Or do you live in Hoboken, N. J." I felt I would like to have struck a match and started a bush fire around the wooded portion of his face.

"I see you have some cuts on your face," he remarked.

"Yes. My tonsorial artist illustrated me with some funny cuts."

"Ah!" he slipped in. "You should shave yourself and you would never have a face like that."

I should like to have told him that his was no oil painting. Especially did I hate his face mats. I detest a man who tries to look venerable by wearing face mats, when underneath he may have the chin of a criminal.

"Do you wear those germ traps on purpose?" I asked curiously.

"Them's camouflage," he said. "Just to show what people look like when they don't shave. I travel for Raxro's safety razors, $2.50 each, and seeing you're a nice sort of a boob I can do you one for $2. Here is the last one I have."

I took it. If it had been a scythe I should have had a harvest with his beard.

Then I fell to thinking of his whiskers again. They were the most vile whiskers I had ever seen. They stood out at all angles from his face. I couldn't make up my mind whether I should like him better with or without them. But I was quite prepared to get a lawn mower and try.

"Seeing you are a good business man," he went on, "what about a nice pipe lighter? I have a really good line at 25 cents each. Sorry I haven't got one with me, but I can send it on. Never fails, and always lights a pipe or cigarette. In fact, it is one of the best pipe lighters ever invented. Just give me 25 cents and your address and I will send it along."

Of course I fell. I handed him the quarter and got out at the next station.

Some days later a package arrived at my villa. Here was the pipe lighter.

Breathlessly I opened the package, eager to see the contrivance. It was—Yes, a match. I gulped two mouthfuls of fresh air and threw my cigarette in the porridge.

And that is why, when I meet a man with a full set of face mats, I always say——(Oh no, you don't. Not here, at any rate.—Editor.)—Walter Stuart Marsden in Pennsylvania Grit.

Bolsheviks Got Diamonds.

Diamonds, rubies, radium and just ordinary gold have been discovered in the Kola peninsula, Russia, it was said by James Patrick Woods, a sailor, who arrived at New York recently on the Matrosina. He was booked by the transport officials as "a destitute seaman."

Woods says he went to Russia on a cargo vessel and was left there on account of illness. He went prospecting at a place called Kendaloska. In a creek, he says, he found "pecks and pecks of diamonds." He also found rubies, and sat down on a rock only to find the rock was pure gold. He also discovered coal veins and radium. "I had my pockets full of diamonds," he said, "but the bolsheviks took them away from me. I am going to organize a company and go back."

Munition Work Not Injurious.

Dr. Rhoda H. B. Adamson in an article recently published in a London periodical undertakes to prove that the work done by women during the war in the engineering trades has not injured their health. Her conclusions are drawn after a year and a half spent as medical supervisor of several thousand women working in munition factories. The applicants for work were given a thorough physical examination and assigned to work commensurable with their strength. Other examinations were made from time to time, which showed no bad results from the work the women were doing.

Worse Punishment.

"Do you think the food profiteers should be sent to jail?"

"Well, I don't know. This morning I thought the profiteer should have been made to eat the egg he sold me as being strictly fresh."

Naturalization Ruling.

Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund has been informed by Naturalization Officer R. K. Doe that the wife of the petitioner for citizenship papers must now appear in court and submit to an examination. The ruling follows:

(a) Wives of petitioners must now appear in court and submit to an examination and be qualified in knowledge on government before the petitioner will be given his second papers.

(b) Honorably discharged soldiers can come to the court with two witnesses who are citizens and identify them, and they can be given their naturalization paper at once, if they appear on the day set for the hearing of petitions for naturalization. They must also bring their certificate of discharge.

FRANKSON CRITIC OF TONNAGE VETO

CHARGES GOV. BURNQUIST WITH DESERTING REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The first visible evidence of the rumored break between Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, and other republican state officials and political leaders because of the governor's veto on the tonnage tax bill came last Saturday when Lieutenant Governor Thomas Frankson issued a formal statement characterizing the governor's action as a "travesty."

It was reported at the state capitol that a reply to the statement of Lieutenant Governor Thomas Frankson is being prepared by Secretary of State Schmahl. A meeting of the Republican State Central committee to consider the advisability of expressing an official statement was forecasted.

"If the governor's office was committed to the protection of the Steel Trust from the application of the terms of a just tonnage, I did not feel that I was bound to bid him and his secretary, the chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, in this travesty," said Frankson.

Frankson charged he had been informed of this through Gustaf Linquist, secretary of the governor, who had demanded that Frankson oppose the passage of the bill in the senate. This demand was conveyed to him after the house of representatives had passed this bill almost unanimously.

MAINTAIN ROAD AFTER BUILT

Improper Methods Have Placed Economical Types in Disrepute, Says Colorado Expert.

Prof. E. B. ouse of the Colorado Agricultural College is a firm believer in the importance of maintaining a road after it is built. He supplies the following, taken from The Engineering News-Record, and says of it "It is so true and hits the nail so squarely that I quote it direct":

"The tendency in road improvement is to select types of roads which require very little annual maintenance. The general feeling among laymen seems to be that when a road surface requires some annual maintenance to keep it in good shape, it is an expensive type and should be avoided. Yet, if the interest on investment and the repairs are taken into consideration, the cheaper wearing surface may in many cases prove to be the more satisfactory and economical.

"It is not uncommon to see roads of a good type constructed and then, after they begin to show signs of wear, to see them neglected entirely or some method of repair or maintenance imposed which has been found by long practice to be defective. When we see mud holes in earth roads filled with riprap, crushed stone or cinders, it is not the engineer's fault that an enormous price is paid for the repair material; the road engineer knows that proper drainage, and repairing with earth from the side of the road, are the economical methods of maintenance.

"Old gravel and macadam roads are often repaired by filling ruts and depressions with inferior material that is readily displaced by traffic or ground to dust. Bituminous surfaces are often patched, if patched at all, with loose stone or gravel, and in some cases with concrete. In a number of streets and roads recently inspected, brick was used to patch concrete surfaces, and concrete used to patch brick surfaces.

Splendid Type of Road, Well Taken Care Of.

"When careless methods of this kind are applied to the maintenance of public highways, the result is that a good type of road is made to appear unsatisfactory and uneconomical, and road improvement is discouraged—particularly the cheaper types of improvement, which in most localities are the best if properly maintained. It is the utter neglect of maintenance and the many improper methods of repair that have molded public sentiment against types of roads requiring annual maintenance, and have led road promoters and officials to disregard many economical types."

IMPROVED ROADS IN QUEBEC

In Five Years Government Spent $15,774,369 for Development and Improvement.

The development of good roads in Quebec is a subject at present much discussed from one end of the province to the other. In the five years from 1911 to 1916 the Quebec government spent $15,774,369 for good roads. The following figures show the number of miles of roads systematically maintained by the municipalities of Quebec, with the aid of subsidies from the government of the provinces: In 1907, 1,000 miles; in 1909, 2,000 miles; in 1911, 8,500 miles; in 1918, 15,000 miles; in 1916, 18,000 miles. Since 1911 more than 1,214 miles of macadam and 497 miles of gravel roads have been made in Quebec.

Benefits of Good Roads.

Good roads bring automobilists. They spend money. Good roads bring trade and increase property values. They attract homeseekers and industries.

Do Not Build Roads.

Large appropriations and paper plans for highway development do not build roads.

Slogan of "Good Roads."

From all sides echoes and re-echoes the slogan of "Good Roads."

THRIFT ESSAY TO WIN NEW MAPS

TEACHER TO SELECT BEST ESSAY FROM HER ROOM FOR COMPETITION.

The War Savings organization of the Treasury Department at Washington has submitted a plan to the various county school superintendents in Minnesota whereby they will give out a limited number of the latest maps of Europe, in colors, to the school room after the students have competed in an essay writing contest on "Thrift."

"The New Europe" map has been [illegible] by the United [illegible] Geological Survey and gives the boundaries, as accurately as possible, of the European countries as determined by the peace conference.

It will be impossible to supply each school room but the organization will furnish Pennington county with one map for every seven school rooms. The school children of the county are invited to enter into the contest, write the best essay and win a map free. It is suggested that the essay on "Thrift" be from fifty to one hundred words and the [illegible] of each room will select the best essay to be submitted to the county superintendent, who will cause them to be read and graded. The school room presenting the best essays are to be supplied with the new map.

In case of [illegible] it is further [illegible] that every [illegible] when presented to the county superintendent, should state to what grade the writer belongs. The contest will close November 1 and all reports should be in the hands of the War Savings organization at Minneapolis on that date. The schools are entitled to the maps as soon as the papers are graded and the report to the Minneapolis office is to contain the names of the pupils writing the winning essays.

The Treasury Department is desirous of emphasizing the importance of Thrift and the contest will furnish some interesting material that can be used to a good advantage in school work.

300 Duck Hunters.

The three hundred mark has been [illegible] licenses at the office of the county auditor at the court house. This is the average number as compared with former years, while it was thought at first that the number of hunting licenses would decrease as a result of the ban being placed on chickens, but with excellent duck hunting reported from all sections licenses were quickly taken out.

Miss Caspara Gran left Wednesday for Holt, where she was called for nursing.

NEW LIFE FOR HOLY LAND

With Abundant Supply of Water, the Desert Promises Again to Blossom Like the Rose.

"The desert shall rejoice and blossom like the rose," old Isaiah prophesied.

The reclamation of Palestine by the British has at last opened the Holy land to the enterprise of the West, remarks the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Captain Carson of the American Red Cross commission, which followed General Allenby, tells us that the first problem of improvement encountered was that of water supply. That part of Palestine south of Beersheba has been piped with water from the Nile by British engineers with American equipment—the realization, it is said, of a dream thousands of years old. Several million gallons a day are pumped from the canal near Kantara across the Suez canal into Palestine. At Kantara rapid sand filters are used.

The pipes are laid at least eighteen inches deep in the soil or sand of the desert in order to protect them and the water from heat. North of Beersheba there is plenty of water under the surface, though very little, owing to the geologic formation and meteorologic conditions of Palestine, remains easily available. On the western slopes, however, the valleys form excellent reservoir sites for collecting the winter rains, though they would often have to be treated to prevent loss by percolation.

The problem of the water supply of Jerusalem has been attacked by such noted men as Hezekiah—who constructed a tunnel which is today an almost unexplainable engineering feat—Solomon, Pontius Pilate and Herod. In the spring of 1918 the British, using much of the Roman work, installed a six-inch line from the springs of Wady-el-Arab, about sixteen miles south of Jerusalem, through which more than 200,000 gallons a day are now flowing into the city.

It is said that Jerusalem could be furnished with more than 20,000,000 gallons a day of pure water. Almost every house in the city has ~~its~~ rainwater cistern, and these, with proper inspection by the newly organized health department, are being filled with safe water.

It is to be expected that the disappearance of the picturesque water venders of Jerusalem will be accompanied by the passing of the terrible waterborne diseases prevalent under Turkish rule.

Seeing Rome From the Air.

American tourists may hereafter visit Roman ruins—the Coliseum, Forum, Pantheon, Caracalla baths and the basilica of Constantine, St. Peter's and other Rome gems, not in antiquated horsedrawn carriages, but in airships. The Italian navy has established a commercial dirigible service for visiting Rome and its environs from the air. The venture has met with complete success, for daily the aircraft are filled to capacity.

The correspondent of the Associated Press viewed Rome from the Italian navy's dirigible M-1. On board were diplomatic representatives of all the allied countries to the number of 34, the capacity of the craft. The United States representative was Colonel Buckey, military attache there.

Those in the party of long residence stated that looking at Rome from the dirigible brought out features of it which went unperceived to the observer on the ground.

Get Necessary Knowledge.

Most of life's great mistakes are due to insufficient knowledge. In the early days of the great war battles raged on the eastern front. There are the great lakes and marshes. Victory as a rule came to the man who knew the ground best. One of the great generals made it his program to lure his opponents into the lake region and then deliver swift blows in the time of his foes' bewilderment. The difference between grades of mental power is not so great, but it's the training and the knowledge and application that makes the great differences between men. When a man's ready to do his own rough work he isn't likely to have things "put across on him." The tenderfoot has always been a joke among his fellows. He is common bait. Let him show a little aggressiveness and the regulars will respect him more. Blunders he will make, but he will redeem them and himself by his attempts.

Twin Brides.

The strangest wedding ceremony I ever witnessed was a double wedding of twin sisters. It was not only out of the ordinary but a little uncanny to see the father walking up the aisle of the church with two brides, one on each arm, both dressed exactly alike in white satin trailing robes. They were so much alike that in the excitement of the moment the future husbands could not tell them apart and claimed the wrong brides at the foot of the altar where they stood with the father. The two young women allowed their future husbands to be fooled until the preacher asked the fatal question, and then the mistake was made known, much to the embarrassment of the men.—Chicago Tribune.

First Chill Hits City.

Thief River Falls on Monday felt its first severe chill of the season, when the temperature dropped to 39 degrees, which was the official record according to L. M. Rayson, observer. Tuesday evening the mercury reached 36 but there was no frost. Frost has been reported at two places in the state, the first at Rochester and the second at Tyler. Neither place suffered a killing frost. Warmer days are coming in October, according to U. G. Pursell, weather bureau director at Minneapolis.

Railroad News Notes

SOO TO SPEND 20 MILLIONS IN 1920

500 MILES OF EXTENSION, INCLUDING RESERVE, BESIDES GENERAL REPAIRS.

Extensions and improvements totaling more than 20 million dollars are planned for the Soo Line in 1920, it was announced last Friday by Edmund Pennington, president of the road.

The extension which will add about 500 miles to the Soo system, will be made in Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. The program, which has been held up by the war, is awaiting only adequate legislation to permit the sale of securities for the financing, upon the return of the railroads to private ownership, Mr. Pennington said.

Among the proposed extensions is the cutoff from Reserve to Ashland, Wis. This project, which has had the endorsement of various business organizations of Minneapolis and Ashland, has been tentative for some time. The other extensions will be short additions and double tracking in three states, according to present plans.

In addition to the extensions contemplated as outlined by Edward Pennington, general improvements to repair damage done in the last four years and to provide for increased business, costing from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year, are planned. The improvement program is expected to cover several years.

PROHIBITION OF STRIKES SERIOUS

TWO MILLION RAILROAD WORKERS CANNOT BE JAILED PLUMB POINTS OUT.

Prohibiting strikes of railroad workers would lead to industrial revolution, Glenn E. Plumb warned the United States senate interstate commerce committee Tuesday.

Plumb, general counsel for the brotherhoods and author of the Plumb plan, appeared to oppose the Cummins bill, which would return the railroads to private owners and make strikes a misdemeanor.

"This bill goes at the problem wrong end to," he said. "It is not protecting public interests, but private, and violates the constitutional privileges of the men. Two million workers cannot be put in jail."

Plumb does not believe labor would be justified in calling a general strike to force adoption of the Plumb plan.

In the future, Plumb said, strikes will be used to reduce the prices of commodities.

Senator Poindexter asked Plumb to tell what kind of revolution he expects if congress enacts the Cummins bill.

"Either party in power of the government will be displaced or there will be such a total suspension of production that much worse things may follow," Plumb said. "We don't want revolution—we are striving to prevent it, but we know the forces underneath and you make us powerless to stop it if you pass the wrong kind of legislation."

Discuss Cummins Bill.

Representatives of the railroad brotherhoods and President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor were among the witnesses called Tuesday before the senate interstate commerce committee. They are opposed to the strike provisions of the Cummins railroad reorganization bill, the brotherhoods recently declaring such legislation would breed revolution. The provision would punish by $500 fine and six months imprisonment any conspiracy or combination between two or more persons to hinder, restrain or prevent of interstate commerce.

Division Jottings.

E. F. Dolan, train dispatcher at the Soo, returned to work Tuesday after a brief business trip to Superior.

A. A. Stromberg relieved W. C. Smith as Soo agent at Rollette, N. D., the first of the week.

Louis Rayson, chief clerk at Supt. Barnard's office spent Monday at Goodridge attending the opening day of the fair.

H. Carlson is relieving E. J. Langevin as Soo operator at Plummer during the latter's absence due to an accident that befell him on Saturday. Langevin was enroute to this city Saturday morning to attend the homecoming fete and in some manner was run over by a Ford car. It seems that Langevin's hat blew off as he was riding and in getting out from the moving car was caught in the door and fell under the machine, the rear wheel passing over his shoulder. He is getting along nicely.

M. L. Parsons relieved G. A. Kreuger as station agent at Plummer on Wednesday, during the absence of the latter who was busy with the poultry show that was staged in Plummer yesterday. Mr. Kreuger is one of the association officers.

Supt. W. A. Barnard returned from Kenmare, N. D., Saturday evening, after a successful duck hunt.

T. S. Dalton, Soo agent at Fordville, N. D., passed Sunday at Ardock, where he was the guest of friends.

Trainmaster H. D. Keene and Chief Dispatcher O. J. Odin, accompanied by their families, passed Sunday at Grand Forks on a pleasure trip. They motored over in the morning and returned in the evening.

C. A. Ryan, station helper at Orleans, was a visitor in Thief River Falls Sunday.

Glenn Richardson, station agent at Bronson, came down Friday evening to be in attendance at the big homecoming celebration in the city on Saturday. While here he was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Richardson.

J. O. Herrick returned to his duties as Soo agent at Warren Monday morning, relieving A. A. Stromberg, who has been transferred to Rollette, N. D.

VOTAVA WINS IN AUTO SMASH CASE

COURT RENDERS JUDGMENT AGAINST BERGERIN IN SUM OF $50 AND COSTS.

Judgment, in the sum of $50 for the repair of the damaged car and the costs of the action, was rendered against Gust Bergerin in Municipal court Tuesday afternoon at the conclusion of the damage suit started by Frank Votava, who asked $100 damages as the result of an auto smashup on the state road east of the city four weeks ago.

Bergerin was charged in the complaint with careless driving and failing to turn to the right of the road to let the plaintaiff pass and the evidence submitted in the case showed conclusively that Bergerin turned to the wrong side at the wrong time.

The case began at 10 o'clock in the forenoon and continued until three p. m. O. A. Westin was the first witness called to the stand and testified for the defense. Mr. Westin was not on the ground at the time the cars collided and simply told of the tracks he saw made by the Bergerin car. Alfred Flattum also testified to the same lines for the defendant.

Andrew Johnson, who was in the car at the time of the jam, said the Bergerin car was in the ditch when the Votava car struck them, but his story was badly punctured by Votava on taking the stand. Johnson admitted he had taken "a couple of drinks" but didn't state how big they were.

Frank Votava, plaintiff, on taking the witness stand told how Bergerin drove first from one side of the road to the other, how he kept waving his hands in the air, and how Bergerin swung into their road to the left when he was about to pass on the right side.

M. T. McFarland was called to the stand to testify as to the amount of damage done to the machines and said there was approximately $30 damage to the Votava car and $130 to the Bergerin machine. Ed. Emerson testified for the plaintiff and said he had passed Bergerin, who was driving all over the road, and looking back after hearing a loud crash saw the two machines.

In rendering the verdict of the court, Judge Tarrant said, "the evidence submitted clearly shows the defendant was on the wrong side of the road and failed to turn in seasonable time to let the plaintiff pass."

Attorney H. O. Chommie appeared for the plaintiff. Defendant has ten days to appeal the case.

Chief of Police Erickson testified as to the condition of Bergerin when he came to town and the chief stated he "side-stepped" some.

The Big System Back of the Little Telephone

How much would your telephone be worth to you without a big organization back of it?

Ordinarily, nothing is seen of the means we take to insure the public continuous telephone service.

But when an emergency arises the "organization" which has been working silently behind the scenes is put into motion.

When some financial problem must be met, when sleet storms strike, when fires occur; when some catastrophe happens, or when a big piece of construction work has to be done, the organization of this company instantly begins to move.

When such events take place executives and other trained employees, who know from long experience that such things will come sooner or later, are at hand to arrange and direct.

Where the necessity arises, funds which have slowly accumulating are available for immediate expenditure, material which has been gradually assembled is ready to prevent delay, and every facility, kept always in readiness, is directed to restore or expand telephone service as quickly as possible.

At such times the benefits derived from a big and well organized company are immediately felt.

$15 PER MONTH CASH BONUS IS STATE REWARD

GOVERNOR BURNQUIST SIGNED SOLDIER RELIEF BILL LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON.

MONEY AVAILABLE SOON

FORMS TO BE PREPARED BY BONUS BOARD AND APPLICATIONS CAN BE MADE.

While cameras recorded the incident pictorially, and officers of the American Legion grouped around Governor Burnquist to witness the act, the soldier bonus bill granting $15 per month for every month of service to every Minnesota man, who served in the military forces of the United States or its Allies during the World War, was signed late Monday afternoon.

The bill under which the $20,000,000 is made available for the bonus payments, was in the hands of the governor early Monday morning to be signed, but he deferred action at the request of the Legion officers, who wanted more time to get their delegation together.

State officers in charge of dispensing the funds did not wait for the signature of the bill to prepare for the organization work, and a staff of clerks recruited from service men under the direction of Adjutant General Rhinow had been assembled to start the preliminary work, and the necessary issue of certificates of indebtedness will be advertised for sale. Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, State Auditor J. A. O. Preus and State Treasurer Henry Rines met late Tuesday as the state soldiers bonus board to organize a working staff and adopt forms for the blanks to be filled out by all service eligibles for the bonus.

Men Call Early.

Already former soldiers are beginning to call at the capitol to see about getting their money, but they are told it will be from 60 to 90 days before claims can be put through and the money raised by certificates of indebtedness. Applications will be made either through clerks of the district court or with the adjutant general direct, on forms to be prepared.

Tax Increase.

An increase of 1.7 mills in the state tax levy for this year will be made on account of the bonus bill, according to M. J. Desmond, accountant in the office of the state auditor. A similar levy gradually growing smaller, will be required for ten years if the bonus bill requires issuing the whole $20,000,000 in certificates of indebtedness. Under the act, the certificates are to be retired at the rate of $2,000,000 a year by the tax levy, and 5 per cent interest also has to be paid.

The interest on $20,000,000 for the first year will be $1,000,000 making $3,000,000 to be raised out of the tax levy for 1919. The state's assessed valuation is about $1,750,000,000 so that a levy of about 1.7 mills will raise the needed $3,000,000. In succeeding years the interest charge will gradually be reduced.

Ally Service Included.

Minnesota men who enlisted in Canadian regiments or fought in any of the Allied armies are entitled to the state bonus of $15 per month of service, as well as those who served in Minnesota regiments, Henry Rines, state treasurer and a member of the bonus board, said Tuesday. Applications from men in other states already are being received indicate that the state gratuities will be paid to others as well as actual Minnesota men and also that the amounts of cash bonuses may be greater than first estimated.

War Deparment Ruling.

Members of the Students Army Training corps, who were in the service prior to August 1, 1918, will be permitted to wear the Victory Button, according to a ruling made by the war department at Washington, Tuesday.

GUARDMEN DEMAND OVERSEAS OFFICERS

PREFERENCE TO BE GIVEN EXPERIENCED MEN WHEN COMMISSIONS ARE GIVEN.

Minnesota National guardsmen, who served in France to defeat the Germans, are unwilling to re-enter the guard under the command of officers who remained at home during the war.

Adjutant General W. E. Rhinow has called the state military board together for a meeting today to consider the question. Colonel Mollison, of Fairbault, who formerly commanded the Second Minnesota Infantry, told the governor Minnesota was its National guard before the return of former guards from overseas duty. He said every inducement should be made to the veterans to rejoin the service.

Governor Burnquist has said the administration policy from now on will be to give preference to service men when commissions are issued.

Colonel Mollison said that in at least one regiment there are several who were rejected for federal service, and that the returning overseas men now are asked to enlist under them. He contended that commissions should be given to men of practical war experience, those who have gone through fire and have had a taste of war and the trenches, instead of those who remained at home, if the guard is to be a military rather than a political organization.

Ice Ice

To Our Patrons

Owing to the unusually warm weather this season, there is a shortage of ice in all the cities of the northwest and this condition pervails to a certain extent in Thief River Falls. However, we have arranged to have ice shipped in and will possibly get enough to tide over until we get a new crop. We have purchased material and have let the contract for a large modern insulated ice house, and hereafter our storage capacity will be such that we will be able to supply all demands for ice without fear of a shortage.

Punctured

By ANDERSON HALEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

P-z-z-zpt! B-s-s-sh! With the sickening swish of escaping air and the harsh grinding of brakes the gray roadster came to an abrupt stop. Jack Raynor sprang out and glanced sharply at his front tires. They were unmistakably flat.

"Well, of all the cursed luck!" he exclaimed in dismay. "Both of 'em and not an extra tube or casing. Nothing for it but to vulcanize the holes!"

Then unaware that a pair of startled brown eyes regarded him intently from behind the roadside tangle of bushes, he proceeded to say other things, uncomplimentary things about the road and the people who frequented it, things which it is unnecessary to repeat, but for which he will doubtless be pardoned by the veteran motorist.

For the mercury had already climbed to the "ninety-in-the-shade" mark. Presently, having exhausted his vocabulary, he flung off his coat, collar and tie, rolled back his sleeves and fell to work jacking up the front wheels.

Meanwhile the owner of the brown eyes, sensing the gravity of the situation, slipped unobserved from her hiding place and, berry pail in hand, sped across the adjacent cornfield to the small brown house beyond.

For a moment she lingered hesitatingly in the doorway. Then she disappeared within. When she came out again she was wearing a crisp brown linen dress with a deep white collar, in place of the faded blue calico, and she had on the bronze shoes and stockings ordinarily reserved for Sundays.

"I wonder if I dare," she whispered to herself in suppressed excitement. "But I'm going to, anyhow. It's the least I can do. He'll never guess how it happened. And it is dreadfully hot and dusty out there. Besides," irrelevantly, "he is splendid looking even when he's angry."

Ten minutes later, as Jack Raynor was ruefully contemplating two sharp tacks that explained the flat tires, his attention was attracted by a rustling in the bushes and, even as he looked, a slender girl of nineteen or twenty emerged, carrying a shining tin pail and a basket. His swift appraising glance noted that she was unusually pretty, with shy brown eyes, an abundance of soft brown hair becomingly arranged, and cheeks that glowed pink beneath their healthy tan.

"I thought you might like a fresh drink," she began timidly, extending the pail. "It—it's so warm this morning—and we do have good water—and on the way I picked these peaches—they're just ripe enough to eat," she concluded setting down the basket.

To Jack Raynor, tired and thirsty from his strenuous work, the sight of the sparkling water was indeed welcome. Smiling his thanks, he accepted the pail and drank eagerly.

"I don't know whether you are a wood nymph or just a sort of human angel," he said returning it to her, "but I was longing for a drink, and I more than appreciate your thoughtfulness. I always felt I should know a nymph if I saw her—that like you, she would be all in brown with a hint of wild roses in her cheeks and sunlight in her hair. Won't you sit down, Wood Nymph?" he added politely, spreading out his coat by the roadside.

"I—I mustn't," she replied, in the same soft voice, "because you see I don't know you and—"

"Oh, if that's all I can soon set you right," he responded gayly. "I'm Jack Raynor of the state highway department. I'm looking up the route for the new state road, and I was getting on pretty well until the Greyhound," indicating the car with a nod of his head, "picked up a couple of tacks. I was just cursing my luck when you came along to prove the truth of the old adage about the 'silver lining.' And I'd much prefer to have company while I repair damages."

The girl seated herself gracefully and watched him with interest as he took out his vulcanizing outfit, affixed a rubber patch, clamped it into place, and lighted the gasoline in the container. While he was waiting for it to burn out he sat down beside her.

"Now suppose you tell me about yourself. Of course I know you are a wood nymph, but even they must have names—otherwise there would be no end of confusion."

"There's nothing very interesting to tell," she replied quietly, her eyes fixed on the flame. "I'm Rose Carey, and father and I live in the brown house over there. He carries the mail, so I'm alone all day. He used to be a school principal, and then he developed tuberculosis and was ordered to stay out of doors, so we bought this little place and came here to live. With the mail route and the garden we get along. I had to give up high school, but he has taught me evenings. Mother died when I was a baby—there are just two of us—and I wouldn't for anything have him suspect I'm dissatisfied. In summer, with the flowers and berries and chickens, it's not so bad. But winters are lonesome—sometimes I just long to see the real world."

For a moment Jack Raynor was silent. Then, to hide the depth of his sympathy, he sprang up quickly and busied himself with the vulcanizer.

"Wood Nymph," he inquired presently, "couldn't you be persuaded to have lunch with me? I brought a substantial one along, and it's only fair to share it with you, since you've supplied the drinks and dessert."

Then, taking her acceptance for granted, he fished out a large box from the rear of the car and deposited it beside her with the comment:

"If you like you may set the table while I finish pumping up these tires."

To them both the wayside meal was a delightful adventure, entered into wholeheartedly, and in the spirit of comradeship. Jack Raynor found himself more and more impressed by the charm of his companion and she herself under his approving gaze grew momentarily more radiant. Her face lost its wistfulness and her brown eyes sparkled with fun. He was sorry when, the lunch hour over, she rose to go.

"It's been a wonderful party, Wood Nymph," he said smiling down at her. "I have you to thank for turning my bad luck into fortune—now that I know where you live perhaps you'll permit me to stop without the excuse of repairs. Meanwhile here are the fateful tacks to remember me by."

But even as he laughingly extended them a change came over the girl. She drew back with a little shudder and turned her head away. But the gesture was not quick enough to hide the tears in her brown eyes.

"Why, Wood Nymph," he cried in genuine concern, "what's the matter? Have I offended you? Surely you know that I didn't mean to—I——"

"It—it's not you, it's—oh, you'll never want to see me again when I tell you—I put those tacks in the road myself."

"You put them there?" he repeated wonderingly.

"Yes, be-because I—I wanted something to happen, because I was tired of seeing just the dust of the cars and never any of the people—I put the tacks there this morning when I came out after berries—then behind the bushes I waited—when your car came along I heard what you said and realized the damage I'd caused. I was frightened. First I thought I'd run away, but I wanted to make up a little for what I'd done—so I brought the water and the peaches. When you treated me so like a real friend—I—I couldn't bear to explain and spoil it all, but now," she added, miserably, "I can't let you go without confessing. I'm sorry about the tires, and," fumbling in her pocket, "I'd like to pay for them with my berry money, then I wouldn't feel quite so—so like a—a bandit," she finished, helplessly.

"You poor little girl," he said gently. "Don't you realize I'm grateful to those very tacks for helping me to find you—and of course I can't accept your berry money. But I'll tell you what, you can make it up to the Greyhound, if you like, with your own society, say twenty miles per tack."

With relief he observed that the brown eyes were smiling again.

"You see," he went on, "there's a prospect of running the road through your father's land—naturally that would considerably increase its value. I'll be over to talk to him about it some evening soon, and we can arrange about the ride then. Is it a bargain?"

Brief as it was, the handclasp sent a thrill through his veins. With reluctance he released her slim brown fingers.

"Except that it wouldn't be playing fair, I'm mightily tempted to turn bandit myself and carry you off; but I warn you it will take more than tacks to keep me off this road in the future, and just by way of farewell," he said, climbing into the car—he knew he should kiss her in another moment if he didn't—"let me say that you've achieved your wish, Wood Nymph, something has happened, sure enough, but I'm afraid this time it's a puncture that can't be vulcanized."

Rose Carey watched the gray car until it was lost in the white dust of the road. Then, womanlike, because in her heart she knew the answer perfectly well, she said aloud:

"I wonder what he meant by a 'puncture that can't be vulcanized?'"

Watering House Plants.

Plants should be watered with a spray, not with a cup or a glass. Those that can be moved should be placed where the water will not damage carpets or floors; those that cannot—such as large ferns or palms—should have something spread on the floor beneath them to catch the water as it drips. The water must be sprayed from above so that all the leaves receive it; this carries off the dust and is the only natural way for a plant to receive water.

A True Woman

By WALTER JOS. DELANEY

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

There never were three girls like Alda, Valeria and Bertha Holcomb, in the estimation of Mrs. Jennie Dunn. She was a widow of forty, but association with "those dear children," as she had called them, had kept her young. Warren Holcomb, their uncle, who had taken care of them since their widowed father had died, shared in the opinion of the brisk, bustling matron. He never ceased to bless the day when Mrs. Dunn purchased the other half of the duplex house.

The first time she saw the dazzling trio of beauties she fell completely in love with them. Mr. Holcomb had adopted them only a month previous, and began to doubt his ability to care for three growing, active young ladies, as he called them, when he discovered Mrs. Dunn under the giant tree that shaded the double garden, with Alda at her feet, Valeria's sunny head resting on her shoulder and the more matured Bertha's arm lovingly encircling her waist. A sensation of immense relief surged in his being, as he hoped this was the beginning of an association of those young spirits with one who could act as guide, counsellor and true and tender friend.

With joy Mrs. Dunn accepted the task without a word being spoken about it. It came to be a regular event for at least one of the sisters to be a guest at the Dunn home the greater part of the day.

Evenings in the summer time they formed a coterie their uncle loved to watch, seated in the corner of the porch on a garden bench, comfortably smoking his pipe. When winter came he was only too happy to be their escort to entertainments or to join the little circle about the piano and be one of the most charming company in the world.

Almost before he realized it, they were grown-up young ladies, indeed. Every time he paused to think what a model, well-ordered household the silent, constant influence of Mrs. Dunn had created, he dared scarcely to meet her engaging glance or allow his eyes to rest upon a face fair and velvety as that of a girl of twenty.

"She is a jewel among women!" he self-communed, "and she has been more than a mother to those dear girls. Soon they will be wandering off in search of life mates, so I had better enjoy my treasures while they are with me, and be prepared for the parting wrench when it comes."

That hovered at last. The gradations were fairly imperceptible, until one afternoon Mr. Holcomb experienced a shock when Mrs. Dunn said abruptly:

"Mr. Holcomb, those young men who have been regular callers on the girls for the past year have settled down each to a choice."

"You mean that they are engaged? I guessed that," and then he looked so helplessly forlorn that Mrs. Dunn bestowed a sympathetic, consoling look upon him that showed the true, tender woman she was.

There followed a full consideration of the theme that now became uppermost in all minds involved. Naturally, the six young people were immersed in their own special affairs. The triple wedding was a matter of rare interest to all their many friends, and the house was the center of rare bustling activity and interest.

Mrs. Dunn fairly shone in her new province of directing the arrangements for the wedding. The three married couples were to settle down after the honeymoon within a short distance of Belleville. The day after they had departed Warren Holcomb stepped across the yard to where Mrs. Dunn was seated on her own porch. There were traces of tears on her cheeks. She, however, affected a brisk, smiling animation.

"Bertha told me you were thinking of selling the house and going to live with a sister," remarked Mr. Holcomb.

"I wish it were not necessary," was the reply, "but, being all alone, with our dear girls gone, makes such a difference."

"'Our' dear girls, yes, Mrs. Dunn. You can indeed lay claim to all their love. I hardly know what to do. It will be terribly lonesome. The house will not be large enough to accommodate all this happy group when they come to see us, and when the little ones appear on the scene later."

"Why don't you cut through the partition and make it into one big, comfortable house—"

There Mrs. Dunn paused, flushed and drew back embarrassed. And there Warren Holcomb's eyes flashed with a new suggestion. She was like a woman who had committed herself unwarily, and flushed and tremored like a shy young girl.

"You mean you will sell me your half of the house?"

"I did not; but, but—"

"You don't mean to say that you would stay—that after bestowing the care of a mother upon our dear ones—"

"Oh, Mr. Holcomb!" she broke down utterly. "Let them remain 'our' dears."

"And this house, 'our house,' and you and I the real father and mother of those happy ones? Oh, blessed woman! Can the crowning joy of life be mine—that you care for me?"

"If you had not been blind you would long since have known that," softly whispered this woman among women.

AMERICAN FORCES IN EUROPE SMALL

BILL IN CONGRESS TO NECESSITATE INCREASE OF ABOUT 150,000 MEN.

Estimates made public today by Lt.-Colonel E. L. Hooper at the Minneapolis recruiting station showed that approximately 400,000 officers and men remained in the military service on Sept. 9, 1919. Of this number, 46,730 were in Europe, 5,591 were enroute from Europe and 310,000 in the United States.

Adoption of the new army bill, now before congress, will necessitate an increase of approximately 150,000 over the strength reported by the Chief of Staff as of September 9, 1919.

Since the signing of the armistice, 3,300,000 officers and men have been discharged. During that period 1,818 regular army officers have resigned. Nearly 400 regular army officers have resigned during August.

Commissions in the officers' reserve corps have been issued to nearly 50,000 persons since the armistice. The list includes five brigadier generals and 131 colonels.

Enlistments in the regular establishment since the armistice number approximately 113,000. About 15,000 of these have been accepted for service in Europe, Siberia and Philippines.

The report shows that demobilization has caused a 98 per cent reduction in the size of the forces in Europe. Officers and men who have returned home since the armistice number 1,879,051, while approximately 3,300,000 officers and men have been discharged from the service to return to civilian life.

Enlistments during the period include 110,047 men. Of this number 11,000 were given service in Europe and 2,000 in Siberia.

A. E. F. NO MORE; FORCES ARE SPLIT

REGULAR SOLDIERS DISCHARGED TO RECEIVE BONUS AND MILEAGE ALLOWANCE.

When General John J. Pershing sailed from the port of Brest recently, the A. E. F. ceased to exist.

Prior to his departure, orders were prepared dividing the American Expeditionary Forces into two groups and abolishing the term A. E. F., effective the day the Commander-in-Chief departed.

Instructions concerning this change were received today by Lt.-Col. Hooper at 311 Nicollet avenue, and hereafter all official correspondence to American forces in Europe will be addressed to the American Forces in France, or the American Forces in Germany.

"American Forces in France" are under the command of Brigadier General William D. Corner, headquarters at Paris. "American Forces in Germany" are under the command of Major General Henry T. Allen, with headquarters at Coblenz, Germany.

Under the terms of a bill just passed by congress, all regular soldiers discharged will receive the bonus and mileage allowances awarded national army men.

All regular army men who are discharged to re-enlist or who leave the service will receive the bonus.

Heretofore, this money has not been payable to any but National Guard and National army men.

Educational Ruling.

According to a letter received by Geo. M. Gunderson, county superintendent of schools, from J. M. McConnell, state commissioner of education at St. Paul, there seems to have been some misunderstanding during the summer between the normal school presidents and the state department in the matter and kind of normal school credits required for the renewal of first class certificates; and because of this some injustice appears to have been done a number of applicants at the recent examination. The department, therefore, announces that if an applicant for the renewal of a first class certificate has been refused such renewal because he failed to submit three professional credlater continue to North Dakota. returned at this time for adjustment, provided he obtained at least two credits at the Normal school during the past summer. The above refers only to renewal of first class certificates.

DEATH RECALLS FAMOUS DUEL

Grandson of "Dan" O'Connell Used to Tell of "Liberator's" Meeting With D'Esterre.

Mr. Daniel O'Connell, grandson of the "Liberator," died a few days ago at his residence, Darrynane abbey, Waterville, Ireland, in his eighty-fourth year. He was a magistrate and deputy lieutenant for County Kerry, and served the office of high sheriff in 1860.

A Dublin gentleman has an interesting picture of the late Mr. O'Connell holding the pistol which his grandfather used in a famous duel. The following description of the encounter is taken from his own description:

"In a speech at a Catholic meeting on January 24, 1815, the 'Liberator' referred to the Orange corporation of Dublin as a 'beggarly corporation.' D'Esterre, a member of the corporation and a well-known shot with pistols, demanded an explanation, which was refused.

"After consulting his friends, D'Esterre paraded the streets for two days with the avowed intention of horsewhipping O'Connell. The two, however, did not meet, and finally D'Esterre sent Sir Edward Stanley with a message demanding an explanation. O'Connell referred Sir Edward to Major MacNamarra, a Protestant gentleman of County Clare, who refused to give any explanation, whereupon Sir Edward Stanley delivered a challenge, which was accepted, and half-past three that afternoon, at Bishop's court, County Kildare, four or five miles from Naas, on the road to Dublin, was fixed for the meeting.

"They met accordingly and fired together, by signal. D'Esterre's bullet went wide. O'Connell aimed low, intending to hit D'Esterre in the leg, but actually did so in the groin. The bullet went through, penetrating the bladder, and came out at the back, inflicting a mortal wound. D'Esterre lived for two days only.

"The pistols used by the 'Liberator' were given him by an English officer, quartered in Dublin, to whom he had done a kindness, and who, when giving them, said, as a proof of their goodness, that they had already killed ten men. They are a pair of 'Rigby's Particulars,' and Mr. O'Connell often shot at a mark with them, and found them to be very good and accurate.

"D'Esterre's daughter married Lieutenant Roberts of the British royal navy, who commanded the Sirius, the first vessel to go from Cork to America (Boston) under her own steam, and subsequently the President, which was lost with all on board, on the way from New York to Liverpool."

Way of "Parlor Socialist."

When Philadelphia shall have completed its great underground and elevated railway system and also paid for the immense [illegible] front improvements, the [illegible] per person will be around $100.

But in some German cities like Frankfort and Munich, where socialistic ideas ruled before the war, the municipal debts were over six times that amount, writes "Girard" in the Philadelphia Press.

The parlor socialist is a great chap for devising ways to take money out of other people's pockets, but a dead failure at suggesting a method of putting money in your pocket.

One who worked with and knew him well tells me a favorite remark of Maj. Luther Bent was this:

"My board of directors is a board that I direct."

Were the veteran major alive today and operating a big plant he would discover that some sort of a commission rooted in politics would really direct his directors as well as himself.

Pay of British Flyers Raised.

Particulars of the new scale of pay for officers holding permanent or short service commissions in the reconstituted British air force have been made known by the air ministry. A uniform system of rates for all branches (with the exception of certain specialist services) has been adopted, the pay ranging from five shillings per day, for a cadet, to £7 for a general.

The rates, it is explained, have been fixed with reference to the present high cost of living, and it has been decided that 20 per cent of the pay and retired pay will be considered as due thereto, and will be subject, after five years, to change, either upward or downward, according as the cost of living rises or falls. Subsequently revisions will be made at three yearly intervals on the basis of board of trade food prices.

The H. C. of L. in Mexico.

In the past nine years the cost of living in [illegible] has shown an average increase [illegible] per cent, according to figures [illegible] made public by the department [illegible] industry, labor and commerce, an Associated Press dispatch fro[illegible] Mexico City says. Several staples have greatly increased. Lard has advanced 525 per cent in price; sugar, 233 per cent, and eggs, 266 per cent.

Woolen fabrics now cost 471 per cent more than in 1910; cotton goods 300 per cent more and shoes 166 per cent more. House rents have increased 140 per cent, trolley fares 66 per cent and railroad fares 20 per cent. Natives' shoes cost $4.50 a pair in 1910. Today they are $12 a pair.

Taken for Beggar.

One day I was walking through the park and I stopped and asked a man for the time. He put his hand in his pocket and pulled out a dime. That certainly did make me feel like two cents. I looked at him and said: "I wanted the time, please."—Exchange.

The Flowing Tide.

No one, however great his genius or high his position, is all-important to the world; its work will go on without him. There may be ripples and disturbances in the current for a time where he sinks out of sight, but the tide will soon be flowing on as before. This truth may be painful to personal vanity, but it is comforting to every generous soul that cares more for others than for self.

"French Leave."

This expression arose in the early part of the eighteenth century, through certain guests, in the salons of France, not aware of the higher acts of courtesy, leaving without saying good-by to the host or hostess. The practice spread to society in this country. Therefore, if a man left without saying good-by to his host, it was said he took "French leave."

Men of Probity.

Good literature proceeds from men of natural probity, and since one ought rather to praise the inception than the result, you should give greater praise to a man of probity unskilled in letters than one skilled in letters but devoid of probity.—Leonardo da Vinci (translated by Edward McCurdy).

Spirit Meant for All.

That spirit which suffices quiet hearts, which seems to come forth to such from every dry knoll of sere grass, from every pine stump, and half-imbedded stone on which the dull March sun shines, comes forth to the poor and hungry, and to such as are of simple taste.—Emerson.

Consider Probable End.

Better it is, toward the right conduct of life, to consider what will be the end of a thing, than what is the beginning of it; for what promises fair at first may prove ill, and what seems at first a disadvantage may prove very advantageous.—Wells.

Jewish Sabbath.

The Jewish Sabbath starts at sunset on Friday, because the Jews, like the ancient Greeks, began their day at sunset and not at sunrise, or immediately after midnight, as we do, who follow the ancient Romans.

"Good Stickers."

There are some practical "makeshifts" for mucilage. The white of an egg will be found quite as good for sealing letters. Another substitute is a cold boiled potato rubbed over the paper.

His View.

A somewhat cynical acquaintance tells us that the secret of happiness is not to let your troubles bother you any more than they bother your friends.—Boston Transcript.

Nature's Unchanging Rule.

Latent genius is but a presumption. Everything that can be is bound to come into being, and what never comes into being is nothing.—Amiel.

Your Mental Picture of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

Is it a thoroughly lubricated machine, owned and controlled by one man, who is able to manipulate it as he sees fit with figure-heads to do his bidding by push button control?—

—OR—

Is it an organization of men animated by ideals of service, human sympathies, and a far seeing understanding of conditions in a highly specialized branch of industry?

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is owned and controlled by 4649 stockholders, not one holding as much as 10 per-cent of the total stock.

It is managed by 7 men, who individually, have won their way to the top by giving each day the kind of service which the public found it profitable to pay for.

The policy of the Company in its relation to the public is laid down by these 7 men, which is to render the individual consumer in the eleven states served by the Company the kind of service they demand and find it profitable to pay for.

It is the earnest desire of these 7 men, holding the trusteeship of management, to intensify the usefulness to the public of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), and to broaden the scope of its service so that the Company may discharge its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory to the stockholders and beneficial to the world at large.

"Quality" Fully Describes Times Work

This advice is as sound today as it was a year ago—

BUILD NOW

Every government authority, every agricultural authority, every labor authority, says "BUILD NOW." It is a time of the year when there is a lull in farm work. The weather still permits of construction work under the most favorable conditions. The help is to be had—materials are still reasonable.

Why Delay?

The foresighted man is the one who has learned how to fill in his time so as not to have one activity overlap into the proper period for doing something else. This is the building period of the year, particularly for the farmer.

Build Something!

Let us help you with the plans. This service is free. Permit us to figure on your bill of supplies. Years of experience have taught us to anticipate your needs.

GARDNER SAYS EFFORTS FAILED

MINNEAPOLIS MAN UNABLE TO GET RELIEF FROM TROUBLE UNTIL HE TOOK TANLAC.

"My efforts to find a medicine or treatment that would overcome my troubles, failed completely until I commenced taking Tanlac," said Earl O. Freeby, a well known gardner who lives at 705 Kenwood Parkway, Minneapolis, while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"I had a bad attack of pneumonia about eighteen months ago," continued Mr. Freeby, "and up to the time I commenced taking Tanlac I had been having a pretty tough time of it ever since. For about three months after getting up from this spell I was not able to do any work at all. I finally improved to the extent that I was able to do a little work and then the 'Flu' hit me, and this just about put the finishing touch to me. Well, I managed to pull through this trouble and after being in bed for several weeks I was able to be up again, but my entire system was left in a terrible weak, rundown condition. I didn't have any appetite to speak of and what little I did eat didn't seem to give me any strength or energy to get about very much, and the different medicines I took didn't seem to do me any good at all.

"I had been reading so much about Tanlac, and what it had done for so many other people, so I decided to give it a trial myself. I didn't think it was possible for anybody to improve as fast as I did after I began taking Tanlac. Why, my troubles have been completely overcome, and I am so well and strong now that I not only put in full time at my work every day, but I work in my garden at home until dark every night. I have such a big appetite that three hearty meals a day didn't satisfy me, and I have to eat a little between meals. In fact, I just feel fine all the time and never enjoyed better general health in my life. I have induced a good many people to take Tanlac, and every one of them have been greatly benefitted by it, and I certainly take pleasure in recommending it to anybody who is in a rundown condition from any cause."

WEDDED IN SMOCK

Reason for Scanty Garb of Some Old-Time Brides.

In England It Was Held That Act Relieved Husbands of Debts Contracted by His Bride Before Their Marriage.

"A Bangor lawyer attending court in the ancient town of Wiscasset, Lincoln county, recently went rummaging in the Colonial court records of the place, and in the course of his reading came across the official registration of a 'smock marriage,'" writes L. T. Smyth from Bangor, Me., to the Boston Transcript. "Not knowing what a smock marriage was, the lawyer looked further, and got considerable light upon a custom that prevailed in England a century or more ago and also to some extent in the American colonies.

"Smock marriages were weddings where the bride appeared dressed in a white sheet or chemise. The reason for such a garb was the belief that if a man married a woman who was in debt he could be held liable for her indebtedness if he received with her any of her property; and also, that if a woman married a man who was in debt, his creditors could not take her property to satisfy their claims if he had received nothing from her at marriage. In England, says an antiquarian, there was at least one case where a bride was clothed in puris naturalibus while the ceremony was being performed in the great church at Birmingham. The minister at first refused to perform the ceremony, but, finding nothing in the rubric that would excuse him, he finally married the pair.

"To carry out the law fully as the people understood it, the ceremony should always have been performed as it was in the church at Birmingham. In the case noted; but, modesty forbidding, various expedients were used to accomplish the end without the unpleasant features. Sometimes the bride stood in a closet and put her hand through a hole in the door; sometimes she stood behind a cloth screen and put her hand out at one side; again, she wound about her a white sheet furnished by the bridegroom, and sometimes she stood in her chemise or smock. Eventually, in Essex county, at least, all immodesty was avoided by the groom furnishing all the clothes worn by the bride, retaining the title to the same in himself. This he did in the presence of witnesses, that he might be able to prove the fact in case he was sued for any debts she might have contracted. A marriage of this kind occurred at Bradford in 1773, and the following is true copy of the record of the same:

"'Bradford, Dec. ye 24, 1773—This may certifie whomsoever it may concerne that James Bailey of Bradford, who was married to the widow Mary Bacon November 22 last past by me ye subscriber then declared that he took said person without anything of estate and that Lydia the wife of Lieazer Burbank and Mary the wife of Thomas Stickney and Margaret the wife of Caleb Burbank all of Bradford were witnesses that the clothes she then had on were his providing and bestowed upon her.

"'WILLIAM BLACH,
"'Minister of ye Gospel.'

"It is noted by the same writer that in all cases of smock marriages that have come to his notice the brides have been widows.

"It is thought that during the reign of George III there were many smock marriages in Maine, then a part of the province of Massachusetts Bay, chiefly in the counties of Lincoln and York, or in the territory which is now so known. There is nothing to show that the practice outlived the Revolution. In Maine, up to 1852, a husband was liable for debts of his wife contracted before marriage, and no such subterfuge as the smock marriage could relieve him."

How Pipe Reveals Character.

A new method of telling a man's character is now advanced by William E. Critchlow, ninety, of Macon, Mo. He said:

"You can tell more about a man by the way he lights his pipe than you can by the shape of his head. There's the fellow who strikes a match on the south end of his trousers, holds his hands over the bowl until he gets it going, throws down the match any old place, and tilts his pipe up toward the North Star. That man may burn down his home and barn, but he'll never lick his wife or children, because his heart's right.

"Crooks and bad men don't often smoke pipes. They wouldn't be crooks if they did, because there's something about an old hickory pipe that inspires a man to play fair with his neighbors."

In Memory of James Watt.

The centenary of James Watt, the inventor of the modern condensing steam engine, who died on August 19, 1819, was celebrated in Scotland by the raising of a fund of $250,000 to further endow the engineering department of Glasgow university, to provide additional facilities for the training of engineers.

ELDERS TAKE SECOND PLACE

Writer Asserts That Spanish Children Are the Worst Spoiled Youngsters on the Earth.

W. B. Trites, a writer, who recently returned from Spain, was talking in Philadelphia about Spanish children.

"Spanish children," said he, "are the worst spoiled, and Spanish parents the most indulgent in the world. The dining and reception rooms of Spanish hotels swarm with screaming, frolicking, fighting children, but the Spanish guests smile indulgently. A child of six eats as much as it likes of everything on the table, and accompanies its parents everywhere. At three or four o'clock in the morning, the usual hour for Spanish entertainments to come to an end, innumerable tiny tots, exhausted, are bundled into waiting carriages by loving parents. If you ask them why they didn't leave the poor babies at home, they shrug their shoulders and answer, helplessly: 'They wanted to come.'

"I suppose the only reason one doesn't see Spanish babies seated at the cafes behind glasses of beer or whisky is because they prefer their sugary sirups."

Mr. Trites smiled.

"An English newspaper correspondent," he continued, "strolled through the reception room at the Madrid hotel at which I stayed, when a Spanish mother said to a friend beside her:

"'That Englishman doesn't like children.'

"'How do you know?' said her friend.

"'Because,' was the reply, 'my little Carlos went into his room yesterday, while he was out, to have a little fun with his typewriter. The child only played with the machine and sharpened the pencils on his desk with a razor that was there. And yet I notice that whenever the Englishman sees Carlos now he looks cross.'"

HAS TALE OF WOE

Uncle Joe Fell Among—Well, Say Profiteers.

Charged $1.50 for One of the Absolute Necessaries of Life, He Has Renounced Yankees and All Their Works.

Anyone who has ever had the maddening experience of being stung, stripped, robbed or mulcted of a goodly sum can and will sympathize with Uncle Joe Howsley, a gentleman from the Lone Star state, who came East on a little summer trip and fell among thieves, as he views the matter. Uncle Joe is an expert on watermelons, knowing the fruit from stem to blow end like a book. He is also familiar with watermelon etiquette, so his experience proved shocking in more ways than one. A writer in a Pittsburgh paper tells the story as follows:

Uncle Joe owned a five-acre farm down in Shackleford county, Texas, until a few months ago. He then, through the will of a benign fate and the activities of an oil company, ceased being the owner of a farm and became an oilman with an income of several thousand perfectly good dollars a month. As a consequence, the wanderlust struck Uncle Joe and he accordingly hied himself northward to explore unfamiliar lands. Now he is going back to God's country, glad, suh, that the unfamiliarity lasted for the years it did.

Down in Uncle Joe's land the nectar known as the watermelon is a favorite form of diet, and Uncle Joe is one of the epicures who when in his part of the world partook of the treat daily. Down there a melon of a size that would tax a man's strength to tote, suh, could be purchased for a five-cent piece. Or, if a field was at hand wherein grew the food of the gods, the taking thereof without the knowledge of the field's owner was considered no breach of the law.

It is not strange, therefore, that on strolling about a city to view its sights, when "Uncle Joe's" eyes fell upon a restaurant in the window of which were displayed numerous inviting red and green melons, life took on an interest that it had not felt since his train had passed over the boundary of the Grand Old State.

"Uncle Joe" hastened inside and called for watermelon.

After what seemed much time, a slice, which "Uncle Joe" will testify was not more than two by six inches, was placed before him.

"I said 'watermelon'; not a bite, suh," he announced cuttingly, when his amazement at the magnitude of the thing before him had passed sufficiently to allow him to speak.

After much argument, he made the bewildered waiter understand that what he desired was a whole melon like any gentleman is served with down where they know how to serve it.

"Uncle Joe" consumed the two halves placed before him in blissful ignorance of the outrage that was about to be perpetrated upon him.

Then came the check!

Watermelon, $1.50, suh!

It wasn't necessary to send in a riot call, but for a time it looked as though it might be. As it was, "Uncle Joe" stamped from the den of thieves, vowing vengeance against all Yankees in general and one Yankee restaurant in particular.

Must Keep Climbing.

You can never let down the bars when you want to become great. The price is eternal vigilance. Even when success is assured you must keep on going. Men who become great by spurts usually sink into insignificance the same way. Besides making up your mind that you are going to succeed, you must see to it that you realize what's in your mind. Talking about what you expect to do will never bring it to pass. The up-hill is always before you. The only way to reach the top is to climb. If you can command the means that takes you there it will save your energy for other things. Usually the energy you develop through the climb will be useful in days to come. The climb may tire you, but it will also make you appreciate the view.—Grit.

Ancient Indian Burial Ground.

Beneath roots of two large trees two Indian skulls and other bones of the human body were found by workmen leveling mounds in the city park on the shores of Lake Bemidji, Minn.

The skulls and bones were badly decayed, but the teeth were in fairly good condition. Charcoal in large quantities was found in the vicinity of the bones, which indicates that the place was an Indian burial pyre, old residents say.

It is believed that beneath the mound may be found many more bodies, but the workmen merely removed the top earth and, with the exception of a few bones which were gathered by souvenir seekers, the skeletons were again buried.

No Doubt of That.

"Of course, you know that whisky is poison?"

"Yes," replied Uncle Bill Bottletop; "any kind you can buy now is mighty likely to be."

Relative Values.

"The summer boarders will soon be going home."

"I'm glad of it," said Farmer Corntossel. "I'm gettin' kind o' tired of givin' up all this precious food for mere money."

He's Lucky at That.

My youngest boy and I were in a restaurant and the waiter asked what we would have. The boy said: "Anything but ham and eggs; that's all I ever get at home."—Chicago Tribune.

RESIGNS AFTER 25 YEARS' DUTY AS PASTOR HERE

REV. I. T. AASTAD TAKES UP WORK AS DISTRICT PRESIDENT.

TENDERED BIG RECEPTION

WILL MAKE THIS CITY HIS HEADQUARTERS, FOR PRESENT AT LEAST.

Had Rev. I. T. Aastad of the Norwegian Lutheran church in this city stayed until the 28th of next July before resigning he would have rounded out an even quarter century as pastor for the congregation. He preached his opening sermon on that date in 1895, this being his first call following his graduation from the seminary. He has had several from other churches since that time, but has stuck to the people with whom he first cast his lot. This is a rather unusual record even for Lutheran churches, in which changes are not so often made as in some of the other denominations.

Is District President.

Rev. Aastad leaves his position here to take up one of much greater importance, that of president of the Northern Minnesota District, one of the largest in the entire country. His duties will require his absence from the city to a large extent and while his parishioners would like to have retained some hold upon his future services by the appointment of a coadjutor pastor during his absence, he believed it better to leave the congregation free by tendering his resignation outright. He also resigned as pastor of the Silverton church at the same time. His place there has been tendered Rev. H. B. Johnson, who has accepted.

Reception in His Honor.

Last Friday evening a reception was held in honor of Rev. Aastad in the basement of the church. All the available space was taken up by the invited guests who had gathered to pay their respects to the man who had been their religious leader for so many years. Lars Backe, the only charter member of the congregation which issued the call to Rev. Aastad now living in the city, acted as toastmaster, filling the post with dignity and in a highly agreeable manner. Addresses were made by Rev. A. N. Skogerbo of Our Savior's church; Rev. F. J. Seltz of the German Lutheran church; Rev. H. Bjornson of the Kratka congregation, who has worked among the people of eastern Pennington county almost as long as Rev. Aastad has been in Thief River Falls; Attorney Theo. Quale, Bernhard Knudsen and others. The presentation address was made by Attorney H. O. Chommie in a sincere and appropriate address, Rev. Aastad being handed a purse containing $400 as a parting gift from the congregation. Miss Nibbe gave a piano solo and vocal solos by Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Miss Dora Holmes were much appreciated.

Takes Up Duties At Once.

Rev. Aastad responded to the addresses in his honor at some length. He referred with deep feeling to the many friendships formed by the family in this city and said he was glad that the new arrangement did not necessitate the choosing of another place as a home. He thanked the congregation for the many kindnesses of which he had been the object and said that whatever the future might have in store his kindest thoughts and most sincere well-wishes would always follow the people of the city in the growth and development of which he had been permitted to take some slight part.

Rev. Aastad left on his first trip among the congregations of the district on Friday. He was uncertain just how long he would be gone.

WILL RECOMMEND TAKERS OF CENSUS

APPLICANTS WANTED FROM EVERY COUNTY PRECINCT AND CITY WARD.

Postmaster John Morgan has been requested to send in the names of applicants for the position of census takers in Pennington county to Olof A. Fetvedt, Fergus Falls, district superintendent. One enumerator will be appointed for each ward in the city of Thief River Falls and one from each precinct in the different townships.

Mr. Fetvedt says that he is not yet in a position to state just what the compensation will be, but that the bureau is certain to fix it at a figure that will net the enumerator between $4 and $6 per day. As the taking of the census is expected to last for one month, the compensation will be between $100 and $150.

Mr. Morgan requests that anyone who wishes to take up this work apply to him at once in order that he may make the proper recommendation to Mr. Fetvedt. There should be no trouble in securing reliable men for this task, particularly in the country, as the farm work for the season is pretty well over and many will no doubt be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity to make this extra money. Only one applicant from each precinct can be selected and due weight will no doubt be given to general fitness for the post, which requires a certain amount of education and judgment.

RESULTS OF WORLD'S SERIES AT THE TIMES

As usual when there is anything important doing THE TIMES is on the job covering it in a thorough manner, and arrangements have been made to receive the complete results of the world's series, baseball games now being played by Chicago and Cincinnati. Yesterday each inning was received not later than 10 minutes after it was over, and was placed in The Times window. People kept the telephone hot inquiring about the game and The Times was able to give them the result of each inning and the game just as quick as people in the larger cities were getting it.

CORN CROP BRINGS $5.00 PER BUSHEL

BOUGHT FOR SEED WHILE STILL STANDING IN THE FIELD.

Frank Layman, a farmer in the Viking neighborhood, has proven that corn can be successfully grown in this latitude. He had a particularly fine crop this year and harvested 60 bushels per acre. The quality was unsurpassed. The crop was sold before it was cut to seedmen, the price paid being $5 per bushel. This is undoubtedly the record for any considerable amount of corn raised in this section, although small lots have at times brought as much.

Mr. Layman was formerly engaged in farming in Illinois and he understands corn. It was his opinion that the cereal could be raised here successfully providing the correct methods were followed, and he has proved that he was right. For eight years now he has been raising corn and has only experienced one crop failure.

Corn everywhere in the Northwest is this year a remarkable crop. The farmers will be more careful about seed selection from now on than ever before in order that they may develop a homegrown variety that will withstand early frosts better than that generally employed.

POTATO SHORTAGE? NOT ON THIS FARM

O. AMUNDSON IS PAID $3,450 FOR CROP ON THIRTEEN ACRES.

A gross income of $265 per acre from potatoes is doing pretty well. That is just what O. Amundson, residing in Section 28 of North township, secured from his plot this year. Mr. Amundson has not a large farm, but he evidently gets the most out of what he has. The total paid for the crop on the 13 acres was $3,450, which has oil wells, automobile stock and several other classes of investments beaten quite a ways.

FAREWELL BANQUET FOR MR. PETERSON

FRIENDS GATHER TO WISH HIM GOOD LUCK IN NEW UNDERTAKING.

Last Saturday evening about 20 personal friends and close associates of Leonard Peterson in church and social circles, gave a banquet in his honor at the Hotel Brumund. The evening was very pleasantly spent and the banquet itself in every way creditable. Senator O. A. Naplin acted as toastmaster, and there were appropriate addresses by most of those present. Mr. Peterson himself made an excellent response, thanking those present and the people of the city generally for the consideration and kindness shown the family during the nineteen years they had been residents here. He told something of the struggles, misunderstandings and differences inseparable to the development of a growing community and said his work here had been both pleasant and interesting. He was touched by the testimonial of confidence and friendship and said he would always recall the occasion as one of the pleasant occurences of his life.

Mr. Peterson left for Crookston on Sunday, having accepted a position as superintendent of the light plant there.

The Wrong Sheep.

The Times in its writeup of the Goodridge fair last week did not get all the details quite right. It was stated that the sweepstakes prize for cattle was taken by a Guernsey heifer belonging to Mr. Thompson. This was wrong, as the honor went to an animal belonging to Stewart McLeod. In the sheep division a ram, the property of William Vaughan, was the winner of the first prize instead of that belonging to Mr. Benson.

86 ACCREDITED TESTED HERDS COUNTY BOAST

LARGEST NUMBER OF ANY COUNTY IN THE ENTIRE COUNTRY.

BUT FEW ANIMALS RE-ACT

VETERINARIANS GIVE SECTION PRACTICALLY CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH.

Pennington county has 86 herds of cattle tested for tuberculosis and so accredited by the government veterinarians who have been making the tests during the past three weeks. This is two-thirds of the entire number accredited in Minnesota, there being but a total of 127 herds thus accredited in the state. This, on the other hand is the best record made by any commonwealth, the total in the entire country being but 754. Pennington stands far in the lead among all the counties of the entire country in this important matter.

The total number of herds tested by the government veterinarians was 130, and out of this number only 22 head re-acted. With the removal of these the county will have an absolutely clean bill of health as far as this important matter is concerned.

Nine Men at Work.

The testing was in the hands of nine government experts. These found that the stockmen and farmers were anxious to have the work done, realizing the danger of allowing infected animals to roam with those that are sound. With the testing of their herds and the removal of animals re-acting, the owners are placed on the accredited list of the government. In order to maintain their place in this preferred class they must have the testing done for two years or semi-annually three times in succession. This is a matter of great importance to both the cattle owner and the public at large and the former should lose no time in having the work done.

Twenty-two Showed Signs.

Twenty-two animals in 130 herds tested were found to have tuberculosis. In some cases the best looking animals on the place were found to re-act. Had these cattle been sold and mixed with other herds it would only be a very short time until the whole county would have tuberculin cattle. As it is the county is now nearly free of disease and it is up to our progressive livestock men to keep it in this condition by testing every year.

Bearing on Public Health.

In a current issue of the Minnesota Public Health Journal, Dr. Hill comments favorably on the splendid showing of Minnesota's accredited herds. He states that the fact that so many herds are free from tuberculosis has a very definite bearing on public health. It means that a decrease in tuberculosis in cattle will also mean a decrease in the disease in man, for it has been found that much human tuberculosis has been traceable to milk infected with the germs.

Any farmer in Pennington county interested in this work can get complete details by writing or calling the Farm Bureau office.

Football Schedule.

Coach Tommeraasen is busy arranging the football schedule for the fall season and has a number of games arranged but are subject to change. Detroit has been scheduled to play here October 11, Bemidji here October 18, Thief River Falls at Crookston on the 31st. Fosston has been promised a game for November 8 and efforts are being made to try to sandwich Stephen and Warren in the schedule somewhere as they also must be eliminated before a clear title can be secured to the championship of northern Minnesota. The hardest contenders for the title will be Bemidji, Fosston and Crookston and some lively contests are expected. The local boys are going strong but a lot of hard work is necessary to win over these fast teams which they are soon to meet.

WHITE WAY SOON TO GET NEW WIRES

ADDITIONAL WIRES TO BE LAID FOR PROPOSED EXTENSION TO WALKING BRIDGE.

Thief River Falls' "white way" will soon be re-wired and fitted out to insure the best of service and a number of other changes are also contemplated. Among these is the laying of a cable down First street from the corner of LaBree avenue down to the walking bridge. The posts for the proposed addition to the white way on First street will not be purchased at this time, however, but will be left until probably next summer.

At the council meeting on Tuesday evening estimates were submitted as to the cost of making the improvements and according to figures given out the sum required for the relaying of the present wires and the proposed route will be around $9,179. The cost for the same work with the purchasing of the new posts would run close to $13,679. For the present, however, no posts will be secured but the relaying of a substantial cable through the business section and the proposed route must be done before paving can be commenced. Bids on the work have been called for and will be opened October 14.

Considerable trouble has been experienced with the proper illumination of the "white way" in the city due principally to the fact that the wires are not protected sufficiently in the ground. The tubes become full of water and as a result they become wet and are grounded and a short circuit occurs. Electricians have been kept busy repairing the line during the past years but this trouble will no doubt be eradicated when a substantial cable takes the places of the present wires.

CHURCH MERGER IS SET FOR OCT. 21

NORWEGIAN LUTHERANS TO FORMALLY AMALGAMATE ON THAT DATE.

The congregations of the Norwegian Lutheran church, of which Rev. I. T. Aastad has been the pastor, and Our Savior's church, A. N. Skogerbo, pastor, have formally voted to consolidate and the union will be affected on Oct. 21. Rev. Skogerbo has accepted a call from the church at Erskine and will shortly leave to take up his duties there. As Rev. Aastad has also resigned in order to give his attention to the duties of district president, a call will be extended to an entirely new man in the near future.

The consolidation of these churches will make the Norwegian Lutherans the largest congregation in the city by far, fully 200 families being represented. This will undoubtedly mean a new church building in the very near future and a general enlarging of all the facilities of the congregation.

It is understood that the proposition to consolidate was carried unanimously in the Norwegian Lutheran congregation and with but two or three dissenting votes in Our Savior's.

M'FARLAND PLANS GARAGE ADDITION

ANOTHER BUILDING SIZE OF PRESENT QUARTERS NEEDED AT ONCE.

Unless plans now under consideration by the McFarland Auto company fall thru, the size of the concern's present plant will be doubled at once, according to M. T. McFarland.

The business of the company, and particularly the tractor department, has grown to such an extent that the brick building erected on West Third street about three years ago will no longer answer the demands made upon the concern for space. The intention is to erect another even larger for general garage purposes, turning the present structure into a stock and salesroom.

The only thing Mr. McFarland was side the other, will be 56x150, brick and concrete, which will give the company a frontage of practically 100 feet.

The only thing Mr. McFarland was certain of last evening when leaving on a trip to the cities was that the addition would be built, and at once. He referred to a possibility of being compelled to build in a different location entirely, using the present garage as a storage room.

REMODELLING WILL BE BEGUN AT ONCE

EXTENSION OF 18 FEET TO BE ADDED TO NEW BANKING ROOM.

F. L. Tyler of the firm of Morman & Co., architects, St. Paul, was in the city this week conferring with the officers of the First and Peoples' bank with regard to the changes to be made in the Scandia block, purchased last week by the banking officials. The work of making the necessary changes will be begun at once and rushed just as fast as labor and material can be secured for the purpose.

One of the first jobs to be undertaken is the remodelling of the present Cronstrom grocery store. This room will be occupied by Roy Lambert druggist, as soon as the necessary changes are made. Mr. Cronstrom, it is understood, will move directly across the street to the build- restaurant.l/sC1t r0uc, o8l. ETAAI ing now occupied by the Hanson restaurant.

One of the first undertakings in connection with the changes will be the adding of 18 feet onto the room to be occupied by the bank. This addition is for the vault and when completed will give the banking quarters proper a depth of 90 feet.

Basket Social.

The Silverton Farmers' club will give a basket social on Saturday evening, Oct. 11. The band will be there to help furnish a good time. O,2-9

LEGVOLD STEPS INTO POSITION OF LIGHT SUPT.

POPULAR CITY EMPLOYEE WILL FILL POSITION FOR REMAINDER OF YEAR.

STORM SEWERS ORDERED

NEW LIBRARY BOARD MEMBERS ARE APPOINTED TO FILL VACANCIES.

Ole Legvold was chosen superintendent of the water and light department for the remainder of the fiscal year by the council Tuesday, to succeed Leonard Peterson, who has held the place for the past 10 years.

Mr. Legvold has been assistant to Mr. Peterson for twelve years and is well qualified for the place in the minds of the aldermen. He has at all times been alert to the latest improvements in matters pertaining to the department and it undoubtedly will be maintained at its present high standard.

New Board Members.

Mrs. A. W. Swedenburg and Miss Agnes Wilson were approved as members of the Carnegie library board, having been named by that body to succeed Mrs. F. H. Gambell and Norman Holen, who resigned when moving from the city recently.

This city will have in the business district this winter a storm water sewer of sufficient capacity to care for any rains or the melting snows of the future, for the city council last night awarded the contract therefor to Holt & George of this city at a figure slightly in excess of the estimate prepared by the Bradley Engineering Service company of St. Cloud. The estimate and bids as opened at the meeting of the council follow:

Estimate, $24,958. Holt & George, $26,887. Dorsey & Co., of Duluth, $29,714.

Other contractors were present at the meeting of the council but did not put in a bid after a careful examination of the section to be benefitted by the storm water sewer which is really the first paving section of the city.

This sewer should give all business houses relief from the back water which has often flooded their basements following heavy downpours, the surface waters heretofore having been emptied directly into the sanitary sewer. The bids as submitted also include the cost of making sewer and water connections in the proposed paved section so that all the ground will have a sufficient opportunity to settle before paving starts in the spring.

The local plumbers will furnish a bond in the sum of $27,000 to guarantee completion of the work in a satisfactory manner, which must be done by Dec. 15, according to the plans and specifications as drawn.

GETS HEAD PINCHED IN RAIL ACCIDENT

ROUNDHOUSE EMPLOYEE HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH YESTERDAY.

Selmer Berg, 623 St. Paul avenue south, met with a painful accident while at work at the Soo roundhouse yesterday morning when his head was pinched between the guard yoke on a locomotive and a moving engine wheel.

Mr. Berg was working at the time it happened and was unaware of the moving engine wheel. Had the wheel been moving more rapidly his head would have been completely crushed, it has been stated.

The injured man was rushed from the railroad roundhouse to the city for treatment and the railway surgeon stated yesterday that it is not known at this time the extent of his injuries. Berg was not rendered unconscious by the blow he received but experienced considerable pain.

"LINK" MAY TALK AT CLUB MEETING

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S FALL ACTIVITIES TO BE USHERED IN OCT. 16.

Efforts are being made to secure Fred T. Lincoln, former secretary of the Commercial club in this city, now holding a similar position with the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, to give the principal address of the evening at the big Commercial club meeting here on Thursday, October 16, at which time the club's plans for its fall and winter activities will be ushered in.

At this meeting the plans for the winter operations of the club will be discussed and the public affairs committee has been assigned to make the arrangements for the affair.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich has been appointed chairman of the musical program committee while Anton Langseth and Albert Lieberman will assist him. Dr. Froehlich and John Morgan have been delegated to secure the speaker and also make arrangements for the lunch that will be put on and it is understood that this will be an innovation—something of a "grabteria" lunch. The luncheon is out of the ordinary and is termined will take place at 10 p. m. There will be plenty of music during this time, according to plans.

Emil Zeh and F. F. Haynes have been placed on the reception committee and G. Howard Smith will attend to the publicity end of it.

It is hoped by club members that the former secretary of the club will be able to be on hand to address all his old friends on commercial club work, in which line "Link" is an expert and "live-wire."

LEGION MEETING AT CLUB ROOMS TONIGHT

Pennington county Post No. 117 of the American Legion will hold a meeting at the Commercial club rooms this evening at 8 o'clock and it is urged that all members be present and bring some service man along who is not a member. A number of important business matters will come up and everyone should be there to take a part in the proceedings.

START ACTION FOR FLOOD PREVENTION

FIELD WORK IN RED LAKE DISTRICT WILL BE BEGUN SOON.

Actual field work starts this week to determine methods of preventing floods in the Minnesota River valley. Similar investigations in the Red Lake and Roseau river basins will be undertaken when pending negotiations with Canadian officials handling inter-related problems are completed, according to E. V. Willard, state drainage engineer.

This is made possible by the special section of the so-called drainage and flood control act of Senator F. L. Cliff of Ortonville, providing funds for the work.

Adolph F. Meyer, Minneapolis, engineer, will assist the state department with the work in the Minnesota River valley, the engineer said. Mr. Meyer until recently was consulting engineer for the American section of the international joint boundary commission and handled questions pertaining to the control and administration of boundary waters and has published several treatises on flood control and general hydraulics.

LOWER PHONE RATE AFTER DECEMBER 1

RENEWAL OF PRE-WAR TOLL IS PROMISED AFTER THAT DATE.

Complete readjustment of telephone rates in Minnesota, both local and long distance, will be undertaken by the state railroad and warehouse commission in the near future, Commissioner F. W. Putnam has announced. The question will be brought up without formal complaints from telephone users or municipalities, on an order directing the companies to show cause why they should not restore their pre-war schedules.

Mayor G. A. Penney, on behalf of the telephone users of Thief River Falls, will enter a complaint against the retention of the higher rate as soon as the date for hearing is set.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS 390 ENROLLMENTS

AT MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD THREE NEW TEACHERS ARE HIRED.

Never before in the history of the Lincoln high school has the enrollment been so large as it is at the present time. Today there are 390 students enrolled in the big institution of learning and more continue to come as the fall work is being done up.

It was expected that the maximum attendance would soon be reached and that it would not run over 375 students, but all expectations were smashed when the attendance reached 390 this week. All the classes are exceptionally large and one of the biggest Senior classes in the school's history will be graduated next spring.

At a special meeting of the school board held Tuesday evening three new instructors were engaged to come here at once and begin teaching at the high school. Supt. Ziegler stated it was a hard matter at this time to secure teachers as there is an apparent scarcity.

Out of the enrollment at the high school over 150 students are non-residents. That the Thief River Falls schools are one of the biggest assets to the city is an admitted fact and their reputation has become known far and wide. Mr. Gile, of the state department of education, who was here on a trip of inspection last week, stated the schools here should be made as a model for others to pattern after. He found everything in a highly satisfactory state.

ASSOCIATION OF LOCAL DOCTORS NOW CERTAINTY

DRS. MELLBY, PAULSON, FISHER AND FROEHLICH FORM ASSOCIATION.

OFFICES BEING PREPARED

WILL OCCUPY ENTIRE EAST END ON SECOND FLOOR OF CITIZENS BANK.

Thief River Falls will soon have the most completely equipped medical offices in this section of the state. Four of the local doctors have formed an association for the purpose of enabling each one to specialize more thoroly in some particular branch of practice and thus insure the best possible service to the public at all times. This is the plan followed by doctors in the larger cities and has been found to work out to the public's interest.

All Well Known.

The doctors forming the association are all at present engaged in practice in Thief River Falls. It is the intention of each to continue as a general practitioner but to devote himself besides to some essential detail in connection therewith.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich will be the principal surgeon of the organization. He has specialized in this line for years and devoted much of his time to study of the subject. Dr. Froehlich recently returned from New York where he took an extended course in surgery at the Post Graduate hospital. He had previously taken similar courses at the Polyclinic in New York and the Postgraduate in Chicago.

Dr. O. F. Mellby has also done much postgraduate work in both New York and Chicago. His particular department, outside of general medicine, will be X-Ray work. The very best apparatus will be installed in the new offices and Dr. Mellby has been attending lectures and demonstrations for the purpose of acquainting himself with latest developments in the use of the ray.

Dr. A. J. Paulson has been actively engaged in the treatment of the eye, ear, nose and throat. He spent an entire year in the study of diseases pertaining to these organs at the Polyclinic hospital in New York and already has a wide practice in this section.

Dr. L. Fisher will devote himself largely to internal medicine and laboratory work. He recently returned from service in the army where he added greatly to an already wide experience. He is the most recent arrival among the doctors making up the quartet and his previous work particularly equips him for filling the one position for which a man was lacking in order to make the combination thoroly effective.

Will Have New Quarters.

The entire east end of the second floor in the Citizens State bank building is being remodeled for the accommodation of the doctors. A total of 12 rooms will be devoted to different departments connected with the institution. There will be a spacious office, a rest room, operating room, lavatories and such other appartments as are necessary for the conducting of a business of this kind. Taken all thru, the arrangement will give Thief River Falls an institution such as can be found only in the largest and most progressive cities.

Pleasant Auto Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Shaw and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Zeh returned last Saturday from an interesting auto tour. They made the trip over the Jefferson highway to Itasca Park where Mr. Shaw attended a meeting of the State Forestry board, being a member of that body. The slight amount of rain falling while they were enroute was not sufficient to dampen their enthusiasm, and they all declare that the Jefferson is destined to become the greatest thoroughfare in the country.

SEPT. 25 DATE OF FIRST FALL FROST

SEPTEMBER PROVES TO BE AVERAGE MONTH WEATHER OBSERVER SAYS.

The first killing frost of the fall occurred on September 25, according to the weather report for September just completed by Louis Rayson. A killing frost was also recorded on June 3.

The mean maximum temperature during the month was 69.56 degrees and the minimum was 46.10. The hottest day in September occurred on the 7th when the temperature reached 88 degrees and the coolest day was on the 25th when mercury went down to the 30 mark.

During the month there was a total of 1.09 inches precipitation and the greatest rainfall occurred on the 10th of the month when .33 of an inch fell.

During the month just passed there were 11 days with .01 inch or more precipitation. 12 days were clear, 9 partly cloudy and 9 cloudy. Thunderstorms occurred on the 13th and 18th of September.

GREAT MEETING OF J-H BOOSTERS ON OCTOBER 8

LITTLE FALLS CHOSEN AS THE PLACE FOR IMPORTANT HIGHWAY SESSION.

EXPLAIN BABCOCK PLAN

PENNINGTON COUNTY HAS 3 DELEGATES—OFFICIALS INVITED.

One of the most important meetings of better highway boosters ever held in Minnesota will convene at Little Falls on Thursday, Oct. 9. The plan is to go to Little Falls in autos because this seems the proper thing for highway boosters to do for one thing, and it will give the delegates a better idea of just what an important factor in the development of the state the Jefferson Highway is destined to become for another.

The St. Hilaire meeting called for last evening to select delegates was called off on account of the rain. Daniel Shaw has consented to make recommendations as to their selection. Pennington county is entitled to three delegates.

Invite County Commissioners.

The notice of the meeting sent out particularly urges that the county organizations urge upon as many county commissioners as possible the advisability of making the trip.

Will Explain Laws.

Not only will the Jefferson Highway state organization be formed and state officers be elected, but the Babcock Amendment will be explained by its author, the County Commissioners' Bonding law will be expounded and last but not least the proposed Federal Highway law known as the Townsend bill will be fully treated by S. M. Williams of Washington. Mr. Williams is president of the Federal Highways council of the United States. This association has for its purpose the building and maintenance at the expense of the Federal Government system of highways extending into every state. This has nothing to do with the Federal Aid law.

Of course neither Mr. Williams nor Senator Townsend will make any pledges or promises as to where the Federal Highway in Minnesota will be located, but the Jefferson Highway people will not diminish their chances of securing the highway by meeting these gentlemen and making them acquainted with that enterprise.

The Run as Planned.

The trip to Little Falls has been mapped out to take just one day from Thief River Falls, which city is the northern starting point. If the schedule is followed the distance will be covered in a little more than 11 hours, five and three quarters hours being allowed between this city and Bemidji, where a short stop will be made, and about six and a half hours for the rest of the distance. TO SERVE GUARDS, VOLUNTEERS FIRST NATIONAL ARMY MEN TO RECEIVE BONUS IN ORDER OF APPLICATIONS.

National Guardsmen and others who volunteered for the service, who are already listed and unquestionably entitled to receive the money will receive bonus payments first, is the announcement made by Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow last Friday.

National army men will come after, in the order of their applications, except where investigations of individual cases delay action. There are about 30,000 who went into the service as volunteers, and payments to them will be made as soon as funds are available, the soldiers' bonus board has decided.

The "Conscientious objectors" problem was discussed by members of the board at their meeting with Joseph Joyce, attorney and former agent of the government on slacker cases, Fred H. Heater of Minneapolis, and Guy H. Dilley and C. O. Lindahl, St. Paul, draft board members.

Under the bonus those who sought to evade service as conscientious objectors or because they were aliens are barred from benefitting by the bonus. It was pointed out that a great deal of care is needed in checking up on the cases. For instance, if Sgt. Alvin York, said to be the war's greatest hero, of Tennessee were a Minnesotan, he would be ineligible because he started out as a conscientious objector, while Allan Strong Broms, St. Paul socialist agitator, who was rounded up in a slacker raid, might get by because he received an honorable discharge from the army, unless the case were carefully checked up.

Clerk of Court Eklund has been informed that it will be probably ten days before the application forms and other printed blanks to be filled out, will be received. Applications can also be made direct to Adjutant General Rhinow.

SNOW SHOVELING COST IS SHOWN

COUNCIL TO BUILD SIDEWALK ON ARNOLD AVE.—BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED.

Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken presented to the council on Tuesday evening a report showing the cost of shoveling the snow from various sidewalks about the city for the winter of 1918-19 and the council passed a resolution asking the county to assess the respective property holders sufficient to cover the costs thereof.

The council also determined to construct a cement sidewalk on Arnold avenue from First street southward to the Great Northern railway right-of-way and to charge the cost thereof to the property owners, who failed to build the walk in question after being duly notified to do the same earlier in the season.

Hans Rustad was granted a permit to use a small portion of LaBree avenue for storing material while making the alterations in the Citizens bank building which were required when the bank rented several rooms to Drs. O. F. Mellby, A. J. Paulson, L. F. Fisher and W. H. Froehlich.

Building permits were also granted to Jung Bros., for a brick bakery building on Main avenue north, immediately to the rear of their present building, the cost having been estimated at $12,000, and also to Julien Provencher for slight alterations to the G. . . building situated between the Evelyn hotel and the Union block at a cost of $150.

The council adjourned at 10:30 until two o'clock next Monday afternoon at which time they will meet to determine the various tax levies for the coming year.

PRESIDENT FORCED TO ABANDON TOUR

BREAKS DOWN UNDER CONTINUED STRAIN—CONDITION NOT SERIOUS.

President Wilson, after a few days of quiet and rest at the White House is showing further improvement. Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his personal physician, has issued the following bulletin:

"The president is resting well at night and is improving."

At the orders of Dr. Grayson not only have all engagements for the near future been canceled, but it has been decided that for the present the president will not be permitted to see any of the senate leaders regarding the treaty controversy.

President Wilson, as soon as his health permits, is expected to issue a statement containing a number of arguments for ratification of the peace treaty, which his breakdown prevented him from making in speeches at Little Rock, Oklahoma City, Memphis and Louisville.

Before he became ill it was learned that he "had something up his sleeve"—that he was saving ammunition for the concluding addresses of his tour. His idea apparently was to finish his drive for ratification in such a manner that worldwide attention would be riveted on it, returning to Washington primed for a "showdown" on acceptance or rejection of the treaty. Illness prevented this climax.

SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS BEGINS SOON

The sale of Christmas seals this year will be in charge of the Pennington county Public Health association and an effort will be made to sell as large a number per capita as possible in order to secure a larger amount of funds from the state department. The sale of these Xmas seals has formerly been conducted by the local Red Cross. The association held a meeting at the Farm Bureau office last Thursday evening and was called to order by W. W. Prichard, Sr., at 7:30 o'clock.

The association has made arrangements to hold a Child Clinic in Thief River Falls on October 23.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop was chosen at the meeting to act as a delegate to the St. Paul meeting which was held last Friday. The purpose of the state meet was to discuss the public health work in the state of Minnesota for the coming year and also the state-wide Christmas seal campaign to be made this fall.

CITY COUNCIL PROVIDES TAX FOR BAND AID

ONE HALF MILL TAX TO BE LEVIED AGAINST PROPERTY OWNERS IN 1920.

ACTION CAME UNEXPECTED

RETURN OF BAND BOYS FROM ARMY SERVICE HAS CREATED NEW INTEREST.

Acting on many requests in the past, the city council on Tuesday evening passed a resolution calling for a tax levy of one-half mill for the purpose of maintaining the band next year.

The custom in the past has been to donate $300 to the band on Decoration day towards its upkeep, thinking it to be sufficient, while the balance has been collected from the business men of Thief River Falls.

Believing that the band is one of the greatest advertisements for the city and that everyone receives entertainment from it free of charge, the councilmen are of the opinion that everyone should contribute towards its upkeep and the only way to bring this about is to provide for a small tax, permissible under the general laws of the state.

About $750.

According to Axel Risberg, deputy county auditor, the half mill tax will amount to practically $750 for the year or more. A one mill tax levied on property last year amounted to $1,500 and this cut in two will give the musical organization the above figure for its maintainance next year. The action on the part of the council came unexpectedly, while the band boys and all the boosters for the band are elated over the fact. About three years ago the matter was brought up but was voted down and it was thought that the subject had been dropped. The resolution had been prepared beforehand by City Attorney Quale and the council passed it without a dissenting vote.

Interest Shown.

The return of several of the band boys from overseas service where they played with some of the leading bands of the A. E. F., and wherein they gained considerable instrumental education, has created a new interest in the band. The open air concerts played during the summer months have readily demonstrated the fact that the band has greatly improved and the city fathers have shown their approval by taking this advanced step. Wherever the band has gone of late it has had heaps of bouquets directed at it and as a result of its trip to Baudette a band has been started at that place. In 1914 when Thief River Falls had the best band in its history the city received some valuable advertising and it is the intention of Conductor Cordes to bring the organization back to that standard and even past it if possible.

The band has settled down for several weeks' of strenuous practice in preparation for its opening concert to be given at the auditorium in November. A series of enjoyable concerts are to be given during the winter months and lovers of good band music can look forward to something interesting in the music line during the long winter months that are coming.

Band members interviewed today are well satisfied over the council's action and see a bright future for the band. The merchants have responded nobly whenever they have been called upon to make donations towards its upkeep and they are to be commended on their liberality. With the new half mill tax they probably will not be called upon for such large donations as has been the practice in the past.

Law Changes.

Up to 1915 the laws of Minnesota only permitted cities operating under a home rule charter to levy a half mill tax for the maintenance of a public musical organization, but this was changed in 1915 permitting all city councils to levy a half mill tax, the amount not to exceed $500. In 1917 the legislature again changed the law and raised the sum to be provided by taxation to $2000. In 1919 the lawmakers extended the privilege to village councils and they too are permitted now to levy a half mill tax for the upkeep of their home town bands. The sum to be raised by taxable means must not exceed $500.

VOCATIONAL WORK GREATLY FAVORED

WORK UNDER SMITH-HUGHES LAW WILL BE DEVELOPED HIGHLY HERE.

Vocational training in the Lincoln high school under the Smith-Hughes law, will be offered to boys, who for some reason or another, were forced to drop out of school earlier in life than they should have, and would like to come back and learn more.

The plan as submitted to the school board at its meeting Tuesday evening by Supt. W. A. Ziegler was accepted and the course in mechanics will start sometime during this month. It is the intention of Supt. Ziegler to promote the work under the Smith-Hughes plan to a high standard to aid boys along different practical lines.

The plan calls for the introduction in the high school of a thorough course in concrete work, iron work, machineshop work, auto repairing, telephone construction and repairing, inside electrical light wiring, gasoline engineering, motor repairing, vulcanizing and carpenter work. The plan also provides for a competent instructor, who can offer instruction in these things. For the first year no high school students will be permitted to enroll for this vocational training, although the majority of the boys are very enthused over it.

"My idea is to make the school such that when a student leaves the school he will be better fitted for a job when he goes to look for one," said Supt. Ziegler, "and the trend now days is to give the students training along practical lines so they will be qualified to put them into practical use."

The course along mechanical lines will be offered to the boys sometime during this month so when the fall work is completed the boys of the county, who have been forced to drop stage, will be able to enroll at the high school during the winter months and take up vocational lines.

Schools offering instruction under the Smith-Hughes law receive financial aid from the government, Supt. Ziegler said yesterday. That the course to be offered in the high school here will be well attended is certain and many inquiries have already been made, while A. Tripp is trying to round up a number of boys for enrollment when the time comes for the opening.

SHEEP ARRIVING IN FLOCKS FROM WEST

DURING PAST WEEK 1800 HEAD FROM MONTANA REACHED THIS CITY.

Olaf Ramstad and Chris Larson returned on Tuesday from Montana in charge of 1,000 head of sheep, purchased for the farmers of Pennington and surrounding counties. Last Thursday Elev Aakre arrived with 800 head, this being the heaviest movement in this class of stock ever recorded for the section.

There have been at least two consignments of the animals recorded previously, and it is safe to say that there are at the present time 4,000 head in this section, nearly all of which are from Montana. No other business in the history of the section has started with such a rush and but few have given promise of greater permanence or success. The farmers all seem anxious to experiment a little with this class of stock. The pasturage is unbounded and the animals seem to thrive as well here as further west. The coming winter will in all likelihood disclose whether or not it is safe to invest extensively in sheep, those who are best posted on the question asserting that no better region can be found for their propagation. The experiment is interesting and can hardly prove otherwise than profitable. Both the fleece and the flesh of sheep are in demand and bring decidedly good prices. The animals require but little care and will keep fat where almost anything else would starve to death. Every effort is being made to encourage the farmers in going into the business rather extensively, it being held out as an extra inducement that it is impossible for sow thistle or other weeds to gain a foothold where sheep are allowed to browse.

Cranberry Stock Big.

Cranberries for "trimmings" at Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year dinners ought to be cheaper this year than they were last, although labor conditions may force the growers to demand prices higher than the average. This year's crop, according to the September forecast of the department of agriculture, will be about 637,000 barrels as against 330,000 last year.

Accept Terms, Report.

Representatives of the railway shopmen's union were reported on Saturday evening to have accepted the terms offered by the railroad administration in regard to wages and conditions of employment, which will remain in force while the government retains control of the properties. An eight hour day and time and one-half for overtime are features of the reported agreement.

Band Goes to Hallock.

Twelve members of the Thief River Falls band, all returned overseas service men, left Tuesday morning for Warren from which place they were taken to Hallock via the auto route to play at the big Homecoming celebration of Kittson county. The band's playing proved very popular and the Homecoming committees felt fortunate in being able to secure the boys. The message was received Monday evening while the band was rehearsing asking if it were possible to secure music from this city, after the Warren band had notified them that they would be unable to come.

BEMIDJI MAYOR IS ASKED TO RESIGN

TOO LENIENT WITH BOOTLEGGERS REASON FOR ACTION OF COUNCIL.

Mayor L. E. Johnson was asked to resign from his office in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the city council this week. This action was taken by the council to eliminate alleged bootlegging conditions which have existed in that section for some time.

City Attorney H. L. Hoffman addressed the council, stating that the mayor and the police force were to blame for the existing conditions, that it was nothing but neglect on their part that bootlegging was becoming so prevalent.

The mayor in reply stated that he had been called out of town to take care of other business affairs and that he had too much work to handle, further stating that he thought the police force was able to take care of such conditions if they were known to exist.

The police officials claimed the mayor did not leave any instructions before his departure regarding the bootlegging problem and for that reason no action was taken. The trouble developed out of the sentencing of a large number of bootleggers, who have been doing business for some time, by Judge C. W. Stanton of the district court there.

The vote taken at the council's meeting was five in favor of the mayor's resignation and three against. The mayor's answer to the council was that he would take the matter under consideration. An appropriation of $500 was voted to be turned over to City Attorney Hoffman to make a final cleanup of the bootlegging conditions.

SOCIETY and Club

LARGEST CLUB IN NINTH DISTRICT

WOMEN OF THIEF RIVER FALLS LEADERS IN MANY RESPECTS.

In a general writeup of the activities of the different Women's clubs in the state published in connection with reports of the annual meeting at Little Falls, the Minneapolis Journal has the following to say concerning the work accomplished in the Ninth district:

"Mrs. C. G. Selvig of Crookston, president of the ninth district, feels that nothing is impossible to clubwomen when they work together. This, the great lesson which has come out of the war work, is carried into every club activity; we shall see great results.

"Special attention has been given to patriotic education and to Americanization. The war problems continue much the same in peacetimes, only more time is given to local needs, and clubwomen are working earnestly now as they did then. Improved rural schools is the aim of some clubs. Others are investigating the conditions surrounding women and girls in industry, child welfare work, and some have gone further by providing recreation for the young people. As a result of the efforts of some clubs, county nurses have been engaged and one county is the proud possessor of three. Lyceum courses have been given in many towns through the efforts of the clubs.

"Thief River Falls Woman's club, the largest in the district, accomplished a revolution in the appearance of the streets of their city by starting a cleanup campaign, offering prizes to individuals, yards and streets showing the greatest improvement. Now an unkempt lawn or an untidy backyard is as unpopular as the influenza in that city.

"Education, Americanization, reconstruction are foremost in the hearts of ninth district women and they hope for great accomplishment."

FIRST MEETING OF SEASON ON MONDAY

WOMAN'S CLUB MEMBERS WILL BE GUESTS OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The season of activity for the Woman's club will be formally opened next Monday afternoon when the executive committee will act as host to the remainder of the members and such visitors as may be present. It will be a social session entirely and will be a sort of preparation for the more serious business to follow later on. The tentative program for the coming months will be discussed and the best way of handling the special features provided will undoubtedly come up for settlement.

A feature of particular interest will be the report of the delegates to the state convention of Woman's clubs, held last week at Little Falls. The delegates from the Thief River Falls organization were the president, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, Miss Marie Nelson and Miss Blanche Johnson. To the latter will fall the duty of presenting a review of the meetings to the home circle. There will be a vocal solo by Mrs. Gay Halvorson and a piano solo by Mrs. Stewart Aga.

The Thief River Falls club is the largest in the Ninth district and one of the most active in the state. It is particularly desired that there be a good turnout at this opening meeting and that ladies who are not now members make it a point to be present and become acquainted with the organization.

Wedding Anniversary.

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Seltz were pleasantly surprised by the members of the Ladies Aid society Monday evening, the occasion being the tenth anniversary of their marriage. The guests of the evening had to yield to the wishes of the hosts and march to the tune of "Lohengrin," with Miss Nibbe at the organ. Ring bearers, flowergirls and even a camouflaged parson, gave the celebration a very decided effect. The decorations, too, corresponded in detail to those of 10 years ago. At midnight a delicious luncheon was served. Rev. and Mrs. Seltz were remembered with a full set of Pyrex transparent oven-ware.

Farewell Party.

The W. A. W. club, consisting of ten girls of the sophomore class in the local high school, entertained twenty-six of their friends at a farewell party last Monday evening, at the home of Miss Edith Haugen, 416 Knight avenue north, in honor of George Opple, who left Wednesday for Montana. There were nine little girls present, who enjoyed a fine luncheon served by Mrs. Peck, and all the fruit they could get away with, furnished by Mr. Mathews, their teacher. Miss Hermanson very successfully and artistically carried out the pink and white color scheme in decorations and luncheon. The evening was spent in singing and dancing. After partaking of a delicious five course luncheon the young bride was presented with a large number of pieces of aluminium ware.

Seniors Reception to Faculty.

On Saturday evening the high school teachers, the school board and the members' wives were delightfully entertained by the senior class. The commercial rooms and hall were made wonderful by using the fall leaves and branches. Large branches of thorn apple, fire grass and columbine made them a regular woodland. Much credit is due to the program committee, which was made up of Miss Mollie Hermanson, Miss Lourina Poirier and Roy Flattum. The program follows:

Address of Welcome........................ Miss Mollie Hermanson
Response........................Supt. Ziegler
Piano Solo........................Miss Holmes
Reading..............Miss Harriet Anderson
Vocal Solo........................Carl Sundahl
Address........................Clarence Vevea

In Miss Herman's address she spoke of the necessity of good fellowship, friendship and cooperation between pupil and teacher.

Mr. Vevea in his address explained the course laid out by the Annual staff for this year's production.

After partaking of ice cream and cake the remainder of the evening was spent in different amusements in the gym. Although it was the first event of its kind for the seniors this year everything went off in grand style, and all present appreciate the seniors' ability in conducting a social affair.

Anderson-Jacobson.

It will be a surprise to the many friends of Miss Johanna Jacobson to learn of her marriage to A. M. Anderson of Litchfield, N. D., which took place Tuesday, September 16th, in Valley City. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Jacobson, is well known and well liked among her many friends in this city. She was a member of the local high school in '16 and '17. After attending a commercial college in Grand Forks she was employed as stenographer in W. H. Fredrick's land office for some time. The groom is one of the promising young business men of Litchfield, at which place the young couple will make their future home.

Farewell Party.

The ladies of the Macabees lodge entertained at the home of Mrs. Elias Rolland, 231 Second street, on Wednesday evening of last week in honor of Mrs. J. H. Opple, who has left for Montana to make her future home. The evening was spent in sewing and a good time in general was had by everyone. Mrs. Opple was presented with a beautiful serving tray in remembrance of the Thief River Falls lodge. A delicious luncheon was served at eleven p. m.

TWO GOOD CITIZENS LEAVE.

Thief River Falls will shortly lose two men who have been rather important factors in the city's development. Both go to enlarged fields of usefulness and the best wishes of all will go with them.

Rev. I. T. Aastad, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church here for the past quarter of a century, has resigned his call to become president of the Northern Minnesota district of the denomination with which he is affiliated. This will make him one of the most important church officials in the state and his post will be one of great responsibility. That marked ability and sound judgment will characterize his tenure in office is something of which all his former neighbors will feel assured.

To continue as the minister of one church for 25 years in a young and rapidly growing community, where the changes are swift, conditions alter continously, and the demands upon his time and patience often most exacting, requires a man of something more than the ordinary amount of stamina and courage. Rev. Aastad has both. Year in and year out he has preached to his people, advising with them on all topics pertaining to their welfare. He has not confined himself to mere preaching, however, having a greater realization of his duties as a citizen as well as a churchman. Hardly a meritorious movement of any kind but what has had his active as well as moral support, his attitude being at all times marked by courtesy even toward those with whom he disagreed. He has not courted the limelight but on the other hand has never been backward in showing just where he stood when his position would in any manner assist the cause he considered right.

Rev. Aastad will continue to regard Thief River Falls as his home, at least for the present. His family will remain here, and this fact will be very pleasing to their large circle of friends.

The other man who will shortly go to another location is Leonard Peterson, superintendent of the city's water and light plant. Mr. Peterson has been in that position for 19 years—ever since there was a plant to superintend, in fact. During such a term of years it would have been humanly impossible for him to suit everybody, and Mr. Peterson lays no claim to having done so. He has been a faithful servant, however, and has given his best endeavors to the job in hand. The plant has prospered and grown under his management and he leaves a record to which he may well point with pride. Mr. Peterson goes to Crookston as superintendent and that city is gaining a mighty good citizen.

NOT AFRAID OF NORTH DAKOTA.

It would seem that the politicians who were so concerned lest the credit of the state of North Dakota be ruined through the program innaugurated by the Nonpartisan legislature might have spared themselves so much worry. North Dakota seems to still have some slight standing among financiers, both within its borders and outside.

Three million dollars worth of state bonds were sold the other day and brought par with a five per cent interest rate. This is more than the money should be worth in ordinary times, but times are not ordinary. Interest rates are going up everywhere and the character of the collateral does not seem to make much difference.

Nowhere in the state was such a hard fight on the Nonpartisan program made as in Grand Forks. Dire calamity was predicted if the legislation proposed ever became law. It was particularly maintained that foreign capital would fight shy of the state and local investors would place their money where there was no danger of any such catastrophe as the farmers' league gaining control. It is to be noted, however, that when it came to a question of where the state-owned terminal elevator was to be located the bankers and business men of Grand Forks came forward with an offer to see that $1,000,000 worth of the state's bonds were sold, providing their city was chosen as the site. A report of the meeting at which this resolution was reached states that so enthusiastic did these erstwhile frightened bankers and business men become that they offered to double the amount of bonds to be sold by them if necessary.

All of which goes to show that a state's solvency and credit is affected very little by the particular brand of politics it favors. North Dakota seems to be getting along first rate under the new order and its progress is being watched with interest by the entire country. The closest watchers, however, are the old-line politicians.

A MATTER OF IMPORTANCE.

The farmers residing in the Mud and Thief Lake basins who lost their crops by reason of the floods of the past summer are offered a measure of relief by the state. The special session of the legislature set aside $500,000 for the purpose of assisting them get back on their feet by providing fodder for stock and seed for their fields, but they must make certain presentations in order to get this. Gov. Burnquist is chairman of the committee in charge of the distribution, his assistants being the state auditor and state treasurer.

This committee will doubtless act as rapidly as possible, but the members are responsible for the judicious outlay of this money and every application will have to be investigated. It has been suggested that the best way for those wishing to avail themselves of this aid to proceed is to make application to the State Commission of Agriculture, of which J. N. Holmberg is the head, and J. H. Hay, formerly of Thief River Falls, the chief assistant. The latter, by reason of his long residence in this section, is well acquainted with conditions in the stricken area and in a position to give reliable information concerning the validity of any claim presented. The Commissioner's office also has all the data connected with the subject and can thus act without any loss of time.

Writing to senators or representatives of the district will only cause delay. They have nothing whatever to do with the distribution, division, terms or conditions upon which this money will be made available. That is a matter for the committee headed by the governor to decide and in reaching a decision the facts must be known. These can best be presented through the office of the Commissioner of Agriculture.

THE SENSIBLE VIEW.

The Duluth Evening Herald naturally has no use for Townley or the Nonpartisan league, but that paper does not go entirely insane whenever one or the other is mentioned. In a late editorial it admits that there must be a reason for the existence of the Nonpartisan League and suggests that other party leaders try and discover what it is. After this has been accomplished the Herald goes a step farther and advises legislation that will cure the ills of which the farmer complains. The following very sensible conclusions are arrived at: First, that if the farmer had no real grievance there would be nothing for a Townley to play upon. Second, that so far nobody but Townley seems to be making any offer to cure these grievances.

That's it exactly. Abusing Townley is not going to turn the farmer from the course he has chosen as that which seems to offer him some relief. It is doubtful if he cares such a tremendous lot for Townley himself, but he does care for the League, a fact that can easily be verified in any farming district in the state. And he cares more right at this minute than ever before, no matter what may be said to the contrary. He fails to find a horrible example in the case of North Dakota, while charges of disloyalty and other reprehensible things fail to turn his gaze from what is to him the main issue, namely that he has grievances and that Townley is offering the only program that promises a change for the better.

Something besides abuse will have to be employed before he is ready to change his mind.

SAVE SEED CORN NOW.

Northwestern Minnesota generally and Pennington county particularly are going to have the best corn crop in years. The season has been most propitous and the yield is perhaps the largest in the section's history as a corn producer. Even the seed drilled in for fodder is bearing ears of the finest quality, something rather unusual for this section.

Now is the time to secure that hardy, home-grown seed that is so desirable. The farmer who overlooks this opportunity to improve the quality and increase the quantity of native seed corn is not doing his full duty either to himself or his community.

When husking your corn, save out the best ears for seed. The others will do just as well to sell or for feed; nothing but the very best should be saved for propagation. In this manner there will in a very short time be developed a strain of corn that will stand the punishment during a summer when conditions for its production are not so good. This plan should be followed out year after year until northern Minnesota corn is a fixture—a product on which as much dependence may be placed as on the smaller grains.

The farmer who regards this as a matter of but slight importance is making a great mistake. There is at least one man in Pennington county who has raised corn during the past eight seasons and he has only one failure to report, and that but partial. He accomplished this by careful seed selection. Others can do the same.

THE ANNUAL STOCK SALE.

The fall livestock exhibit and sale of the Pennington County Breeders' association will be held on October 22 and 23. This is an event in which there is a great deal of interest as some of the finest stock in this section is brought for display on such occasions. The first attempt at anything of this kind was made a year ago and was so successful as to astonish the men at the head of the undertaking. The advertising secured was such that there is certain to be a much larger gathering this year.

The facilities for properly conducting a sale of this kind are also much better at this time. New stock barns have been put up at the fair grounds and there is a more widespread knowledge of the kind of stock Pennington county breeders have to offer.

Wonder just why the Northwestern counties should be barred from the Northern Minnesota Development association's annual potato show, which is to be held in Duluth next February. The counties from which entries are asked and which are open to competition are Aitkin, Beltrami, Carlton, Cass, Cook, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Itasca, Kanabec, Koochiching, Lake Mille Lacs, Morrison, Pine and St. Louis. What's the matter with Clearwater, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties? These are also a part of Northern Minnesota and are producing quite a few potatoes. One man has just been paid $3,450 for his potato crop raised on 13 acres in the township of North, Pennington county. This is an average of $265 per acre, and is doing pretty well. But if they don't want our potatoes at Duluth we'll sell 'em and buy another thoroughbred bull or two.

There are a number of ways in which one can help hold down the high cost of living, but the easiest and one of the surest is presented by Times advertisers. The man or woman who looks over the announcements of Thief River Falls merchants appearing in the columns of this paper will keep posted on just where the bargains are to be found. He or she will also know who is presenting the latest there is to be had so far as styles are concerned as well as the best in quality. The man who advertises his goods is always the one who is ready to make good. He is not afraid of legitimate competition and he wants the buying public to know it. Reading the ads in The Times is an enlightening experience and a profitable occupation.

It is rather surprising to note to what extent Governor Burnquist is not commended by the Republican newspapers of the state for his veto of the tonnage tax measure. His action has defenders, of course, but they are all from the iron region. Outside of this small section the sentiment is decidedly not in accord with the governor's view. Instead of settling the matter, the governor has only succeeded in making it more prominent than ever. Some such law will one day be passed and it will not be vetoed.

* * *

Quite a number of people are predicting that before things get back to normal in this country there will have to be a serious shakeup and a period of generally distressful conditions. One sure way of bringing about just this state of affairs is to keep continually harping on its probability and living in constant anticipation of it.

The Tonnage Tax Veto.

(Warren Register.)

The Bendixen tonnage tax bill was vetoed by Governor Burnquist. We have read the Governor's veto message, but, in our opinion, it fails to answer some of the strongest arguments in behalf of the imposition of the tax. The Bendixen bill was a very moderate measure and the Governor could have permitted it to become a law almost without criticism for so doing and without injury to any section or industry. The charge "sectionalism" no more appeals to us now than it did when it was made in legislative halls, in committee rooms or in the press by the men of Hibbing and other range towns who spend iron ore money like water—not, as they claim, at the expense of the steel trust, but at the expense of all of us consumers to whom the trust passes on all that it pays for "white ways," exorbitant salaries, and marble palaces with luxurious equipments. The tonnage tax would not stop the orgy of graft and extravagance prevalent on the range, but it would doubtless reduce it somewhat. And, after all, why should Duluth share in the revenues from the range, when Grand Rapids, though nearer, cannot? What sacredness is there in mere county lines, arbitrarily drawn for the sole purpose of facilitating public management of local affairs, like schools, roads, assessment and distribution of taxes, keeping records of real estate transfers, vital statistics, settling decedents' estates, etc? Counties are organized for the public's convenience; that is all. We fail to follow the Governor in his reference to imposing "excessive burdens upon any class, industry or section." It is a fundamental principle underlying most schemes of taxation, that the heaviest taxes should be imposed upon those individuals, corporations and industries best able to bear them. Does anyone question the ability of the iron mine owners to pay higher taxes? Can the tax burden borne by the Steel trust be so awfully heavy when U. S. Steel stock—two thirds water—has jumped within a few years from $10 or less to nearly $150 per share? As to the sectionalism of it, would any harm result if a few hundred of the tax eaters of Hibbing were pried loose from the public pay roll? Would the school children suffer it they had to use the kind of knives and forks most of us use instead of solid silver ones? Evidently no industry would suffer, nor would any section. Just what "class" the Governor has in mind, we don't know. The laboring men up there are largely I. W. W.s and, considering the frequency of their strikes, must earn first-rate wages when they do work. We disclaim any "prejudice" against any section or industry of this state and we do not believe that prejudice was the motive behind many of the votes for the Bendixen bill, though it is not improbable that jealousy was a factor to a small extent. As a St. Paul paper says editorially, it is very likely that the next legislature will send up to the then Governor a tonnage tax bill less moderate than the Bendixen measure, and he will sign it or it will be passed over his head. We confess not only surprise, but likewise regret, that Governor Burnquist could not see his way clear to signing the bill. Had he done so, the tonnage tax as an issue would have been out of the way at least until time should have elapsed sufficient for giving the act a good try-out.

Eating For Less.

(Grand Forks American.)

The advice of Julius H. Barnes that the cost of living will decline in ratio with the increased consumption of wheat calls attention to the fact that this product is selling at a lower price in proportion to its food value than any other. Men who ought to know declare that if the government fixed price was removed from wheat it would go much higher in price. There have been many in the cities to declare that the farmer was profiteering and that the fixed price of wheat was excessive. It is becoming evident to all, however, that this is untrue.

With the price of wheat stabilized by the government, the people have a lever with which to reduce the cost of living. No matter how much more wheat the people eat, the price will not rise to any great extent, but the retail price of rival foods will have to fall in order to attract buyers. When there is a large call for any particular article, it is the custom to say that the law of supply and demand forces up the price. However this may be, the fact that the sale of certain kinds of food falls off will force the men handling it to cut their price.

Pleased Them All.

(St. Hilaire Spectator.)

Pennington county was host last Saturday to the largest gathering ever held in this county, the Homecoming celebration held in honor of the county's soldiers, sailors, marines and nurses who took part in the World War. The big event was pulled off at the fair grounds at Thief River Falls. Two bands furnished music during the day. A genuine barbecue, Indian dances and races, a sports program, airplane flights, auto races, contests of various sorts, football game, baseball game, broncho and mule busting, boxing matches and many other features provided amusement at the grounds. Bowery dancing and other diversions were provided for amusement during the evening. A free lunch was served to all comers at the fair grounds and thousands of people availed themselves of that opportunity to get a slice of "barbecue steer" and the fixin's that went with it. Practically every family in the county was represented, more or less, at the Homecoming, and the crowd was the largest ever assembled in the county.

Fox Lake, Wis., Editor Hands Times Bouquet

We are in receipt of a copy of the Thief River Falls Times, published at Thief River Falls, Minn., and it is without exaggeration, some paper. It consists of sixteen pages filled with live ads and local reading matter and is a credit to any town. It was sent to us by N. W. Tarrant, a former Fox Lake boy, who has been making that city his home for a number of years.—Fox Lake Representative.

Boost Local Paper.

(Publishers Auxiliary.)

The importance and value to the state of the local newspapers were emphasized in one exhibit at the state fair at Syracuse, N. Y., recently. The persons who visited the exhibit were greeted by a placard reading: "Has your editor doubled the subscription price and advertising rate of his paper? If not, he needs to." And this declaration was backed up by the statement that during the past four years 125 county newspapers went out of business in New York.

Still another card pointed out that "if the folks of the town did half as much for the papers as the editor does for the town fewer country weeklies would go out of business."

The exhibit was made by the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, which explained on a placard that the college believes the local newspapers are making a real contribution to the life of their towns and may be ranked with the church, the school and the home and farm bureau as factors in the life of a community.

Miss Jeannette Lee of Fairdale, N. D., arrived Monday evening and will be engaged at the Bazar store. Miss Lee was employed there three years ago.

At the Theatres

Lyceum.

"Mickey is coming to town." Mickey is the most amusing, most charming and most delightful thing ever produced in motion pictures. In the big cities it outstayed any film effort ever shown. Nothing, not even the big spectacular attractions such as The Birth of a Nation, ever received so much praise from press and public. This picture comes to the Lyceum for three nights and matinees beginning next Monday. The peerless comedienne, Mabel Normand, plays the title role and it is without exception the best thing she has ever attempted. Anyone who misses seeing Mickey will be sorry when he or she hears the whole town discussing it the next day.

Tonight one of the most beautiful of all screen actresses, Olive Thomas, will be seen in "Upstairs and Down." Miss Thomas in the role of a baby vamp is irresistible and the cast is up to the lead.

"Bill Henry" is the title of a play in which Charles Ray will appear on Friday night. In this picture the versatile Charles tries his hand at being a salesman and offers to sell everything from a clothespin to a farm. Incidentally he has one of the fiercest fist-fights of his career—and he has had some humdingers.

Kitty Gordon comes to the Lyceum Saturday night in "Playthings of Passion." This is a startling story of high society in which the most wonderful costumes are worn. It is said that one rope of pearls worn in this production alone cost $100,000.

A real big production has been booked as Sunday's feature. Elsie Ferguson, who is even a greater screen actress than a legitimate star, heads a great cast in "The Witness for the Defense." It is an intensely dramatic story of woman's love, sacrifice and tragedy, depicted as only a few of the very best can portray these things. In a tense scene the heroine of the play shoots her drunken wretch of a husband and the story deals largely with whether or not she was guilty of murder for so doing.

NEW MANAGER FOR OIL COMPANY HERE

J. H. HAY TAKES CHARGE AT GRAND FORKS; SUCCEEDED BY L. O. FEVIG.

J. H. Hay, for years manager for the Standard Oil company in this section with headquarters in this city, took charge of the Grand Forks office of the same company on Oct. 1 and will hereafter make that city his home. Mrs. Hay and the children have not yet moved to the Dakota city but will do so as soon as suitable quarters for their accommodation can be found.

The change is a promotion for Mr. Hay. He will be in charge of a larger and more important field and will besides be enabled to remain at home the greater part of the time. His position in this city made it necessary for him to be on the road a good share of the time and years of this has made the change welcome.

Mr. Hay is an active and energetic business man who has made many friends in the territory under his supervision and these will be glad to hear of the greater opportunities offered him, at the same time regretting his removal from the city.

L. O. Fevig, formerly employed at the headquarters office of the Standard, will succeed Mr. Hay in this field. He recently returned from service with the army and is prepared again to get back into the harness. He is a young man of pleasing personality and address and will quickly make a place for himself among the business interests of the community.

LOTS OFFERED AT AUCTION IN CITY

J. M. BISHOP WILL SELL CHOICE PROPERTY UNDER THE HAMMER.

On Monday, Oct. 6, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, there will be an auction sale of lots belonging to J. M. Bishop and located in well-settled neighborhoods. There are six of these lots on Duluth avenue north, facing the Physicians hospital; six are on Arnold avenue north between Fourth and Fifth streets; two are on Duluth, between Fourth and Fifth; two on Arnold avenue between Fourth and Fifth and six are on Arnold between Third and Fourth.

Every tract offered is in a desirable location and will make an ideal building lot. In most cases the municipal improvements, such as paving and sewers, have all been made with the electric light leads are ready for connection. Mr. Bishop believes he will be serving a good turn by thus disposing of this property and getting it into the hands of parties who will build homes. The terms, which are liberal, are fully explained in an announcement on another page. W. J. LaBree is the auctioneer.

STAY DRY UNTIL PACT IS RATIFIED

NO RAISING OF LIQUOR BAN AT THE PRESENT TIME.

Although the war department declared in a statement on Tuesday that "the war and the progress of demobilizations are at an end," wartime prohibition cannot be lifted until after the ratification of the peace treaty in the opinion of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer.

The prohibition law provides it shall remain in force until after the termination of the war and the demobilization of the army. Mr. Palmer has held that the state of war does not end until the peace treaty has been ratified.

President Wilson took a similar position in asking congress early in the year to repeal the wartime prohibition law insofar as it affected light wines and beer.

The war department's statement as to the end of demobilization was made in connection with an announcement that officers of the regular army were about to be returned to their normal peace time rank and that the 10,000 emergency officers still in the service must be discharged to reduce the commissioned personnel to the 18,000 authorized by a recent act of congress.

RED CROSS HOLDS MINNESOTA EXEMPT

Although the American Red Cross is asking this year $15,000,000 with which to complete its war job at home and abroad, not one penny for this purpose will be asked of Red Cross enthusiasts in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, according to an announcement made today at Northern Division headquarters, 423 South Fifth street, Minneapolis.

The reason for this is that the Northern Division has already sent to national headquarters surplus funds amounting to $1,000,000, which is approximately one-third more than the quota set for this division. It is possible that local chapters of these four Northwest states will solicit funds for their own maintenance.

A campaign will be waged to obtain 50,000 Red Cross magazine subscriptions during the "Roll Call" between November 2 and 11, inclusive, when it is proposed to enroll 900,000 Red Cross members in the Northern Division. There will no longer be magazine memberships. The magazine will be sold separately and on its merits. Nationally the aim is to procure 20,000,000 memberships and 500,000 magazine subscriptions.

GETTING EXHIBITS FOR DEPOT SHOW

LARGE JARS AT SOO DEPOT WILL SOON CONTAIN COUNTY PRODUCTS.

The agricultural committee of the Commercial club, composed of Olaf Tessum, chairman, Peter Engelstad, George Biddick, Jerry Race, John Bratrud and J. J. McCann are preparing to remove the exhibit of grain, grasses, vegetables and fruits from the large jars at the Soo depot and replace them with Pennington county products.

The committee has already secured some fine exhibits from the recent Tri-County fair held at Goodridge but many more are needed to fill out the large display. The name of the exhibitor and the locality in which he lives will be placed on a tag and tied to the exhibit and it is the intention of the committee to have all parts of the county represented. They are especially desirous of hearing from the West Side, Goodridge and Silverton Farmers' clubs and any assistance given by these will be appreciated highly.

It is planned to have a splendid exhibition of corn and spuds and those who have some good varieties should take them to Olaf Tessum, chairman, at the Tessum Seed, Grain & Supply company's large warehouse near the depot, and they will be given the proper attention.

REPUBLICANS WIN SCHOOL ELECTION

CIVICS CLASS, LINCOLN HIGH STUDYING PLATFORMS OF PARTIES.

If the mock election at the Lincoln high school, which came to a close the first of the week, is indicative of the way the next presidential and state elections are going to result, the Republicans will sweep the country like a prairie fire.

Owing to the fact that there were not enough students in the civics class, the Socialists and Non-Partisans had no candidates up and the students voted the democratic and republican tickets. The mock election created a great deal of interest and the candidates knew the party platforms well. The students in the civics class have been making a study of the party platforms and are finding out just why they want to be called a Republican, Democrat, Socialist or Non-Partisan.

Joseph Weirus was elected president; Agnes Tandberg, vice-president; Charles Warner, U. S. Senator; Sylvia Pierson and Stanton Dahlen, congress representatives; Henry Sagmoen, governor; Lynn Halverson, lieut. governor; Lillian Mundell, secretary of state; Dagny Leverson, state attorney; Philip Larson, state auditor; Francis Erickson, R. R. and warehouse commissioner; Evelyn Saugen, state senator; Myrtle Olson and Kathleen Ures, representatives; Alpha Bishop, chief justice; Pearl Shosten and Marshall Race, associate justices.

Miss Margaret Burns, daughter of one of the staunchest democrats in Pennington county, ran on the democratic ticket for governor, but was defeated by a narrow margin.

"TWIN BEDS" WILL SHOW OCTOBER 27

$500 GUARANTEE NECESSARY TO BRING BIG ROAD SHOW HERE.

"Twin Beds," which has proven to be one of the biggest hits in the theatrical world of late, will come to Thief River Falls for one performance on Monday evening, October 27, at the Auditorium.

This high-class comedy is being brought to the city through the efforts of Attorney G. Halvorson, former manager of the Auditorium, and he is now busy securing the necessary signers for his petition to guarantee a $500 house. Mr. Halvorson stated today that the petition is about completed and the receipts will no doubt run over the $500 mark. A strenuous advertising campaign will be put on and all the surrounding towns and country districts will be thoroughly canvassed to advertise the event.

The show is one that is sure to please everyone for it has just completed a return engagement of one week at the Metropolitan opera house in Minneapolis. The company carries a complete car of scenery and their own electrical effects. The caste is made up of some leading actors and actresses and a first-class production can be looked forward to.

"Twin Beds" is a play that will amuse all and those who have seen the play in the larger cities say it's a scream.

Mr. Halvorson is to be commended for taking the initiative in securing for the city this leading attraction in the show line and when the curtain rises a packed house is sure to greet the players.

"JUST CALL ME ON THE PHONE"

WELL KNOWN FEED MERCHANT IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER TANLAC.

Among the thousands of business men all over the United States and Canada who have given their unqualified endorsement to Tanlac for the good it has done them, none is more enthusiastic than the statement of Charles P. Wick, a member of the firm of Wick Brothers, dealers in Feed, Flour and Fuel, and living at 5716 Grand Avenue, Duluth, Minn. His testimony follows:

"I am in better shape now than I have been in eight long years," said Mr. Wick. "My stomach got out of order eight years ago and I started down hill. Food began to sour in my stomach after each meal and it got so that I just couldn't digest anything I ate. Meat I hardly dared look at, for it upset me so that I would be in pain for hours after eating it. No food tasted right to me and I lost my appetite and could only mince along on some kind of light diet, which wasn't enough to keep up my strength. My nerves got all torn up and I would be restless at night and couldn't sleep. I felt tired and worn-out all the time and nearly every day I would suffer for several hours with a headache.

"I am here to tell you that Tanlac is a wonderful medicine for it has put me on my feet again. My meals can't come too often now as I can eat and enjoy almost anything that is prepared for me. A great big steak looks good to me now, for I know I can eat it and enjoy it and not have to suffer afterwards. The headaches are a thing of the past, my nerves are as steady as a rock and I can just sleep like a healthy child at night. In the mornings I get up feeling fine and go all day long without feeling a sign of the old troubles that kept me down for so long. I am glad indeed to tell what Tanlac has done for me, and anyone who doubts the statement may just call me on the phone, Cole 108 and I'll gladly tell them just what I have said here."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Ddug Store.—Adv.

Made Long Trip.

Mrs. L. M. Wilson, a resident of Jacksonville, Fla., was in the city the first of the week, being on her way to visit friends in Winnipeg. Mrs. Wilson had driven her automobile from her home town to New Orleans and thence along the Jefferson highway to this city. She evidently did not regard her performance as anything out of the ordinary, simply stating that the roads for the most part were in excellent condition. She followed the Jefferson highway from a point in the South and took the road into Winnipeg over the same route.

Would it be that when the jury came in? Out there in the jungle, her beast of a husband, murdered. The evidence all against her. Her love, her hopes, shattered and buried in England. The verdict would matter little after all. ¶ Then came the witness for the defense! Surprise---suspense---scene after scene of appeal to the heart that is simply overwhelming! MUST ANSWER 50 QUESTIONS TO GET BONUS

DATA REGARDING RESIDENCE IN STATE AND IN SERVICE ARE NECESSARY.

BLANKS READY OCTOBER 7

VERIFICATION BY QUALIFIED OFFICERS REQUIRED—FORM SIMPLE AS POSSIBLE.

An even 50 questions must be answered and two certificates must be made out, and then the whole is to be duly certified in the application form blanks, in order to get the bonus to be given by the state of Minnesota to soldier sons.

This was the announcement made by bonus board members last Saturday, after they had approved of the application blanks and had given them to the printer. The applications will be ready for distribution about October 7 and the American Legion posts and other agencies will assist in the work.

The form has been made as simple as possible, bonus board members said, in order that the applicants may make them out without assistance. It is expected that many of them will have to be returned for corrections, but every necessary aid in making applications conform with the regulations will be given by board employees.

Use Discharge Paper.

The applicant must give his name as it appears on his discharge paper; his identification number or draft board order number; his permanent address; place of birth; residence in Minnesota, in years and months; present occupation and business address; also the name of employer; name, address and relationship of nearest relative; name and residence of parents at the time of enlistment, or induction or commissioned.

Other Queries.

Then the following queries: Have you made previous application to this state for soldier's monthly bonus? Have you applied for or received a bonus, gratuity or compensation whatsoever from any other state or community for service in the war against Germany? If rejected state reasons why.

Draft Information.

Information to identify those who attempted to evade service is next asked for. Did you at any time defraud, violate, evade or attempt to evade any of the provisions of the selective service act (draft law?) is the next question. Did you seek to evade military service on the following grounds: Conscientious objectors, alienage?

Legal residence at the time of enlistment, induction or commission and present legal residence next must be given. Where did you last vote before entering service? is another question. Length of residence in Minnesota prior to enlistment, induction or commission must be stated in years and months, and then the name of and residence of wife at that time must be furnished by men who are married.

Certified copies of discharge papers must accompany all applications on special blanks to be provided by the adjutant general's office.

PROWLER STAFF IS ALREADY AT WORK

ANNUAL PUBLICATION OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WILL BE HUMMER.

The staff for The Prowler, official publication of the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school, has been selected and is already busy with the preliminary work for the issue which will apear at the close of the present school term. The Prowler has always been one of the best annuals gotten out in the state and each succeeding staff seems to take a great deal of pride in it. There is much work connected with the issuing of this book and a large staff is required. The different departments will be looked after by the following for the current issue:

Editor-in-chief, Clarence Vevea; general manager, Norman Dybvig; assistant editor, Alice Berg; business managers, Herman Ankre and Stanton Dahlen; advertising managers, Henry Aasiad and Leland Schuster; literary editor, Henry Stengleson; joke department, Hazel Webb and Leona Poirier; musical editor, Harriet Anderson; alumini department, Ruth Kiland and Alfa Bishop; social department, Agnes Lunberg; musical department, Jessie Barnett and Kathleen Ures; typewriting department, Jane Helle; kodak department, Maybelle Ostby and Florence Gavin; athletic department, Roy Flattum and Dennis McGinn.

Religious Meetings.

Bible prophecy, drawing aside the curtain showing the things which must shortly come to pass:

"What does the Bible say about the League of Nations? Will they cleave one to another? What will the next event be?" This subject will be presented in the Norwegian language next Sunday at 8 o'clock at Odd Fellows hall.

There is considerable interest in these meetings, the principal speaker handling his subjects in a very interesting manner.

Bazaar and Auction.

The Ladies Aid, Luther League and Willing Workers societies of the Swedish Lutheran church will hold a bazaar and auction in the church basement on Friday afternoon and evening, Oct. 3rd. Lunch will be served at 4:30 p. m. after which a program will be rendered, and later an auction sale. The public is invited.

30,000 TONS HAY SOLD TO MONTANA

MINNESOTA RESPONDS TO APPEAL IN DROUTH—MILLION GRAZING ACRES OFFERED.

Hay listed in Minnesota for sale to drouth stricken areas in Montana the last season exceeded 30,000 tons, according to H. J. Hughes, director of markets of the state department of agriculture.

This sale, Mr. Hughes said, was in response to an appeal from the western states. Minnesota was able only to respond in part, he said, because the states affected demanded prairie upland hay, clover and timothy mixed and alfalfa, and better prices for these grades could be obtained thru the regular channels than by sending them westward.

Besides the hay, more than 1,000,000 acres of land were offered to the state agricultural department for grazing, Mr. Hughes said, which in turn was offered to the United States department of agriculture. As a result, he said, a large number of sheep and cattle has come to Minnesota and the success of the arrangement has opened a new and valuable branch of the livestock industry in the state.

Chute Is Popular.

The chute erected at the Washington school grounds for the enjoyment of the tads is proving to be very popular. Crowds of little folks enjoy the contrivance until a late hour in the evening and all take their turn by lining up. The school board intends to provide the other three schools with the same kind of a chute. Giant strides have been placed on the grounds at all the schools and also a complete new set of swings.

LONE BANDIT ROBS POLK COUNTY BANK

WALKS INTO BANK AT 1 p. m. AND ORDERS CASHIER TO THROW UP HANDS.

The first daylight robbery in this section of the country, was staged at Lengby, Polk county, last Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock when a lone bandit walked into the Farmers State bank and demanded the cashier to throw up his hands and robbed the bank of $2,000.

The yeggman mysteriously disappeared after he had obtained his loot Bandit robs bank; caught at Bemidji and according to information had remained in the woods near the town until that evening when he came to the station and boarded the rtain going to Duluth. Sheriff Bolstad on arriving at Lengby was told of this and made a mad dash in his car for Bemidji and arrived there shortly before the train pulled in. The bandit was arrested on the train and all the money was recovered with the exception of $900.

The bandit watched his chance at the noon hour and appeared at the door of the bank when no customers were present and commanded Cashier E. Welte to hold up his hands with the gun pointing at the cashier's heart. The robber than commanded the cashier to open the safe, where $2,000, all the money in the bank, was deposited. Welte immediately gave the alarm, after the bandit had filled his pockets with cash, backed out of the bank and disappeared.

Local authorities believe he is of the same gang that attempted to crack the Merchants State bank vault at St. Hilaire, but because of the excellent construction of the strong box, gave up their labors. The yeggmen evidently have decided that the easiest way to get the cash is to walk into the bank while the vault is open and demand the money.

The Gardena, N. D. State Bank was robbed on Wednesday morning of last week, the thieves escaping with $25,000 in cash and Liberty bonds. Another band of crooks tapped the First State bank at Concrete, N. D., the same night by boring through the wall of the vault and confined their attention to the safety deposit boxes.

Robbers bored a hole into the vault of the Danube State bank, this state, on Saturday evening and secured $70 in cash and some Liberty bonds. Entrance was gained through a back window and three feet of brickwork in the vault was removed to allow a man to crawl through.

Farm Notes

THRIPS THREATEN NEXT YEAR'S ONIONS

Onion growers should plow their fields immediately after the crop is taken off, warns A. G. Ruggles, state entomologist at University Farm, or otherwise a serious outbreak of onion thrips may follow another season. Thrips have caused heavy losses this year to small farmers and gardeners of Ramsey and Hennepin counties and to owners of various tracts adjacent. This is their first appearance on a large scale in Minnesota. They are light colored sucking insects of almost microscopic dimensions, says the entomologist, and work at the base of the leaves of the onion. Many generations are produced in a year. The thrips also prey upon cabbage, cauliflower, cucumbers and melons. Spraying, clean farming and proper crop rotation help to control the pest.

DISTRICT MEETINGS OF COUNTY AGENTS.

District conferences of county agents are to be held throughout the state in October, on call of F. E. Balmer, county agent leader, to consider plans for the development of community organization and farm bureau federation and to prepare for state farm bureau membership week, Oct. 27 to Nov. 1. The conferences will be held as follows: Crookston, Oct. 4; Duluth, Oct. 6; Rochester, Oct. 7; Mankato, Oct. 8; University Farm and Wadena, Oct. 9 and Pipestone and Morris, Oct. 10. At these meetings matters relative to the annual farm bureau conference will be discussed.

NEW NORTH DAKOTA BONDS BRING PAR

BIG FINANCIAL CONCERNS TAKE ENTIRE ISSUE AT FIVE PER CENT.

The Bank of North Dakota established under the Nonpartisan League program, has sold three millions of dollars of bonds, two million of the issue being the bank series at 5 per cent and the balance being on real estate.

The price paid was par. The deal was consummated through the efforts of Col. C. S. Little, president of the First National bank of Bismarck. The buyers are two of the largest bond buying companies in the United States with offices in New York and Chicago. The bank series bonds will be issued in $1,000 bonds and present bonds will be cancelled. The sale of bonds, it is said, will bring outside capital, which is expected to make available the capital of the Bank of North Dakota. Through the sale of the real estate bonds the state banks will be enabled to close a large number of real estate loans which they have held pending the sale of bonds.

GLOOM AGAIN HAS FOOT ON BAR RAIL

RUMORS HAS IT BARS WILL OPEN FOR SHORT SPELL IN OCTOBER.

Several times Old Man Gloom has started for the back door but he always came back. He now has one foot placed on the Minnesota prohibition brass bar rails.

Rumors have been afloat around "near beer" bars that the saloons will reopen sometime in October for a brief spell until the federal prohibition law goes into effect on January 1, 1920.

Latest dispatches from eastern distilleries told former Minnesota saloonmen that prospects for reopening are dim and are growing dimmer. Strikes, culminating in the steel strike, have led distributors to believe that the government will not lift the ban even when the peace treaty is ratified.

Even the hopeful devotees of the mahogany shrine, who think the lid will go off when the treaty is ratified, are beginning to lose their faith in the opening of the wet season. Ratification seems a long way off.

"Station to Station" Long Distance Calls

The "station-to-station" rate for long distance calls applies when the calling party does not ask to talk to a particular person at the telephone designated, but merely to anyone who answers the telephone.

"Station-to-Station" calls must be made either by giving the telephone number wanted or the name or address under which the telephone is listed. If the calling party states that he wishes to talk to a definite person, the "person-to-person" rate, which is about one-fourth higher, is charged.

"Station-to-station" service is furnished at a lower rate than other classes of service because it requires less work on the part of the long distance operators and "ties up" the wires for a shorter period than when a particular party must be summoned to the telephone.

Ask us about the different classes of long distance service.

DELCO-LIGHT was designed and built by men who were raised in farm homes—who experienced the discomforts and inconveniences of farm life—and who set out deliberately years ago to develop an electric plant that would provide city advantages for rural communities.

They were the same men whose engineering talent had made DELCO Starting, Lighting and Ignition Equipment for automobiles the standard of the world—

They knew electricity—and they knew the needs and limitations of farm life—

They knew that an electric plant to give service in a farm home must be simple, so that it would not get out of order and require complicated repairs—

It must be easily operated and require little attention—

It must be very economical in operation—

It must be built to stand hard usage and it must last indefinitely—

It required five years to develop a plant that would measure up to these specifications.

There were five years of hard engineering effort back of DELCO-LIGHT before the first plant was put on the market three and a half years ago.

Today DELCO-LIGHT is furnishing the conveniences and comforts of electricity to more than Seventy-five Thousand farm homes.

It is providing an abundance of clean, bright, economical electric light for these homes. It is furnishing power to pump water, operate washing machine, churn, separator, vacuum cleaner, electric iron, milking machine, and other small machinery.

And everywhere it is demonstrating its wonderful efficiency—and actually paying for itself in time and labor saved.

BAD HABITS OF HENS DIFFICULT TO CURE

Egg Eating and Feather Pulling Are Serious Vices.

Supply Plenty of Lime to Insure Firm Shell and Have Nests Darkened—Encourage Fowls to Take Exercise.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Egg eating sometimes becomes a serious vice, fowls becoming very fond of eggs when they have learned to eat them, and it often spreads from fowl to fowl. It usually begins through accident by eggs being broken or frozen. Be careful to see that this does not happen. See that the nests are properly supplied with straw or other nesting material and have them darkened, so that if an egg is accidentally broken the fowls will not be likely to discover it. Supply plenty of lime in the form of oyster shells, bone or similar substances to insure a firm shell. As soon as it is discovered that a fowl has formed the habit the fowl should be removed in order to prevent the spread of the vice. Once formed it is difficult to eradicate, and the safest remedy is the death penalty.

Fowls sometimes pluck feathers from themselves and from each other, which is often caused by too close confinement, by the presence of insect pests, or by improper feeding. When some of the fowls of a flock have formed the habit slightly a wide range with a change of diet, including a plentiful supply of animal feed, and freedom from insect pests will usually correct the evil. Above all see that the fowls have plenty of inducement to exercise. If the habit becomes well formed it is very troublesome and may necessitate the killing of some of the fowls in order to stop it.

SEEDING CLOVER IN AUTUMN

Unhulled Seed Gives Good Satisfaction, but Is Hard to Handle—Test for Germination.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Crimson clover may be seeded early in September, and from then on through October, depending on the section. In the South a great deal of unhulled crimson clover seed is used. This gives just as good satisfaction as the hulled seed, but it is harder to handle. In either case the farmer will be wise if he has a test made of the seed he intends to sow, so that he may know whether the sample contains weed seeds and what percentage of the seed will grow. This matter should be attended to in plenty of time so that it will not be necessary to buy at the last moment and sow it without knowing whether or not the seed is good.

Crimson Clover, Showing the Most Advanced Stage of Ripening Which Is Allowable for Use as Hay.

ADVANTAGES OF COVER CROPS

Hold Soil From Washing and Provide Profitable Pasture for Hogs and Small Stock.

Cover crops hold the orchard soil from washing, prevent burning out humus, furnish good pasture for hogs, calves, poultry and small stock, and furnish an excellent mulch and soil cover for the trees. If the orchard is pastured with small stock it should not be pastured too close. Enough growth should be made by the cover crop for winter to furnish a good mulch that will catch and hold snow and leaves that would blow away.

LITTLE THINGS IN FARMING

Much Depends Upon Interest Farmers Take in Products That Can Be Made Profitable.

Often the "little things" may become the "great things" in farming. It all depends upon the interest farmers take in the various divisions of farming. Give poultry, bees, vegetable gardening, fruit and other branches a chance to prove the value of these divisions.

The only criticism heard was Hans': "If I'd been in John's place I wouldn't ha' held back on kisses." However, Hans is apt to be stronger on kissing than on principles.

Iver Iverson left for the Rhoda vicinity with a view to spending a couple of weeks at stack threshing.

John Hovet has returned home after having spent the season in Duluth and North Dakota at employment.

Ludvick Johnson and Gust A Iverson were business callers at Camp Sub Urban Friday evening.

The rain Sunday threatened to set back stack threshing and haying but not for long.

Here is a general rejoicing among settlers that something tangible promises to be done in the way of putting the Red lake and river in shape as a main outlet for taking care of surplus waters during freshets and flood times. They are willing to meet the proposed tax liens of the project rather than let drainage conditions remain the way they are.

GRID WARRIORS TAKE SEASON'S OPENING GAME

EAST GRAND FORKS PUTS UP FEEBLE RESISTANCE. SCORE 92-6.

PARANTEAU PROVES STAR

COACH TOMMERAASEN'S MEN SHOW THEY HAVE PUNCH OF FAST TEAM.

Out-generaling and out-playing their oponents at every stage of the game, the Thief River Falls football team won the first victory of the 1919 season at the fair grounds last Saturday afternoon, when an eleven from the East Grand Forks high school was vanquished by a score of 92 to 6.

Coach Tommeraasen's men had everything their own way at every point in the game and would have piled up a larger score had not so much time been wasted in making the kickoffs from three to four times before the visitors were able to catch the ball. What the Forkers didn't do would fill a newspaper. Failure to get the kickoffs and fumbling the ball became so common that it might be called a habit. The game was not an exciting one or one which could be called fast.

Score Early.

Thief River Falls started to score early when the players were fresh and kept this up throughout the game. McGinn scored the first touchdown after five minutes of play and Hadrath followed next while Paranteau and Barzen made two additional touchdowns during the quarter. Paranteau's goal kicking was wonderful and he missed putting the pigskin between the bars but once in thirteen times. His star playing outshone the individual efforts of all his teammates. Paranteau scored twice in the second quarter.

Four Touchdowns.

In the second half Larson, Schuster, Paranteau and Barzen crossed the chalk line for touchdowns and a safety was also scored during this quarter. Outplaying the Forkers in the line, Tommeraasen's men were allowed to pierce East Grand Forks' defense for heavy gains. The visitors were forced to punt frequently as their backs were unable to make the required distance at any time. Thief River Falls made the required distance in the four downs during the game and never lost the ball on this point.

Their Only Score.

Shortly after the second half had opened the Forkers picked a forward pass out of the ozone and ran 10 yards for their only touchdown. The visitors would fight hard at times but with a mighty line charging against them, followed by a bunch of speedy backs with their noses dragging on the ground, Tommeraasen's men proved too much.

Work Passes.

Captain McGinn showed good judgment in the selection of the plays and when he saw what appreciable gains could be made via the air route a good forward passing game was worked. The touchdowns were all made in such rapid order that an adding machine could have been used handily for the score kept piling up so fast. The Thief River men were unstoppable, and time and again players would go through with several Forkers hanging onto them. It will be admitted that they were outweighed considerably but at that they didn't put up a speedy game. The first game demonstrated that the local team has the makin's of a speedy team and no doubt will have an excellent chance to write the words: "1919 Champions of Northern Minnesota," upon the 1919 football scroll. They showed they have the punch and speed and with a little more training they will be a team to be reckoned with.

Smashing Line Plunges.

The avenues for the touchdowns were not hard to clear. The line went ahead as one man and the onrushing backs crashed through like demons. Never did the defense break so the backs were allowed to work in fine shape while Thief River tackles would break through the visitors' lines and throw them for losses.

Thief River's Stars.

James Paranteau, left end, proved the brightest star of the game. Paranteau in addition to his ability to kick goals, thrilled the crowd with his running and dodging and several times made 80 yard runs dodging the entire Forks' team and when tackled he would wiggle out and keep going down the line. Of the 13 touchdowns, Paranteau made 4, and kicked 12 goals.

McGinn took upon himself the burden of carrying the ball his share of the time, besides directing the attack while his line plunging was a feature. Barzen at full played well and he showed speed at all times. His low running proved an asset for the team and when he would hit the line it took several men before he was stopped. Hadrath and Zeh, at halves, also are deserving of credit. The tackles tackled with unerring accuracy and time and again they would break through the line and they kept the opposing backs guessing which way to go.

Rooters There.

The high school rooting club was at the game in force and ripped off a bunch of spirited yells. The day was an ideal one for football but the game was not attended by a very large crowd and as a result the boys are out some financially. It is hoped that they will be supported better at future games.

Training.

Coach Tommeraasen's men this week started on one of the most strenuous training campaigns of the year in preparation for the hard games to be staged this month. Several old time football men are planning on giving the boys a stiff work out at the practice grounds to prepare them for the time when they may meet heavier teams.

The Game Play by Play.

East Grand Forks won the toss and chose to defend the east goal, with a north wind blowing. Paranteau kicked for Thief River Falls from the 40 to the 90 yard line and the visitors carried the ball 10 yards when the man was downed. Two times the half back hit the line and gained 2 yards. Another half circled right end for 1 yard. Grand Forks failed to gain on another attempt around end and they lost the ball on downs.

Fullback Barzen came thru for a yard in the first play and came again for another. Quarterback McGinn made 5 yards circling end. A forward pass McGinn to Schuster was declared incomplete and on a second attempt Schuster made 10 yards. Larson, halfback, crashed thru for 10 yards in two plays. Barzen registered another 5 yards by a line plunge, and this brought the ball up to East Grand Forks 5 yard line and McGinn went over for the first touchdown. Paranteau failed to kick goal. Score 6-0.

The Forkers received the kickoff and caught the pigskin on the 90 yard line. The Forks man fumbled the ball and was recovered by a Thief River man. Fullback Barzen made 4 yards in a pretty play. Larson, halfback, came through for 5 yards in the line. Hadrath made the second touchdown in a brilliant run of 12 yards. Paranteau kicked goal and the score was 13 to 0.

The Forkers kicked from the 40 to the 70 yard line and Paranteau carried the ball 40 yards before he was downed. In the first play Paranteau, end, was called to carry the ball and on this play one of the most brilliant runs ever made was carried out. Paranteau carried the ball from the 60 yard line for a touchdown, dodging the entire Forks team and at times players would be holding his legs but he kept on going. Paranteau kicked goal and boosted the score to 20 to 0.

Thief River kicked from the 40 to the 90 yard line and Grand Forks advanced the ball 10 yards. They failed to gain on a shift play and their full gained a yard thru the line. They then punted to the 50 yard line and McGinn advanced the pigskin 20 yards. Q. B. McGinn carried the ball for a yard, after he had called the play and the man failed to respond. Larson hit the line in a hip play for 5 yards around left end. Hadrath made 5 more and Schuster gained 5 yards around end. Larson and Barzen, of the backfield, gained 6 yards in two plays and Zeh made 2 yards thru the line. Barzen crashed thru again for 2 yards. The third attempt proved a failure, for Grand Forks "stonewalled" the shifty fullback and he failed to gain. This brought the ball up to the 90 yard line and McGinn attempted to pass the ball but changed his mind and went thru to the line but not quite over. Barzen was called on to make the touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 27 to 0.

Second Quarter.

Thief River kicked from the 40 yard line to the 90 yard line and the Forkers let the ball go out of bounds, which necessitated it being kicked over. The Forkers caught the ball on the 90 yard line the second time and advanced it 10 yards. On a line play they gained nothing. On the next play the Forks quarterback fumbled the ball and Thief River recovered it. Paranteau circled end for 10 yards and McGinn followed suit for another ten. Schuster's end run netted 2 yards and a forward pass, McGinn to Schuster, was incomplete. Play was resumed on the 70 yard line and Barzen hit the line for a 3 yard gain. On the 4th down Barzen fumbled the ball and the Forks recovered the pigskin on Thief River's 70 yard line. A half went over for 3 yards. The line held another smash and then they punted to the 50 yard line and McGinn returned 15 yards. Barzen hit 'er up for 5 yards and Hadrath followed for 2 more. Paranteau made another sensational 40 yard run around left end and scored again. He also kicked goal. Score 34-0.

Thief River kicked to E. G. F. and they caught the spheroid on their 10 yard line and advanced it 10 yards. Their Q. B. gained 3 yards around end and Thief River was penalized 5 yards for being offside. An end run netted them 5 yards. A half circled right end for 5 yards. A halfback was thrown back for a loss after a Thief River man had broken thru the line and tackled behind the G. F. line. E. G. F. then punted and the ball went out of bounds and play was resumed on T. R. F.'s 20 yard line. A forward pass, McGinn to Schuster, was declared incomplete, and another attempt proved likewise. Schuster fumbled the ball on T. R. F.'s 30 yard line and Grand Forks recovered. They made 1 yard around end and they were held for no gain in the next two plays. They punted to T. R. F.'s 95 yard line and McGinn returned the ball 10 yards. Time was taken out for a G. F. man with a sprained wrist. When play was resumed, a pretty forward pass, McGinn to Paranteau, netted the local team another touchdown. Paranteau sprinted down the field for 80 yards. He kicked goal also. Score 41-0.

Thief River kicked to the Forks' 20 yard line and they advanced the pigskin 10 yards. They came thru the line for a 5 yard gain. The firts half ended. Score 41 to 0.

Second Half.

The Forkers kicked from the 40 to 70 yard line and Barzen advanced the ball 25 yards after a pretty run. Schuster carried the ball 10 yards circling right end. Hadrath and Larson, halves, carried the ball 6 yards in two runs. Hadrath gained 3 additional yards in the next play and a forward pass, McGinn to Paranteau netted 10 yards. Larson carried the ball over for a touchdown after two plunges. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 48-0.

Paranteau booted the ball to the 90 yard line and the Forks men failed to take it and let it roll outside. T. R. kicked again, the same distance, and the visitors carried it 10 yards. A forward pass was intercepted. A halfback circled end for 3 yards. Hadrath broke in and stopped the Forks' full before he had time to get started and was thrown for a loss. Half gained 1 yard. They punted again and McGinn fumbled the ball on T. R. F.'s 85 yard line. Hadrath failed to gain thru the line. Grand Forks grabbed a forward pass from McGinn to Schuster and made a touchdown after a 10 yard run. They failed to kick goal. Score 48-6.

The Forks kicked to the 70 yard line and McGinn advanced 15 yards. Barzen made 3 more. T. R. F. penalized 5 yards for offside. Another pass, McGinn to Schuster from the 50 yard line, and a 50 yard run by Schuster brought in a touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 55-6.

Paranteau booted the ball 40 yards on the kickoff and the Forkers again missed it and he kicked over again. They carried the ball 10 yards and fumbled, McGinn of T. R. F., recovered on 50 yard line. Hadrath bumped the line for 3 yards. Barzen did likewise for an additional 8 yards and the local team was penalized 5 yards for offside. Paranteau circled end for 3 yards and on the next play he made another pretty end run of 13 yards for a touchdown. He also kicked goal. Score 61-6.

T. R. F. kicked to the 90 yard line and the Forks carried the ball 20 yards. A half made 3 yards in the line and another half went around end for a yard. Time was taken out for an injured Forks' man and Dybvig went in as tackle for Thief River. Aastad, tackle for T. R. F., recovered the ball on the 60 yard line after a fumble. Another penalty of 5 yards was imposed on T. R. F. for offside. McGinn sprinted 25 yards and Hadrath paved the way for another touchdown when he went 15 yards around left end. Sorenson, sub-half, went for 3 yards and McGinn followed for a yard. Barzen went over in a smashing play for a touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 69-6.

T. R. kicked to the 20 yard line and the ball rolled into the safety zone. A Thief River man fell on the ball and scored two points for a touchdown. The ball was brought out to the Forks' 20 yard line and play was resumed. Score 71-6. The Forks' fullback gained a yard in the line. A halfback gained another yard as the third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter.

E. G. F. was forced to punt and McGinn carried the ball 10 yards from the 50 yard line. Hadrath ran 40 yards for a touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 78-6.

T. R. kicked to the Forks' 20 yard line. They fumbled and the ball rolled outside and the ball was kicked over. Again they failed to pick it up and on the third kickoff they carried the ball 10 yards from their 20 yard line. Three line plays netted them 5 yards and then they punted 30 yards. McGinn carried the spheroid 10 yards, Hadrath gained a yard. Barzen went for 5 more with several Forkers hanging onto him. A forward pass, McGinn to Fred Will, sub-end, was pulled off in fine shape and "Pills" sprinted down the field for 40 yards, scoring a touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 85-6.

T. R. F. kicked off again to the Forks' 5 yard line and they advanced 15 yards. Two line plays netted them two yards and they punted 20 yards, McGinn catching the ball on the 50 yard line. McGinn hit the line for 20 yards as the crowd yelled: "make the score 100." McGinn scored ten yards again, Hadrath 5 and Barzen went over for the touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 92-6.

Thief River kicked to the Forks' 20 yard line and they carried the ball 10 yards. A half circled end for 6 yards. The visitors lost 1 yard on the next play. The fullback was blocked again, and the half was thrown for a loss. Forced to punt, they kicked the ball to T. R. F.'s 85 yard line and McGinn went 10 yards. Two passes were incomplete. Another pass, McGinn to Paranteau netted 10 yards. McGinn went 8 yards in two plays and the game ended.

Score 92-6.

USE OF PEAT HELD BIG MONEY SAVER

Utilization of the peat deposits of Minnesota will save the state thousands of dollars a year, according to H. H. Hindshaw, of the state auditor's department.

Experiments have shown the heat value of peat to be three times that of coal and that its use in the blast furnaces is feasible, he told delegates to the annual convention of the American Peat society at the closing session in Minneapolis last Friday.

"The gross profit of a ton of peat used in a byproducts oven is about $18," said Mr. Hindshaw, "including $3.25 worth of charcoal. Powdered peat can be used to good advantage in the average boiler plant."

The questions have been asked: "if, as confidently asserted by those who have studied the question, there is a vast reserve of good and cheap fuel in Minnesota's peat bogs, why should the Northwest continue to be the slave of anthracite?"

FARMER CAN MATERIALLY IMPROVE HIS HAY REVENUE BY CAREFUL PREPARATION

A Busy Hay Baling Scene.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Were it as easy and simple to save hay when it rains as it is to make hay when old Sol has his blast furnaces working to capacity, hay producing and marketing problems would, to a certain extent be simplified. To put a gauge on the weather man and to regulate the amount of dew, rain and sunshine served out during the haymaking season, would be the hay farmer's dream of Utopia. Although the hay raiser cannot cash in on any such a vision, he can materially improve his hay revenue by more careful market preparation of his cash crop of forage. Uncle Sam wants to help every farmer to make the most of his surplus hay crop, and hence he has just published Farmers' Bulletin 1049 which is replete in helpful hints and practical suggestions on when, why, and how to bale hay and manage baling crews.

Hay is graded according to the way in which it is baled. Bales of uniform size and of neat, attractive appearance bring top prices, other conditions being equal, while ragged, unsightly bales are penalized. In baling hay for market, various practices are in operation; some are followed unconsciously in order to avoid extra work, while others are followed deliberately with intent to deceive the buyer, which tends to lower the market value of hay in the bale irrespective of its actual quality.

The new department of agriculture publication describes the various types of hay presses, discusses their adaptability and operation under different conditions, and gives detailed information concerning the management of baling crews. The question of owning a press or hiring the work of baling is rather fully considered, as it is believed that many hay growers who now hire custom balers would do well to give careful consideration to the advantages that may accrue from having a press on the farm.

Types of Presses Discussed.

Presses are divided into three classes, according to the manner in which the bale is made—loose or box presses, perpetual or continuous presses, and round-bale presses. These machines are operated either by horsepower or by steam, gasoline or kerosene engines. The perpetual press, which is the most popular type in all sections where hay is grown for market, features continuous pressing; that is, hay is fed into the press, a forkful at a time, and the finished bale is discharged from the opposite end of the bale chamber without stopping the press. If the hay is properly fed into the press it will be easy to separate the bale into as many portions for feeding as there are numbers of charges in the bale, which varies from 6 or 8 to 15 or 20. The first box presses were operated by hand, but now they are run by horsepower or by engines. The box press always makes bales having the same or "even" length, a very valuable feature when loading cars.

Round Bale a New Kind.

One of the most recent types of presses makes a cylindrical bale, bound with binding twine and having an air space running lengthwise through its center. This press was designed so that hay baled from the windrow would cure out after it was baled, the hole in the center being intended to allow air to circulate through the bale and prevent heating. This bale is not as easily torn apart as the continuously pressed bale, it being necessary to chop or split it lengthwise with an ax or other edged implement. When round bales are fed in open bunks or on the ground in the feed lot, they are not opened; the animal pulls out the hay by a mouthful at a time. It is claimed that this way of feeding the hay prevents waste.

One-horse, perpetual presses, made by reliable concerns, are capable of turning out the same kind of bales as are made by the regulation two-horse presses. They are designed for the farmer who has a small average of hay, and they can be especially recommended for the small hay grower if he is in a section where little hay is grown and where hay presses are scarce and hard to hire. The only objection to this type of press is its small production a day. If the prospective purchaser is in doubt as to which size to buy, it would probably be better in many instances for him to buy the two-horse press. The one-horse press can be used to advantage if hay is baled from the stack or barn at a time when there is no urgent need to do other farm work.

The two-horse, full-circle, or continuous-travel, perpetual press is the type of horse press most extensively used. In operating this machine the horses travel in a circle. In buying a press of this type the purchaser should pay especial attention to the power mechanism, the material used for important parts of the press, size of the feed opening, plunger return device, self-feeding attachment, and convenience in tying the bales and in setting and moving the press.

The reversible lever type of press is sometimes called the half-circle press, since the team travels half a circle, turns around, and pulls the lever to the other side, a charge of hay being pressed for each half circle. This type is easily portable and is always ready for work, since it is not necessary to take off the wheels or lower them from the ground to the axle or to stake the front end of the press. It has a smaller hour capacity than the continuous-travel press and requires a well-trained team to operate it to capacity.

Large Growers Use Power.

Large hay growers and shippers who buy and bale large quantities of hay generally use power presses. These are in common use in sections where the usual practice is to bale hay from the windrow or the cock, such as the alfalfa and Johnson grass and prairie hay sections of the South. They are sometimes used in preference to the two-horse type on alfalfa and Johnson grass hay farms, even where the hay acreage is comparatively small, say from 50 to 75 acres, for the reason that they will bale hay about twice as fast as it could be done with a two-horse press, thereby greatly lessening the danger of injury to hay due to bad weather.

As power to drive hay presses, the steam engine, portable or self-propelling, has been almost entirely superseded by the gasoline or kerosene engine. With a gas engine there is no need for an engine and a water hauler. A few owners employ an engineer when doing custom baling with a fast-working crew, because he keeps the engine going and saves expensive loss of time on the part of the press crew. When the crew is hired by the ton the men are not paid for time lost on account of a break-down, and in such cases engineers are not often employed. Usually one of the press crew looks after the engine when it requires attention. On farms where tractors are used, if the tractor is not needed for other essential work when it is time to bale hay, the belt power press should ordinarily be used, since it costs less than the motor press, and since it would not be good business to use a motor press while a tractor stands idle.

Thorough discussion is also given in this government publication to the important features of power presses, the difference between the light-duty and heavy-duty presses, the longevity of the press, as well as facts about the economic operation of these presses. The capacity of the press depends, to a large extent, upon the skill of the crew operating it. The average power press should bale from 20 to 30 tons in a 10-hour day. The capacity of a power press under average conditions is about twice that of a two-horse press.

Economy of Buying a Press.

The advisability of buying a hay press depends upon the amount of hay to be baled yearly, the likelihood of being able to obtain a crew when needed and the rate charged by those making a business of doing custom baling. Whether it will pay the grower to own a press depends upon whether the total cost of baling, including labor, repairs, interest and depreciation, is less than the rate charged by the custom baler.

The practice of baling hay directly from the windrow or cock originated in the semiarid West, where the weather does not often interfere with haymaking. This method has also spread to the alfalfa and Johnson grass land areas of the South, where the weather often is unfavorable. It is popular because it saves labor as compared with stacking or putting hay into the barn. For instance, in Kansas and Nebraska it requires about 1¾ man hours and 1 horse hour to put a ton of hay into the stack with a stacker after it has been brought to the stack with a push rake. The cost of labor for stacking alone, during 1918, was about 60 cents a ton. This work is entirely eliminated when hay is baled from the field, the saving of labor being much greater in sections where it is customary to handle hay by hand. Growers are able to extend the hay-making season by baling part of their hay from the windrow during propitious weather and stacking or holding the baling until the rush of work is over.

The Fast Mail

By GENEVIEVE ULMAR

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

The post office at Ferndale paid only four hundred dollars a year, and because Silas Moore, its incumbent in charge, was old and poor, the position had been awarded to him by common consent. It occupied a railinged-off space in the general store of the village, and his stepdaughter, Effie, an orphan, kept track of things generally. The old man was selfish and exacting and would not appear upon duty until nearly noon. At dusk he went back home, but Effie would remain to get the bag of mail brought down the line at eight o'clock.

After the morning mail Effie would do double duty, helping as clerk in the store. She had tried to save up from this, but her stepfather would borrow from her little store, and the purpose she had in view grew dimmer as time went on.

When Effie was eighteen she told her stepfather that she felt she had done her duty by him and asked him to consent to her going to the city where she could earn fair wages.

"Don't do it, Effie," pleaded the old man. "I know this isn't the life for you, but I couldn't get along without you. Wait for one more year. At its end I shall have paid off the last five hundred dollars I owe on the old place and then I could maybe afford to hire some one to take your place. Then there's Royden to think of. Why can't you like him? He can afford to get married and—"

"Never!" flashed out Effie decisively.

Effie was thinking deeply as she heard the fast mail in the distance and went down to the depot. The train did not stop, the Ferndale mail bag being tossed out as it passed the depot. Effie watched it roll and land. She walked toward it and as the sleeper and dining car flashed by something cut the air, hurled from one of the coach windows.

"Mercy! what's that?" gasped Effie, for the object had landed directly against her cheek. She felt a sharp, stinging contact and, startled and curious, walked over to where the object had landed. At her feet lay something wrapped up in a large silk handkerchief. As she picked it up there was a metallic jangle. From the handkerchief protruded one-half of a jeweled stick pin. It was its pointed end that had abrased her cheek. She heard approaching footsteps, made out the advancing figure of Royden and concealed the package under her cape.

"Thought I'd come and see you home, Effie," spoke Royden, and he picked up the mail bag, which was left at the post office, and as soon as they reached home Effie left her stepfather to entertain Royden, pleaded weariness and went to her room.

She drew the shades, locked the door, opened the mysterious package and stared down fairly affrighted at a mass of bewildering richness. There was a diamond bracelet, a necklace of pearls, rings, charms, pins. For two or three days after that Effie was uneasy and sleepless. She watched the newspapers and made many guarded inquiries. One evening she chanced to overhear her stepfather and Royden conversing in low tones. The old man had come across the jewels. He and Royden were discussing their seizure and disposition.

That night Effie stole from the house at midnight and the next day was in the city. She had a small sum of money and installed herself in cheap quarters, depleting her savings by advertising in newspapers for "the owner of some valuables found in a silk handkerchief at Ferndale."

Effie did not find work as hoped for. Finally all her money was gone. Then came foodless days. A letter came to her. It was in reply to her advertisement. There might be a possibility of "Dale Arnold, 22 Walsingham building, being interested. Would she please call?"

Effie had eaten nothing since the day before. When she reached the office designated in the letter she was told by a stenographer that Mr. Arnold would be down a little later, and Effie sat down to wait for him, wavering and exhausted. Then she knew nothing more for many hours, to awaken in a beautifully furnished room with a kindly-faced, motherly woman bending over her solicitously.

She was the mother of Dale Arnold, who had found his strange visitor in a dead faint and had learned from a physician hastily summoned that lack of food was the cause. Discovering the jewels he surmised that a poor and honest girl had gone without the necessaries of life, rather than appropriate what did not belong to her.

Later Effie knew that the jewels had been stolen from his sister. The thief, tracked by detectives and suspecting their presence on the train, had sought to cast away the evidence of his guilt.

Mrs. Arnold and her daughter became at once attracted to the simple country girl. In the sunlight of their congenial companionship Effie entered a new existence of happiness and peace, and when Dale Arnold told them that Effie must stay with them always because he had learned to love her, they could not demur to his choice of a wife whose price had been proven by her simple native honesty of purpose to be "above rubies."

HOLLAND LAND OF PRIMNESS

American Visitor Attracted by Neat Appearance and General Cleanliness Everywhere Noticeable.

Holland and the Hollanders are as unlike France as two countries can be, Corp. David Ramseur writes in the Indianapolis Star. The rural districts of Holland look like one big formal garden and the cities of Holland look as if they had been cast in a huge mold, set down carefully and scoured and polished every day. But France looks more like a country expressly designed to please the eye, and the cities of France, more helter-skelter, reflect the temperamental spirit of the French.

A small city in France neglects whole streets and districts in order that one spot, one park, cathedral or building, may be beautiful. But in Holland the idea seems to be to make it all substantial and neat and that is why wherever one goes in Rotterdam or The Hague he finds the same orderly rows upon rows of apartment houses or business blocks with the same little staid parkways and parks that somehow remind one of the old-fashioned "best rooms" of a generation ago.

I have covered Rotterdam and The Hague, and in neither city have I found a district that corresponds to our tenement districts or that was characterized by the squalor or dirt of the poorer sections of our American cities. I found districts where poor people lived and where the houses were not so good, but even those poorer people looked clean and their houses were clean; the streets and alleys clean, just as in the better districts.

In Holland it is the men who wear the best clothes; it is the men who are the better looking; the best shops are for men, the tobacco shops of Rotterdam are gorgeous, there is no other word, they rival in splendor even the jewelry shops of Fifth avenue, New York. The shops for men's wear are much more attractive than those for women's wear and everything there seems to be of men and for men.

In Rotterdam one would not, as he would in a French town, drop into a cafe or store and start jollying the madame or mademoiselle and playing with the youngsters. I rather think that if we did that over there the stolid Dutch frau would call for help and one of the solemn-looking policemen who stalk about the street would escort us to the local jail. Those things aren't done in Rotterdam.

The Return of the Sword.

The British army order requiring all "field marshals, generals and colonels, when dismounted," to wear the sword on all ceremonial parades and at official ceremonies, has provided material for the humorists. The sword, having been superseded by other weapons for those who actually come in contact with the enemy, and being therefore doubly useless to officers of exalted rank who must remain at a considerable distance from the hand-to-hand engagements, had been discarded during the war. But now it returns with all its faded glory for times of peace and its formidable "clank" will once more accompany its wearer's martial stride. However ludicrous this may seem, it is apparently to some extent unavoidable owing to the forbidding ugliness of modern engines of war—bombs, trench periscopes, portable machine guns and the like, which are obviously less desirable as emblems of authority than the graceful lines of the sword, the scimitar and the halberd of other times.

Hint Proved Effective.

Peggy was allowed as a special favor to accompany her parents to a dinner party given at a friend's house one evening. Jelly of the kind made with gelatine and fruit juice was a dessert. In some way Peggy was overlooked when this was passed, but being a polite little girl she did not ask for any, but at the conclusion of the meal she turned to her neighbor and said: "What flavor was the jelly?" Needless to say, she was helped to a generous portion.

What Bulk Storage Means to YOU

ONE of the major services which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders you, is to maintain at all times, at convenient points throughout the territory it serves, large storage tanks filled with gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oils for quick delivery to you when you need them.

Assume for a moment what would happen if severe weather or unforeseen transportation conditions should cut off deliveries from the refinery for a week, and that no appreciable surplus was available.

You would walk for your groceries. Your physician would be slow in arriving in case of sickness. Business generally would suffer through inability to make deliveries.

In a word, unless the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) maintains a tremendous surplus in the field at all times your domestic and commercial welfare would be jeopardized.

This vast storage of 156,528,950 gallons is but a single cog in the giant wheel of usefulness which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates in discharging its obligations as a public servant in a manner satisfactory and beneficial to all.

HALLOCK HAS BIG HOMECOMING DAY

THIEF RIVER FALLS BAND STARS AT SOLDIER FETE ON TUESDAY.

Kittson county paid honor to her soldiers yesterday at a monster Homecoming celebration. An excellent program of sports, community singing and speeches was carried out in spite of the cold and grey day.

The Thief River Falls band was one of the star attractions and the Homecoming committees secured the famous musical organization in the eleventh hour after the Warren band notified them they were unable to come. A parade was held in the forenoon and when the Thief River Falls musicians arrived another parade was held and the service men and citizens repaired themselves to the court house, where addresses were made by different speakers.

Judge Andrew Grindeland, of Warren, made a short extemporaneous speech in praise of the returned men and he could not say enough, he said, in praise of the gallant work performed by the troops in France. His speech literally radiated with patriotism and told the men to live up to the high standard set by them in protecting the greatest nation on the face of the earth. He also spoke on the great amount of lawlessness that is going on in the country at the present time.

"It is a badge of honor to be a veteran of the World War," said Judge Grindeland, "and I cannot find words to express my praise for the men who went forth in the defense of the country."

A representative of the United States Treasury department made a ringing address on "Thrift" and he drove the points home in a manner that astounded his listeners. The points brought out by the speaker were delivered well.

Another address was delivered on the American Legion and a post was organized with a large membership.

About 4 o'clock in the afternoon a ball game between Hallock and Humbolt was staged before a big crowd and the band rendered snappy selections between innings. The band was driven in automobiles to Lancaster at 6 p. m. and caught the Soo flyer for Thief River Falls. Everyone was loud in their praise of the local musicians and they made a decided hit.

Another Yank Returns.

Francis Burns, who enlisted in the United States forces February 18, 1918, returned to Thief River Falls Tuesday morning, after having received his honorable discharge at Jefferson Barracks. Francis returned from overseas on July 2, after 14 months in France and on landing at New York was sent to Jefferson Barracks for discharge. Arriving there the army men discovered his ability to do book work and as they were pinched for help at the time, he has been held for practically three months after returning from France. The law stating the length of time a man may be kept in the service after the signing of peace, is six months. Francis is glad for the experience he has gone through and the chance to serve his country but there is "no place like home," he says.

Sentenced to Reformatory.

Robert Smith, alleged to reside at Pittsburgh, arrested several weeks ago at Red Lake Falls, charged with robbing a garage at Lengby, was sentenced to St. Cloud reformatory on Monday by Judge William Watts at Crookston. Smith is also alleged to have stolen the Ford automobile which he was driving, at Erdenheim, Pa. Smith is 19 years old. He will serve an indefinite period at St. Cloud.

BILLION DOLLARS FOR BONUS ASKED

CONGRESSMEN PROPOSE $30 A MONTH FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

A concerted drive for an additional national bonus for soldiers and sailors has started in congress.

The ways and means committee was stormed yesterday by a delegation of congressmen urging legislation authorizing bond issues of from one billion to two billion to supply funds.

In this delegation were Nelson of Minnesota, McKenzie of Illinois, Swope, Kincheloe, Langley of Kentucky, Tincher and Strong of Kansas, Hicks and Foster of New York, Knutson of Wisconsin and others.

Rep. J. C. McKenzie urged his plan of refunding the $15 a month collected for the care of dependents and an additional $15 a month, exclusive of the first two months, to equalize the depreciation of the dollar.

"Their dependents were the charge justly of the government, and the government should have paid the full amount" he declared.

King Swope of Kentucky said 2,000 First Division men had approved his plan for a flat bonus of $30 a month.

"Canada gave her soldiers and sailors each a bonus of $420" said Swope. "The dash and fighting abilities of our men terminated the war a year ahead of calculations, saving $10,000,000,000.

A. P. Nelson of Wisconsin advocated payment of $30 a month in cash or government bonds at the option of the beneficiary. The plan was endorsed by the Wisconsin state legislature.

Chairman J. W. Fordney of the committee announced the American Legion and other organizations had requested no action be taken by congress until organizations have made recommendations to congress.

Embargo On Car Delayers.

Drastic action was taken late last Friday by Director General W. D. Hines, of the U. S. Railroad administration, to compel the prompt release of refrigerator cars. After receiving numerous complaints of delay in the unloading of these cars, presumably by jobbers who preferred paying demurrage to losing a possible advance in the market price of the goods, Mr. Hines ordered regional directors to place embargoes against all consignees who fail to release promptly such equipment.

CHURCH REVIEWS AID TO NATION

Catholic War Work of the Past Promises Future Usefulness to Uncle Sam.

MILLION WORKERS ENLISTED.

From the War Front to Every Corner of This Country Catholic War Council Helps Our Cause.

Washington.—Reporting to the conference of the entire hierarchy of the Catholic Church in this country, that has been called in Washington to consider the past and future work of the National Catholic War Council, the leaders of this nation-wide welfare organization have outlined a record of war work that extends from the front lines in France to the furthest corners of this country. They have also indicated comprehensive lines along which the full force of the millions of workers enlisted in their various activities at home and overseas may be turned to the aid of the government in the trying times of reconstruction ahead.

In summarizing the war work of its Committee on Special War Activities, in a recent report to the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic War Council, the following resume of some of the things undertaken and carried out by this organization has just been presented:

"We have co-ordinated and brought into a common service 10,000 Catholic men's organizations throughout the country. This co-operation insures our ability, which has been tested more than once, to meet the great opportunities that present and will present themselves. These men's organizations are used to conduct service clubs for men, to supply workers in many fields of endeavor, to co-operate with governmental agencies.

"Conditions at the beginning of the war revealed the fact that the activity of Catholic women had no national expression, no recognition. The Committee on Special War Activities has within the ten months of its existence co-ordinated into national activity the thousands of Catholic women's organizations of the country; it has established women's clubs throughout the country; it is sending Catholic women into every field of social work; it is giving them the opportunity of service in the visitors' houses.

"In like manner we secured recognition for Catholic women in overseas work. That we might train them, we established a training school for women with its own faculty. There is ready to receive them a home in Paris and two representatives of the National Catholic War Council, Mr. Denechaud and Mrs. Stocks Millar. The work of women abroad will continue for at least eighteen months to come, and we are in a position to extend it to other countries. The Catholic women of the country have responded to this opportunity in a wonderful way. The resources at our command are rich. All that is needed is training and leadership.

"As early as April 13, 1918, the subcommittee on Reconstruction was appointed. This committee gave diligent attention for months and anticipated in a surprisingly accurate way the problems of reconstruction. We have assisted in shaping the Government conduct of the problem of relief and of vocational training. Our workers are placed in the reconstruction hospitals throughout the country. Dependent upon these men is the future education of the wounded man and the college to which he is sent and in what he is to be educated at the expense of the Government. We are officially co-operating with the Federal Board of Vocational Training and with the United States Employment Service. Through the Committee on Special War Activities is published a series of pamphlets on Reconstruction, the first of which was an official pronouncement of the Administrative Committee of Bishops.

"The Committee has likewise taken up the work of supplying through our Catholic hospitals free clinical service for soldiers and sailors and their families and is extending this in co-operation with the Red Cross Home Service to all the larger cities of the country. The same extension has provided us with an opportunity to have and employ the clinical woman social worker. It is not too much to say that our work in Reconstruction plays a leading part, and the heads of Government Departments have told us explicitly that they have been aided more by the advice and help of the National Catholic War Council than by any other organization.

"Born of the emergency that necessitated the full co-operation and corporate service of the entire Catholic body of America, the National Catholic War Council has been officially recognized by the Government and has made enduring the great record of Catholic patriotic service. It has devolved in a special way on the Committee on Special War Activities to do the pioneer work of coordinating the men's organizations and of practically creating a national woman's organization that would give the Catholic women of the country rightful place in welfare work. The record of achievement that this report shows, slight as it may be, is nevertheless sure evidence of what the entire Catholic body of the country under the leadership of the Bishops can do in time of peace."

New Feed Store.

A. Rocheleau, formerly engaged in business at Warroad but more recently of Fergus Falls, has opened a general feed store at 105 LaBree avenue south, in the building formerly occupied by the Niclai cigar factory.

Mr. Rocheleau will handle all kinds of feed products as well as hay and flour. He has had long experience in this line and will aim to supply his cutomers with the best obtainable and in large quantities if it is so desired. He will be ready for business next Monday morning.

It Often Happens.

J. J. Weeks is carrying his arm in a sling these days and will continue to do so for some time to come—all because he was too accommodating. A friend was having trouble in starting an old Maxwell car the other day and J. J.—who is an expert at coaxing Fords into motion—offered to help him out. The crank came back and caught the cranker in the ball of the hand, dislocating the thumb. No bones were broken but the daamge is about as great so far as the time required in the healing process is concerned.

TIME TO ACT.

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Thief River Falls People's Experience.

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pas off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Thief River Falls proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

H. C. Liden, 424 Davis St. N., says: "Not long ago I began to have trouble from my kidneys. My back pained most all the time and mornings I was sore and lame. Often I had to have my shoes pulled on for me because I couldn't stoop to get them on myself. My kidneys didn't act regularly; sometimes they acted too freely and then again the secretions were scanty. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Curtis' Drug Store and two boxes entirely ended the troubles."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Liden had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CITY LEVY FOR YEAR IS PLACED AT $45,000.00

COUNCIL PROVIDES FOR ADDED OUTLAY OF $5,500 IN 1920.

FOR LOCAL IMPROVEMENT

ADVANCE MADE NECESSARY BECAUSE OF DRAIN ON THIS FUND.

At a special meeting held last Thursday evening the annual levy for city expenses was made by the council. The special meeting was made necessary because of the inability of President O. L. Ihle to be present at the regular session the previous Tuesday, he being absent from the city. He left again on Friday morning for Warren, where he is engaged upon an important moving job.

The levy is higher by $5,500 than a year ago, the increase being made largely necessary by the expected drain on the local improvement fund. The amount made available for work coming under this head is $18,000 as compared with $10,000 last year. The larger sum is necessary by reason of the work preliminary to paving.

A comparison of the amounts levied for each fund during the past three years is given below:

	1917	1918	1919
Current	$12,000	$ 9,500	$ 8,000
Auditorium	1,500	2,000	2,000
Local Improvement	7,500	10,000	18,000
Sinking	2,000	2,000	1,000
Poor	2,000	2,000	2,500
Interest	2,000	2,000	2,000
Library	3,000	3,000	3,000
Cemetery	1,500	1,500	1,000
Hydrant rent	2,000	2,000	2,000
Street Lighting	5,500	5,500	5,500
	$39,000	$39,500	$45,000

CHANCE TO BECOME A RHODES SCHOLAR

MORLAN BISHOP NAMED AS ONE OF EIGHT TO TRY FOR PLACE.

Morlan Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city, has been selected as one of eight students at the University of Minnesota to try for the Rhodes scholarship this year. Out of the eight thus selected two will be chosen as the scholars to go to England and receive a three-year course at Oxford university.

These scholarships were provided for by the late Cecil Rhodes, South African multi-millionaire and are very much sought, those selected being at all times the young men with the highest standings at the institutions of learning from which they are taken. It is a signal honor to be chosen to enter the preliminary competition and only students of outstanding character and ability even get this far.

Mr. Bishop has been notified to appear before the state committee of selection in Minneapolis on Nov. 1.

SEWER DIGGING TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

100 MEN WILL GO TO WORK. STORM SEWERS TO BE LAID AT ONCE.

"One hundred men will go to work in the city next week to begin the big job of putting in storm sewers in the downtown section of the city," said Henry Holt today after his return from Lancaster, where the firm of Holt & George Heating and Plumbing Company has just completed putting in a sewer system.

Workmen have begun the laying of water mains near the Knox school on the East Side, under the contract recently awarded to the local company by the city council, he said.

The work that is to be begun next week will bring a large number of workers to the city and the operations will extend far out into the fall. All the streets will be torn up and it is safe to say that it will not be very pleasant motoring for some time in the business section.

BIG LEGAL BATTLE IN COURT TODAY

Attorneys A. A. Miller and L. S. Miller, of Crookston, and Charles Boughton, of Red Lake Falls, will wage a legal battle in municipal court this afternoon in the case of Ira B. Fisher, plaintiff, versus G. W. Hooper, wherein it is alleged by the plaintiff, who is acting as administrator in the A. H. Pitkin estate, that the defendant has failed to pay the balance of his bill contracted with A. H. Pitkin, deceased.

The plaintiff alleges that on the 16th day of June, 1916, and on the 29th day of September, 1917, one A. H. Pitkin then in business at St. Hilaire sold and delivered at the request of the defendant, goods and wares at an agreed price of $348.53, and that there was due and owing A. H. Pitkin on account thereof on the 29th of September, 1917, $308.14. That thereafter and on or about the 2nd of October, A. H. Pitkin died. That on the 26th day of November Charles A. Pitkin was appointed by like testimonials issued by the probate court on the 26th day of November, 1917, was appointed administrator of the estate and on the 8th day of March, 1919, the said Charles A. Pitkin died.

On the 28th day of April, 1919, Ira B. Fisher, plaintiff, was appointed administrator de bonis non. The plaintiff prays for judgment in the sum of $69.09, and for the further sum of $100 with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the 27th day of February and for the costs of the action.

REV. SMITH AGAIN M. E. PASTOR HERE

RETURNS AFTER SEVEN YEARS' ABSENCE—REV. ORROCK TO PARK RAPIDS.

Rev. J. B. Smith was assigned to the Thief River Falls congregation as pastor by the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Minneapolis last week. Rev. James A. Orrock, who has been serving the congregation in this city since the fall of 1918 will assume charge at Park Rapids, taking over the congregation from which Rev. Smith takes leave.

It is four years ago at the close of this conference year that Rev. Smith was transferred, going first to Staples where he remained for two years, and later to Park Rapids where he has been for the same length of time. He served seven years consecutively in this field when last here and was most highly regarded by people in every walk of life. The congregation is highly pleased over the selection.

Rev. Orrock will preach in the Methodist church next Sunday as the new pastor will not yet have arrived. The former expects to leave about the first of the week with his family to begin his duties in the new location. During his stay here he has served to the satisfaction of his parishioners and has been a factor in the development of the city. He is a man of much force of character and stands unalterably by the right as he sees it. He leaves the city with the best wishes of all.

ASSESSMENT CASE HEARD ON FRIDAY

STOCKHOLDERS IN MFG. COMPANY ASSESSED 35 PER CENT ON EACH SHARE.

Judge Andrew Grindeland, of the district court, conducted a hearing at the court house last Friday involving the assessment of stockholders in the Thief River Falls Manufacturing company, an insolvent corporation.

There was no one present to object at the hearing and Judge Grindeland ruled that each stockholder be assessed 35 per cent for each share in the company in order that money may be raised to meet the bills of the company.

Starts off Well.

Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund gives out a fine report for the first week in October, having issued marriage licenses to the following: William E. Kentzer and Miss Anna Adolps; Ludvig J. Strand and Miss Caroline O. Vad; John W. Wayne and Miss Lilly G. Stein; Thore Skomedal and Miss Julia Thompson; Tom H. Leinan and Miss Eda Sesslia Ottom.

LEGION DANCE ON FRIDAY EVENING

FIRST ANNUAL DANCE BY FORMER SERVICE MEN TO BE HUMMER.

All arrangements have been made and everything is set for the first annual dance of Pennington county's post of the American Legion at the Auditorium tomorrow evening.

Ray Johnson, chairman of the dance committee, states that a large outside attendance is anticipated as a result of a thorough advertising campaign that has been conducted and members of the post from one end of the county to the other have passed the word along and they're all going to be there. Everyone in general is invited to come.

It was the intention of the committee to start the dance at an earlier hour than heretofore and thereby conclude the affair an hour or so earlier, contrary to the custom that has been followed. At the Legion's meeting last week it was decided to start the dance at 9:30 p. m. sharp and quit at 2 a. m.

Refreshments will be served at one corner of the hall, the proprietors of Black's Sweet shop having agreed to look after this end of it.

A snappy and jazzy orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

The proceeds of the dance, after all expenses are paid, will go into the Legion's treasury.

SCHOOL OFFERS FINE MECHANICS' COURSE MONDAY

SIX MONTHS' TRAINING UNDER SMITH-HUGHES LAW WILL BE GIVEN.

EXPECTS BIG ENROLLMENT

ANIMAL HUSBANDRY, ENGLISH, MECHANICS, CARPENTER WORK, ETC. OFFERED.

A six months' vocational training course, under the Smith-Hughes law will be offered to boys, who for good reasons have had to drop out of school before finishing even the grade or high schools, at the Lincoln high school, Monday, October 13.

This is the greatest offer made by the local high school along vocational lines and it is expected that a large attendance will be registered. Supt. Ziegler presented the plan to the school board at a recent meeting and they adopted his program unanimously. Under the Smith-Hughes law, which provides for this training, many boys will be encouraged to return to school for a few months and learn something which will be of practical value to them after finishing the course. Schools offering this training are aided by funds from the government to carry on the work. As much as they desire to enroll in the great course offered, high school boys will not be permitted to enter any of the classes during the first year of this training.

Animal Husbandry.

In the agricultural department of the high school a course in arithmetic, English composition and spelling will be offered. The animal husbandry course will also be in the agricultural division and the course will include the study of the breeds of live stock, live stock judging, feeding, care and management. Trips will be made to nearby farms and actual judging will be made of the cattle on the farms.

Farm Mechanics.

The farm mechanics course promises to draw a big enrollment for some particularly good offers are made. This division will include blacksmith work, wagon repairing, carpenter work, cement work, auto and tractor work and perhaps some other work in the mechanical line. M. A. Schmitt will have charge of all the instruction in this work with the exception of the auto and tractor work and it is expected that some suitable way will be found to handle this end of it through one of the local garages.

F. A. Tripp, instructor in agriculture, will have charge of the first division of the work and he is busy mailing out circular letters to many boys in the county calling their attention to the opening of the great course. Now that the fall work is rapidly coming to a close, it is anticipated that the course will attract many boys from the farm and indications are that a successful term will be inaugurated. Already fifteen boys have applied for enrollment.

Supt. Ziegler's idea is to develop the work under the new law to a high degree in Thief River Falls and his plan will no doubt meet with the approval of everyone.

Christo Moves.

The Minnesota Candy Kitchen opened its doors to the public at its new stand Saturday evening, just one door west of the former place. The room has been thoroughly re-decorated and presents a very good appearance. Mr. Christo will be glad to see his old customers at the new stand and also many new ones. He carries at all times a fresh supply of homemade candies, and fruit, besides cigars, tobacco, soft drinks and ice cream.

Finishing Touches Added.

The finishing touches were given to the new harness shop and shoe store of Carl Froseth on Monday morning and the addition has given the store a metropolitan appearance. The addition is that of putting several slabs of artistic marble around the bottom of the store front.

GOODRIDGE CLINIC SET FOR SATURDAY

SPECIALIST FROM MINNESOTA UNIVERSITY WILL EXAMINE 75 CHILDREN.

A childs' clinic will be conducted at the Goodridge schoolhouse on Saturday, October 11, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

A child specialist from the university of Minnesota will be at Goodridge at the above date and will examine all children who are under school age. Advice to mothers will be given and questions answered. This clinic is entirely free to all the people of Pennington county and is being held under the auspices of the Pennington county Public Health association.

As two child clinics have already been held in Thief River Falls it has been decided to hold one in the east end of the county to give the country people the opportunity of bringing their children to a clinic without traveling to the county seat.

It is hoped that all parents who possibly can do so will avail themselves of this opportunity and parents are requested to bring their children as early as possible to the clinic for only 75 children can be examined in the time given.

Miss Saucer, the city school nurse and Mrs. A. W. Swedenburg will assist the university doctor present with the work, while Mrs. J. M. Bishop, Mrs. J. Richter, Mrs. J. H. Hardisty and Mrs. J. Biederman will assist the Goodridge committee.

The following are the officers of the Pennington County Public Health association:

W. W. Prichard, Sr., president; Mrs. J. J. Richter, vice-president; J. J. McCann, secretary; George Gunderson, assistant secretary; Miss Effie Hamry, treasurer.

RETURNED YANK IN HOSPITAL, POISONED

WILLIAM MIDDERIGH BITTEN BY TARANTULA AND UNDERGOES OPERATION.

William Midderigh, the first Thief River Falls boy to enlist in the United States forces during the World War, who recently returned to this country with the Third Division after many months overseas service, is at the base hospital at Camp Pike, Ark., suffering from blood poisoning as the result of having been bitten by a tarantula.

In a letter to his father, Paul Midderigh, on Monday, the lad stated that the illness came on suddenly and that his arm is in bad shape and that he is to undergo an operation.

William served through the war as a member of the 3rd ammunition train and never received a scratch during the period, and regrets very much that he should meet with misfortune after reaching this side.

NO ARRESTS MADE DURING SEPTEMBER

TOTAL OF $128 IS TURNED INTO COUNTY TREASURY FOR FINES COLLECTED.

The city police department had a clean slate during the month of September for not one arrest was made during the thirty day period.

Seven cases wherein the state game laws had been violated came up before Judge N. W. Tarrant in Municipal court and fines were paid in all instances. There were two assault and battery cases before the court and several civil actions.

The amount of costs collected in the cases amounted to $31, all of which has been turned into the city coffers.

A Highway Meeting.

At a meeting of the Pennington county division of the Jefferson Highway committee held at St. Hilaire last Friday evening it was decided to send a representative delegation to the state meeting held in Little Falls this week. The following delegates were appointed: Norman Beebe, residing east of St. Hilaire; T. P. Anderson, Thief River Falls; Charles Fellman, St. Hilaire and County Commissioner O. J. Peterson. Mr. Anderson was not feeling well at the time for departure and reluctantly gave up the trip. Commissioner Peterson was also unable to go, but the others started, with Edwin Stebbins as chauffeur. Geo. S. Streeter of the Peoples' Auto company, furnished the automobile for the trip although he was unable to go along.

The Kittson county delegation, headed by C. J. Forsberg of Karlstad, arrived the previous night and joined the Pennington county bunch.

HERE'S PROCEDURE TO APPLY FOR STATE BONUS

Soldier bonus blanks are expected to arrive in the city tomorrow and will be distributed from Clerk of Court Eklund's office and G. Howard Smith, secretary of Pennington county's post of the American Legion, will mail out blanks to all Legion members, while those who are not members may procure blanks by calling for them. Men are advised to get the matter over with and their blanks filled out as rapidly as possible as there is a possibility of the fund not covering everyone and those who come in last may have to wait for a good length of time. Here's the procedure: Bring your discharge certificate with you. Two blanks must be filled out, one containing 50 questions and the other will be a paper upon which is copied your discharge. Naplin, E. M. Stanton, H. O. Chommie, J. M. Bishop, Wilhelm Michelet, G. Halvorson, Ira Richardson, Perl W. Mabey, William J. Brown, G. Howard Smith.

CLUB LUNCHEON SCHEDULED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

WINTER OPERATIONS OF CLUB TO BE DISCUSSED AT BIG SOCIAL EVENT.

UNABLE TO LAND LINCOLN

UNIQUE LUNCHEON HAS BEEN PLANNED—SOMETHING IN "GRABTERIA" STYLE.

Winter operations of the Thief River Falls Commercial club will be discussed and its fall activities will be ushered in at the big meeting and luncheon next Thursday evening.

All the plans have been made and perfected by the various committees and there is but one matter to be ironed out and that is the securing of the speaker for the evening. The speaker's committee was in hopes of securing Fred T. Lincoln, former club secretary, now engaged in similar work at Brainerd, but their hopes were shattered the first of the week when "Link" informed them that he would be unable to attend, much to his regret, owing to the fact that he had been selected to attend a meeting of the Mississippi River Scenic Highway association at Memphis, Tenn., and would be unable to change his plans.

Expressed Regret.

The former secretary stated, however, that he preferred coming to Thief River Falls rather than take the southern trip at this time and expressed keen regret on not being able to attend and thanked the committee for their remembrance in asking him to address the annual fall meeting. Dr. H. W. Froehlich, chairman of the committee, has taken steps to arrange a suitable speaking program, and will provide one that is sure to please all.

Lunch a Feature.

The luncheon will be served at 10 p. m., according to plans, and this will be sort of a novelty affair. It has been termed a "grabteria" lunch. An orchestra has been engaged to play during the time eats are being served. Emil Zeh and F. F. Haynes compose the reception committee while Dr. Froehlich, Anton Langseth and Albert Lieberman will arrange the musical program for the evening.

All Urged to Come.

All members of the club are urged to be present to enjoy the evening's entertainment and lunch as it is desired to start the club's fall activities off with a rush.

ATTENDANCE SOARS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

ROOM SHORTAGE IS GREAT QUESTION THAT CONFRONTS SCHOOL BOARD.

All attendance records in the history of the Thief River Falls public schools have been broken and the enrollment still continues to soar. Supt. Ziegler stated today that the high school received 10 more students this week, making the total attendance at the institution 400.

Three new instructors have been engaged to begin work in the high school and it is believed with this addition the staff will be able to handle the situation. Class rooms are crowded to their capacity and two additional rooms have been created thru the elimination of the lavatories on the first floor.

With the inauguration of the six months training course in mechanics and agriculture under the Smith-Hughes law on Monday, it is expected that the enrollment will be swelled considerably.

All the schools in the city are filled and it has been necessary to rent the Swedish Baptist church, directly west of the Knox school, to house the East side kindergarten class, and sessions are being held there during the fall while the program will be reversed when colder weather sets in to insure the proper heating of the building by the time the afternoon session begins its work.

A school board member who was interviewed today stated something will have to be done, probably next summer, along the building line, in order to meet the room shortage.

SERIOUS SITUATION FACES MUD LAKERS

ASSISTANCE MUST BE EXTENDED BEFORE WINTER SETS IN.

While not much has been said of late concerning the situation of the settlers in the Mud lake and Thief lake basins, observers report that it is far from satisfactory. Many people there are in actual need at the present time, and this condition will grow worse with the coming of colder weather.

The special session of the legislature appropriated a sum for the relief of those whose crops were destroyed by the floods of last August, but this money can only be used in providing seed and feed for cattle. Other things are even more immediately necessary, however.

Clothing is one of the things badly needed. It has been suggested that the citizens of Thief River Falls make this item their particular lookout and establish an agency for the collection and distribution of such articles of wearing apparel as can be spared for this purpose. The Red Cross has already accomplished much along the line of relief and it is believed by many that some other organization should take hold of this clothing matter. The need is urgent, according to reports, and the sooner the matter is taken up the better. The attention of the Woman's club will be called to the situation in the hope that this organization will take the subject up in earnest.

TWO HATS IN RING; ELECTION NOV. 4

MUST FILE PETITIONS ON OR BEFORE TWO SATURDAYS BEFORE ELECTION.

With the city election four weeks from last Tuesday the political pot is beginning to simmer and two candidates have thrown their hats into the ring.

The first candidate to file his petition for re-election was N. W. Tarrant for the judgeship in municipal court. Mr. Tarrant's petition was being circulated on Monday and the required 10 per cent of the voters had their names on the paper before evening.

Alderman H. A. Brumund, of the third ward, filed his petition on Tuesday and it is now being circulated.

The election laws require candidates in cities of the fourth class to file their petition before October 26 and by the time another weeks rolls around it is likely that the full list of candidates will be known.

At the last state election 227 votes were cast in the First ward; 188 in the Second; 148 in the Third and 214 in the Fourth, making a total of 777 votes cast.

BOYS ON SHOOTING RAMPAGE; GIRL HIT

ELIZABETH LOCKREM STRUCK BY BB FROM AIR RIFLE LAST SATURDAY.

Three unknown boys went on a shooting rampage Saturday evening and their route extended down Third street to the corner of Horace avenue and then half a block up Horace. The lads had in their possession a BB gun and were trying out their accuracy on all the signs and windows they found as they wended their way down the avenues.

When the boys arrived near the Hall Hardware company's store on Horace avenue they sent a fusilade of shots at the store sign and window. Several little girls were playing in that vicinity and a shot from the air gun glanced and struck little Elizabeth Lockrem in the eye. It was feared at first that she might lose her eyesight but she is now getting along nicely.

The boys could not be found after the shooting and Chief Erickson promises that any more of such occurences will be dealt with stringently.

MUCH INTERESTED IN BURGLAR ALARM

SHELL-SHOCKED SOLDIER ATTRACTS ATTENTION OF POLICE AND BANKERS.

The curiosity of employes in a local bank was aroused last Thursday afternoon when a roughly clad man entered the bank and inquired whether or not the burglar alarm was in working order and how long it would take detectives to reach Thief River Falls in case the bank was robbed. Chief of Police Erickson was notified and he took up the trail of the man, finding him wandering around in the hallway on the second floor at the Evelyn hotel. Chief Erickson states that the man is a returned soldier and has not recovered from the effects of being shell-shocked. He resides on a farm near the city. A summer or two ago the police chief took a revolver away from this same man.

Returns From Convention.

President C. L. Hansen of the First National bank, returned Tuesday from a trip to St. Louis, to which city he had been as a delegate to a convention. He traveled thru parts of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota and found things apparently moving along in excellent shape. The crops had been generally good in these sections, but he could not see where any of them were ahead of northern Minnesota in this respect.

Neighbor Bought Farm.

L. O. Kongelf on Friday sold to his neighbor, Anton Prestby, a tract of about 130 acres lying on the south side of the river in Kratka township. The consideration was $52 per acre.

INJURIES FATAL TO YOUNG LAD STRUCK BY AUTO

CHARLES LANGER, 10, SUFFERS BASAL SKULL FRACTURE IN ACCIDENT.

UNCONSCIOUS SIX HOURS

ACCIDENT OCCURRED ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT WALKING BRIDGE.

Struck by a large touring last Saturday at 12:45 p. m., Clarence Langer, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langer, 312 Tindolph avenue north, died in the Physicians hospital six hours later as the result of a basal skull fracture. The accident occurred near the east end of the First street bridge.

According to the story told by Arthur Fox, driver of the car, and other eye witnesses, the lad was standing up against the south railing of the bridge looking down into the river and just at the moment the car was about to pass him, he jumped backwards and was hit. The boy was struck in the back, as marks on his body show, and he reeled forwards striking the hard cement road with his head. The car was stopped immediately and prevented the wheels from passing over him.

The boy was picked up and rushed to the hospital at once, where it was discovered he was suffering from a basal skull fracture. Death came to the lad at 7:10 p. m., six hours after the accident.

Blew the Horn.

On approaching the bridge, Mr. Fox sounded the horn to get the boy's attention but he undoubtedly failed to hear it and just why the lad jumped back from the railing will never be known.

This is the first time a death has occurred in the city as the result of an auto accident of this kind. The boy's mother was on a visit to Erskine when the accident happened and reached the city Saturday evening in a prostarted condition.

Take Up Purse.

Railroad co-workers of Mr. Langer at the Soo round house have started a purse for Mr. Langer, the money to be used for the defraying of funeral expenses. Up to this noon a neat sum had been collected.

Funeral Tuesday.

Funeral services were held from the Zion church Tuesday afternoon, Rev. George Larson officiating and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Besides the deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langer, the boy is survived by three brothers and two sisters.

FORMER LOCAL BOY TO RESIDE IN PARIS

RALPH FALK, '15 GRADUATE, WILL GO INTO BUSINESS AT FRENCH CAPITAL.

Ralph Falk, graduate of the local high school with the 1915 class, who enlisted in the U. S. army shortly after the outbreak of war as a "buck" private and rose in the ranks until he received a commission as first lieutenant, will not return to this country for some time but intends to go into business in Paris.

This information was given out by Mr. Falk to one of his Thief River Falls friends whom he met at Brest a short time before the latter walked the gangplank to board the homeward bound transport. Mr. Falk was waiting at the Brest camp at the time to be discharged and after securing his release from the army intended to depart for Paris, where he was going into business, he said.

Mr. Falk did not say when the ceremony occurred only that he was waiting for his family. He arrived overseas in June, 1918, and was stationed at a training camp near Tours, France, for several months.

NAME POST AFTER LT. NED B. CUTTER

ANOKA POST HONORS FORMER NEWSPAPERMAN WHO FELL ON FIELD OF HONOR.

Returned men at Anoka, Minn., have named Post 102 of the American Legion in memory of Lt. Edward B. Cutter, the first Anoka boy to fall on the battle field in France. Ned Cutter formerly was local editor of the Thief River Falls News-Press at the time the paper was being edited by the late M. C. Cutter.

Lt. Cutter, who was a member of the 91st Pursuit squadron, fell at Souilly-seur-Meuse in September 1918 as the result of being shot down by German anti-aircraft guns.

The Anoka post organized with 85 members and steps are now being taken to enroll every one of the 800 eligibles in the county. Minnesota's goal is a membership of 50,000 before November.

PLAN OPENING OF NEW STORE DEC. 1

AGENT REPRESENTING CO-OPERATIVE WHOLESALE SOCIETY HERE.

Ed. Anderson, representing the Co-operative Wholesale Society of America was in the city this week in the interest of the recently organized Peoples' Co-operative store company of Thief River Falls and to assist the officers of the latter in getting under way. It is now expected that the new branch will be ready for business about Dec. 1.

According to Mr. Anderson the plan under which the Co-operative Wholesale society operates is different from any yet tried and offers buying and marketing facilities not heretofore possible under so-called co-operative arrangements. He managed to interest a number of people in the enterprise and said that there was no question but that it would be carried out.

The officers of the local enterprise are A. P. Fox, president and Paul A. Harris, secretary.

October Strawberries.

About the time that citizens further south are paying ten cents apiece for hothouse strawberries the people of this section are picking the fruit fresh from their gardens. W. A. Bishop is one of about a dozen in this neighborhood who have lately reported having fresh berries of fine quality for their table. The fruit is of the Everbearing variety and continues to produce in this section long after the spring crop has been off the market. As there is almost as great a demand for strawberries late in the fall as early in the summer a more extensive raising of this particular variety might prove profitable.

THE ELECTRICAL SITUATION IN THIEF RIVER FALLS.

Thief River Falls, like all progressive American cities, depends to such a great extent upon electricity for its business, commercial and social life, that it has become an absolutely essential necessity. All of us look upon electricity in our city as a matter of course, and only when something out of the ordinary brings it to our notice do we pay any attention to it. During the past summer that "something out of the ordinary" has happened. For this reason we feel that an analysis of the conditions and possibilities of development of electricity is worthy of the close study of every citizen at this time.

The present electric plant in our city has two sources of power for the generation of electricity—the water power and the Diesel oil engines. The oil engines are, and should only be considered, as an auxiliary plant to be operated only in emergencies. The city of Thief River Falls is very fortunate in having almost in the heart of the city a source of energy that under the proper conditions can be utilized for all time for the manufacture of electricity to supply the city's needs. Situated as we are, great distances from the sources of the present commercial fuels, the fact that we have a very substantial water power available is of the utmost importance. To allow the greater part of this valuable asset to go to waste is almost criminal negligence on our part. As we all firmly believe that our city is destined to grow to large dimensions in the near future, we should take the necessary steps at once to protect and develop one of our most important assets and to put it in the proper condition for the utilization and development of the maximum amount of power available. Every day that we delay in costing each of us money. The purpose of this article is not to decide whether this should be done by private enterprise or by the municipality, but to simply point out what we have in a physical way.

Available water power is not developed water power and electricity can not be generated to the maximum amount unless all of the power available is harnessed in an efficient manner. During the past four years the available average flow of water in the Red Lake river at this point has been 729 cubic feet per second. During the months from December 1st to May 1st, for the same four years, the average flow has been 574 cubic feet per second. As this period represents the time during which the maximum amount of electricity is used, it is the only time worth considering because, tho we might generate more power during the summer months, we could not use it. It is reasonably certain that this average winter flow of water will continue, and especially if the proposed regulating gates are placed at the outlet of the Red Lakes.

The present head of water at the dam is approximately 11 feet. With this head and the average winter flow of water, 575 horse power of electricity can be developed continuously during the winter. This is equivalent to 10,300 kilowatt-hours every 24 hours. But as the maximum amount of electricity is only required for a period of about 5 hours every day, and as the storage space for water above the dam is ample to hold a large amount in reserve, the maximum available power at the present time, if it were all converted into electricity under efficient conditions, would be capable of lighting 24,000 of the ordinary 60 watt lamps for five hours every day and still leave enough to take care of all the motors, electric irons and accessories that would be used during the balance of the day.

Even tho the present water power seems ample to supply our needs for a long time to come, there are possibilities of increasing it two or even three fold. In the first mile below the present dam there is a fall of five to six feet. At or near this point there is an excellent site for a dam which could be built comparatively cheap. Such a dam would hold again as much water in reserve as the present dam, and would do away with the dam at the present site, which is more or less dangerous on account of the sawdust banks on the east side. Also the level of water above the present dam could be very easily raised two feet or more without doing any damage. A dam, such as proposed above, would create a power proposition nearly ideal for this city. It would easily supply all the electricity needed for a city of 25,000 people. It would also make a beautiful lake directly through the heart of the city, which in this country is an asset not to be despised.

The energy, or power, of water may be very readily compared to the energy of gun-powder. If you take a certain size cartridge and fire it in an old-fashioned pistol the bullet will be shot a few hundred feet, but take another similar cartridge and fire it from a modern rifle and the same amount of powder will hurl the same bullet a mile or more. In the same manner will modern water-wheels develop considerably more power from the same amount of water than the old-fashioned wheels. The new generators have also been so improved during the last decade that dynamos that were [illegible] such class of machinery at that time are now antiquated. Modern water turbines and generators will develop at least 30 per cent more electricity from the same amount of water as the old-[illegible] generators. Very recently one of the largest water power plants in the United States, developing over 50,000 horse power, scrapped all of its old equipment and put in the very latest types at a cost of several million dollars. Results have shown that the new equipment will pay for itself in five years time.

The average consumer is not so much interested in the how and why of the manufacture of electricity as he is in the manner in which it reaches him for the various purposes he uses it for. There are two ways of distributing electrical power, the first and oldest being the direct current system, the second and more modern being the alternating current system. Again we may liken the two systems to gun-powder, the direct current system being analogous to the old black powder with its low pressure and the alternating current system of high voltage being equivalent to modern high pressure smokeless powder. The direct current system, like the old black powder, is alright in its place, but it took the high pressure stuff to win the last war. Direct current was alright for Thief River Falls ten or fifteen years ago, but to make the most of our electrical possibilities means that an alternating system of distribution must be adopted eventually. Why not now?

The alternating current system is of the greatest advantage because of its flexibility. It can be transmitted to great distances without appreciable loss, while a mile or at the most two miles is the practical limit of direct current. Also almost any voltage that is desired can be obtained by means of the alternating, while the direct current voltage is fixed by the generators. At the present time the standard for all lighting fixtures and small accessories is 120 volts alternating current. This means that lamps, etc., can be purchased more reasonably for this voltage, and at the same time the lamps, etc., are more strudy and efficient. If the present system of direct current were changed to alternating it does not mean that all of the lamps, motors, accessories, etc., used at present would have to be scrapped. It is possible to supply alternating current to a large user at 220 volts so that he can use his present equipment until it is burned out, at which time, by a simple connection at his transformer, costing practically nothing, he can be supplied with 120 volts. In such manner it is possible to make the change gradually. Another of the big advantages of alternating current is that industries and residences outside of the city limits can easily be supplied with light and power, so that in a few years power lines would be able to radiate from the city in all directions and thus bring a large source of revenue to the city. The present largest industry in the city, the Soo shops, could be then supplied with electricity, which is impossible at present. Also by means of the alternating current system the voltage at all parts of the city could be kept very near to normal at all times and this alone is of the utmost importance, because this is what governs the amount of light we obtain, as will be shown later. By means of the alternating current system at least 75 per cent of the amount of copper wire now strung around our city could be saved and sold, the money thus obtained going a long way toward paying for the change.

The amount of electricity consumed is measured by means of a wattmeter, installed in practically all places of business and private residences. The wattmeter is as essential to the measuring of electricity as the scale or the yardstick is to the merchant and should be as carefully tested and as often as any scale. Wattmeters that have run for two or more years are very apt to be greatly in error, so that the consumer pays for more power than he actually uses. Every consumer should insist on a test of his meter at least once a year.

The present basis of light is the candle power. With present Mazda lights the amount of candle power obtained is very high for the power consumed if the voltage is kept normal, but if the voltage is allowed to drop below normal a large amount of power may be used without obtaining satisfactory light. To illustrate: A 100 watt lamp should give practically 100 candle-power when burning at full voltage and will use 1 kilowatt hour every 10 hours, which under our present rate would cost us 9 cents for 100 candle power every 10 hours. But if the voltage is allowed to drop only 6 percent, the candle power will drop to 60, which would mean that in ten hours of burning you would only get 60 candle power, while using .95 kilowatt hours at a cost of 8.5 cents per 10 hours. Under this condition to get the same amount of light would cost you 14.1 cents. It is no uncommon thing for the voltage in Thief River Falls to drop 10 per cent or more, and it is impossible to keep it up to normal with the direct current system. You can very readily see from the above that while we use the direct current our light may be very much more expensive than it should be.

The rate paid for current is the feature that is of the utmost interest to all of us. The rate of nine cents per kilowatt hour is not exorbitant when compared offhand with rates in other cities, but when analyzed closely it may be considerably higher. For instance, in connection with the amount paid for light we have to pay a meter rent of 25 cents per month, which when divided by the number of kilowatts we use may add a cent or so to the rate. Also, as shown above, it is easy to pay as high as 14 or 15 cents per kilowatt in order to get the amount of light we need. Again the fact that meters are rarely tested may mean that we are paying for considerably more than we use. At the same time we do not apply our rate justly. The larger consumer of electricity should be able to secure his power at a lower rate than the small consumer, because it costs three or four times as much to supply one kilowatt to a small consumer as it does to supply it to the large user. We should have a scale of rates on a sliding basis something similar to the following: For the first 20 kilowatt-hours 9 cents per k. w.; for the next 50 k. w. hrs. or fraction, 8 cents per k. w.; for the next 100 k. w. hrs., 7 cents; for the next 200 k. w. hrs., 6 cents; for the next 250 k. w. hrs., 5 cents; for all above that amount, 4 cents. This would be just and equitable and at the same time would be an inducement for people to install modern electrical accessories in their homes and places of business. It would also be of the utmost value in the shape of inducement to industrial concerns to locate in our city.

Thief River Falls is a favored location for all business and industrial concerns as well as for agricultural pursuits. At the same time that we are using our best endeavors to develop our agricultural assets we should not overlook this other asset because it can be made of the utmost value in helping make our city an industrial center as well as a farming center, and one is just as important as the other. All we need in order to accomplish both of these results is co-operation. Lets all get together and help.

It was of course expected that the state tax levy would be heavier than ever before, but the people were hardly prepared for an advance of 130 per cent over a year ago. It means a tax rate of over 8 mills for state purposes alone, which is the heaviest in history. Even in the year immediately following the civil war the levy was only six mills. Soldier bonuses and various extraordinary relief measures are in a large measure responsible for the increase and this being the case the people will bear it without raising much of a howl. They are very likely to question, however, whether certain other economies could not have been inaugurated to help hold down the assessment.

The closing of the Scandinavian American bank of Fargo begins to look more like a political move than an attempt to protect depositors. It is probable that the bank officials were somewhat lax in their observance of the law but there seems to be a widespread feeling that the situation was nowhere near as serious as some folks would have one believe. Unless the state banking department is able to prove its charges this move will have a boomerang effect.

Building Soil Fertility.

(Minneapolis Journal.)

The observant traveler who rides northwest out of Minneapolis will learn two or three significant agricultural facts. For the first hundred miles or more he will see grazing herds and frequent cornfields, with every stalk in shock or silo. He will find all grain well stacked, or, if it is threshed, all straw stacks intact. In the little swales or large low meadows, he will see the hay in ricks, or the farmers gathering the second or third crop and gleaning the little corners. Everything in the way of fodder is being carefully conserved.

But a hundred miles farther on he will see strawstacks sending up pillars of smoke and flame. Cows seem to be rare. Tractors and multiple horse teams with gang plows are turning over in long black furrows the shorn fields.

On much of this land this same process of taking away straw and grain year after year, and giving back no equivalent, has been going on for a generation. The upper six inches of the soil is turned over and skimmed, turned back and skimmed, and over again and back again continuously without variation, except on some areas where clover is used to draw the fertility from the subsoil, or potatoes and corn are planted to kill the weeds. In this prairie country the traveler will have his first sight of standing cornstalks in the field.

As compared with the rougher portions of the State, that level country is the land of easy farming; and yet its plan of farming for the past generation has made it a little harder each year to get a full crop from the soil. One man single-handed has cropped two hundred and forty acres to wheat in that country; but no program has yet been devised whereby a man can do this and pay back to the two hundred and forty acres the equivalent of the crop he took off. Soil is exhausted by such a program just as surely as a bank account is exhausted by continuous checking with no corresponding deposits.

If a thin coat of stable manure, such as a modern spreader will apply, were put upon each acre of grain stubble every year, it would not more than suffice to keep the soil fertility intact. The least that might be done would be to put back the straw upon the soil. The farmer who burns his strawstacks burns his children's inheritance.

Wanted: A Plan For Preventing Strikes.

(Crookston Times.)

In the President's call for a national industrial conference early in October he expressed the hope that its deliberations "will put the whole question of wages upon another footing."

It is highly desirable that not only wages, but hours, working conditions and the processes by which these are adjusted should be put upon another footing.

The present situation in the United States and England furnishes an excellent illustration of the weakness and futility of the estalished modes of settling labor disputes. The strike is, as all thinking men recognize, an illogical and costly process. Labor wars are less defensible than international wars. If there is some reasonable hope of freeing the world from such wars as that which has just prostrated Europe and shaken the whole civilized world, there should surely be a reasonable hope of eliminating suicidal industrial strife in individual countries.

Every labor controversy turns on the question of justice. We have courts that administer justice every day to individual and corporate disputants, replacing the old methods of personal quarrel and feud by the orderly processes of law. The disputants' neighbors are thus safe-guarded from the fray, and the parties immediately concerned both gain by the process.

It is coming some day, undoubtedly—this same method of determining industrial controversies by means of impartial public tribunals. It exists already in New Zealand. There strikes and lockouts alike are forbidden and a labor union or a corporation carries its grievance to court just like any other litigant, and abides by the court's decision.

Perhaps the Washington conference will suggest some modification of this system for the United States. If not let it offer some alternative that will give promise of stopping the vast waste, bitterness and wrong to the general public that are involved in present practices.

Circulating Petition.

The petition of N. W. Tarrant for re-nomination to his present post as judge of municipal court was being circulated on Monday and before evening more than the required number of signers were on the petition.

Sanitary Milk.

I take this method of informing my milk customers that Dr. Utter, State veterinary, has tested my dairy herd for tuberculosis and found them to be in perfect health.

This is the fourth time my herd has passed the test which puts them among the few accredited herds in the state.

Soo Train 112 Will Leave Here 15 Minutes Earlier

If you're going to take the Minneapolis local out of Thief River Falls next Monday morning it behooves you to get down to the station at least twenty minutes earlier than usual for a change in the schedule is to be made that day. The train will leave at 6 a. m. sharp instead of 6:15 o'clock as heretofore. This is the only change in the time card here.

August Railroad Surplus.

Business handled by the railroads in August continued to increase with the advent of the harvest season and the government achieved a surplus of approximately $16,000,000 over the guaranteed monthly rental.

This was the second month of the year in which an apparent surplus was shown, the July net income having been $1,968,453 greater than the rental, but the expenses did not take into account the increase incident to the raise recently given to the shopmen, which was retroactive to July 1.

As the account now stands the government's deficit is $274,558,854 for the first eight months of the year, which will be increased to approximately $290,000,000 when the back-pay due the shopmen for four months is added.

Selmer Berg, 623 St. Paul avenue south, who was injured at the round house last week when he had his head pinched between the guard yoke of a locomotive and a moving engine wheel, is getting along nicely. He considers himself especially fortunate in escaping as luckily as he did.

Carnival a Success.

The carnival staged by the four classes of the high school and the two inter-class girl societies proved to be a ringing success last Friday evening and the sum of $374.01 was realized. After all expenses have been paid a neat sum will go into the treasury of the athletic association. All the amusement features of the carnival proved of great interest and especially "Ziegler's Follies." The fifteen girls sang a number of catchy songs and their dainty costumes added much to the show. They gave several performances during the evening and each time the high school auditorium was filled.

The boxing and wrestling show at the gym was one of the headline attractions. Gordon LaBree and Ray Nordquist went through several snappy rounds, LaBree scoring a knockout each time. The other attractions were also well attended and taken as a whole the carnival was a most enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Pitkin Leaves.

Mrs. C. A. Pitkin this week closed up her affairs and those of her late husband in this neighborhood and left for her former home in St. Paul. Mrs. Pitkin has been engaged by the Welfare Association to become identified with the program of play work inaugurated in that city and she will at once enter upon her duties. She is particularly well fitted for a position of this kind having given many proofs of her ability while a resident of this city. She was placed practically in charge of the drilling of the cast in the great pageant at Cass Lake the past summer and her work attracted a great deal of attention.

Mrs. Pitkin has been very active in the work of the Woman's club and similar organizations while a resident of Thief River Falls and her host of friends regret her departure deeply.

FINEST CORN CROP IN HISTORY, CLAIM

Minnesota's corn crop this year has been the largest in the history of the state, according to J. H. Hay, deputy state commissioner of agriculture and formerly a resident of Thief River Falls. "The estimated corn acreage for the year is about 3,000,000 acres with an average yield per acre of 45 bushels, as against 2,750,000 acres averaging a yield of 40 bushels per acre for last year," Mr. Hay declared.

"Both the size and quality of the ears this year excels anything this state has ever produced, and it doubtful if the corn crop of any other state excels that of Minnesota this year," according to the deputy commissioner. The wheat crop has been a failure generally, according to Mr. Hay and he attributed the failure to drouth in some sections and excessive rains in others.

He declared the average wheat yield per acre was eight bushels as against 25 bushels for last year. Where the wheat crops were a failure, the rye crops to be realized from thistle infested wheat land would, in a measure, recoup the farmers, and he stated much rye has been sown for a winter crop.

Mr. Hay was of the opinion the potato crop throughout the country was a failure this year, and that it was due to poor climatic conditions. The potato crop failure in the southern part of the state was due to drouth, he thought, and to excessive rains in the Red River valley section. He believed the present price of potatoes would remain staple.

Rutabagas and cabbage crops have been unusually large this year, he believes.

Abnormal lung conditions other than tuberculosis	6

Dr. M. G. Milan, throat and lung specialist, was the clinician. Miss Elizabeth M. Hanson, the public health nurse for Marshall county, had charge of the clinic, and she was assisted by Miss Albertson and a student nurse whose home is at Middle River.

The seventh of this series of public health clinics will be held in Holt on October 17. It is satisfactory to note that the number of persons who believe that tuberculosis is a curable, as well as a preventable disease, is steadily increasing.

Check Artists Busy.

Gaston Lee, of Gulfport, Miss, who has been employed at one of the local garage for the past year, left for parts unknown the latter part of last week leaving behind him a batch of unpaid bills and bogus checks.

W. F. Otman, who is supposed to have been representing the Columbia Enamel Ware company of Butte, Mont., passed a bogus check on the Evelyn hotel the latter part of last week in the sum of $89.72. The check was made out to Otman and signed by S. C. Chase, secretary of the fictious firm. The check was returned to Mr. Provencher and investigations showed that there was no such firm in Butte.

GOVERNMENT WILL CUT ON BLANKETS

CONSUMER MUST SEND IN OWN ORDER TO CHICAGO HEADQUARTERS.

The long-awaited notice announcing the sale of government supplies was this week received by Postmaster John Morgan. The articles to be disposed of at reduced prices include wool and cotton blankets, rubber boots, brooms of all kinds, brushes, candles, ash cans, gloves, mittens, picks, hatchets and pickax handles, camp kettles, leggins, etc. There is a large variety and it is next to impossible to enumerate all here.

The food sales still continue. Practically everything described in the former list is still to be had at the published prices. The variety includes smoked and cured meats, canned goods, and such other articles as may be safely kept and easily shipped.

The probabilities are that articles such as blankets will receive greater attention than did the food offers. Mr. Morgan will be glad to submit the list for the inspection of any prospective purchaser, but the latter must make out his or her own order and send it direct to the army supply depot, accompanied with a money order or check for the full amount of the purchase.

SECURITIES SALE STARTED TUESDAY

$100 TO $1,000 TREASURY CERTIFICATES OFFERED IN DRIVE.

In 101 counties throughout the ninth federal reserve district on Tuesday, an intensified campaign to sell $100 and $1,000 treasury certificates was started. G. Howard Smith, secretary of the Commercial club, has been appointed chairman for Pennington county and he states that no personal campaign is to be made in the county but he has mailed out pledge cards to all those who subscribed $250 or over in the fifth Liberty Loan drive. Anyone who has failed to get their card should notify Mr. Smith, who will see to it that one is forwarded.

The certificates are issued to those who are not attracted by savings and thrift stamps. The certificates bear four and three-eighths interest. The certificates can be registered and are proof against theft or loss by fire.

New City Employe.

Harry Bakken, returned overseas man, has accepted a position with the City of Thief River Falls in the water and light department and has started in reading meters. The promotion of Ole Legvold to superintendent of the department left a vacancy in the staff and Mr. Bakken is well fitted to step into the position. Mr. Bakken returned from France the early part of last spring, after having recovered sufficiently from wounds received at the front.

Another Farmer Arrives.

Ben Peterson, formerly of Fergus Falls, is busy building a new residence on the Peter Peterson place near Rosewood, which was purchased by him from the heirs of the late pioneer. The new owner is here with his family, the latter staying at the residence of Rev. and Mrs. Albin A. Larson, the former being a brother of Mrs. Peterson.

W. C. T. U. Notes

(Contributed.)

W. C. T. U. members and others, have you caught the vision of the jubilee? Worlds prohibition calls for one million dollars. Americanization needs as much. A dollar invested in our jubilee fund means more than many dollars given to our cause a few years hence. It is now the nation needs our generous assistance. It is now the world is calling. It is now we must praise God; now we must sound the jubilee. Each day adds to our jubilee faith and courage. The glory of our great victorys illumines our souls and shines upon the pathway of the future, beckoning us onward to still greater victorys under the banner of the Lord God of Hosts.

W. C. T. U. will meet Tuesday, Oct. 14, in the basement church for a real jubilee meeting and all members must be present and give their pledged amount. Mrs. Lucy Chapin, our district president, will be present. Let us all come prepared to do this and thank God that we are given this great privilege of aiding with the gifts the Lord has bestowed upon us.

"Praise yet the Lord for it is good to praise the Lord, for He hath strengthened his barns and filleth them with the finest of the wheat."

LOCAL EXHIBITORS WIN AT PLUMMER

H. F. ERICKSON AND DENNIS M'GINN AWARDED CUPS AT POULTRY SHOW.

The first annual show of the Red Lake County Poultry association held at Plummer last week was a great success, according to the Red Lake Falls Gazette. Two Thief River Falls exhibitors were awarded silver cups on their displays. There were 318 birds entered.

The silver loving cup offered by the Farmers' State bank of Plummer for the best pen of Plymouth Rocks was won by G. A. Krueger of Plummer. The cup offered by the First State bank of Brooks for the high scoring pen of Wyandottes was won by Tobias Reep of Plummer, while S. J. Rice of Plummer won both the cup put up by the First State bank of Red Lake Falls for the best pen of Meditarraneans and the cup put up by the Farmers' and Merchants' State bank of Oklee for the best pen of Rhode Island Reds. The winner of the cup offered by the Merchants' State bank of Red Lake Falls for the best pen of Orpingtons was won by H. F. Erickson of Thief River Falls.

In the Boys' department D. McGinn of Thief River Falls won the cup offered by the Farmers' National bank of Red Lake Falls, for the best pair of chicks, while Miss Althea Krueger of Plummer won the cup offered by the Citizens' State bank of Red Lake Falls for the best pair of chicks in the girls' department. Christensen, agronomist at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, officiated as judge. Prizes of valuable merchandise had been offered by Plummer business men for the best products.

ANOTHER CAR OF GUERNSEY CATTLE

COUNTY AGENT M'CANN SECURES THE STOCK FOR FARMERS.

The promise of continued good prices for butterfat, the success of cattle shows and the plentiful supply of feed in this section is having the effect of stimulating the dairying industry to a marked degree. Farmers who have not heretofore paid a great deal of attention to this branch of husbandry are engaging in it to a considerable extent, while those who have always favored cattle are increasing their herds.

No section is undergoing a greater change in this respect than the country around Goodridge. During the past three years this has become one of the heaviest butter-producing regions of the county and if the present tendency is continued it will soon be in line for the championship banner.

An entire carload of high grade Guernseys will arrive shortly from Little Falls for distribution in this section. County Agent J. J. McCann selected the animals in the neighborhood of Little Falls the first of the week, he being able to recommend the stock in that vicinity through personal acquaintance with the situation there.

Mr. McCann also attended the district meeting of county agents held at Crookston on Monday and Tuesday.

COL. T. R.'S DAY IN SCHOOLS OCT. 27

CHILDREN TO HAVE PART IN PROPOSED MEMORIAL AND GIVING IS VOLUNTARY.

James McConnell, state commissioner of education, has sent out a circular letter to all the school superintendents of the state asking them to arrange for a proper observance of Col. Theodore Roosevelt's birthday—October 27. The prime purpose of the observance is not to raise money for the memorial but to teach patriotism and good citizenship. The children are asked to make voluntary donations towards the erection of a Roosevelt monument on that day so that they might have some small part in it.

The letter to school superintendents follows:

"Theodore Roosevelt's work is done, and his name is written with the galaxy of great men who have made the history of the United States.

"It has been well said of him that he was a great statesman, a historian, a journalist, a big game hunter, a naturalist, an explorer, but in and above all he was an American, whose ruling passion was his country.'

"Roosevelt's tremendous energy; his dauntless courage; and his fine patriotism should be an inspiration to every boy and girl in our schools.

"Throughout the country, a campaign is under way to raise a fund for the purpose of erecting a memorial to commemorate the life and work of Colonel Roosevelt. In the schools, the prime purpose is not to raise money, but to teach patriotism and good citizenship. To this end, we recommend that every school in Minnesota provide for an appropriate observance of Roosevelt's birthday on October twenty-seventh.

"The program should teach Theodore Roosevelt as a great American.

"On this occasion, children should be given an opportunity to have some part, however small, in the memorial. On the other hand, giving should be entirely voluntary. It is especially the wish of those in charge of this movement that no one should be urged to give. Especially in the schools, no child should give contrary to the wishes of his parents.

"Such funds as are given in the schools will, of course, be placed in the hands of the local chairman of the Memorial Committee."

MEMBER OF FAMOUS "I" DIVISION HERE

ST. HILAIRE LAD RETURNS WITH THREE WOUND STRIPES AND A RECORD.

Carl Nelson, a member of "Pershing's Own" famous regiment of the First Regular division, came up from St. Hilaire last Thursday evening to attend the meeting of the American Legion.

Nelson is a Pennington county boy and has about the greatest war record of anyone in the county. Enlisting immediately after the outbreak of the war, Nelson became a member of the "first to fight" division and reached overseas with the first Americans. As an infantryman he saw service in practically every big engagement in which the Americans took part, and he came back to his home town at St. Hilaire last week wearing three wound stripes. He saw the thing through and had his share of the trenches, mud and rain but he says he is none the worse for the experience while he will carry the marks of battle with him as long as he lives.

Nelson makes a fine soldier and as a member of "Pershing's Own" had the opportunity to parade in London before King George and other notables and also in Paris this regiment of the "fighting first" led the parade on Victory day—July 14.

The young man has a war record that is hard to beat and one which he can well be proud of.

Recording Discharges.

Many of the returned service men are having copies of their discharge certificates made out at the register of deeds office and recorded. The plan is a good one in case the holder's original copy should get lost. He would still have a copy in safe keeping should he ever need it for reference.

THANKSGIVING DAY CONCERT PLANNED

FIRST INDOOR CONCERT AT AUDITORIUM WILL BE BIG MUSICAL EVENT.

If present plans work out, the Thief River Falls band will open its indoor concert season at the auditorium on Thanskiving day afternoon.

The local musicians are working diligently on a program that has been arranged by Director D. J. Cordes and the first affair is going to be a ripping good one. The program will be a varied one, containing duets, individual solos by band members, vocal solos and massed numbers by the band. Some of the selections to be played are usually regarded as being out of the scope of small bands but Cordes' musicians handle them with perfect ease. This is due to the fact that half of the band is made up of former army men who while in the service had the biggest opportunity in their lives to develop their musical ability. When in Uncle Sam's bands they played nothing but the highest class music obtainable at their concerts.

A Thanksgiving day concert should draw a big house, band members believe, and it is their intention to open the concert season on that date.

The New Motor Car

Overland 4
TRADE MARK REG.

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

Neighborhood NEWS

ROSEWOOD

The last few weeks has marked a great many property and real estate transfers in this immediate neighborhood as well as in town. The prices are booming and at the present outlook property and real estate will in a near future bring about prices that has until recently been considered only as the southern part of the state possibilities. Last Tuesday A. S. Holm, cashier of the Farmers State bank here, purchased of John Sagmoen his residence on lot 11, in the northern part of town, and will take possession the first part of this week. Mr. Holm was recently married in the southern part of the state and his wife will arrive in a few days when they will go to housekeeping in their new home. Sagmoen also sold his automobile to Mr. Holm. On the same day a deal was closed whereby John Sagmoen became the owner of the SE¼ of SE¼ in Sec. 3, and the NW¼ of SW¼ in Sec. 2, this land belonging to Steiner Johnson and is adjoining town on the east. Mr. Sagmoen will commence immediately to erect a modern residence on his farm just outside the town limits, thus having the advantage of having a country home within a few steps outside his business place, he still retaining his interest in the Carlson & Sagmoen general merchandise store and intending to do so at least in the immediate future. Mr. Johnson, who still owns forty acres in section 10, will when the ground freezes proceed to move his home which is now located in section 3, onto section 10, and will reside there in the future. The Sagmoen family will occupy his residence while building this fall, and Mr. Johnson intends to make a prolonged visit with relatives and friends further south in this state and in North Dakota and Iowa, and will return sometime next month.

L. L. Furan, who has rented the Peder Sjolsvold residence in town, has been moving up all his furniture this week from Thief River Falls and will be ready for housekeeping sometime this week. His family arrived the latter part of last week.

Dick Hall recently disposed of his entire property in sections 27 and 28 to a real estate firm in Thief River Falls at a consideration of $65 per acre, but is still on the place to take care of the property and stock until a new party arrives. While yet undecided it is very probable Mr. Hall will purchase another tract of land not far from here, as he seems well satisfied with this country's conditions in general.

Peder Sjolsvold purchased a quarter section of land adjoining the P. Stengelson farm on the south, and intends to start in farming there at once.

O. A. Flann is busy removing his household goods, wood, etc., to Thief River Falls, where he has bought a house and will move this fall.

Rev. Geo. Larson of Thief River Falls and Rev. Mortenson of Foaston, conducted Sunday forenoon services at the Rindal church.

Rev. Werner Drotts of Viking conducted Sunday afternoon and evening services at the Swedish church in town. The Swedish Young Peoples society will have their next meeting at the church in town on Thursday evening, Oct. 16, when lunch will be sold at the close.

Miss Isabel Sagmoen left Thursday for Thief River Falls to attend the high school carnival the following day.

School opened at both Willowdale and Busy Bee schools last Monday. Miss Laura Krohn teaches in the first named school and Miss Ebba Walbeck of St. Hilaire in the latter.

There is no school at Rosebank this week owing to the teacher, Miss Pedersen's absence at Warren. It will reopen again on Monday, Oct. 13.

Martin Benson of Thief River Falls was in town last Monday to buy a large quantity of fresh eggs.

Mr. Flattum of Thief River Falls was in this vicinity last Monday to purchase potatoes and stock.

The Rosewood Shipping association will ship stock from this place on Saturday, Oct. 18th. Sheep will also be included in this shipment.

Albert Lappegaard, who has spent the last two years with his family at Edmore, N. D., but has this fall moved to Thief River Falls, was in town last Monday to visit with his parents. He returned in the evening.

John Nakken left the first of this week for Crookston, where he will spend the winter at the agricultural school.

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS HOW WELL AND HAPPY

THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Toupalik, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

ANNUAL REPORT OF S.D. SECURITIES COMMISSION

For the year ending June 30th, 1918 and including report for the year ending June 30th, 1917.

Gentlemen:

A careful examination has been made of all annual statements filed with this Commission pursuant to the provisions of the Blue Sky law. I herewith submit a list of companies whose statements should, in my opinion, be approved. In some instances these statements are not complete, but owing to circumstances surrounding each of such cases, it seems that no good purpose could be served by requiring additional showings. There is also submitted herewith a list of companies that have failed to make the statement required by law, and subject to the approval of the Commission, we have marked each name on said list as canceled and the outstanding permit forfeited.

While making the above mentioned examinations we have made occasion to compile some of the figures and draw some conclusions from the records of the office. Such figures and conclusions may be briefly stated as follows:

1st—There were one hundred six (106) companies which made and filed statements covering the year 1917. They reported a total outstanding capital of $49,989,435.00. The total gain reported for the one hundred six companies was $905,512.00 or an average of one and eight-tenths on the entire capital outstanding.

2nd—We found that there were thirty-eight (38) reporting domestic co-operative companies engaged in the operation of stores, elevators and creameries. These companies had a total outstanding capital of $281,810.00 and the total gain of all such companies was the sum of $110,310.00 or an average of one and eight-cent on the outstanding capital.

3rd—There were twelve (12) miscellaneous companies with a total capital issue of $21,059,256.00 which showed gains. The total of these gains for the twelve companies was $795,202.00 or an average of three and one-half per cent on the outstanding capital. Under this head it should be mentioned that we include the report of one of the largest light and power companies in America. This company has an outstanding capital of $19,982,100.00, and paid a dividend of $691,963.00. Thus it will be understood that the other eleven companies were comparatively small and the gains nominal.

4th—There are sixteen (16) oil and mining companies upon our records showing a total outstanding capital of $7,535,618.00. Not one of these companies shows a gain and no facts are submitted which indicate any great progress in the way of exploration.

5th—It appears that there are forty (40) miscellaneous companies with a capital issue totaling $21,112,751.00, which report no gains and in many instances losses are shown. In fact there are ten among the forty companies with an outstanding capital of $7,677,180.00, which show a total loss of $226,484.00. This item should be deducted from the gains shown in paragraph one, thus materially reducing the total average gains for all companies.

From the foregoing figures, several conclusions may be drawn. It is amply shown that the small co-operative companies of the state are being conducted on a profitable basis. This is especially true of the elevator companies. The reports show that each elevator is using from $20,000 to $50,000 of borrowed money obtained from banks and commission companies. Notwithstanding the payment of considerable sums for interest, the business is highly profitable. This leads to the suggestion that much more capital could be employed in these elevator companies, thus reducing the necessity for so much borrowed money and saving large sums now being paid for interest. The Commission has a right to feel a pride in the success of the co-operative companies. It means that South Dakota people have the ability to co-operate and make the best use of their combined capital and credit. The facts also prove that the farmer should realize that he can find a far safer and more remunerative investment at his own door, and one that is very much better than the average stock proposition offered by other corporations.

The process of promoting and putting over the average industrial or financial corporation is long and difficult; the expense of organization is great; the results are slow and the investors must have great patience while awaiting returns in the way of dividends.

The oil and mining companies constitute one of the serious problems before the Commission. The total sum of money thrown away upon these enterprises annually is a tremendous drain upon our financial resources. Our records show, however, that this class of companies have been reduced more than fifty per cent in the past few months and from the same records, it would appear that only in special cases should any new ones be admitted.

On the whole, the reports show that the sale of stocks in the different enterprises results in much waste of money and in idle capital. Of course under the law it is a question of honesty and if no actual or inherent fraud appears the Commission cannot successfully prevent sales. It would seem, however, that a more intelligent public opinion would aid materially in curing the situation and it is therefore suggested that the foregoing figures be published for the benefit of the people of the state.

Respectfully submitted,
E. W. HENDERSON,
Secretary.

PROPOSED REGULATION OF MEAT PACKERS EFFECTIVE. WOULD PUT BURDEN OF PROOF ON MONOPOLY.

The Packers are trying to raise a fog concerning the Kenyon Bill by making people think that it would establish a "license system." As a matter of fact, no such system is involved in the Bill. Would requiring a reckless driver to give bond for future good conduct create a "bonding system"? The idea is little short of absurd. Obviously, the bond would be required only of a driver who was reckless and would not affect those who did not drive automobiles, nor those who did not drive them recklessly.

The fact concerning the Meat Packing industry is that it has been found to be in the control of a monopoly. This fact has been found by the Food Administration and by the Federal Trade Commission. Also, previous Government investigation, long before the Federal Trade Commission was established, has proved the same fact.

The question is, how can we make the Anti-Trust Laws effective in stamping out monopoly in the Meat Packing Industry, and remove the menace of a great food trust? We do not want to destroy the Meat Packers, but they must be regulated.

Past experience shows that it has been almost impossible to convict the trust, and when convicted the results have been small. Therefore, Senators Kenyon and Kendrick, in drawing their Bills, which are now before the Senate Committee on Agriculture, have endeavored to put teeth in them—teeth which will be effective in checking monopoly.

They believe that the investigations of the Food Administration and of the Federal Trade Commission establish a prima facie case that monopoly control exists. Therefore, these Bills shift the burden of proof to the Meat Packers. That means that when the Secretary of Agriculture shall find that the Meat Packers are disobeying the law, he may take prompt action against them, which action will be effective unless the Packers can prove in the Courts that the findings of the Secretary of Agriculture are wrong. To accomplish this, the Bills provide that the Packers must go through the form of taking out a license, in which they agree to live up to the Anti-Trust laws. If they are found to be in violation of these laws, the Bills provide that the Secretary of Agriculture may either suspend or revoke the license. The Meat Packers may then appeal to the Courts and have a full hearing before action is taken. Thus he is provided with his "day in Court."

This is not a "license system" like that enforced by the Food Administration, and which has come to be a bugbear to so many business men. It is not a precedent for other businesses. It is merely a wise provision designed to make it possible to reach properly and effectively a proven monopoly.

MARRIAGE VOW TO LOSE WORD "OBEY"

EPISCOPALIANS PLAN REVISION OF BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER AT CONVENTION.

In recognition of the "new status of women in the life of the world—that of political equality with man," it is proposed to eliminate the word "obey" from the women's pledge in the marriage service, making the promises of man and woman the same, while the words "with all my worldly goods I thee endow," in the man's pledge will be stricken out.

The proposed revision of the Book of Common Prayer of the Episcopal church which is to come before the triennial convention, opening in Detroit, Mich., yesterday, embodies these changes.

It is stated by church leaders that the proposed changes would not only enrich but "modernize and humanize" the Book of Common Prayer.

It is proposed to eliminate from the burial office of the liturgy all expressions that tend to represent death and sickness and death and disaster as the direct acts of God.

Judge N. W. Tarrant, of municipal court, says the wedding ceremony in his court does not include the word "obey" and he is of the opinion that it should be omitted. During his time in office he has tied about 150 nuptial knots.

In England there is a different story. The recommendation by a commission of the Episcopal church on the revision of the Prayer Book to eliminate the word "obey" from the bride's nuptial vow is not likely to be endorsed by the Church of England, tho the London Times reports hearing occassional protests in England against the vow. In a recent issue it seizes the occassion to "consider the significence of the bride's promise to obey her husband." Thus:

"The revision of the Prayer Book in England, which is now being completed, suggests no such revolutionary proposals as those reported to be contemplated in the American church, and it is plain that the contracting parties in the Church of England will be called upon to repeat the present form of espousals and bethrothal. The bride must promise that she will obey her husband. It is true that the marriage service had its origin in times when a wife was held to be almost entirely dependent on the will of others, and the question 'who giveth this woman to be married to this man?' seems to imply that the bride is still considered to be handed over from one state of dependence to another, through the intermediary of the church. But the exchange of vows is made the free will of each party, and the husband's promise to remain faithful to his wife and to love and cherish until death is a condition precedent to the woman's promise of obedience. If the man's vow is observed a sympathetic comradeship must be established, and this will entirely prevent such a clash of wills as might be produced by contrary aims."

Salvation Army To Move.

The rooms formerly used by The Times office in the Dobner-Meehan block will shortly be occupied by the Salvation Army. Workmen on Tuesday began renovating the large room and it will make excellent quarters for the organization. The army has been located in the basement of the Scandin block for the past year.

PUBLIC FORUM

The approaching city election on Nov. 4th promises to be an important one. There are moral and financial issues that much concern us as citizens of this fair city. These will be determined by the officials about to be intrusted with the city's affairs.

The city can have a first-class responsible government if enough of the voters want it badly enough. In practically every modern city there is a compact body of men who for personal reasons or personal profit do not want a government that will enforce the law and serve the general welfare of the community. This body of men as a rule acts together. They do not divide or scatter their votes. They often elect the men they want to elect.

The men elected to the offices of mayor and councilman cannot escape the influence of the crowd that elects them. Men in public office, consciously or unconsciously, bend to the wishes of their supporting constituency. It would be absurd to expect anything else.

Consequently if the moral element in this city wants public affairs to be conducted for the public good it is absolutely necessary that they shall unite and get solidly behind good government candidates and elect them as mayor and councilmen. If the church people and other right-thinking citizens of Thief River Falls will unite on the issue and not allow themselves to be hood-winked and divided the city election will be carried for clean life and for the protection of the youth and the homes of the community. We take it for granted that the monies intrusted to the care of honorable men will not go astray.

Should the proposed good government ticket be successful with a massed vote and sentiment behind it, we will have a right to expect that the city officers so elected will respond to the sentiment that elected them. It is important that good men be elected, but it is at least equally important that the united company of citizens electing them should continue to give them sympathy and support when they attempt to perform the duties that will fall to them. Good citizens are too much in the habit of carrying an election and then going home or to their places of business and leaving their representatives to face criticism, opposition and slander without sympathy or defense. Citizens ought to want good government badly enough to think and judge for themselves and to not allow themselves to be unbalanced by specious falsehood.

"Quality" Fully Describes Times Work

At the Theatres

The Princess.

Harry T. Morey, who has stuck to the Vitagraph company in spite of all other offers, comes to the Princess this evening in one of the greatest plays of his career. "Beauty Proof," by James Oliver Curwood, is the name of the production and it is said to be a corker. The play is decidedly different, showing how one man risked his life in trackless wilds to save that of another who had wrecked his home. It is some picture.

Mary McLean herself, who some years ago became famous thru her book, "The Story of Mary McLean," has become a movie star of the first magnitude. She has never been seen by a Thief River Falls audience and her appearance has created considerable curiosity. She will be seen at the Princess on Friday night in "The Unpainted Woman."

Taylor Holmes, famed for his work in light comedy on both screen and stage, will appeal to even the most dormant sense of humor in his latest picture, "It's a Bear," which comes to the Princess on Saturday night. This picture is a delight from beginning to end. His Palm Beach suit didn't fit in with the idea of what was right with a lot of cowboys, but he stuck to them and they changed their minds. The picture is a great one.

Tom Mix, one of the greatest exponents of the real life of the old West, will appear at the Princess on Sunday and Monday in his latest photo play, "The Coming of the Law." It is a story of Dry Bottom, New Mexico, to which town Mix, in the character of Kent Hollis, comes to succeed his father, who was head of the Circle Bar ranch. Finds his father dead and that cattle rustlers are running the town. In spite of being a tenderfoot he cleans up the place. He does so many amazing things that the rustlers are beaten by astonishment rather than by gun-play.

The Lyceum.

Ethel Clayton opens the week at the Lyceum this evening in "Sporting Chance." This is a good, stirring play and shows Miss Clayton at her best.

Some people are unkind enough to say that all widows are misleading, but Billie Burke will prove it. That is the title of the play—"The Misleading Widow," in which she will be seen at the Lyceum on Friday night and Saturday matinee. It is a delightful story, laid in a quaint New England village and gives this versatile actress an opportunity to appear at her best.

Olive Thomas in "Toton" has received attention both from press and public. The story deals with a girl who was reared as a boy and became the most expert pickpocket in Paris. This picture is a new release and a good one.

Dorothy Dalton is one of the real big stars of the screen and in "The Market of Souls" she has perhaps the strongest play of her career. It is a powerful, touching picture of human hearts, struggling through the darkness, finding at last the light. The eye of the beholder glows with fascination at the sensational picture of a New Year's revel in a New York palace of joy.

Tom Moore, who many regard as the best player of western stuff in moving pictures, comes to the Lyceum on Monday in "Go West, Young Man." This is a high class comedy in which a young man showed his family that he could make good.

"The Sign Invisible," a mighty drama of the Northland, in which Mitchell Lewis stars, will be seen on Tuesday evening. It is full of husky men and pretty women and has that interest which Alaskan stories possess. The usual fight, without which no Alaskan picture would be complete, is here—and it is a hummer.

The big special for Wednesday evening is Vivian Martin in "The Third Kiss." As the red-headed factory girl she is so much different than those about her that she is a marked individual from the start. It is a new kind of a Vivian Martin picture and one that adds greatly to her laurels.

TRAINED PEOPLE GET POSITIONS

The demand for young people trained for responsible positions by the Dakota Business College, Fargo, N. D., never lets up.

CHURCH PROGRAM PLEASES LABOR

Federation Leader Says Catholic Reconstruction Plan Has Workers' Backing.

WAGE EARNERS WELCOME IT.

Support of Catholic Church Valued by Labor Men, as They Work for Social Betterment, He Declares.

Chicago.—John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor and chairman of the National Committee for Organizing Iron and Steel Workers, has responded for organized labor to the reconstruction pronouncement recently issued from the National Catholic War Council, welcoming and valuing most highly its expressed co-operation in the task of reconstruction to which labor has set itself. In a statement outlining the attitude of the laboring man toward this program of social reconstruction Mr. Fitzpatrick says:

"Nothing has appeared in a long time that will be of more substantial benefit to the cause of organized labor and of economic justice than the social reconstruction program of the National Catholic War Council. The four bishops who have signed this program and issued it to the world are entitled to the heartiest thanks of every wage earner who has the interests of his fellows at heart, and both they and the Church will receive his thanks and appreciation in full measure. In the same measure they should receive the thanks of every good Catholic, for in heartening labor they have also given a splendid proof that the Church is equal to the demands of the times and is applying its ancient and unchanging principles to modern conditions in a way that makes for the progress and general well-being of the race.

"The program of the National Catholic War Council is virtually the program of organized labor as expressed by the official declarations of the American Federation of Labor and the program of the Chicago Independent Labor party. Its declarations in favor of maintaining the present wage rate and progressively raising it, while at the same time taking steps to reduce the cost of living and to control large fortunes, constitute the strongest possible support for the position taken by organized labor. It should be printed in its entirety in every labor journal in the country. Nothing will do more to strengthen the cause of orderly but fundamental economic reform as opposed to the plans of those who would destroy our entire civilization at one blow in the hope of bettering the conditions of the masses. It is an adequate program provided it can be accepted and promptly carried through as a program of action. It is not a visionary program; it is not the picture of a Utopia to be realized in the far-distant future. It is what labor demands now, and those who wish to avoid the excesses and dangers of a violent and bitter upheaval can do nothing better than to acknowledge its true conservatism and aid organized labor in putting it into practice. I must agree with its authors that conditions in America are far less disturbed than in European countries, yet I believe it would be a serious mistake not to realize that the workers and producers of America are in a mood for action.

"In nearly every respect the program of the National Catholic War Council is so comprehensive and so adequate to the needs of the times that I am confident its wide publication and its adoption by a political party pledged to carry it out would satisfy the needs of a large number who are on the point of breaking from their old moorings and joining with such hitherto inconsiderable groups as the Socialists. It is the sign which has been greatly needed that we can achieve the reforms on which our hearts are set without breaking all the traditions of the past, good as well as bad.

"This program should be evidence to many who have opposed labor's aims without understanding them that labor speaks today in the interests of all society, in the interests of true conservatism. It is not men who have changed. We are not departing from the ancient principles of justice and right. We are merely applying those principles to new conditions that have arisen very rapidly—so rapidly that many have failed to realize them. It is sufficient for those who doubt the need to ponder the statement here set forth with unquestionable authority that 'a considerable majority of the wage earners of the United States, both men and women, were not receiving living wages when prices began to soar in 1915' and that since 1915 'the average rate of pay has not increased faster than the cost of living.' Labor knows these bitter truths, and labor has reached the point where it is determined to change these rotten conditions, conditions which mean the destruction of Christian society if they continue. In performing the task of reconstruction to which it has set itself labor welcomes and values most highly the co-operation and support of the Church, and the Church will gain along with labor as a result of the splendid pronouncement of the four representative bishops who have signed this report."

PLANS MADE FOR SELLING OF SEALS

CAMPAIGN WILL BE SHORT BUT INTENSIVE AND WILL BE EDUCATIONAL.

The special committee on finance for the Minnesota Public Health association met in St. Paul on Sept. 27 and discussed plans for the 1919 Christmas seal sale. Mrs. J. M. Bishop, who represented the Pennington County Public Health association was appointed as a member of the special committee on finance and reports that a very successful meeting was held.

The campaign this year will be run on different lines than in previous years. The present recognition of public health needs has been perhaps the greatest of the results accruing from our experiences in the great war. The National Tuberculosis association recommends a campaign which will secure much larger amounts to finance the work in each community. The amount planned will meet, as far as possible, the requirements of the time. Although the campaign this year will be a short intensive drive for larger amounts of money than have hitherto been collected in Christmas seal campaigns, the educational value of the sale by the school children will not be sacrificed. In fact, the campaign will again be primarily an educational campaign with more extensive publicity than in previous years.

The public recognition of the importance of the fight against tuberculosis and other preventable diseases was given by Governor Burnquist, who assisted in the appointment of the committee and who wrote each member personally urging that they serve.

Teachers' Institute.

The Pennington county teachers' institute will be held during the week of Nov. 17 to 22. The instructors in charge will be Miss Maude Kavanaugh and Miss Coral Osborn.

A moving picture film shown at the request of the state board of health will be one of the features. It is called "The End of the Road," and has been used for educational purposes in many sections of the country.

There will be a meeting of the county school officers on the Saturday following the institute.

You Are Interested in Fair Telephone Earnings

When you have money to lend you naturally seek that investment which promises the highest return with the same degree of safety. So do other people.

Because all investors do this, it is necessary that the earnings of the telephone companies be such as will promote confidence rather than discourage the investment of money in their securities.

Telephone companies when privately operated have no guarantee against losses, nor are they assured any specific rate of return upon their investment.

The rates of telephone companies must be such as will produce sufficient revenue to pay their employees fair wages, maintain and operate their property in a manner that will insure good service, and pay the investors a reasonable return on their money.

The destruction or serious impairment of public confidence in the securities of telephone companies by too low rates or too exacting public regulation would discourage investment in the telephone business.

And extensions and improvements necessary to meet the constantly expanding needs of the public for telephone service can only be made through the investment of new money in the business.

CONSTRUCTION OF GOOD ROAD

Concrete Highway Is Composed of Mixture of Sand, Stone, Portland Cement and Water.

The concrete road is composed of a carefully proportioned mixture of clean, hard, well-graded sand, pebbles or broken stone, portland cement and water. This mixture is laid upon the subgrade to a depth of 7 inches or more for the entire width of the road, and soon hardens into a mass as hard as rock. The materials are bonded together by the cement so firmly that it is impossible for traffic to loosen or separate the particles. For this reason no expensive maintenance is required.

The foundation or subgrade is compacted where the concrete is to be laid and the roadbed is drained so that no water will remain under the slab, writes A. L. Pettibone in Dakota Farmer. Upon the foundation concrete is laid in one or two courses. A one-course concrete road consists of a relatively rich concrete mixture throughout. A two-course road consists of a somewhat leaner mixture for a base with a richer top or wearing course, applied before the concrete in the base has begun to harden. Frequently re-enforcement in the form of wire fabric or steel rods is embedded in the concrete. This assists to prevent cracks in the slab and aids in keeping cracks which may form from opening to any appreciable extent.

The high wearing quality of the concrete road results from using properly graded, clean, hard sand and pebbles or crushed rock. These must be combined with portland cement in carefully measured proportions, mixed with a power-operated batch mixer to produce a stiff plastic consistency, then placed upon the foundation and struck off with a template or strike board, so shaped that the surface of the pavement will have the desired crown. After rolling with a light metal roller to compact the concrete and remove excess water used in mixing, the concrete is finished by seesawing a section of rubber or canvas belting along the pavement, leaving a true, even, gritty, dense surface. When sufficiently hardened to prevent pitting or marking, the surface is sprinkled with water, then covered with 2 inches or more of moist sand or earth, which is kept wet by sprinkling for from ten days to two weeks to prevent the concrete from drying out too rapidly. Under no circumstances should a concrete road be put in use until it is 14 days old and in cool weather a longer time is necessary. This is a brief summary of the essentials of the construction of a concrete road.

An Improved Highway in West.

GOOD ROADS ARE PROFITABLE

Authorities Should Act to Meet Growing Demands Before Trade Goes Other Ways.

Good roads are a paying investment. Local authorities in cities, towns and counties should act without delay to meet the growing national and local demands before trade goes in other directions. It is almost impossible to get back the lost advantage after other districts have won it.

NOT AFFECTED BY WEATHER

Heat or Cold, Freezing and Thawing Does Not Injure Concrete Once It Is Hardened.

Concrete roads are not affected by heat or cold nor by freezing or thawing when it is once hardened. Other materials tracked upon concrete have no effect upon it. Heat does not soften the binder permitting it to flow; cold does not make it brittle, causing it to chip.

Proper Grade of Road.

The grade of the road is important, for on this depends the weight of the load which can be hauled economically.

Improvement in Texas.

Texas this year will spend a total of $76,210,000 on improved highways, according to figures compiled by the state highway department.

Building Roads Is Important.

The building of good roads is of the greatest importance to a community.

GOVERNMENT SHEEP FARM EXPERIMENTS

Several Important Results Obtained on Idaho Ranch.

Flock Handled in Same Manner as Are All Similar Bands in Hands of Wyoming Stockmen—Work to Be Extended.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Several results of importance to western sheep men have been ascertained by experiments at the government sheep ranch near Dubois, Idaho, which has been in operation two years. Formerly it was customary for range sheep men to discard ewes which did not bear lambs when two years old. Extensive investigations by the department of agriculture have developed that such ewes are just as valuable for future breeding as those which bear lambs as two-year-olds.

Individual records are kept on the government sheep ranch relative to the weight of fleece, length of fleece, character of fleece, fineness of fiber and mutton quality of each animal, while detailed account is maintained of the offspring of each ewe. The particular utility of the results obtained arises from the fact that the flock is handled just as are all similar bands of sheep in the hands of Wyoming stockmen.

Experiments are being conducted to develop a type of sheep more suitable to the western range conditions than the types now prevalent. It is hoped to extend this work in both mutton conformation and length and weight of fleece.

There are at present about 1,500 head of purebred Rambouillets, Lincoln Rambouillets, Cotswold Rambouillets, Leister Rambouillets and Romney Rambouillets on the government ranch. Crossbreeding experiments are being conducted with all these breeds and crosses, as well as the use of purebred Corriedales, which have been mated with crossbred ewes.

RAISE MORE BREEDING SOWS

Remarkable Evidence of Expansive Power of Swine Numbers in Practical Farming.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Even greater than the record number of breeding sows on farms in the United States a year ago, the number on April 1 this year reached the unprecedented total of 9,070,000, according to the bureau of crop estimates, United States department of agriculture. While the average gain for the whole country over last year is only 0.8 per cent there were gains greater than this in most of the states and as high as 8 per cent in California. Diminished numbers in the great swine states of Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Louisiana and Oklahoma are sufficient to leave barely a gain to the United States as a whole.

Under the pressure of the necessities of the war the breeding sows on farms April 1, 1918, had been raised 9.5 per cent over 1917, a remarkable evidence of the expansive power of swine numbers in practical farming operations; and that this extraordinary increase in one year should have been held the next, and even a little exceeded, is a notable fact in swine history.

KEEP MANURE UNDER COVER

Amount of Moisture in Pile Can Be Regulated Much Without Danger of Leaching.

The advantage of keeping manure under cover, whether piled on the ground or in pit, is that the amount of moisture in the pile can be artificially regulated and with less danger of leaching than if it lies on the ground. In the open pit, surplus of moisture can not result in loss through leaching, but unless water or liquid manure is pumped frequently over the pile it will fire fang through heating. With both leaching and heating guarded against, manure can be kept for considerable periods without serious deterioration in fertility. However, it is always best to get manure onto the fields and under the surface as soon as practical. The best place for manure to rot is in the soil.

RYE IS READILY PRESERVED

Resulting Silage Is Not Satisfactory Because Plant Is Not Highly Palatable.

Rye may be preserved readily in the silo, but the resulting silage is not very satisfactory on account of its not being palatable. For best results it should be put into the silo in the blossoming stage or even earlier. In feeding value it is somewhat below that of corn silage.

WOMEN'S WOES

Thief River Falls Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Keeping the kidneys well has spared thousands of women much misery. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Chas. Alexander, 216 Conley Ave., Thief River Falls, says: "Last fall I had been picking berries and when I got home, I was suddenly taken with a bad attack of kidney complaint. The pains across my back kept me from doing my work and such a thing as doing my washing was out of the question. I often got dizzy and was afraid to walk across the room. My kidneys didn't act as they should and I felt miserable. One of my neighbors suggested Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at the East Side Drug Store. I got entirely over the trouble and I have felt fine ever since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Alexander had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

COULDN'T RAISE HER HAND TO HER HEAD

MRS. GANASH SAYS TANLAC WAS WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD TO HER.

"Before I finished my first bottle of Tanlac I knew that I had at last found just the medicine I needed," said Mrs. Mary Ganash who lives at 2217 North Second street, Minneapolis, Minn., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"There are many people who suffer from stomach trouble and indigestion just like I did," continued Mrs. Ganash, "and as a benefit to these people, I am glad to have this opportunity to tell them what great relief Tanlac has brought to me. When I commenced taking Tanlac my stomach was in such bad condition that I couldn't retain what little I ate, and I would have awful cramping spells on account of gas forming. Even a glass of milk would sometimes cause me to suffer terribly. I was badly constipated all the time, and had to take a purgative of some kind nearly every day. I had such bad spells of dizziness that I would have to hold on to something to keep from falling. I suffered a lot from headaches, too, and was so nervous that the least noise would upset me, and such a thing as a good night's sleep was out of the question with me. Then to add to my suffering, I contracted rheumatism in my arms and shoulders so bad that there were times when I couldn't raise my hand to my head. For the last three months before I commenced taking Tanlac, I was confined to my bed most of the time.

"Well, it just seemed impossible for me to find a medicine or treatment that would do me any good, but I made up my mind to keep on trying, so when I heard about Tanlac I bought a bottle and commenced taking it. I have only taken four bottles of this medicine so far, and I can truthfully say that I feel as well in every way as I ever did in my life. I have gained ten pounds already, and I know I am still gaining every day. I have a fine appetite, and the best of all is, I can eat anything I want and as much as I want and I never suffer a particle afterwards. The rheumatism and headaches have left me too, and that alone makes Tanlac worth its weight in gold to me. I sleep like a baby every night, and get up feeling fine every morning, and after eating a hearty breakfast, I do all my housework and it doesn't seem to tire me at all. I tell everybody I meet about Tanlac, and have gotten several people to take it. I just can't find words to express how happy I am, and how grateful I feel for what this wonderful medicine has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

SALARY BONUS FOR EX-SOLDIERS URGED

YANKS SERVED FOR PITTANCE, WANT SQUARE DEAL, ROYAL JOHNSON SAYS.

Advocating a soldier's bonus pay bill based on the length of service and a flat salary payment instead of having it tied up in any land reclamation scheme or otherwise, Rep. Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota, who served overseas as a captain, says the returning men do not feel that they have had a square deal.

"At the time of the armistice," says Johnson, "and after having seen the hardships which the American Expeditionary Forces suffered, I felt something more than the meager salary given the men of the army should be accorded them. After several months, it became clear to me the men who saw service felt—and I believe rightfully so—that they should receive a cash payment as salary for service rendered—not a bonus but a salary.

"All the time they served for a mere pittance, their fellows, who did not enter the service but remained in civil life, received high, and in many cases exhorbitant wages, and if they have exercised any care in their expenditures, now retain much of the extra compensation received on account of the war.

"An added reason for my conclusion is that practically every man who served with the American Expeditionary Forces, regardless of his rank, expended every cent he received from the army. There were many reasons for this expenditure. The enlisted man received practically nothing. After deducting his insurance and allowance the little he did have went for food and other necessities. Practically every man who has returned to the United States is absolutely without funds.

"He does not feel, and I do not believe he should feel he has received a square deal from the country for which he fought. He knows that Canada, with its small population men, which was retractive to July 1, paying its returned men and paying them well, and he cannot help but draw an individious comparison between the action of that government and our own."

Preparing For Wolf Drive.

There is no one who awaits the coming of winter more ardently than Ole Peterson, old time trapper and wolf hunter. Ole, who has been conducting an auto livery during the summer, has sold his car and is now preparing for his annual hunt at Red Lake. He is also better prepared than ever this year. His motor propelled ice boat is now equipped with the propeller formerly used by Lieut. Myron Bacon during his flights here. The propeller was slightly chipped on the end when the aviator hit a rock at the fair grounds and it was declared useless. Besides this the veteran hunter intends to use his pet baby wolf as a decoy by putting it on the prairie in a cage to howl and attract his brethern. "I'll get 'em this year," he says.

PROTECT SHEEP FROM STOMACH WORM ATTACK

DISEASE IS IN NEIGHBORHOOD AND SHOULD BE CAREFULLY GUARDED AGAINST.

Before winter sets in there will be several thousand head of sheep on the farms of Pennington county. While these animals require less attention than almost any other class of livestock, yet there are certain diseases to be vigilantly guarded against. One of these is the so-called stomach worm, which has already appeared on some of the farms in nearby counties. So far as known the trouble has not yet reached Pennington county flocks, but it is well for farmers to be posted on the methods to employ for its prevention and cure in case it does show up. The following facts are embodied in a circular issued by the bureau of animal husbandry and it may be found worth while to give the suggestions offered a trial.

Dullness and lack of thrift are among the first indications of "stomach worm." Scouring is often noticeable. These conditions might result from other causes, but when due to stomach worms, are accompanied by a pale, bloodless appearance of the skin and the mucous membranes of eyes and mouth. Sometimes there is a watery swelling under the jaws.

These very small worms live in the alimentary tract, principally in the "fourth stomach" and injure sheep by consuming blood, and by secreting a poisonous fluid which destroys red blood corpuscles. The injury is often fatal to lambs. Adult sheep are better able to withstand it.

The following treatment for diseased animals has been found to be practical.

Make a drench by dissolving one-fourth pound of powdered bluestone in a pint of boiling water, and add sufficient cold water to make a total of three gallons of solution. The dose for an adult sheep is 3½ fluid ounces, for lambs under a year old, 1 3-4 fluid ounces of this solution. It is better to use this early before serious trouble develops than to wait until the lambs begin to die.

Care, however, is necessary in drenching and improper dosing may cause serious damage. While the lambs are with the ewes, change pasture every two weeks if possible and do not return the flock to the old pastures until the lambs are sold.

The stomach worm lays its eggs in the stomach of the sheep. They are passed out with the feces and hatch on the ground. In the last larval or infectious stage, the young worms climb up on grass blades and are taken into the stomach of the sheep and lambs with their food. They will live for a long time in the pasture. For all practical purposes it may be considered that a pasture will not remain infested longer than a year, in the absence of sheep or other ruminants. Another way of freeing a pasture of its infection is to plow it up. It is not of much consequence whether every larvel stomach worm in the pasture is dead or not. The object is to keep the number so reduced that they are not likely to prove injurious to sheep.

Prevention when it is possible to take the necessary precautions is more satisfactory and economical than treatment. The most effective measures of prevention are:

Have the lambs dropped early, and feed to develop them as much as possible before they go on pasture. Rotate pastures. Where feasible, plow up infested land and put it in forage crops that will make good grazing for sheep. Where sufficient changes of pastures can not be provided, drench with bluestone as a preventive and curative measure. Many successful shepherds dose all the ewes before turning them on pastures with the lambs, and after weaning time, dose all the lambs that are to be kept. This is done as a means of keeping infection of the lambs down to a minimum.

HEADS HERD WITH PRIZE SHORTHORN

M. M'ANDRESS SECURES PRIZE-WINNING THOROBRED BULL.

The splendid herd of purebred Shorthorn cattle owned by Mike McAndress, the well-known stockman, was considerably augmented this week by the addition of a purebred sire, one of the best bred Shorthorn bulls to be found in the country, says the St. Hilaire Spectator. Mr. McAndress has long scouted around in an endeavor to find a sire out of the ordinary, and his choice finally fell on the famous bull, Palmer's V. Jeweler, bred by the Palmer Farming company, one of the best known breeders of Shorthorn cattle in the United States. Palmer's V. Jeweler has been on exhibition all summer at various fairs held in this section of the country and the captured prizes as follows: First at Northwestern fair at Crookston, first and champion awards at the Inter-State fair at Fargo, and first premium in the milking Shorthorn class at the Minnesota State fair, first and Junior Champion prizes at the North Dakota State fair. The famous bull is sired by Jeweler 2nd, 403321 dam, Maplelane Violet, 176489 which are recorded as prize winners in the Shorthorn class. Mr. McAndress won first prize with his Shorthorns as the best dairy herd exhibited at the Pennington County fair. He also took first in the two-year-old heifer class, first in the best cow class and first and third in butter production class. He is fast working into stock, the equal of which will be hard to find in this country. Mr. McAndress states that he is going to exhibit his new bull and part of his herd at the International show which will be held in Chicago the coming winter.

Are You Waiting For Higher Prices Before Building?

If so, you will surely not be disappointed. The tendency in the material market is steadily upward, which is but natural. The material now being manufactured is from the raw material turned out while the cost was at its highest point. For a long time building materials did not follow the general upward trend, being comparatively the cheapest commodities to be had. We urged everyone to build at that time, but some did not follow our advice.

We Repeat the Advice "Build Now"

A year from this fall it will cost more, unless all signs fail. Natural conditions are such that this cannot be avoided. Wages are steadily being advanced and everything else that enters into manufacturing are very high. The building material trade has long been able to maintain their products on a very low level when compared with others, but this cannot be continued indefinitely.

For This Reason We Again Say "Build Now"

HOME BUILDING IS REAL HAPPINESS

WELFARE DIVISION AGAIN IN CHARGE

READY TO TAKE OVER SUPPLYING OF WEARING APPAREL TO NEEDY.

The Social Welfare division of the Woman's club was reorganized at a meeting held last Tuesday. It is the intention of this division to have on hand and ready for distribution clothing and shoes for such as may be in need of articles of this kind and not able to supply them. This division of the Woman's club did excellent work last year and it is the intention to be in a position to now improve on the record then made. Because of the increased interest and more complete knowledge of the purposes of the organization at this time the ladies expect to see a much more liberal response to their appeals.

The first meeting of this branch will be held next Monday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms at 3 o'clock, Mrs. H. O. Loken and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen being in charge. As there is quite a lot of work to be done before starting on the actual task of collection it is hoped that all those who are interested will join the division at that time.

Anyone having clothing to donate toward carrying on this laudable enterprise are asked to send their contribution to the Red Cross room or to notify Mrs. Loken, who will see that the work of collection is properly looked after.

TURN CLOCK BACK NIGHT OF OCT. 26

BEING IN TOO GREAT RUSH WILL RESULT IN CONFUSION.

Do not be in too much of a hurry to set your clock or watch back to regular time. These dark mornings do not seem to fit in just right with the original scheme of things, but it must be borne with for about two weeks more. Here is what the Fargo Courier News says on the subject:

"Let is be said in view of the general confusion, that the official date for setting the hands of the clock back one hour is midnight, Sunday, October 26. This will put America's time pieces where they were before our late war, and it is probable the clocks will remain undisturbed ever after. Many persons, especially those living in rural communities, did not join in the daylight saving process and many others rearranged their time pieces October 1. The city man who gets out into the country can never be sure just what time he is getting.

"Time and tide, the old saying went, wait for no man, but during the war time was made at least to hesitate. Montaigne, the French essayist, relates his confusion over a revision of the calendar by the pope in which ten days were eliminated. He found that he never could get straightened out.

"It is this human desire for regularity that the daylight saving law conflicted with, and as much as anything else may account for congress having repealed the law over the veto of President Wilson."

Good Advertiser is Always a Leader.

The net effect of advertising in any community is to concentrate trade. It enables bright, enterprising, farsighted men to get the bulk of the business, far more than they could obtain on a non-advertising basis, says an exchange. It opens the way for them to introduce modern efficiency systems, to reduce costs thru large volume of trade, to take advantage of bargains offered in the wholesale market and to buy and sell in a large way.

Advertising tends to eliminate unenterprising merchants. These find they can no longer depend on the mere physical fact that they have a certain location, which really has nothing to do with the merit of the propositions they have to offer. They learn that old customers, catching the modern spirit, are looking out to see who is announcing the best values and will travel quite a distance to a less desirable location if necessary, to snap up an advertised bargain.

STARTED IN JOKE

Explanation of Story of Roosevelt's Hard Drinking.

Colonel Informed Group of Newspaper Men How the Rumor Originated—Jesting Remark Caused All the Trouble.

Few things in Colonel Roosevelt's later life are fresher in the public memory than his suit against a Michigan editor who accused him of drunkenness, writes John J. Leary, Jr., in McClure's. The unfortunate editor, unable to produce a scintilla of proof, admitted his fault, and so far as the records go, the matter was disposed of. There was nothing developed, however, to show where the tale starter or what foundation, if any, it might have had.

Colonel Roosevelt, however, had an explanation. He gave it to us one afternoon in the trophy room in Oyster Bay; when passing the cigars around, he remarked that he would vouch for the quality. "They must be good," he remarked, "for they're some of Leonard Wood's. I never smoke myself, so I have to rely on the judgment of others."

"Did you ever smoke?" some one asked.

"There is where that story of my drinking started," he continued, not hearing the question or ignoring it.

"You see, when I would decline a cigar, saying I did not smoke, folks would often ask, in a joking way: 'What are your bad habits?'. In the same spirit I would reply 'Prize fighting and strong drink.'

"Now, it so happens that the Lord in his infinite wisdom elected to create some folks with whom it is never safe to joke—solemn asses who lack a sense of humor. I am very fond of that story of Sidney Smith's who, playing with his children, stopped suddenly, saying: 'Children, we must now be serious—here comes a fool.' You know the kind he meant—those poor unfortunates who must take everything said to them literally.

"One of these to whom I made that remark said: 'Roosevelt, I hear drinks hard.' The other fool replied, 'Yes, that's true. He told me so himself.'

"And so it went."

"That is all there ever was to the talk of my drinking. From that start it spread and spread, until, in self-defense, I was compelled to take action to stop it. Some folks have said I went out of my way to find a little editor who could not defend himself. The fact is, he was the one editor I could hold to account. There were and are editors nearer New York I gladly would have sued under like circumstances, but they knew better than to print what they knew was untrue. Had any one of them done so I would have hauled them up short, and with much more glee than I did the Michigan man, for the men I have in mind have real malice toward me, and he, I am satisfied, had none.

"We parted good friends. I certainly had nothing against him. In his zeal to do things, he put in print what shrewder and really malicious men who would harm me if they could, dare not do. I believe he was honestly sorry when he found his error.

"However, the thing had its value. We're never too old to learn, and I learned to be careful with whom I cracked the simplest joke. Thank God, there are many you can joke with in safety. If we couldn't laugh once in a while what a world this would be! It wouldn't be a world—it would be a mad-house."

An Election Bet.

It was at the time of the presidential election. There were two boys, great chums, who expected to be married soon. One was a Republican, the other a Democrat. This young Republican was so sure of Hughes that he told his chum if his man lost, he would go without a shave a week before and a week after the wedding. He lost, and was married before a large crowd, as grizzly as a bear. He almost lost his bride over this episode.

American Legion Meeting.

A meeting of Pennington county post No. 117 of the American Legion was held in the Commercial club rooms last Thursday evening to adopt the by-laws and constitution and also the alien and slacker resolutions. A resolution on the latter was read and the matter was laid over until the next meeting while Secretary Smith was instructed to mail out copies of the resolution to each member of the Legion in order that they may better acquaint themselves with its clauses. Several new members were added to the roster and are as follows: Sam D. Rauze, Goodridge; John D. Hanson, Erie; Albert Walter Brink, St. Hilaire; Charles Brown and Charles Engler, Thief River Falls; Harry Hackett, Wylie; Frank Luflex, Olaf L. Aanstad, Alfred Adolphs and Oscar J. Linde, all of Thief River Falls.

"TWIN BEDS" AMONG TOP NOTCH SHOWS

POPULAR ROAD SHOW COMING TO THIEF RIVER FALLS OCTOBER 27.

Thief River Falls theatre goers will have a chance to see one of the top-notch shows of the theatrical world, when "Twin Beds" comes to the Auditorium October 27.

There is no doubt but what the big show house will be packed to its capacity when the curtain rises, for the $500 guarantee has been secured through the circulation of a list and a large outside attendance is predicted. A thorough advertising campaign will be put on next week and posters and bills will be sent to all nearby towns and villages.

The big road show is highly recommended and has just recently played a week's return engagement at the Metropolitan opera house in Minneapolis before taking up a tour of the principal cities in the Northwest. The company carries a car of scenery and also have their own electrical effects.

The show is a rollicking comedy from start to finish and local people who have seen it played say its a ripping performance.

Exhibits Received.

Olaf Tessum, chairman of the Commercial club's agricultural committee, has received a number of exhibits from numerous Pennington county farmers to replace the present display at the Soo depot. Some good specimens of garden products have been brought in and others are expected shortly. The committee is mighty particular in their selection and there is going to be some keen competition when the final choice is made. A large white squash has been donated but the committee is going to have a hard time getting it inside a jar, Mr. Tessum says, owing to its immense size.

The Times has the best equipped mechanical department in this section and does the best job printing.

$6,000 ADDITION TO MECHANICAL BUILDING BEGUN

SCHOOL BOYS TO DO LARGE PART OF WORK, CUTTING COST TO $3,000.

FEDERAL AID FOR SCHOOL

AGRICULTURAL COURSE UNDER SMITH-HUGHES LAW OPENED MONDAY.

A $6,000 addition to the mechanical building to promote a general mechanics' course in the Thief River Falls high school was the step taken by the school board at its meeting Monday evening.

Work of excavating ground for the basement was begun yesterday morning. The structure will be the same size as the present mechanical building, 32x45 feet, and will be built onto the south side of the present manual training room.

M. A. Schmitt, manual training instructor, has gone over the figures on the approximate cost of excavation, concrete work and lumber and finds that the building when completed would be worth $6,000 but it will just cost half according to his figures as the boys in the mechanical classes are going to do all the constructing work outside of the excavation and concrete work.

Have Bubblers Working.

The new structure will house the school well when the building is completed and the pump will be run all day by the use of an engine. In this way the bubblers throughout the Washington and Lincoln schools will be kept supplied with fresh running water. The building will have a full basement, a 10x20 wash room and locker and the structure will be a frame affair to begin with, although this may be changed next year into brick. All the work of a mechanical nature carried on in the high school now cannot be taken care of in the one room and the step taken by the school board Monday evening is to relieve the situation. Through the inauguration of work in the high school under the Smith-Hughes law a large number of students have enrolled to take up this work which is largely mechanical and additional space to carry out the plan was inevitable.

Course Opened.

The six months' agricultural course under the Smith-Hughes plan opened in the school last Monday morning and about fifteen are now enrolled with many more expected to come in and take advantage of the training. The general mechanics' course will open in about ten days, at which time some interesting subjects will be offered.

Representative Coming.

A Smith-Hughes man will arrive in the city the latter part of the week to discuss the details of how to put things into operation and get started right. His visit is the result of a long correspondence between him and Supt. Ziegler. The Thief River Falls schools will get $1,200 federal aid under the Smith-Hughes law for introducing this work, which is over and above any amount ever received before as school aid.

$15,000 BUILDING FOR KIEWEL BEGUN

CONTRACT GOES TO O. SEVERSON OF CROOKSTON—BRICK STRUCTURE.

Work of excavating for the new Kiewel building on Main avenue south between First street and the Great Northern tracks, was begun yesterday morning by a crew of men in the employ of O. Severson of Crookston, who was awarded the construction contract in that city on Saturday. The work will be pushed as rapidly as possible and the building will be ready for occupancy before the holidays.

The structure will occupy a ground space of 25x70 feet and will have a full basement. It will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of ice cream for the supplying of the section to the north and west of the city. The Kiewel concern has worked up a great reputation for their "Puritas" brand and during the past summer were unable to supply the demand.

According to Manager Helgeland of the local branch, the machinery for the plant will be of the very latest, and every detail connected with the institution fully equal to any in the larger cities. A large amount of raw material in the shape of milk and cream will be necessary in order to keep the two large freezers in constant operation, a fact that will work out to the benefit of the farmers and stockmen of the section.

Had Lots of Fun.

E. O. Mogenson, W. W. Prichard, H. W. Protzeller and A. F. La[illegible] returned Tuesday evening from a two days' duck hunt in the southern part of the county. They had lots of duck—both good and bad. Seventy ducks was the bag for the quartet, and the sport was good all the time they were out. Coming back, however, their troubles commenced. They were 12 hours coming in from Neptune, a distance of 25 miles, having had five blowouts while negotiating the distance. To add to their joys they ran out of gas and had to borrow from another driver, who was not much better off than themselves. Finally enough of the explosive was secured to take them home—right up to Mr. Mogensen's house—but more gasoline had to be secured before the car could be run to the garage. Even so, they had a good time and they brought home the ducks.

Wants House Wired.

A communication from O. Amundson, residing a short ways out of the city limits, was read before the council Tuesday evening, asking if it was possible to have his house wired and the council went on record as not favoring it. The councilmen were of the opinion that if those residing out of the limits wished to have light they ought to have a part in the paying of city taxes also.

LARSON BROTHERS PLAN FINE CHAPEL

WORK HAS BEGUN REMODELLING ADDITIONAL ROOM FOR FURNITURE STORE.

Carpenters on Monday began work at the Larson Furniture company building, at the corner of Main avenue and Third street, and the remodelling operations are now in full blast. Several entrances have been cut into the adjoining room of the store formerly used by E. O. Mogensen as a salesroom. The additional space will give the furniture company added floor space and when the work is completed they will have one of the finest and most up-to-date furniture stores in the Northwest.

In connection with the store they have made special plans for the building of a chapel in the west end of the store. Several alterations are to be made and on Tuesday evening O. L. Bakken appeared before the council asking for permission on behalf of Larson Brothers to build an additional step on the sidewalk at the entrance to the chapel. The council granted the request. When the chapel is completed it will be on a level with any in the state and Larson Brothers are sparing no efforts to make it so.

CORPORATION BUYS LYCEUM THEATRE

W. J. BROWN HEADS COMPANY ACQUIRING INTERESTS OF A. J. LAWRENCE.

The equipment and lease of the Lyceum theatre was this week sold by A. J. Lawrence to a company headed by W. J. Brown and Jordan Penney of this city. The new concern took charge at once. Mr. Brown will be president of a corporation to be formed for the purpose of conducting the house, while Mr. Penney will be the local manager.

Mr. Lawrence will leave in a couple of weeks to look over certain other locations. He has a fine place in view on the iron range and another in California.

Mr. Brown states that it is the intention to make a number of changes in the theatre at once. The most important of these will be the installation of a new ventilating system whereby the air in the place will be entirely renewed every twelve minutes. This is in line with the policy followed by the better theatres in the large cities and will commend itself to the public generally.

The picture service will also be extended. The Artcraft and Paramount films will be the leaders in a varied program, but to these will be added the plays of a new producing concern headed by D. W. Griffith and other famous directors. The first of the pictures from the studios of this concern will be shown here in the near future. It is called "Broken Blossoms," and is the newest and biggest thing out. Many of these pictures will be shown in this city before they are run in St. Paul and Minneapolis. The company intends putting out only a few pictures every year, but these will be something far out of the ordinary.

COUNCIL APPOINTS ELECTION JUDGES

TWO CLERKS TO BE CHOSEN BY JUDGES IN EACH WARD. ELECTION NOV. 4.

In view of the coming city election on November 4, the city council on Tuesday evening appointed judges for the four wards. A roll call was taken and those recommended were approved. The councilmen from the four wards appointed three judges from each ward, the judges to select their own clerks.

In the First ward the following were appointed: Edward Ness, Martin Evenson and Herman Ohm.

Second ward: S. T. Johnson, Elward Lee and Alfred Bredeson.

Third ward: Phil Eck, Al. Paramtead and Frank Mousley.

Fourth ward: Louis Corny, Roy Hulseth and C. M. Wilson.

LOCAL MEN TO GIVE TALKS AT CLUB TONIGHT

BIG LUNCHEON SCHEDULED AT 10 P. M.—GOOD PROGRAM ARRANGED.

DISCUSS WINTER ACTIVITY

MESSRS. SHAW, PROTZELLER, BRUMUND AND SAPERO ARE SPEAKERS.

A fine program of speeches and music has been arranged to take place at the Commercial club rooms tonight—the first fall meeting—at which time the fall activities of the club are to be discussed and ushered in.

If you are a member of the Commercial club don't fail to be present for if you do you are going to miss one of the best programs of the year. There will be lots of good eats too, for the Methodist ladies are going to look after this end of it and they have prepared gobs of good things that will tickle your palate.

Having failed to locate an outside speaker for the evening, the speakers committee thought the next best thing to do would be to call on some of the local business men to furnish this part of the program and discuss some of the problems that are here before the city to be dealt with.

Shaw to Speak.

Daniel Shaw is on the program and has been asked to talk on the proposed "Road to Red Lake." Mr. Shaw brought this question up at a Commercial club meeting held during the summer and the secretary of the club was instructed to write to Congressman Steenerson and ascertain what aid could be secured in putting the road through. Mr. Shaw is an ardent booster for this road and is deserving of the support of everyone in the movement.

H. W. Protzeller, general manager for the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway, will talk on the "Electric Light Situation," while Alderman Harry Brumund has been given the subject of "Paving." Abe Sapero will talk on "Improvement of the Railway Service."

All these subjects are live ones which concern everyone in the city and it is hoped a large attendance is registered at the meeting.

The affair will start at 8:30 p. m., and lunch is to be served at ten o'clock during which time a musical program will be rendered. The lunch will be something of a "grabteria" style but it's going to be a good one.

PHONE HEARING AT ST. PAUL ON OCT. 23

CITY ATTORNEY THEO. QUALE INSTRUCTED TO ATTEND AS CITY'S DELEGATE.

The State Railroad and Warehouse commission has called a meeting to be held in the state capitol, St. Paul, October 23, at which time the telephone rates will be investigated to determine the reasonableness of rates.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, Theo. Quale, city attorney, was instructed to attend the meeting on behalf of Thief River Falls.

The Railroad and Warehouse commission wants to know why the rates should not be reduced to their basis before the war or as near as possible.

STOCKMEN PREFER LATER SALE DATE

LAST DAY OF FAIR FAVORED FOR EXHIBIT AND AUCTION.

The Pennington County Stockbreeders association will not hold the annual exhibit and sale on Oct. 22 and 23, as was for some time the intention. At a meeting held in the office of County Agent J. J. McCann last week it was decided to call the event off for the present, the practically unanimous opinion being that this is not the proper time for putting it on. Very few head have thus far been listed for sale, and while the number would undoubtedly be largely increased before the date of sale, yet it was felt that no chance should be taken on such being the case. The stockmen themselves were of the opinion that the annual sale should be held on the last day of the county fair, thus helping the interest in that event.

The work of testing for tuberculin is also going on at this time and the general impression seemed to be that it would be better to wait until this was completed in order that nothing but certified animals might be offered.

Home For Nurses.

Nurses at the Physician's hospital began moving into their new home on Knight avenue north, Wednesday afternoon. The residence formerly used by the Swartz cigar factory has been thoroughly renovated for this purpose and the home is but a short distance from the hospital. The hospital is already pinched for room and with the addition of new nurses the hospital board found it necessary to provide a home for the nurses. Mrs. Frissell will act as matron. Miss Skeim is the new superintendent at the hospital succeeding Miss Chester, who left Wednesday for the home of her parents in the east.

Awarded Highway Medal.

Norman Severson, [illegible] St. Hilaire, patrolman in charge [illegible] State Road No. 2, was awarded [illegible] medal given by the Jefferson [illegible]way association to the pe[illegible] keeping the stretch of highway [illegible] his charge in the best condition. Mr. Severson's beat includes that [illegible] lying between Thief River [illegible] and St. Hilaire and most anyone who has traveled over that particular piece of pike will testify [illegible] the awarding committee's good judgment. The medal must be won three years in succession by some patrolman before it becomes [illegible] property, or good.

CITY IS HEALTHY; 1 CASE SMALLPOX

HEALTH OFFICER BIEDERMAN SAYS THIEF RIVER FALLS HAS GOOD RECORD.

Thief River Falls [illegible] in a healthy condition, according [illegible] Health Officer Dr. J. Biederman, [illegible] reports only one case of contagious disease and that being a case of small pox.

Dispatches from [illegible] Northwest report [illegible] numerous cases of influenza, diphtheria, [illegible] diseases as prevalent while Thief River Falls is unusually fortunate this fall in having [illegible] practically a clean slate.

It will be remembered that last year at this time the influenza epidemic was getting well under way and many new cases were reported daily in the city. A few months ago there were many fears expressed that an epidemic of influenza would again appear this year while it was thought that it would not be as [illegible]. No cases of influenza have been reported so far here this fall.

There are, however, reports of colds and sore throats, according to the health officer, but they are not considered serious and taken as a whole the city is in a very healthful condition.

291 MILES IN 13 HOURS OVER J. H.

GOOD TIME MADE BY DELEGATES TO LITTLE FALLS MEETING.

Daniel Pat[illegible]son and Norman Beebe of St. [illegible]laire, and Edwin Stebbins of Thief River Falls, delegates to the [illegible] meeting of the Jefferson Highway association held at Little Falls [illegible] week, returned Thursday, reporting a most enjoyable trip and [illegible] interesting session. They were accompanied on the journey down by [illegible]obert Claypool, publicity manager for the association, who happened to be in this neighborhood on [illegible]ness.

Mr. Stebbins was the chauffeur, driving a [illegible] furnished by G. S. Streeter of the Peoples' Auto company. That he [illegible] not permit the machine to loaf [illegible] the job is evidenced by the fact [illegible] the trip of 281 miles was made in little over 12 hours. This also [illegible] well for the condition of the r[illegible]ls.

According [illegible] these delegates the meeting was well attended, representatives present from practically every county thru which the highway runs. Among the speakers at the meeting were Senator P. H. McGarry of Walker, Mayor L. A. Hodgson of St. Paul, J. A. Beck, vice president for Minnesota of the Jefferson Highway association, and others. The B[illegible] block law was explained and support was pledged for that measure, the vote in favor of such action being unanimous.

SIREN FIRE ALARM ENROUTE TO CITY

SHIPMENT OF MOTORS LOST ON WAY TO FACTORY—CAUSE OF DELAY.

The new siren fire alarm apparatus is on its way from Chicago to Thief River Falls at last. It was shipped yesterday, according to a telegram received by Paul Midderigh, fire chief, and from all indications it's going to be a rippin[illegible] good one.

The siren [illegible] coming to the city on a trial offer and should have been here long ago, but owing to the fact that a shipment of motors to the siren factory became lost on the road, the company was unable to send the apparatus to the city without the motor, which is used in connection with the siren. The motors have not only raised in price of late, according to the factory, but they are also hard to get.

It is the intention of Mr. Midderigh to install the siren on top of the Auditorium and it will be operated by central through the use of an electric button. The siren is the latest type of noise producer on the market and it will be given a tryout on its arrival.

REVDAHL & CO. WILL BUILD BIG FACTORY HERE

FOUR LOTS PURCHASED WHERE FORMER MANUFACTURING CO. BUILDING STOOD.

WORK STARTS IN TEN DAYS

BUILDING WILL BE OF BRICK CONSTRUCTION, 50x100 FEET ONE STORY.

Actual work on the construction of a 100x50 foot one-story brick building to be used as a sash and door factory, will be begun in a week or ten days, according to Ole R. Revdahl, of Revdahl & Co., now engaged in the sash and door work in the building at the east end of the walking bridge.

The structure will be erected on the ground where the old Thief River Falls Manufacturing company's building formerly stood, on Knight avenue south. The four lots were purchased last Friday from Charles Evenson by Revdahl & Company, and it is the intention of the last-named firm to start building as soon as matters can be arranged with contractors.

The building formerly used by the Thief River Falls Manufacturing company was purchased by Charles Evenson and moved this summer to Second street, where it has been undergoing repairs and will be used by Mr. Evenson as a garage as well as a vulcanizing and auto painting shop.

Here 9 Months.

Since opening the factory on the East Side six months ago Revdahl & Co., have enjoyed a fine patronage and their products have been shipped to all parts of the surrounding country. They employ several men in the factory here at the present time, many of whom are old and experienced men of the old Thief River Manufacturing company. They also have a crew of men engaged in building barns and residences in different surrounding counties and the firm is now finishing up several jobs around Hallock. With the erection of the new building they contemplate enlarging the present working staff to meet with the ever increasing demands. Their present quarters are out of the question as they are unable to cope with the business on hand owing to room shortage and the only way to solve the matter is to erect a large and up-to-date building.

New Machinery.

Several new machines for the factory will be installed in their new home, according to plans, and these together with the present machines on hand will equip the place so that it will favorably compare with any institution of its kind in the Northwest.

High Class Work.

Work turned out by the factory has always been of a high order, and many outside orders have been placed with the firm. The general run of work is that of window sashes, doors, screen windows, finishing the interior of residences, special mill work, office furniture and church fixtures.

The business is a growing one and an institution that is an asset to the city.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING MONDAY

AIM OF ASSOCIATION IS TO RAISE THE STANDARDS OF HOME LIFE.

The first meeting of the recently organized Parent-Teacher association in Thief River Falls will be held next Monday to carry out the first formal program to be presented.

The Parent-Teacher organization program is a national movement and has been active for the past number of years. The aims and purposes of the association are to raise the standards of home life and to develop wiser and better-trained parenthood. To give young people, ignorant of the proper care and training of children, opportunities to learn this, that they may better learn the duties of parenthood. To bring into closer relations the home and the school, that the parents and teacher may co-operate intelligently in the education of the child. To surround the childhood of the whole world with that loving, wise care in the impressionable years of life, that will develop good citizens instead of lawbreakers and criminals. To carry the mother-love and mother-thought into all that concerns or touches childhood in the home, school, church and state.

WORKING TOWARDS REGISTERED STOCK

STUART M'LEOD AND OSMUND URDAHL SECURE GUERNSEY THOROBREDS.

The carload of Guernsey cattle purchased by County Agent J. J. McCann at Little Falls for Stuart McLeod and Osmund Urdahl of Goodridge, and which arrived last week, are all purebreds of the best breeding. The strain was originally imported by Guernsey breeders at Waukeena, Wis., and has long been famous.

The sire of the heifers purchased is First Celebrated Guernsey Island Champion and prize-winner. His mother is first Dawn, a cow of fine dairy type, giving 607.89 pounds of butter fat, which is a very creditable record for her time. The full sister of this sire, Dawn of Woodend, was the champion two-year-old of Minnesota a few years ago. She is in the advanced registry and has a record of 509.02 pounds of butter fat. There are 23 half-sisters of First Dawn's Governor in the advanced registry.

The sire of the cows pur[illegible]ed by the Goodridge people is t[illegible]ous imported Lord Marion No.

From the above records [illegible]ill be seen that Mr. McLeod and Mr. Urdahl plan on securing the best that can be obtained at the present time. The next step to be taken by these progressive farmers is to secure an official milk tester so that their stock may be placed in the advanced registry of the Guernsey Breeders' association.

FIRST NUMBER OF CLUB'S PROGRAM

JOHN SEAMAN GARNES TO GIVE READING HERE WEDNESDAY.

The first number on the fall and winter program of the Woman's club will be given next Wednesday at the rooms of the Commercial club. The attraction is John Seaman Garnes, one of the most widely known interpretative readers in the United States. Mr. Garnes has a varied program and the subject of his reading before the Thief River Falls club has not yet been announced.

This entertainer has appeared in all the leading cities of the country and is everywhere regarded as one of the finest in the business. Thief River Falls people are assured that they will be treated to something out of the ordinary if they attend this reading. The Boston Herald says of him:

"If Ben King in his palmiest days was ever any funnier than Mr. Garnes proved himself last night in his readings from that author, he must have been a very funny man indeed."

The Racine Daily Times in a recent issue says of an entertainment given in that city:

"John Seaman Garnes created a sensation last evening, when he appeared at Guild hall. His splendid personality caught the fancy of his audience from the first. His ability to interpret almost any role showed to great advantage in his superb rendering of "Monsieur Beaucaire," in which Mr. Garnes interpreted with distinct difference the six roles of the cast throughout the three acts of the story."

OBJECTS TO ROAD THROUGH HIS LAND

JOHN VIK, FARMER, BRINGS INJUNCTION AGAINST COUNTY OFFICIALS.

The board of county commissioners, County Engineer Glenn Martz and Contractor P. W. Roark, were yesterday served with papers ordering them to stop work on a piece of road a short distance south of St. Hilaire. The complainant is John Vik, a farmer, who claims that his property is being injured thru the laying out of the road on his land. The injunction was issued by Court Commissioner S. T. Johnson.

The proceeding to which Vik objects is the taking of a portion of his land for road purposes. The commissioners desired to eliminate a sharp and dangerous corner at the spot in question and laid the road out so as to provide for a longer turn. It was no part of their intention to deprive Mr. Vik of his property without proper compensation but he seemed unable to understand this. The commissioners rather welcome the suit as it will give the court an opportunity to pass upon the value of the strip needed in order to make this piece of road safe for travel.

Shot Widow's Hog.

Some miscreant whose line of reasoning it is hard to figure out, wantonly killed a hog belonging to Mrs. Vavolis, a widow living with her three children on the East side. The killing was done at about 1:30 o'clock last Monday night, the hog being at the time in a pen in the rear of the lot. Mrs. Vavolis heard the shot fired but was afraid to go out and investigate the matter. The marauder, if theft of the pork was his intention, was evidently frightened away before carrying out all of his program as the pig was found in the pen the next morning.

Sheep For Everybody.

On another page of The Times today will be found the announcement of a sale of western sheep. Olaf Rumstad is offering 1,000 head at a price of $10 each. These sheep are Montana stock and have been inspected to guard against transmitting disease. The stock was picked out personally by Mr. Rumstad and represents the best to be had in that section. This affords an excellent opportunity for anyone who wishes to get a start in this line of business.

SHAW DECLINES TO ENTER RACE FOR MAYOR

PLAN OF FRIENDS TO NOMINATE HIM IS BLOCKED AT THE OUTSET.

CANDIDATES ARE SCARCE

TEN DAYS YET REMAIN DURING WHICH FILINGS MAY BE MADE.

In spite of the importunities of friends and promises of the most liberal support, Daniel Shaw this morning stated positively that he would not be a candidate for mayor at the coming election.

The move to place Mr. Shaw at the head of the ticket was started more than a week ago without his knowledge or consent. Friends figured that if a sufficiently strong showing could be made he would not decline the honor, but in this they were evidently mistaken. The showing could not well have been stronger but Mr. Shaw refused to budge from his position. Inability to give the duties the attention their importance merits is stated by Mr. Shaw to be the principle reason for refusing the honor. He is grateful for the expressions of confidence indicated by the general demand that he permit his name to be used, but cannot at this time see his way clear to do so.

None So Far Announced.

Up to date no one has filed for the office of mayor. Ten days yet remain during which filings may be made and which still leaves ample time for anyone who wishes to enter the race.

Candidates for councilmen who have at this time announced their candidacy are Carl Froseth, First ward, and H. A. Brumund, Third ward. Both seek re-election. In the Second two men are mentioned as possible successors to M. N. Benson—B. E. Dalquist and John Dahl. In the Fourth there are two admitted candidates—Olaf Neset and Andrew Ness.

Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant has filed for re-election and it is expected that City Treasurer E. M. Evenson will do likewise.

The two aldermen at large—O. L. Ihle, president of the council, and Severen Brandon—will in all probability file for re-election, although neither of them has as yet done so.

Want Wires Underground.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, City Attorney Quale was instructed to find a copy of the ordinance covering the removal of telephone poles and wires from the street into the alley. The ordinance came up before the council some time ago and had one reading. The matter was brought about Tuesday when the paving question was brot up and Attorney Quale promised to have a copy of the ordinance for them at their next meeting at which time they could read it over and make any changes they deemed necessary.

Appointed Sewer Inspector.

Peter Eberhart, old time resident of Thief River Falls, was appointed by the council Tuesday night, to act as sewer inspector in District No. 2, where sewer and water extensions are to be made at this time under the contract let August 16. A vote was taken and Mr. Eberhart was appointed without a dissenting vote.

GOODRIDGE CHILD CLINIC A SUCCESS

THIRTY CHILDREN WERE EXAMINED—MANY PRESENT FROM THIS CITY.

A very successful child clinic was held at Goodridge last Saturday. Dr. G. K. Hagaman of St. Paul was the child specialist sent by the Northwestern Padiatric society and his work was especially well received by the parents. In spite of bad weather, thirty children were examined. These ranged in age from one baby sixteen days old, brought by its mother, up to those of five years. Many came from a long distance and as this was the first clinic held in the county outside of Thief River Falls, the county Public Health association feel much gratified at the interest shown. Dr. Hagaman was assisted by Miss Saucer, the Thief River Falls school nurse and Mrs. Swedenburg, former superintendent of the Physicians hospital. Miss Saucer has just returned from a years service in France as a Red Cross nurse. Prof. Norby and his teachers were a most efficient committee at Goodridge. Mesdames Thos. Way, J. J. Richter, J. H. Hardesty, Aitkins, Daniel Shaw and J. M. Bishop were the ladies from Thief River Falls who assisted the Goodridge committee.

NEW EVENSON GARAGE TO BE OPENED NOV. 1

INSTITUTION WILL BE BIGGEST OF ITS KIND IN THE NORTHWEST.

MANUFACTURE TIRES ALSO

BASEMENT, 48x100 FEET, TO BE USED FOR VULCANIZING ROOM.

"We expect to open our new garage and vulcanizing shop about the first of November," said Charles Evenson, of the Evenson & Sons garage today, "and the entire building will be steam-heated both night and day."

While there is still no little amount of work to be done on the large building before the firm opens for business, Mr. Evenson is confident the greater part of the work will be completed during the balance of this month. The firm has already begun receiving cars for repair and Mr. Evenson's son, Oscar, is now actively engaged in this work.

This week workmen began putting in the steam pipes throughout the large structure and as soon as this is completed the electric wiring is to be installed. Mr. Evenson thinks the place will be entirely completed by January first, while the work to be done after November first will not be of such an important nature and will not delay the opening of the place for business in any way.

A Growing Business.

Since returning from Gulfport, Miss., Mr. Evenson has conducted a vulcanizing shop at 321 Main avenue north and has met with great success since his venture in this line of work. Early last summer Mr. Evenson purchased the building formerly occupied by the Thief River Falls Manufacturing company and moved it to his lots on Second street and the work of remodeling has been going on up to this time. The structure affords an excellent place for this kind of a business, having a full basement and two additional floors, which are to be used as auto repairing and auto painting departments. Two large show rooms in the east and west corners of the front part of the building will serve as display quarters for the cars Evenson & Sons are to handle. Mr. Evenson has not as yet decided upon what cars he will act as agent for.

To Move Plant.

The tire vulcanizing machinery and balance of the plant at 321 Main avenue will be moved to the large building on Second street during this month. Mr. Evenson will also manufacture automobile tires at the new stand and intends to go into this business on a larger scale than ever before. The second floor of the building is to be used as an auto painting room and Mr. Evenson now has several expert men in this line to choose from. Through the use of an elevator cars will be run onto a platform and then brought up to the second floor. Local car owners who have been forced to go out of town for this work in the past will now be able to have their cars re-painted in first-class shape right here in Thief River Falls. No doubt many car owners in the city will take advantage of this and give their cars a new dress during the winter months.

Since opening his vulcanizing and tire manufacturing shop in Thief River Falls, Mr. Evenson has enjoyed a steady growth in business both locally and from the outside, and in order to give better service to his customers and take care of the ever increasing trade he has seen fit to take proper steps to meet the situation. Mr. Evenson will be ably assisted by his two sons and will also employ many men to take care of the work connected with the industry.

CITY SCHOOLS GET BIG LYCEUM COURSE

SIX HIGH CLASS ATTRACTIONS WILL COME TO THIEF RIVER FALLS.

A Lyceum course of exceptional high character has been secured by the public schools of this city and six entertainments will be given at various dates throughout the winter months. This course is in charge of the universities of Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin and they work in conjunction with the public schools. The entertainment furnished is of high order and any one of the attractions would cost practically the price of a whole season ticket, should they travel outside of the Lyceum course route.

The proceeds of the course will go into the athletic fund of the Lincoln high school, while the entertainment is being put on by the city schools as a whole. School children will begin the selling of season tickets next Monday and anyone securing one will not make a mistake. The attractions offered are to be staged at the auditorium in order to accomodate the large crowds that are expected to attend the Lyceum course numbers. The last course put on by the schools was staged at the high school, but this did not prove a success owing to the room shortage.

The numbers on the course are the Minneapolis Operatic company, Scheurer Concert company, Montaville Flowers, The Ongawas, Burg- The Fighting American Quartet American Quarter.

The date of the first number is not known at this time but will be announced as soon as word is received here.

derfer, entertainer, and Fighting is a number that will no doubt prove a winner. The company is composed of four former Yankee overseas soldiers, all wearing wound shevrons and two of them wear the fourrage, a decoration received for service with the French army. They will bring to the audience the songs the boys sang in France and the trenches.

The Ongawas is an entertainment of high class, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Michitaro Ongawa. It embodies as one feature a Jap playlet, "The Mirroe," a comedy of ancient Japanese life. Genuine Japanese melodies will be presented and will be of special interest to music students.

Montaville Flowers is an orator and his addresses are said to be like cathedrals—they have great plan, impressive structure, perfection in detail, intrinsic value and noble purpose.

Burgderfer is recognized as one of the greatest entertainers on the Lyceum platform and has been recalled to scores of cities and small towns. He has the natural gift of humor and good cheer, together with a pleasing personality that wins the crowd.

The Minneapolis Operatic company is an organization that is noted for performances of high quality as well as variety and novelty. The personnel is made up of singers of unusual natural endowments of voice and dramatic ability developed to a high point of excellence by careful training.

The Scheurer Concert company is another number of the course that will be a treat to music lovers. The musicians of this company are either now or have been members of the renowned Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

A half page ad appears on another page in this issue and explains the numbers on the program more fully.

"Person to Person" Long Distance Calls

When a long distance telephone call is made, specifying that conversation is desired with a particular person and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, the "person-to-person" rate applies.

This service requires a greater amount of operating effort and holds the wires for a longer period than "station-to-station" calls because a particular party must be brought to the telephone before the conversation is held. The rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station-to-station" rate.

When the calling party in placing his call names a specified time at which he wants to talk and the conversation is held accordingly, the "appointment" rate applies.

The "appointment" rate is about one-half greater than the "station-to-station" rate.

COUNCIL DISCUSSED SAFETY APPLIANCE

EIGHTH STREET CROSSING DECLARED DANGEROUS WITHOUT FLAGMAN.

The city council at its meeting Tuesday evening discussed informally the need of a safety appliance of some kind or a flagman for the Soo crossing at Eighth street.

The councilmen were of the opinion that something should be done before an accident occurs, owing to the fact that six tracks have to be crossed and at night it is a hard matter to detect whether the crossing is safe on account of box cars standing on side tracks obstructing the view. The council took steps along this very same line a few years ago but nothing resulted from its efforts. No action was taken on the matter Tuesday, however, but all the city dads believed something should be done at once in the way of making the crossing more safe. The Eighth street crossing is used more extensively than the one on Third street and for this reason the councilmen believe there should be some protection offered.

The following taken from a "Safety First" circular handed out by the Soo Line says: "A record of 233 recent crossing accidents show 30 were cases of machines stalled on the rails and were hit by trains; 111 were cases where drivers attempted to cross directly in front of trains; 1 skidded into trains; 19 ran into and broke down crossing bars, lowered for their protection; 3 ran into and injured the flagman; 4 ran into cattle guards or crossing signs and 6 ran over track end or were not sufficiently in the clear."

R. BUDD IS NEW G. N. RAIL PRES.

SUCCEEDS LOUIS HILL AS PRESIDENT OF ROAD—KENNY IS FEDERAL MANAGER.

Ralph Budd, executive president of the Great Northern railway, succeeded Louis Hill as president of the road last Thursday at the annual meeting of the board of directors. Mr. Hill retains, temporarily at least, the chairmanship of the board.

E. C. Lindley, George Martin and A. L. Ordean were re-elected directors by the stockholders of the road.

William P. Kenny, as federal manager, remains the operating head of the road under government control.

Three times Mr. Hill has been president of the road and three times he has relinquished the position. He was first elected to the position and served during the last years of his father, James J. Hill. He gave it up and was succeeded by C. R. Gray, later succeeding Gray, then Mr. Kenny took Mr. Hill's place and when the latter resigned to become federal manager of the G. N., Mr. Hill assumed the duties of president again.

G. P. Gehrey, traveling agent for the Soo line, was a caller in the city Wednesday in his official capacity.

L. E. Gilhausen, traveling auditor for the Soo line, passed thru the city Wednesday, enroute to Rollette, N. D., to make a transfer in agents at the North Dakota station.

Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry left for Minneapolis Tuesday on a business trip.

Henry Noss, engine watchman at Mahnomen, came up Wednesday morning on a brief visit.

Carl Solberg has been re-instated as roundhouse foreman for the Soo at Mahnomen, the change taking effect the forepart of the week.

John W. Moe, machinist at the Soo roundhouse, has resigned and will go to Minneapolis to make his home.

Victor Norquist, Soo fireman, left today for Fosston to be in attendance at the Thief River-Fosston football game.

Alfred Paulson and Ward Long, firemen, left this morning for Fosston to attend the football duel between Coach Tommeraasen's lads and Fosston. Paulson, who was badly scalded recently at the roundhouse, will report for work the first of next week.

Selmer Berg, who had his head pinched in an accident at the Soo roundhouse two weeks ago, goes back to work the first of next week.

Berger Wold, car man, went to Minneapolis Wednesday evening on a brief business mission.

John Dahl, carman, has returned from a trip to Duluth on business.

Robert Rasmussen, coach cleaner, left for Adams, N. D., to remain for a short time attending to business matters.

Nels Ostvolden and George Paranteau are back to work at the car department, after a trip to Minneapolis.

Christ Arneson has gone to work at the roundhouse as sweeper, vice Ole Rolsland, promoted to wiper.

John Ellason, machinist apprentice, is back on the job again after having returned from military service. This is Mr. Ellason's third year as apprentice.

K. LaCoe has accepted a position with the Soo here as boiler washer, vice Ward Long, resigned.

New Legion Members.

The membership of the Pennington county post of the American Legion is swelling every week, until today the roster has 185 names. This leaves Pennington county just 35 short of its allotment of 220 but this number will be secured before very long if the men continue to come in as fast as they have in the past. The Legion has already done great work for the returned service man in pushing through the state bonus bill and within a very short time the national bonus bill will be passed, providing for a year's additional pay to all service men.

New men who have joined are: Roy Busse, city; Selmer Gangness, city; Charles Hohum, Holt; Dehand Johnson, Holt; Ernest Phillipson, Holt; Alvin Rottke, Goodridge; Ole Tronsdahl, city; Olaf Tonning, Adams, N. D.; Arthur Bryant, city; Edwin Stebbins, city; Ambrose Zeh, city; Henry Myrum, city; Edwin J. Dahl, St. Hilaire; Hugh Smith, Mavie; Truman Stageberg, city; M. G. Rauze, Goodridge; Clarence Aga, city; John Oski, Mavie.

Soldier application blanks have been ordered by Secretary Smith of the Legion, but only 50 arrived and it was impossible to supply all the members. A request for more has been made and will be distributed as soon as they arrive. The trouble seems to be that the printing presses cannot turn out the blanks rapidly enough to supply the whole state at one time and only small dabs are being sent.

POULTRY EXHIBIT HERE NEXT MONTH

NOVEMBER 18, 19, 20 SET AS DATES FOR BIG SHOW.

At a meeting of the Pennington County Poultry association held at the office of the farm bureau on Tuesday evening it was decided to hold the annual poultry show on Nov. 18, 19 and 20. These dates correspond with those on which the big show was held last year, these being found to be very convenient for exhibitors and the public generally.

Last year there were more than 700 entries at the show, making it one of the largest in the state. Officials of the association believe that the coming show will find 1,000 entries recorded at least as the interest in poultry raising thruout the county is greater than ever before.

Practically the same conditions as last year will govern. Chickens will without doubt form the bulk of the exhibit, but geese, ducks, turkeys and pigeons will be very much in evidence. There will also be a department for rabbits and guinea fowl.

It was decided to hold the exhibition in the auditorium this year. No other suitable building is available at this time and it is not likely that the situation will be changed in this respect later on.

Giving Away Soap.

In an advertisement inserted in this issue by Zeh & Curran will be found an offer that should interest every housewife in Pennington county. This grocery firm will give away absolutely free 1,000 bars of White Borax Naphtha soap as an advertisement. The distribution date has been set for next Wednesday, at which time any woman in the neighborhood may go to the Zeh & Curran store and secure two bars of this fine soap for the asking. There are no strings to this offer. All that is necessary in order to take advantage of it is that application be made before the thousand bars are gone. Read the offer. It is interesting.

Two New Teachers.

Two new teachers began their duties at Lincoln high school Monday. Miss Avis Akre, who taught last year, resumed her work as instructor in Latin and physiology. Gordon Mellby is the new history teacher and comes from Carlton college. He is a band man and is playing with the local band at rehearsals. He is also coaching the second football team of the high school. Supt. Ziegler reports today that the total attendance at the high school is 415, including high school students and those enrolled under the Smith-Hughes nine and six months' term. There is still an additional teacher signed up for the term but has not arrived here as yet.

The Princess.

Manager Brumund reports business at the Princess particularly good since the evenings have turned so cool that automobiling is no longer a comfortable pastime. The pictures shown are uniformly good and the house enjoys an excellent patronage.

Tonight and tomorrow the offering will be "The Third Degree," in which is featured Alice Joyce, perhaps the most popular of all Vitagraph stars. This is a picturization of Charles Kleins great stage success and is one of the best plays of the year.

It is rather unusual to find two stars of the magnitude of Roy Stewart and Charlie Chaplin on one bill, but the Princess will present both on Saturday evening. Stewart will be seen in one of the greatest of all his western pictures, "The Silent Rider." Pretty Betty Flemming is Mr. Stewart's leading lady in this play. There is nothing to be said about Chaplin's "Floor-Walker"—it's funny, that's all. This double bill is a corker.

Florence Reed, one of the finest emotional actresses on the screen or stage, will be seen on Sunday evening at the Princess in "Wives of Men." The story forcibly presents how both the upper and lower classes live in New York City. It is a seven-part picture, packed full of action and a real-surprise finish. Miss Reed displays some stunning gowns in this picture.

Monday night's program has not yet been announced, but it will be in keeping with the rest of the week.

For Tuesday and Wednesday evening the attraction is "Man's Desire," with Lewis S. Stone in the leading role. It is a gripping story of the big woods country where men are rough and elemental, given to violent settlement of their differences, but are loyal to the interests they serve. It is a big outdoor picture, full of thrilling situations.

"Told in the Hills"

A Rhymed Review

(By Russell Holman)

Would you come to a Land of Promise,
To the West of the golden days,
Rugged country of crags and canyons,
Forty-niners and border frays?

Would you like to be stirred by romance,
High adventure that's gripping and clean,
Go through fire with a real man's hero,
View a picture that honors the screen?

See the soldier-star, Robert Warwick
In the tale that is "Told in the Hills."
Like a breath from the West that's vanished,
It is crowded with heart-throbs and thrills.

TOO GREAT A STRAIN.

No matter what our individual opinions may be as to the advisability of ratifying the league of nations covenant, every American will hope for the speedy recovery of President Wilson. Late reports from Washington are not very encouraging, it being even hinted that Mr. Wilson may be compelled to relinquish the reins of government for the present, allowing Vice President Marshall to assume control. It implies no lack of confidence in the ability of the vice president to hope that no such arrangement will be found necessary. President Wilson's present condition is the result of overwork, and was brought on by his close application to duty in the interests of the country. He is paying for that peculiar trait in his makeup which renders it impossible for him to delegate important matters to subordinates. Whether it is that he fears no one but himself can be trusted to carry out his policies or for some other reason, it is certain that he allows nothing of moment to get by without his personal consideration. In a smaller job this characteristic would be invaluable, but no man living could carry it out as president of the United States without giving away somewhere.

The entire nation hopes that the president will soon be able to take the helm again. To collapse now, just when the policies to which he has given the best work of his life are about to be tried out, is the last thing for which even his enemies would wish.

AN ODD WHEAT CROP.

One of the most peculiar crops of wheat ever produced in the Northwest is being marketed this fall in the Twin Cities, which are receiving nearly all the grain shipped from local elevators in Minnesota and in Dakota. No two crops of wheat are quite alike, as marked variations from the average usually are noted every season, but rarely does a crop depart so radically from the average as does that of 1919, according to Commissioner O. P. B. Jacobson, of the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse Commission.

Figures compiled by the grain inspection service of the Commission show that the bulk of the wheat received in Minneapolis is far below the mean standard of good wheat in the matter of weight. Of 3,523 carloads of dark Northern spring wheat inspected there in September last, only 354 cars were graded No. 1, while 2,060 carloads were graded No. 4 or lower. That is to say, only about 10 per cent of the present crop of Northwestern wheat is of the top grade, while about 60 per cent is very light. In the case of the Northern spring class, the figures show that only 265 carloads out of a total of 3,149 cars, or less than 8 per cent, was given a rating of No. 1 upon official inspection.

The weight and appearance of the first samples of the present crop to reach the local market were so far below par that the commission men could not even obtain any bids from the millers. Later, however, it was demonstrated through tests conducted by the State Railroad Commission in its laboratory, that the wheat, though shrunken and shrivelled and light in weight, could be ground into good flour, which produced excellent bread. As a result of these milling and baking tests, the United States Grain Corporation, after a conference in New York City, August 26th, with officials from Minnesota and the Dakotas, fixed definite prices for the outcast grain commenaurate with its milling value.

The scarcity of high grade wheat naturally has placed it at a high premium as that grain is greatly desired by the millers for mixing with the Southern starchy wheat, which now is being freely used by the Northwestern millers. In the matter of wheat premiums, some unusual situations have developed. For instance, on October 3rd, there was a "spread" in price of 35c a bushel between two different samples of No. 1 dark Northern, although, theoretically, the two samples should have been quoted [illegible]. The United States Grain Corporation could [illegible] have paid more than $2.21½ for either but the Minneapolis millers offered $2.95 a bushel for one sample and only $2.60 for the other, although both graded exacly alike.

Mr. Jacobson believes that the September figures will prove an almost exact indication for the [illegible]ive crop of the Northwest and that only about 10 per cent will be graded as No. 1, while the great [illegible]ll be found to be No. 4 or lower.

[illegible] in Luverne a man was last week fined $500 [illegible] selling whiskey, his price being $12.50 per quart. [illegible]at fellow is not only a bootlegger—he is also a profiteer, which is worse.

Un[illegible]mous approval of Norway's participation in the League of Nations was given in the report of the [illegible]mittee appointed by the government. The [illegible] pointed out that nations which remained [illegible]e League would forfeit essential political, [illegible]l and economical advantages.

THE TIME TO BUILD.

It may seem as if building materials are high in price at the present time. but the chances are that they will be still higher. It is certain that the pre-war figure will not be reached for years, if ever. The world situation is such that any expectation of a reduction in the immediate future will be doomed to disappointment.

The warning of an inevitable increase was sounded long before it actually took place. People were told that higher prices for commodities were certain to come and to make provisions for their building operations at that time. Those who profitted by this advice were wise. Those who saw in it only an attempt on the part of building material dealers to hasten the sale of their wares now find themselves confronted by higher prices. They would have been better off had they listened to what men experienced in this line of business told them.

Again the warning is sounded. It may seem as if construction material has reached the highest point and will soon come down. Everything points to the opposite as being the case. The products now in dealers' hands were all manufactured under high cost conditions. The demand is enormous and the supply none too plentiful owing to the curtailed production made necessary during the war. Under such circumstances it is foolish to hope for a reduction in the cost.

The thing for the man who has any building to do is to build now—this fall. In proportion to other commodities the material he will require is not high. When it goes lower it is certain that whatever he has to sell, whether it be farm products or labor, will also be lower—and the average may not be so well balanced.

If you have any building to do, go right ahead. You would have saved money had you started six months ago, but that is no reason why you should wait six months more. The past program may repeat itself and you will be proportionately worse off for delaying.

BUY TREASURY CERTIFICATES.

A nation-wide campaign is being conducted for the sale of Treasury Savings Certificates. These securities are the best and most popular ever offered by any government and the person who can in any manner manage to make the payments is overlooking an exceptional opportunity if he does not take full advantage of the offer.

These certificates bear four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, which means that they yield a little more than 4¼ per cent per year. They are tax free, with the exception of estate or inheritance taxes, which adds still further to their value. The date of maturity is January 1, 1924, but principal and interest will be paid in full at any time after two calendar months upon ten days' notice. Market fluctuations do not affect these certificates in any manner and the principal and interest is guaranteed by the United States government.

A hundred dollar certificate may be purchased during the month of October for $84.20, payment for same being permitted any time up to Jan. 1, 1920. On Jan. 1, 1924, the government will redeem this certificate at its face value of $100.

Not alone is it good business to invest in these certificates, but it is a patriotic duty to buy them. The government needs the money and prefers to secure it through these popular loans, thereby giving the people an opportunity to invest their savings in a highly profitable and absolutely safe security.

All certificates will be registered at Washington, this providing an additional safeguard for the purchaser.

COME, BE A SPORT.

The Thief River Falls high school team is putting up an article of football that deserves a little more attention than is being given the subject by the general public. Coach Tommeraasen has a bunch of huskies who promise to be championship contenders before the end of the season. It is the kind of team that almost any other town would rave over, but it seems as if our people are too busy or too lacking in sporting instincts to even work up a noticeable degree of enthusiasm over its achievements.

The game last Saturday showed what the boys can do. Pitted against a team that outweighed them in every department, they nevertheless outclassed their opponents at all points. They are fast, confident and full of fight. They will go far if given the right kind of support—in fact there is not a team in this section starting the season with greater promise. This is all the more remarkable when the fact that a majority of the players had to be taken in hand as green material at the opening of the season is considered.

A considerable number of good games are still to be played. Get out and root for the home bunch next time they are pitted against some neighboring team on the gridiron. It will be a good thing for the boys and will help take some of the smoke off your own lungs.

The Woman's club is entitled to a great deal of credit on general principles, of course, but just now the community is under obligation to the ladies for having provided a course of entertainments for the fall and winter months. The first number on the program will be presented next Wednesday evening, and it is a good one. The capacity of the house should be taxed to hold the crowd that will wish to hear John Seaman Garnes—and if the people once get started they will not quit until they have seen and heard everything enumerated in the schedule.

Pure Bred Live Stock Advantages Shown

The definition of the term "purebred sires" is written in one word—"economy." There are many definitions, many of them learned and long, that might be written, but the breeding experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, when they met recently to launch the state and national crusade for "Better Sires—Better Stock," agreed that the primary meaning is economy.

The "scrub" hog requires a certain number of bushels of corn to make 200 pounds of pork. The purebred or highgrade hog takes the same number of bushels of corn and makes 300 pounds of pork. The purebred or high-grade cow makes three gallons of milk out of the same quantity of silage that the scrub cow uses to make a gallon and a half of milk. These figures are not meant to be scientifically exact, of course, but merely to illustrate the principle. The result is that the farmer gets more pounds of salable product out of his feed when he uses purebred sires at the head of his herds and flocks. He gets more money and his family lives better. But something else happens. When he sells more pounds of a better class of meat or more gallons of rich milk, he feeds the city family better than he did when he kept scrub stock. The final result of purebred sires is that the farmer makes more money and the city family gets more and better food, probably at lower prices.

The crusade, the experts say, eventually will tend to result in reducing the cost of living to the consumer without taking the difference out of the pocket of the producer. For that reason, they point out, the city man has a definite, money interest in the better sires crusade. While he can hardly be expected to put the same amount of effort into it that the live stock breeder should, he is expected to give encouragement and aid to the program whenever the opportunity offers. And there will be no lack of opportunity, particularly in the smaller cities and towns, where the farmers are in close contact with the city business men.

Human Classifications

Irvin S. Cobb in the Saturday Evening Post: It seems to me one of the chief peculiarities of human nature is that it divides all civilized mankind into two special groups—those who think they could run any newspaper better than the man who is trying to run it, and those who think they could run any hotel better than the man who is hanging on as manager or proprietor of it. There are subdivisional classifications of course—for example, women who think they can tell another women how to bring up her children without spoiling them to death, and women who are absolutely sure no women on earth can tell them anything about the right way to bring up their own children; which two groupings include practically all women.

How to Remove Soot

Large numbers of shingle roof and defective flue fires are being reported, due to the increasing use of soft coal. The accumulations of soot on heating surfaces reduce the value of the fuel, and frequently clog the flues and start fires. The following plan for removal of soot is suggested:

The fire is put into good condition with a substantial body of hot fuel. Common salt, thoroughly dried, is then thrown or sprinkled onto the incandescent fuel bed in a quantity depending entirely on the size of the furnace. In the case of a house heating furnace, one pound at a time is ample, in the case of a large power plant boiler, four or five scoops full may be required. The dampers are kept open so as to maintain the furnace temeprature and the salt is allowed to remain until the fumes have entirely disappeared.

Immediately upon charging the salt, the furnace becomes filled with dense white fumes which may require as much as half an hour to entirely disappear. If results are not secured on the first application, it should be repeated as many times as necessary.

Once the heating surface is thoroughly cleaned a small application every few days is usually sufficient to keep it so.

A Peaceful Section

(Warren Sheaf.)

The people of Marshall county as well as of the entire Red River valley in Minnesota have good reason to consider themselves fortunate that their lot has been cast in this peaceful corner of the world, far removed from the strife and turmoil that now exists in the big cities and the great industrial centers of the land. We can scarcely realize how horrible must be the conditions in those localities where strikes and riots occur. The anxiety, uncertainty, hate and fear in the hearts of the people of these localities must make life miserable. Though all the people in the nation are more or less inter-dependent upon one another's labors and efforts, yet the dwellers in the Red River valley are less affected by disturbances in the industrial centers than most any other section that might be named. Let us be thankful that we live in the peaceful and prosperous Red River Valley.

LED BEHIND THE LINES

While General John J. Pershing was leading two million fighters at the front, Bishop Peter J. Muldoon, Chairman of the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic War Council, was directing the war work behind the lines of at least as many men and women. With the three other bishops representing the hierarchy of the Catholic Church in this country, this vigorous Bishop of Rockford was responsible for the co-ordination, control and efficiency of all the organized activities for Uncle Sam of all the Catholic workers in this land and overseas from beginning to end of our part in the world war. And all the time he was planning to turn his welfare army into fighting forces for true Americanization and real reconstruction at the return of peace. Incidentally, it may be added that he was also administering, just as effectively as ever, the affairs of his large diocese out at Rockford, Ill.

RT. REV. PETER J. MULDOON, D. D.
Bishop of Rockford, Chairman, Administrative Committee, National Catholic War Council.

When he reports to the conference of the hierarchy of his church, that has been called this month in Washington to consider the work, past and future, of the National Catholic War Council, Bishop Muldoon will relate a striking chapter in the history of American war work and outline a future prospect of continuing to aid the government through the trying times ahead. This is what he has to say about the work of his organization:

"The National Catholic War Council represents the patriotic effort of a great church. We Catholics believe with all the intensity of our nature that nowhere in the wide world has the church such freedom and opportunity as under the Stars and Stripes, and consequently we feel that we cannot do too much to express our gratitude and patriotism. We felt it was not enough that the sons and daughters should individually serve and suffer that our flag might be kept on high. Our church wishes to go further and to put into the field an organization ready to give assistance at all times to our government."

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY—

Missoula, Mont., Missoulian:—"We think the stand taken by the Roman Catholic bishops for public health inspection in all schools both wise and admirable."

Newark, N. J., News:—"This report of the National Catholic War Council marks an advance that is remarkable in what may be called the general clerical social thinking."

Columbus, O., Journal:—"The plan of the National Catholic War Council to buy land for returning soldiers is the finest project for reconstructing this country out of its war vicissitudes that has yet been suggested."

Oakland, Cal., Labor Review:—"The organized wage earners of America will hail the social reconstruction pronouncement of the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic War Council with heartfelt enthusiasm."—Frank P. Walsh.

San Francisco, Cal., Star:—"In that remarkable pamphlet issued by the National Catholic War Council upon 'Social Reconstruction' there is a discussion headed, 'Present Wage Rate Should Be Sustained,' which should be read by everyone—especially reactionary members of Congress."

Schenectady, N. Y., Gazette:—"No more patriotic and useful campaign could be undertaken than the recent one launched by the National Catholic War Council for the purpose of teaching both native and foreign-born Americans the meaning of democracy and the fundamental principles of our form of government."

Detroit, Mich., News:—"Now the deliverance of the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic War Council on the essentials of a just reconstruction of society after the war has awakened leaders of Protestantism to the fact that the Catholic Church in America is in the vanguard of the struggle for the practical establishment of the 'Christ Mind' in the new social structure."

CITY AND RURAL SCHOOL VALUES INCREASE ALIKE

TOTAL IS $24,000 FOR CITY AND $23,169 FOR COUNTRY DISTRICTS.

NO ENROLLMENT INCREASE

COUNTY HAS 76 SCHOOL BUILDINGS—PROPERTY VALUE $303,140.

People residing in the rural districts of Pennington county will be surprised to learn that their school properties increased practically as much as those in the city of Thief River Falls, in spite of the fact that a modern graded school was erected last year by the district in which is located the municipality. The total increase in the value of all school property, according to the report of Superintendent George M. Gunderson, was $47,196, of which $24,000 was spent in the city and $23,169 in the country districts. The property value increase in the city is entirely represented by the cost of erecting and equipping the new building, being reported at $186,500 a year ago and at $210,500 at the present time. The value of the country schools, according to Supt. Gunderson's report, is now $92,640 as compared with $69,471 a year ago.

Enrollment Stationery.

There are one state high school, two consolidated schools and 73 graded and rural schools in the county. The total enrollment for the current year is 3,233 as compared with 3,212 at the corresponding period in 1918. A census of all children of school age, which includes all between the ages of 6 and 18 years, shows that there are 2,785 such at the present time as compared to 2,731 a year ago. This shows that there are 178 pupils under six and over 18 years who are attending school.

The number of teachers employed in the county during 1918 was 136, this number having been reduced by four in the present report.

Financial Condition.

The total amount of cash on hand at the beginning of the year was $42,973.87, of which $13,540.66 was credited to the high and consolidated schools, and $29,432.91 to the grades and rurals.

During the past year general control cost $3,695.68 in the advanced schools and $1,191.66 in the graded and rurals. Teachers' wages in round numbers amounted to $84,000, $49,000 of which went to the high schools and $35,000 to the rurals. The total cost of operation of the high schools was $100,000 as compared with $3,500 in the country districts. Transportation of pupils cost $2,246.01 in the city and $399.22 in the country.

HUNTING IS GOOD; HONKERS FLY OVER

VANGUARD OF FLYING NORTHERN DUCKS BEGINS, HUNTERS REPORT.

Duck hunters who went out over Saturday and Sunday reported good luck in their hunting and according to reports the country east of the city is the feeding ground for thousands of birds. According to the hunters Saturday and Sunday were the best hunting days of the season and there were some fine reports of northern ducks flying. Some of the small water places froze over and flocks of ducks have been forced to move to larger bodies of water, including the Thief and Red Lake rivers. If it is true that the vanguard of northern ducks have arrived and with the report of warmer weather, there should be several days of excellent duck hunting before the cold weather sets in.

A party composed of Peter Peterson, George Loken and Dr. Crandall returned Monday evening with as fine a string as has been brought to the city. The birds were gotten near Red Lake and a prize bird was shot down by Dr. Crandall.

The attention of pedestrians was attracted skyward late Monday night by the vociferous honking of a flock of southward bound geese. To returned men it reminded them of the days in France when they would stretch their necks trying to locate old "Fritz" and his machine on a dark night. "Winter is on its way" a star gazer casually remarked.

School Nurse Progressing.

Miss Saucer, the school nurse, is progressing in her work in fine shape. She has established an office in each of the school houses and holds regular examinations as to the children's health. Last year there were several cases of sickness that were nipped in the bud as the result of having a nurse on the job and thus probably prevented the starting of an epidemic among the children in the school rooms. When an isolated case develops, it is usually discovered, which is one of the excellent features of having a school nurse to look after such matters. Dr. Froehlich has been appointed school physician.

Eastern Star Meeting.

Miss Jane Todd of Austin, Worthy Grand Matron of Eastern Stars of this state, made her official visit to the local chapter on Tuesday.

Upon her arrival here a group of ladies escorted her to the Evelyn hotel, where a five course luncheon was served.

After lunch the ladies proceeded to the home of Mrs. J. M. Bishop, where a very enjoyable afternoon was spent in visiting. Most of the guests were former past matrons of the local chapter.

In the evening a meeting was held in the lodge rooms, when the work of the star was exemplified. Mrs. G. H. Frissell was initiated and there was a very large attendance, approximately 200 members being present.

When the business meeting was completed a social time was enjoyed after which a very fine lunch was served. The tables were beautifully decorated with pink roses and ferns.

At the close of the evening the chapter presented Miss Todd with a spoon as a token of their appreciation. Mrs. J. M. Bishop, who was a Past Grand Officer, was presented with a large bouquet of roses.

"Twin Beds"

If a merry comedy that alternates roars, screams and yells of laughter wiht gatling gun rapidity is what theatre goers want, then those that will witness "Twin Beds" at the Auditorium on Monday, Oct. 27, will get all they want. All the world is laughing over "Twin Beds" which is conceded to be the funniest play ever written. Year after year, it goes bobbing along delightfully and skillfully and holds the audience helpless with mirth. It is roaring romping fun. In ingenuity of situation and incident, comic aspect of character, rapidity of movement and unfaltering sense of humor, "Twin Beds" is said to be unique among the lighter plays the stage has ever known. The prominent New York cast and production playing all the larger cities in the West will be seen here. Seats will go on sale at Lambert's Drug Store on Oct. 20, in the morning. o16

BONUS BLANKS GO FAST ON ARRIVING

FIRST SHIPMENT EXHAUSTED RAPIDLY BUT SECOND SUPPLY ARRIVES.

Bonus application blanks, with which returned service men will apply to the State of Minnesota for bonuses granted at a special session of the legislature, arrived in the city Saturday noon over the Great Northern. The news leaked out and from 4 o'clock to six there was a steady stream of men asking for G. H. Smith's office in the Commercial club rooms. The men wanted to get the applications in on the evening flyer and some made it. Mr. Smith, secretary of the local Legion, had intended to mail the applications out to Legion members but many called for them and their names were checked off the list.

The supply of applications billed to Clerk of Court Eklund did not arrive until Tuesday noon and another supply is now on the road to take care of the demand.

Kelleys on a Visit.

The following item taken from the Grand Forks American, will be of interest to the friends of the younger man in this city. He is an employe of the Soo railroad:

"J. P. Kelly, a prominent farmer of Walsh county, and son, Frank J. Kelly, were visitors at the American office today. Mr. Kelly, Sr., operates a large farm in the district south of Pisek.

"Frank Kelly, the son, returned to his home after having served for 13 months with the First division of the United States army overseas. He was through all of the important battles in which the United States troops took part, including the Argonne, Cantigny, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Sedan and other important engagements.

"The statement made some years ago by Sherman was verified by Mr. Kelly, with emphasis."

INTERESTING SESSION OF GIRLS' COMMUNITY CLUB

MISS SAUCER, SCHOOL NURSE, TELLS OF HER EXPERIENCES IN FRANCE.

The Girls' Community club held a meeting at the Commercial club rooms Monday evening and it proved to be the best of the season. It was a business meeting but there were also other big features connected with it that made it one out of the ordinary.

A gymnasium class was organized and the girls will hold a meeting tonight at the Lincoln high school gym to make final arrangements and also decide upon the night for the class.

Miss Marie Nelson, president of the local club, and Miss Blanche Johnson, who went as delegates from Thief River Falls to Little Falls to attend the Federation convention, gave an interesting report on the work of the convention.

Miss Saucer, who is at present the school nurse in this city, and who served in France as a Red Cross nurse, related some of her experiences while on the other side of the water, which proved of great interest to all her listeners. She also gave an excellent t[illegible] on Home Civic work.

"Gym" Material Here.

The first shipment of part of the equipment to be used in the gymnasium under the Citizens' State bank, arrived in the city the latter part of last week, and the balance is expected from Chicago within a short time. Workmen are still busy in the basement fixing the room up for occupancy but they have been held back with their work considerable on account of delay in the arrival of sand to be used in the plastering of the east and south walls. No definite date as to the opening of the "gym" can be given out, but Mr. Fallness expects everything will be in order by the first of November.

Tads Enjoy Apparatus.

Giant strides and a new set of swings have been installed at all of the city school grounds and the tads are making full use of them during the recess hour, before and after school, Sundays and evenings. The contrivances are proving very popular. At the Washington school the children are provided with an aluminum chute and this has made the greatest hit of all the play-ground apparatus.

SLIGHT DECLINE NOTED IN TOTAL CREAM RECEIPTS

MORE THAN $10,000 PER DAY STILL BEING PAID OUT, HOWEVER.

124 PATRONS GET $10,691

TWICE THIS AMOUNT IS IN CHECKS OF LESS THAN $50.00.

Secretary Peter Engelstad reports that the total receipts of milk and cream at the plant of the Thief River Falls Co-operative creamery shows a slight falling off for the month of September, but that more than $10,000 per day is still being distributed among the patrons of the institution. The total for the month was $30,742.38 as compared with $19,676.25 for the corresponding period a year ago—an increase of 55 per cent.

There were 124 patrons whose checks for the month amounted to more than $50, this being an increase of two over the preceding month. The total paid out to this "big check" contingent was $10,691, leaving $20,052 to be distributed among those who have not yet reached the fifty dollar class.

The Top-Notchers.

The average amount paid to the 124 farmers at the head of the column was nearly $83. Three of these—Peter Englestad, Frank Kainz and Hans Anton—received more than $200 for the products of their herds, while there were 33 in the $100-or-better class.

WATCH FOR DUCKS WITH BANDED LEGS

HUNTERS HAVE BEEN ASKED TO EXAMINE ALL BIRDS KILLED IN NORTHWEST.

Say, Mr. Hunter, have you killed a duck wearing an alumium band on its leg? If you have examine it and you can give out some valuable information regarding the line of flight of the bird. All hunters in the Northwest have been asked to examine all ducks killed to ascertain whether they wear this band or not.

The American Bird Banding association of New York City, the United States Department of Agriculture and several individuals, it is stated, are making a practice of banding water fowl to determine their lines of flight.

Wild ducks are trapped by those having permits, and are liberated after having an aluminum band fastened to one leg. These bands are numbered and are stamped with the address of the person or association doing the work.

A card index system is kept by those releasing the birds, listing all dates in connection. When a banded bird is killed, the hunter is requested to communicate with the address on the band, giving the number, species of duck and place and date killed.

ANNUAL SALE OF RED CROSS SEALS

WILL THIS YEAR BE IN CHARGE OF COUNTY HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

The annual sale of seals for the purpose of raising funds to be employed in the fight against tuberculosis will soon be inaugurated. During the past two years this campaign has been in charge of the Red Cross, but the duty will now fall upon the county health associations.

President W. W. Pricnard, Sr., and Secretary J. J. McCann of the Pennington county organization, will look after the matter, headquarters being established at the office of the latter. The probabilities are that the assistance of the Community Girls will be enlisted in the sale of the little lifesavers, which insures that the job will be well done.

To aid in fighting tuberculosis, the National Tuberculosis association operates a department in which "cures" for the disease are examined. This department, according to a statement issued by the organization, will be a feature of the great health campaign which is now being undertaken by the association, and will pass on all "cures" that are submitted to it.

The sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, from which the affiliated bodies derive their chief income, will be increased this year. More than $6,500,000 worth of seals must be sold during December to meet the greatly increased state quotas needed to carry on the intensive educational and preventative campaign during the next year.

The National Tuberculosis association experts agree that the only cure for tuberculosis is sunshine, fresh air, good food, expert medical care and rest. They were partially responsible for the examination and rejection of the famous Friedmann turtle serum cure five years ago and have proved that remedies offered at various times not only do not cure the disease but, in many cases, have worked positive harm.

To maintain this protection, the National Tuberculosis association and the 1,000 affiliated local and state organizations, have the cooperation of the United States Health Service and the American Medical association.

OVERLAND "4" CAR FINALLY ARRIVES

NEW PRODUCT OF FAMOUS FACTORIES SUBJECT OF MUCH FAVORABLE COMMENT.

It has been known for quite a long time that the Overland people were preparing to put a new model of automobile on the market, but until last week none were received by the agents. The local handler of the Overland, K. A. Sundahl, finally received a demonstration machine and will within a short time be ready to deliver. The demand is everywhere so great that even the enormous capacity of the Overland shops have been unable to meet it.

The new car was intended to supply the requirement for a machine that could be sold for a reasonable price and at the same time be equipped up to the minute. The new product seems to meet all demands in this direction. Every detail has been looked after with an eye to perfection and it is safe to say that it will at once become a leader among cars of its class.

Full descriptions of the machine will be found in the advertising columns of The Times from time to time, but Mr. Sundahl invites an inspection. He will be glad to give demonstrations to anyone contemplating the purchase of a motor car in the near future.

The machine is marketed in four body styles: Sedan, coupe, touring and roadster, thus meeting practically every requirement.

YOU'LL FIND ME AT HOME, SAYS PERRY

INVITES EVERYBODY TO COME SEE WHAT TANLAC DONE. SUFFERED 30 YEARS.

"Well, sir, I've spent hundreds of dollars and tried all kinds of medicines and treatments, but Tanlac has brought me more real relief than everything else I've tried in the past thirty years all put together," declared Thomas J. Perry, of the Johnson Service company, who lives at 680 Thirty second street, Milwaukee, a few days ago.

"I guess I've had my share of suffering," he continued. "For thirty years I have hardly ever been free from a dull ache across my back. It got so bad that when I would bend over I couldn't straighten up again without almost fainting from pain and many times I've been laid up in bed hardly able to turn over. Often I would wake up in the night with this cutting pain across my back and just twist and squirm trying to get in some position that would be easy, and in the mornings I would be so crippled up I could hardly dress myself. Toward night I would almost always be seized with awful cramps in my legs and it felt like my muscles were tied in knots. These would last five or ten minutes and then come back later. I tell you the pain was terrible. The doctors said my kidneys were all out of order, but medicines of all kinds and even rubbing treatments didn't seem to do me any good at all.

"I was just about disgusted with it all when I began reading about people here getting wonderful results from Tanlac and decided to give it a trial. That was the wisest thing I ever did, for Tanlac began to help me right from the start. It's the honest truth I've had only one touch of pain in my back and one slight cramp in my legs since that day I began taking it. I am improved all over as a result of taking this medicine and if anybody doubts what Tanlac has done for me you'll find me right here at home and you can see for yourself that it's made a new man of me out and out."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

What Is Big Business?

BUSINESS, be it big or little, is production and distribution of commodities and service.

The size of a business is measured by the service it renders the public, and regardless of the capital invested, it never can become Big Business unless its output of useful service is great.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is classified with big business, and it deserves to be, for from the day of its organization the goal toward which every effort has been directed has been to render a useful service to the public at large.

Originally the purpose of the Company was to manufacture and sell an illuminating oil of superior quality, but as the years have passed the Company has been able to take a wide range of other useful products from crude petroleum, and has made them available to mankind.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is big because its job is big, and as the job expands so must this organization if it is to keep pace with the insistent and ever-increasing demands of a discriminating public, and thereby discharge completely its obligation as a public servant.

"GRID" MEN COP BIG GAME WITH FLICKERTAILS

TOMMERAASEN'S PROTEGES PUT NORTH DAKOTA TEAM TO ROUTE—SCORE 49-0.

LOCALS IN DANGER ONCE

PARANTEAU, STAR END, MAKES SENSATIONAL RUN DURING GAME FOR 85 YARDS.

Varying smashing line attacks with brilliant open field play and forward passes, the Thief River Falls high school football team, past and coming champions of Northwestern Minnesota, won their second victory of the season last Saturday afternoon, when they defeated and shut out an eleven from Park River, N. D., by the score of 49 to 0.

Coach Tommeraasen and his men did not expect the visitors to walk the plank as easily as they did, but expected to see a close score and a real test of the local team's strength.

The Thief River lads were full of fight from the time the whistle blew until taps. The boys from the Flickertail averaged up well when it came to weight and both teams were on an even basis as far as this part was concerned. Interest in the game became intense from the start and spectators expected to see a tough battle after the Flickertail boys took the field and went through a few maneuvers but in actual play they lacked the punch to put over a single touchdown. Coach Tommeraasen's men entered the contest brimming over with determination and confidence.

From Football Town.

Park River carried off the state championship of North Dakota a few seasons ago and the local team expected to buck up against a team of championship calibre in their Saturday's contest, but Tommeraasen's men uncorked their plays rapidly and with a precision that was remarkable, baffling the North Dakota aggregation.

Like a Stone Wall.

The work of the Thief River linemen showed up well and allowed the speedy backfield men to get in their work. Not once did the opposing team break through and tackle a Thief River man behind the lines while at several instances the Flickertail team defense woud give way and allow Thief River men to tackle backfield men for a loss.

Start March.

Beginning the game Captain McGinn inaugurated a series of smashing line plays and Barzen scored a touchdown after 5 minutes of play. Two additional points were piled up when a safety was made. Starting the second quarter Tommeraasen's men began another march up the field and Barzen again brought home the bacon. After the visitors lost the ball on downs in the second quarter a third march down the field was begun and Schuster finished it by a pretty 35 yard run. Fourteen more points were piled up in this quarter. It seemed as if the team were practically unstoppable and whenever they obtained possession of the oval, the procession didn't stop until the final chalk line was reached.

Became Dangerous.

At only one time in the entire game did Park River reach a point where they had a chance to score and when that time came their line plunges were met with a stonewall defense. For a time it looked as if they might score when the ball was marched up to Thief River's twenty yard line and here they were held for downs and lost the pigskin.

The Star Play.

The star play of the afternoon was pulled off after the visitors had lost the ball when within 20 yards of scoring distance. McGinn passed the spheroid from his own 5 yard line to Paranteau on the 15 yard line and when this trusty end caught the ball a merry chase ensued. With a clear field ahead of him, Paranteau sprinted down the field like a racehorse with eleven Flickertails following him in hot pursuit. To pursue him was useless for he was simply going like a flash. Paranteau played a good game throughout, and Schuster on the other end also had his share in carrying the ball for advances.

Steal Ball.

Another touchdown was scored in the third quarter and after the ball had been marched up the field in rapid order, the ball was stolen by a Flickertail and he attempted to run for a touchdown. He was easily overtaken and the local lads were sure the ball was out of play before they let go of it after that. A short spirited offensive by Tommeraasen's men and the ball was over again.

Try Passing.

Out-playing in the line, Park River attempted to score via the aerial route but this method also proved disastrous as Thief River men would break through the line and tackle the quarterback before he could send the ball thru the air. Several passes were attempted but all of them proved to be unsuccessful ground gainers. Failing to gain the required distance Park River punted while Tommeraasen's men never punted once and never lost the ball on downs.

Down to "Brass Tacks."

Coach Tommeraasen got down to "brass tacks" on Monday afternoon and the boys are being put through a thorough drilling for the big games to be played soon. Today the team left for Fosston to play the high school eleven at that place as an attraction at their county fair. Fosston has always been a big contender for the title of Northern Minnesota and the game today will mean a great deal towards the winning of the championship. If they win Fosston will be eliminated from the race. Bemidji will come here this year for the biggest game of the season. The boys expect to win today and an entire new set of plays will be uncorked to baffle the Fosston bunch.

Small Attendance.

The attendance at Saturday's game was comparatively small while the boys were deserving of a much larger one. The boys have the makin's of a fast team and should be supported to the limit. The day was an ideal one for football playing. High school students were well represented and the rooting club did their part in cheering the boys on to victory.

The Game, Play by Play.

Captain McGinn won the toss for Thief River Falls and chose to defend the west goal. A strong northerly wind was blowing. Park River kicked off from the 40 yard line to Thief River's 20 yard line and Dennis McGinn carried the ball 10 yards, when he was downed. Four smashing line plays advanced the ball 20 yards. Barzen carried the pigskin 11 yards in two plays, Hadrath, half, 5 and Larson 3. Schuster attempted to circle right, but was tackled before he could make a gain. Barzen hit the line again for a 5 yard advance and Hadrath followed suit. Time out in order to settle a dispute. Play was resumed on Park River's 60 yard line. Fullback Barzen crashed through the line for an additional 8 yards; Larson half, 5 and Hadrath, half, 4 yards. Jim Paranteau, star end, circled left end for a big gain and brought the ball up to Park River's five yard line. Barzen went over for the first touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 7-0.

Thief River kicked off to Park River's 10 yard line and the ball bounced out of bounds, which necessitated in it being kicked over. Thief River kicked again to Park River's 10 yard line. A player touched the ball before it rolled into the safety zone. The Park River man was tackled by Herson of Thief River, in the safety zone, and resulted in 2 points for the local team. Score 9 to 0.

Play was resumed on Park River's 20 yard line and their first play was a line smash which netted them 5 yards. Their full again went about 7 yards on a shift play around left end. A half was downed after he had made 4 yards. Barzen tackled well. Another dispute on rules followed and play was resumed on Park River's 40 yard line. The Flickertails lost 5 yards on an end run and their half back lost both ground and the ball in the next play when he fumbled. Full Barzen hit the line for 5 yards again. A mistake somewhere showed Park River had another down and the ball was given to them. They punted 25 yards and McGinn advanced 5 yards. Barzen carried the ball forward 8 yards. Ball was called back and Barzen went forward the same distance. Larson followed up with 2 more and Barzen registered another 10. Hadrath went thru the defense for 10 yards and Larson gained 2 more and brought the ball up to Park River's 11 yard line. Barzen went 6 yards in two line smashes and this brought the spheroid up to the opponent's 5 yard line. In some manner he fumbled the ball when within 5 yards of a touchdown and Park River recovered. They punted on the first play to get out of hot water and the attempt was a feeble for the ball landed just about where it was kicked, going straight up and then bounced back into the safety zone. Paranteau of Thief River recovered the ball. The first quarter ended. Score 9-0.

Second Quarter.

Play was resumed on Park River's 5 yard line and Barzen went the necessary five yards for the first touchdown of the second quarter. Paranteau kicked goal and boosted the score to 16 to 0.

T. R. F. kicked to the visiting team's 20 yard line and they returned the pigskin 16 yards, when the man was tackled by Jom Wierus. A halfback gained 5 yards in the first play. An end made a circling run around right end for about 15 yards, the runner going off the field before tackled. The full was held to a yard's gain. Thief River's line held in an attempt by the visitor's to go thru, and in their attempt lost the ball. T. R. F. began the offensive on their own 35 yard line and Hadrath rallied in two line plunges going 10 yards. Schuster, end, got away for a pretty run and dodged the entire Flickertail team sprinting from the field for 35 yards and a touchdown. Paranteau failed to kick goal. Score 22-0.

T. R. kicked to the Park River's 20 yard line and they advanced the ball 18 yards. An end run netted them 3 yards and a half back fumbled the ball on their 45 yard line, but recovered at once. A half went 6 yards. First half ended with the score standing 22-0.

Second Half.

Park River kicked from their 40 yard line to the 10 yard line and Barzen went forward 10 yards. The team lined up for the first play and the visitor's then changed their minds and wanted to receive the kickoff and their wish was granted.

Thief River then kicked to the Park River 10 yard line and they came forward 20 yards. Tommeraasen's men began to "stonewall" the plays and a half gained one yard. Another half went 2 yards. Time was taken out over an argument. An end gained 5 yards and a halfback made the required distance in the next and last down. Their fullback crashed through for 5 yards and a half followed with 2 more. The full went for 3 yards. A shift play gave them 10 yards and the local boys were getting into hot water, too, for the first time, when the ball was placed on their 30 yard line. The fight began right here to hold the visitors from scoring. A halfback was held for a 2 yard gain. The line held like a stone wall in the next play. Again the line held a Park River plunge. Their full made a rush for the final distance but was blocked after he had gone 4 yards placing the ball on Thief River's 24 yard line and the visitors lost the ball on downs.

The star play of the afternoon was pulled off in Thief River's next play. Captain McGinn called off a forward pass. McGinn caught the ball from the Q. B. on his own 5 yard line and passed it to Paranteau on Thief River's 20 yard line. Paranteau made a pretty catch and he was gone like a flash, with the Park River team in hot pursuit. It was useless to try to catch him. He was simply gone and with a clear field ahead of him, covered the 80 yards in fine time. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 29-0.

Thief River kicked again from the 40 yard line to the 50 yard line and the visitors carried the spheroid 25 yards, but were penalized for "roughness." The ball was put into play on Park River's 40 yard line. A line smash proved futile. The visitors attempted a punt but the defense broke down and the ball hit a Thief River man and rolled back to Park River's 15 yard line. They punted again for 20 yards, McGinn catching the ball. Hadrath went for 3 yards thru the line and repeated again for an additional 3. Larson plunged through for a ten yard gain and Barzen squirmed through a hole for another 4. The visitors pulled a good one at this moment. After the ball was placed on the ground, a Park River man deliberately stole the ball and ran for 35 yards, thinking the ball was still in play. The referee re-called the man and the ball was again put into play on Park River's 3 yard line. Hadrath went over for the touchdown. Paranteau kicked goal and the score was boosted 7 points. Score 36-0.

Park River kicked to Thief River's 20 yard line and Schuster returned the ball 10 yards when he was downed. Hadrath scored 4 yards through the line. Barzen registered another 3 when he found another hole to plunge into. Larson made a good run for 10 yards, with several men hanging onto him. Larson was called to carry the pigskin in the next two plays and made 4 yards. Barzen carried the ball 6 yards in two plays. Hadrath gained 5 yards through the line and the first quarter of the second half closed. Score 36-0.

Fourth Quarter.

Larson went 3 yards and this brot the ball within 1 foot from the final chalk line. McGinn went over. Paranteau kicked goal. Score 43-0.

Thief River kicked off to the visitor's 20 yard line and they advanced the ball 8 yards. A forward pass was declared incomplete. An end run was blocked with ease. Another pass was unsuccessful, and the Flickertails punted for 40 yards, McGinn falling on the ball on Thief River's 35 yard line. A fake pass by Thief River was unsuccessful. A forward pass, McGinn to Schuster, was caught by a Park River player and he was downed at once. The visitors then tried to gain thru the aerial route but it proved unsuccessful. Another attempt proved disastrous as the Thief River tackles broke thru the opposing defense and threw the Q. B. for a loss before he could pass the ball. Another pass was declared incomplete. The Flickertails punted for 40 yards and McGinn advanced 6 yards. Thief River began another march down the field. Hadrath went 3 yards. Sorenson went in to relieve Larson at halfback. Schuster went 3 yards circling left end. Dybvig went in to relieve Wierus as tackle. Paranteau sprinted around right end for 40 yards and this brot the ball 15 yards from scoring distance. Time taken out for Paranteau, who was slightly "laid out." Q. B. McGinn ripped off a pass to Schuster for the 15 yards. The umpire refused to let the touchdown be called and insisted that the ball was not carried over. He was given his way in the matter and McGinn carried the ball over in the next play for the necessary three inches. Paranteau failed to kick goal. Score 49-0.

Thief River kicked again from the 40 yard line to the visitors 15 yard line and they advanced the ball 15 yards. A pass was incomplete on their own 30 yard line. Another pass was unsuccessful. Park River was penalized 5 yards for offside. Forced to punt, they booted the ball for 35 yards and McGinn returned 35 yards. Hadrath made a yard and a pass, McGinn to Schuster, was incomplete. The Flickertails snatched the next pass out of the ozone on their own 10 yard line. Park River passed again for 10 yards and another attempt proved futile. On an end run they gained 5 yards and fumbled the ball on the 50 yard line. The game ended. Final score 49-0.

SCHEURER CONCERT COMPANY

SCHEURER CONCERT COMPANY

The Musicians of this company are either now or have been members of the Great Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

BURGDERFER, Entertainer

Burgderfer has been recognized for years as one of the most popular entertainers on the Lyceum platform. He has been recalled again and again to scores of cities large and small. He has the natural gift of humor and good cheer, together with an unusual personality, which pleases people of every class. His original wit, inimitable style and wonderful power of mimicry, easily places him in a class by himself.

His entertainments are unique and refreshingly different—made up of original and well-chosen stories with a point, true to life, costume character sketches, bits of tragedy, planologues and "jest nuts." He does most of his "making-up" before the audience, entertaining them the while with his witticisms.

His work is mostly of a humorous character, yet at times his pathos invariably touches the chord of human sympathy, and while the audience is convulsed with laughter, they go away with a warm spot in their hearts for Burgderfer.

MONTAVILLE FLOWERS

Montaville Flowers' addresses are like cathedrals—they have great plan, impressive structure, perfection in detail intrinsic value and noble purpose. One has said that they are not lectures but "institutions." They have style, unity, grasp and completeness. Their effect remains in the soul of the hearer long after both speaker and speech have become dim in the memory.

Mr. Flowers is a distinct personality in American life, a fast expanding force in American affairs. He deals only with fundamental and essential things, and has the remarkable power of stating most difficult general propositions with crystalline clearness, and he supports them with a comprehensive array of facts of vital interest driving home with them powerful impulses to noble deeds.

FIGHTING AMERICAN QUARTET

Four Yankee Singers bringing to us songs of the boys as they were given in the trenches.

The Fighting Americans filled a remarkably long Chautauqua season last summer and were rated as one of the finest Male quartets before the public.

THE ONGAWAS

We doubt if we have ever offered a more worth-while entertainment that is at once highly pleasing and authorative than the "Evening in Nippon," presented by Mr. and Mrs. Michitaro Ongawa.

It embodies as one feature a Japanese Playlet, "The Mirror," a comedy of ancient Japanese life, in characteristic setting and costuming.

The musical part will be of special interest to students of music, presenting as it does only genuine Japanese melodies. Some are played on the native instruments, some are arranged and adapted for the piano and others are sung with the Japanese words.

These people give, not a description of Japan, but scenes and incidents as actually lived; so that their unique work might be fitly described as an Entertainment of Japanese Drama and Music.

This Lyceum Course is given under the management of the Thief River Falls H. S. Athletic Assn. The proceeds will go to help pay the expenses of the Association. School children will begin on Monday, October 20th to sell season tickets.

MADE SPLENDID RECORD IN TWO LIBERTY DRIVES

COUNTY FELL DOWN IN SECOND, BUT MADE IT UP LATER.

THIRD THE GREAT EFFORT

STATE CHAIRMAN ISSUED REPORT COVERING THE VARIOUS CAMPAIGNS.

The complete report for the Ninth district in the various Liberty Loan campaigns has just been issued by Chairman A. T. Rogers of St. Paul. It shows that the total amount raised by the government in the entire country by this means was $23,925,600,000, of which the Ninth district contributed $806,353,050. The allotments totalled $657,500.00 making an oversubscription of $148,853,050 for the district. Minnesota was asked to raise $410,433,750 in the five loans but came thru with $453,642,960, going over the top by $43,209,210. The record for the other states in the Ninth was as follows: North Dakota—Allotment, $52,867,700; subscriptions, $65,476,800; over subscription, $12,609,100. Montana—Subscriptions, $87,406,050; allotment, $58,165,450; over subscription, $12,609,100. South Dakota—Subscriptions, $109,073,800; allotment, $91,398,200; oversubscription, $17,675,600. Michigan—Subscriptions, $44,039,350; allotment, $35,172,800; oversubscriptions, $8,866,550. Wisconsin — Subscriptions, $50,325,400; allotment, $40,383,350; oversubscription, $942,050. Only the northern counties in the last named two states were included in the district.

Pennington's Record Good.

The total allotment for Pennington county in the five loans was $1,117,500, while the total subscribed was $1,134,900—an oversubscription of $17,400. The requirements were met in every case except the second loan, when the county fell down rather badly. There is nothing surprising in this, however, as there was hardly a county in this section of the state able to make the grade.

The first call upon the people of the county was for $62,500, and this was met, largely thru the subscriptions taken by the banks. The second demand was for $250,000 and against this only $102,000 was raised. It came in the spring of the year following one of the poorest crop seasons in the history of the county, besides which the people had not been thoroly awakened to the need for going to the limit of their ability in meeting the request.

The Banner Third.

The third loan was called in the fall following the second and in this the county more than redeemed itself. The allotment called for $185,000 and the amount was raised the first day. The late George G. Johnson had charge of the campaign and when the returns were all in it was found that $304,300 had been pledged, or more than $119,000 over the requirements.

The fourth demand was the stiffest of the lot, the county's share being placed at $350,000, but it was met and there was $42,500 to spare. In the fifth or Victory Loan no attempt was put forth to make a record, it being understood that not more than the allotment was required. This was placed at $270,000 while the sum raised was $271,650.

The percentage of distribution was as follows: Third loan, 20.7 per cent; fourth loan, 23.7 per cent; fifth loan, 18.0 per cent.

The Neighbors' Record.

Practically all the counties of northwestern Minnesota subscribed more than their allotment. Marshall county was asked to raise $2,025,700 and responded with $2,181,350. The share of Red Lake county was placed at $554,750 and the people people there came thru with $661,200. Polk also did very well, going $56,000 over its allotment of $4,930,400. Beltrami raised $272,000 more than its allotment of $1,161,560. Clearwater, Norman and Roseau counties failed to reach the required amount, as did also Cass, Dodge and Wright. These six were the only counties in Minnesota failing to report an oversubscription.

Had Hard Luck.

Grygla Eagle: Paul Paulson, a farmer living a few miles east of here, had the misfortune to have nine stacks of grain burn last Wednesday, at the same time the separator, belonging to Halvor Williamson, was burned. The loss of grain was estimated at about $1,000. The separator was a total loss. The fire no doubt started from sparks from the engine as it was first noticed at the top of one of the stacks. A very heavy wind was blowing at the time and it was impossible to save anything when the fire was once started.

They had threshed out a part of two stacks when the fire was discovered. As this was all the grain Mr. Paulson had the loss was serious. Mr. Williamson's rig was in good running order, as he had put a lot of repairs on it for the season's run and he had a great deal of work left.

"Twin Beds"

Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo's famous, genial, jovial, rollicking comedy will be seen at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls on Monday evening, Oct. 27. The impetus in "Twin Beds" never rests. It begins with spirit and ends with spirit; each act is a wave of fun, the complications are intensely droll, while the dialogue is thoroughly to the point. "Twin Beds" tells the story of three couples who live in a fashionable apartment house, with apartments directly above each other, who begin by being neighborly and end by loathing the neighborliness that they cannot escape, and finally move to another part of the town only to discover that their troubles are trailing them with dogged persistency. The same great cast and production that plays all the prominent towns in the middle west and the Pacific coast will be seen here. The advance sale of seats opens at Lambert's Drug Store on Oct 20. o16

WILL COLLECT FOR A ROOSEVELT FUND

SCHOOL CHILDREN ASKED TO CONTRIBUTE TOWARD NATIONAL MEMORIAL.

At a meeting held in the commercial club rooms on Tuesday afternoon the subject of participation in the raising of a fund for a memorial to the late Theodore Roosevelt was discussed. It was decided that anything of this kind should be in the nature of voluntary contributions and plans for the collection of such funds were considered.

The school children of the county will be asked to engage actively in this campaign. Supt. W. A. Ziegler will have charge of the work in the city while Supt. G. M. Gand[illegible] will acquaint the country districts with the purposes of the undertaking. Contribution boxes will be placed in the different stores both in city and country and those wishing to donate toward this enterprise may deposit their quota wherever it is most convenient. The collection will be made by County Auditor T. P. Anderson, who will keep an account of the sums secured at each place. The same plan will be followed in the city.

In order to bring the matter before parents, children will [illegible] letters explaining the purpose of the campaign and asking that support be given it.

LOCAL BAND BOYS DROP MUSIC GERMS

BAUDETTE GOT INSPIRATION TO FORM BAND—HALLOCK LIKEWISE.

The Thief River Falls band will soon be "out'a luck" as far as outside jobs are concerned, for every time the band boys make a trip to a neighboring town they leave a certain amount of inspiration and drop music germs among the citizens of the town and they form a band as the result.

The band went to Baudette with the sociability run this year and made such a decided hit that after the boys departed Baudette was right up on her toes and began calling for musicians. The band made a hit. Some of the Baudette people even went so far as to say it was "the best band in the world." The local musicians are proud of the fact that they are proving such an inspiration and incentive to neighboring townspeople in starting them off in the musical line.

Two weeks ago Cordes and his musicians went to Hallock to play at a Soldiers' homecoming celebration. Again they scored and were treated fine while in the county seat of Kittson county. Many bouquets were handed to the bandmaster, and last week a call was issued for musicians at Hallock to meet at the city hall on October 14, for the purpose of starting a band in that town.

LOOK FOR COMING OF ELECTRIC LINE

NORTH COUNTRY PAPERS BELIEVE SIGNS POINT TO EXTENSION SOON.

If there is no extension of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric line toward Baudette and the country to the east of that village next year a large number of people will be disappointed. The towns to the north profess to see in every mention of the Soo railroad found in the papers a confirmation that their hopes will be realized. The Baudette Region last week contained the following just to show that the matter has not been forgotten. The article occupied the place of honor on the front page of the paper:

"It surely begins to look as if that electric line from Thief River Falls is headed towards Baudette. Following the announcement of Manager Protzeller at Baudette last summer that the road would come within two years, was the statement issued this week to the effect that the Soo Railway company has announced a twenty million dollar building policy for the coming year, in Minnesota and North Dakota. As the Soo owns the electric road the news is decidedly interesting. Mr. Protzeller is expected at Baudette this winter to go over the proposed route."

The International Falls Echo has the following article concerning the subject:

"Some time ago the manager of the electric line running east of Thief River Falls, and which is owned by the Soo line, stated that the road would be extended to Baudette during the next year. Yesterday's telegraphic dispatches in this paper stated that the Soo had arranged for 500 miles of extension in Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota totaling $20,000,000. This confirms the first statement, and it is reasonable to believe that if the Soo fails to come through to this city that the Backus interests will extend from Loman to Baudette to connect with the Soo. Much of the preliminary work will have to be done in the winter and we expect to see it started after the freezeup. Another significant fact in the matter is that of the hiring of Mr. Williams, the new superintendent, by the Backus interests. He is a high class railroad man and was superintendent in charge of the construction of the Soo line from Duluth to Thief River Falls."

Baby Clinics For Marshall.

A special baby clinic will be held by the Marshall County Public Health association in the court house in Warren on Tuesday, Oct. 21, and in Middle River on Wednesday, Oct. 22. A baby specialist from the pediatric department of the University of Minnesota will be the clinician. Miss Elizabeth M. Hanson, the Marshall county public health nurse, will have charge of the clinic.

These clinics are for infants and children from birth to five years of age. This is a splendid opportunity for the mothers whose babies registered below normal in weight and measurement a year ago to consult a specialist.

Like the public health clinics which are being held in the county, this is also an educational movement directed by the Minnesota Public Health association with the cooperation of the various county public health associations.

Silas Strand.

Silas Strand, former mathematics instructor in the Lincoln high school, during the 1916-17 term, assistant coach and treasurer of the athletic association, passed away last week at the home of his parents near Ada, according to information received in the city. Death was due to tuberculosis, which the deceased had been suffering from for about a year, and his age at the time of death was 26 years. In the spring of 1918 his marriage to Miss Anna Dahlen, former domestic science teacher at the Lincoln high school, occurred. Besides his wife the deceased leaves to mourn his loss, his parents, three brothers and two sisters.

In New Home.

The Salvation Army is now comfortably located in their new home at 204 Main avenue north, in the room formerly occupied by The Times. First services at the new stand were conducted Saturday evening and a big meeting was held.

"HOMESECTOR" NEW SOLDIER MAGAZINE

CONDUCTED BY FORMER EDITORIAL COUNCIL OF "STARS AND STRIPES."

"The Home Sector," a continuation of the "Stars and Stripes," which was printed in Paris, France for the A. E. F., was launched in New York three weeks ago. The Times is in receipt of the third copy and it is without a doubt the best publication published today for ex-service men.

A. E. F. men will recall the days when the "Stars and Stripes" made its weekly appearance and the new publication is equally as full of fun and interesting reading matter. It is a fifty page magazine and as an extra inducement to get a large list immediately the editors are giving a premium with each year's subscription. The first offer is a volume of cartoons by A. A. Wallgren, the famous cartoonist of the "Stars and Stripes." The book is a reprint with additions of "Wally—His Cartoons of the A. E. F.," which was issued in France. It includes 60 cartoons reprinted from the "Stars and Stripes" and 15 additional cartoons which appeared after the book was printed.

The second offer is that of a soft pillow-top with an enlarged production of the shoulder divisional insignia. These gifts are lasting remembrances of the world war and something every service man can be proud of. Either may be had free for a short time only. The price for one year's subscription with one of the premiums is $4.20 for a limited time only; the regular price being $5. Service men wishing to subscribe may call at The Times office and their subscription will be taken care of and sent in to the new ex-service man's publication office.

DRUNKEN MOBS ARE FEARED BY LEAGUE

DRY ADVOCATES EXERT EVERY EFFORT TO PREVENT BAN-LIFTING.

Officials of the Anti-saloon League of America, fearful, in the face of persistent rumors, that the wartime liquor ban may be lifted before ratification of peace, have issued a statement declaring such an act would be in violation of the law and a "crime against civilization and the coming generations," according to reports from Washington.

In an effort to concentrate public opinion against lifting of this wartime ban by executive authority, the Anti-saloon league officials point out that the result of such a course would be to fill the homes of the country with whisky during the open period before constitutional prohibition sets in next January; that drunkenness would be multiplied and "the unrest and lawlessness which now prevails would be aggravated" with disastrous consequences.

Predictions of drunken mobs destroying life and property are made by the league leaders, who insist the plea of necessity for opening the saloons to protect bankers loaded with liquor warehouse certificates should fall on deaf ears.

"If the saloons reopen," says the Anti-saloon league statement, "before the peace treaty is ratified and demobilization is completed, they will do so in defiance of the war prohibition act."

Mrs. P. N. Peterson of Holt, arrived Saturday afternoon to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sorenson for a few days.

AGGIE ENROLLMENT IS BEST IN HISTORY

PENNINGTON COUNTY HAS 13 STUDENTS AT NORTHWEST COLLEGE.

The enrollment at the Northwest School of Agriculture during the first week, which just closed, is reported to be the largest in the history of the school. There are 13 students registered from Pennington county. This number will be considerably increased when the fifty additional students who have registered for rooms in the dormitories come. Lieut. Millard Peck was added to the faculty to have charge of the tractor and gasoline engineering, and Miss Eleanor Bruem for farm business subjects. Miss Louise Pederson is the new instructor in music; and Mr. Alfred C. Howe, formerly leader of a military band overseas, will have charge of the Northwest Aggie School band.

A football team has been organized under the coaching of Arnold M. Foker, a former member of the University squad. Professor Robert R. Smith, station agronomist, will have charge of the basket ball team. He was formerly a member of the Minnesota Agricultural college basket ball team. The greatest interest is being shown in the farm crops, live stock and other courses of the school, including home economics work for the girls. It is fully expected that this will prove one of the most successful years in the history of the institution.

NORWAY NOW DRY BY POPULAR VOTE

NATIONAL PROHIBITION ADOPTED—BEERS AND LIGHT WINES ALLOWED.

An Associated Press dispatch from Christiana says: National prohibition has been adopted in Norway by the vote taken in plebiscite held yesterday.

The country has been greatly excited over the question, and Premier Knudsen announced that he would resign if prohibition failed of adoption.

The measure applies only to whiskey, brandy and other strong liquors. Champagne and all other wines and beers are not affected. The law governing prohibition in the United States figured in the campaign to a considerable extent.

War-time prohibition has been in operation since December, 1916. Despite this prohibition, arrests for intoxication have been steadily increasing throughout the country, and in some places have been higher than before war-time prohibition was put into effect.

Substitutes for liquor, especially denatured alcohol, are being used everywhere, illegal distillation also is increasing, according to the official reports.

It is feared that France, Spain and Portugal, from which countries liquors were imported, may retaliate with a tariff on Norwegian products such as timber and fish, thereby injuring especially the Norwegian fish trade, sixty per cent of which goes to Portugal.

New County Director.

At a recent meeting of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association A. J. Anderson of Thief River Falls, was appointed director for Pennington county to succeed the late Charles A. Pitkin. This place was given Mr. Anderson in recognition of the telling work he has been doing in behalf of the farmers now residing in the section as well as his efforts in securing a larger settlement. He is one of the best-posted men on farming conditions in this section of the state and will make a valuable addition to the directorate of the association.

Owe My Life to PE-RU-NA

Mr. McKinley's letter brings cheer to all who may be sufferers as he was. Read it:

"I can honestly say that I owe my life to Peruna. After some of the best doctors in the country gave me up and told me I could not live another month, Peruna saved me. Travelling from town to town, throughout the country and having to go into all kinds of badly heated stores and buildings, sometimes standing up for hours at a time while plying my trade as auctioneer, it is only natural that I had colds frequently; so when this would occur I paid little attention to it, until last December when I contracted a severe [illegible], which, through neglect [illegible] part settled on my lungs [illegible] almost too late, I began [illegible]-ctoring, but without avail [illegible] heard of Peruna. It [illegible] I cannot praise it too highly."

FORTUNES OF WAR

High Military Rank Attained by Humble Civilians.

Sir Douglas Haig Tells of Many Instances That Came to His Notice During the Great War—Men That Failed.

An interview with Sir Douglas Haig, printed in the Manchester Guardian, contains some shocking instances of the romance and fortunes of war.

"Promotion," said the field marshal, "has been entirely by merit, and the highest appointments were open to the humblest, provided he had the necessary qualifications of character, skill and knowledge.

"Many instances could be quoted of men who, from civil or comparatively humble occupations, have risen to important commands.

"A schoolmaster, a lawyer, a taxicab driver and an ex-sergeant major have commanded brigades.

"One editor has commanded a division and another held successfully the position of senior staff officer to a regular division.

"The undercook of a Cambridge college, a clerk to the Metropolitan water board, an insurance clerk, an architect's assistant and a police inspector became efficient general staff officers.

"A mess sergeant, a railway signalman, a coal miner, a market gardener, an assistant secretary of a haberdashery company, a quartermaster sergeant and many private soldiers have risen to command battalions.

"Clerks have commanded batteries.

"A schoolmaster, a collier, the son of a blacksmith, an iron molder, an instructor in tailoring, an assistant gas engineer, a grocer's assistant, as well as policemen, clerks and privates, have commanded companies and acted as adjutants."

These instances are not strange. They show possession of military instinct which only required the chance to be displayed.

Analyzing further, of course, it could be abundantly shown that some men, although given high rank, fell down lamentably when opportunity for work offered.

While technical education is essential, soldiers are born, not made.

It would be interesting to collate from our own records some of the many instances of American soldiers who rose from the ranks to commissions after a brief apprenticeship to the profession of arms.

Ground Glass Not Harmful.

Experiments recently carried out by the army medical corps have entirely disproven the popular belief that ground glass is harmful to the digestive tract.

Glass was ground and sifted to secure varying degrees of fineness and considerable quantities of the material were incorporated in fresh meat, the same being fed to hungry dogs. This was repeated in some instances on a number of days after which the dogs were killed and the digestive tract examined both with the naked eye and by the aid of the microscope, and no injury whatever was perceptible. Before being killed the dogs apparently suffered no inconvenience and appeared normal in every way.

These findings should eliminate for all time the idea of glass being the cause of death in animals maliciously poisoned.—W. H. Feldman, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.

Its Face Was Its Fortune.

Two years ago my husband and I were coming into Chicago from an Indiana town in a roadster that certainly showed the hard use we had given it. About midnight we started down a little grade on a lonely stretch of road and found at the bottom that the road was blocked by two large machines with licenses from a Western state.

We stopped, of course, and expected one machine to pull aside. Instead two men walked back to our car and looked us over. Then one called: "All right," and the road was cleared.

They thought our old model machine was probably not worth stealing, but they neglected to search our pockets, which contained several hundred dollars.—Chicago Tribune.

Wrested Fortune From World.

Sir Marcus Samuel, who has purchased from the earl of Berkeley for the sum of $25,000,000 a parcel of the fashionable residential section of London, known as Berkeley square, started in business life keeping a little shop in one of the poorest quarters of the British metropolis, where he made and sold for a shilling or two, ornamental boxes made of shells from the seashore. Later he invested his savings in oil, made money and started a company called the "Shell," thus identifying his big new venture with his original struggling business.

Uncle Jake's Best Joke

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Maud pouted—not the piquant, arch pout of her courtship days but the spoiled-child pout that she dared to indulge in now that she was really truly married to the embodiment, in her eyes, of all masculine charms and virtues—Rodney Blaine.

"I think you are a mean old thing," she announced with some heat. "To have to have him along with us. He'll just spoil everything. It isn't that I don't like him, but he is such a dreadful joker!"

The joker referred to was none other than Rodney's uncle, Jacob Blaine, a slightly built but erect old gentleman, who at three-score and five had given up business and determined to lead the rest of his days in the open. If he had none of the crotchets which are sometimes ascribed to those of advancing years he had some of the foibles that had been characteristic of his boyhood. Nothing pleased him better than a practical joke, though his jokes were always of a kindly nature and, so far as any one knew, they had never caused any one real discomfort.

But Maud took herself, and above all she took Rodney, amazingly seriously. Now that summer had come, the Rodney Blaines had made arrangements to depart from the city for the woods, where Rodney owned a small mountain cabin.

He had just announced his intention of encouraging Uncle Jake to occupy a smaller cabin not many rods from theirs which he would make the headquarters for his fishing and outing trips; and he would share the company of his nephew and niece in many of his hours of inactivity.

"Well, my dear," Rodney assured his wife, "it isn't at all as if he were critical or inclined to interfere with you in any way. There is no one else he likes so well as you—and me. He's the best sport in the world and what if he does pull off a practical joke once in a while? I rather like his joking."

"Like his joking!" echoed Maud, and her eyes snapped fire as much as eyes as blue as hers ever could snap fire.

"And besides," said Rodney, as he went on inspecting the fishing paraphernalia that he had recently purchased as preliminary to the vacation in the woods, "besides, uncle has willed everything he has to us. That shows that he is devoted to us."

Maud at this accused her husband of being mercenary, though had any one else made this accusation she would have raged indeed.

The result was that Uncle Jake went with the Rodney Blaines, and this was not because Rodney acted contrary to his wife's pleadings, but because after having protested and pouted she assured her husband that he was right as in all other cases and that she was sorry that she had shown such prejudice and would try to feel as strong attachment for Uncle Jake as did her husband.

Then she regretted her good nature. First he disguised as possible game warden and called at the cabin one day when Rodney was not at home and informed Maud that her husband had been violating the game law and would have to serve a life imprisonment. Maud, in spite of her ardent suffrage principles, was quite ignorant of the law and before she recognized Uncle Jake in the heavily false-bearded person, she had offered him her entire worldly wealth if he would go away and say nothing to the authorities concerning Rodney's guilt.

Then on the day that she went fishing with him he contrived to have her hook attach itself to a little package that he had brought with him to the brook and which proved, after Maud had excitedly angled for five minutes, to contain a can of sardines—a delicacy for which she had a decided aversion and of which Rodney and Uncle Jake, not knowing this, had set in a large supply.

Mild and even stupid jokes both of these—yet Maud allowed herself to be annoyed by them.

"He's a dear in many ways," she told Rodney, the evening after the sardine episode, "but so long as he jokes I cannot stand him."

"I wasn't going to tell you," Rodney replied, "but now I'll tell you just because Uncle Jake does joke that I'm so attached to him. If he hadn't been a joker, you'd now be Mrs. Somebody else and I'd be a disconsolate old bachelor."

It was in midsummer and Maud—the eighteen-year-old Maud who pouted very archly then and still wore her curls merely tied at the back of her neck instead of in the present psyche—was four or five hundred miles away from Rodney, who was working in the city in the office of the Uncle Jake who had not yet found occasion to retire.

Rodney had danced with Maud and sent flowers to Maud on occasions, just as a dozen others had done, and as he had done to a dozen or so besides. Of course he thought she was pretty, and when there were other men trying to put their names on her dance order Rodney was always as eager as the others.

But it had never occurred to him that he might want to marry her. In fact, Rodney—in spite of his twenty-five years—had never thought very much about wanting to marry any lady.

But Maud at eighteen had definitely made up her mind, that lurked somewhere beneath those soft brown curls, that she did want to marry, and that she wanted to marry Rodney Blaine, though she would have died rather than to have let any one suspect this.

She had convinced herself—and at eighteen one convinces oneself of such matters quite easily—that there was no hope. She had smiled and pouted as archly for Rodney as she had for Tom and Bill and Walter, and Tom and Bill and Walter had all in their own way let Maud know that they found her distracting and that they dreamed of no greater happiness than to be her slaves for life.

But Rodney had made no such protestations and, though he always asked for dances when he was about he managed to dance with other pretty girls if she refused him.

Maud had thought it all out in her eighteen-year-old mind. She was quite sure that the case was hopeless and that she herself had arrived at the place where she must decide between a life of resigned spinsterdom or the alternative of marrying the man she merely liked.

This man was Walter. Walter had come up to her mother's country place to press his suit with considerable persistence. Maud had assured Walter that she didn't really love him, but had fibbed in saying that she loved no one else.

Then she thought it over quite definitely and decided that, as she was neither musical, artistic nor literary, and had no sisters or brothers to whose children she might devote herself, she had better be married, if only for a home and to have some one manage her affairs. If Walter asked her again before he went back to the city she had determined to accept him.

Then came the special messenger from the post office, ten miles away, bringing that ten-pound box of the choicest candy that the most expensive candy shop in the city had for sale.

Maud opened it, and out dropped a card that simply bore the engraved name of Rodney Blaine. That changed everything. Walter went back to the city unrewarded for his trip, incidentally asking another girl to be his wife, and was accepted.

The same locomotive that bore him back to the city and away from Maud, carried a letter from Maud to Rodney, that showed between the lines that she had been thinking as much of him as the candy showed that he had been thinking of her. Incidentally, the next mail carried an invitation from Maud's mother to Rodney to spend part of his vacation at their cabin, and—well, it was then that Rodney discovered what he had been too stupid to guess before, that Maud really was the most charming girl of his acquaintance and the one he had been in love with from the first.

"It was Uncle Jake that sent that candy," Rodney told Maud. "He was in one of his joking moods and he took your name because it was the first one he came across in my address book, then he got hold of a card of mine and off went the candy. You see I had always loved you, Maud, but I didn't know I had a ghost of a chance. I thought you were all in favor of that Walter Bates. So if it hadn't been for Uncle Jake's tendency to joke, I never would have had the nerve to ask you. I never could have guessed how things were."

Maud was in a reminiscent mood, that brought to her lips a pout that was arch and piquant. "I'm sorry I said what I did about him. Really I think he's a dear and I really didn't mind a bit about the sardines."

Lights for Surgery.

The discovery that a pure red light is complementary to the greenish yellow of the fluoroscope, so that each makes the eye more sensitive to the others has made possible the use of X-rays during a surgical operation, without danger to the surgeons.

In the past it was necessary for the surgeon to work with his hands exposed to the baneful influence of the rays, and also with a mere shadowy light of the rays themselves to work by. Now it has been found, through the experiments of a French surgeon, that operating with a bright red light alternating with the X-rays makes the operation itself easier, and also the alternating lights make the eyes especially sensitive, so that the most delicate and minor details of the X-ray shadows seem clear.

War's Havoc in Wales.

"Only those on the spot," says a correspondent of a London paper, can fully realize the devastation of the woodland portions of North Wales, which has been carried on for the past three years. This is notably the case in Carnarvonshire, where whole valleys and mountain sides have been robbed in order to satisfy the demand of the government for pitprops and railway sleepers. Notwithstanding the fact that the timber already felled and removed runs into many thousands of tons, the process, according to the terms made with the contractors, will extend in some cases into next year."

Lines and Angles.

The new mathematics teacher was thin and angular, indeed, also very severe of countenance and speech. At the very first session with her high school pupils she told them that she had had many years' experience as a teacher of algebra. The statement impressed them.

"But I knew it before she told me," Helen informed her chum on the way home. "You see teaching mathematics so many years consecutively is bound to affect one's figure and make it take on the shape of lines and angles."

The Twin Craters

By OTILLIA P. PFEIFFER

(Copyright, 1919, by the Western Newspaper Union.)

It would have made no difference if he had been poor as a church mouse to Alice Leigh, but Wade Porter did not know that. Besides, he resented the idea of asking a girl brought up amid wealth and luxury to risk uniting herself to a man without means, and one, too, who had not even demonstrated his business abilities.

"She likes you, Wade," his best friend, Neil Wolfson, told him, "and when a woman like Alice Leigh fixes her affections they are likely to prove lasting."

"Then I will not take advantage of her confidence," answered Wade resolutely. "I believe there is something in me worth bringing out, and when I have proven that, I am going to her like a man and tell her so."

In a careless moment Neil imparted this information to his sister and she in turn passed it along to Alice. The latter was made very happy by the intelligence. When Wade, all unconscious of this, made a call upon her his hope was increased and his ambitions stimulated by the gracious way in which Alice treated him. He made his preparations to qualify for a position in another city, when he received a letter from an aunt whose husband had recently died and its contents quite interested and excited him.

"Your uncle always liked you," wrote the lady, "and it was his will that you should be remembered before he died, but the latter years of his life he had some serious business troubles and did not attend to it. Just before he died, however, he asked me to see to it that you were given some mining property he had traded for in Arizona. It is my duty to tell you that after looking up the property he was very much disappointed. Still, he said that you were young, active, ambitious, and that you might make something out of a proposition he had grown too old to handle."

When Wade told his friend Neil Wolfson of his acquisition the latter was fired with enthusiasm. "Why," declared the latter, "I'd give all I have for a chance like that. Gold, silver, adventure? The very uncertainty of the thing is fascinating," and he offered to supply the capital to finance the Arizona exploitation.

It was on the morning of a gloomy, threatening day that the two adventurers halted their tired steeds at a straggling, dismal looking settlement fitly designated as Last Hope. They had traversed a barren alkali stretch of over a hundred miles without passing a single habitation. Then had come the mountains. Here at the apex was Last Hope, which was a half-way point between a number of isolated mining camps. The tavern keeper viewed the two young men with a pitying expression of face as they divulged the motive of their coming.

"I hope you're not expecting gold or silver," he observed. "I don't suppose there is a foot of Twin Craters that has not been prospected and not so much as a true fissure vein of gold or a specimen of horn silver discovered. Some shrewd speculators salted it once and palmed it off on a tenderfoot investor in the East."

"Well, we will look it over, anyway," suggested Neil, which they did and camped on their possession that night, a gloomy, uncongenial duo.

They were discussing the feasibility of a return to civilization early the next morning when an automobile came lumbering towards them. It held half a dozen well-dressed, intelligent looking men, and was followed by a motortruck loaded with surveying and other scientific instruments. A brisk, pleasant-faced young man approached from the automobile first to arrive. He spoke courteously in greeting and then with a keen, searching glance observed:

"Looking up the old craters, gentlemen?"

"No," replied Wade bluntly, "discussing the surest means of getting away from them as far as possible. I was lured out here thinking that there might be some value to the four hundred acres of land which a relative of mine left to me."

"Hello! You're not the owner of the craters, are you?" propounded the stranger eagerly.

"I am that unfortunate individual," acknowledged Wade, trying to smile.

"Then you are the very person we shall be looking for as soon as we have made a little calculation as to how much water those extinct craters will hold. My associates yonder are capitalists from the East. They own over two hundred thousand acres of the most arid, but also most fertile land in Arizona, seventy-two miles away. If science and cement can make those great natural reservoirs leak proof, we can pump up water from the river, lay a pipe system to our land and turn the desert into a garden of beauty."

"What a scheme!" exclaimed Neil Wolfson later.

"And what a price they offer—two hundred thousand dollars! Why, on a fifty-fifty basis, that makes us both rich!" echoed Wade.

"Yes, you can now carry out all your ambitious business plans back home," observed Neil.

"And win Alice!" murmured Wade raptly.

GREAT COMEDY AT AUDITORIUM SOON

"TWIN BEDS" WITH ORIGINAL CAST HERE MONDAY, OCT. 27.

Manager Halvorson is to be congratulation on catching enroute, for an open night, Twin Beds", the great laugh festival, which comes to the Auditorium at Thief River Falls for Monday night, Oct-27th. This is the same great company and complete production that played Minneapolis and St. Paul. Of "Twin Beds" the Minneapolis Journal says.

It is an amusing indication of our change of attitude that "Twin Beds" no longer seems as risque as when it first was offered a startled public five years ago. We have become so accustomed to leading ladies in negligee, jumping in and out of white enameled beds on the stage, that there is no thrill of naughtiness. "Twin Beds" today appears to be a harmless trifle, well constructed, with a slow moving first act in which the quarrels of the apartment dwellers are set in motion. Hilarity mounts with that second act in which the tenants chase each other up and down the fire escape, rush frantically through bedrooms in pajamas and nightgowns and raise such a stir that the landlord probably will call around in the morning and add 10 per cent to the rent. It is purely artificial comedy, but it has any number of crackling lines and one real character in the Signora Monti, a cabaret singer, who has raised her husband from nothing to a position of a famous tenor.

The company presenting the farce at the Metropolitan is much better than you would expect to find in a piece from which the flavor of novelty has departed. It is generally efficient and has been kept up to a surprisingly good standard. You cannot blame the players if repetition has led them to punch up the wellknown comedy lines untill they win the desired chuckles. The flirtatious wife is Josephine Saxe, a Billie Burkish young person, who has an excellent idea of values and who makes an attractive young wife. The others include Auguste Aramini as Monti, Kathlyn Tracy as the Signora, and Howard Fay, who manages a quiet and human portrait of the unhappy Larkin.

The scenery is fresh and well designed and the performance goes with commendable spirit.

Tickets will be on sale at Lamberts Drug Store on Oct. 20.

BOUGHTON PROVES HOOPER PAID BILL

ACTION WAS STARTED TO COLLECT ALLEGED BILL OF $69.09.

The suit of Ira B. Fisher, administrator de bonis non in the estate of A. H. Pitkin, against G. W. Hooper, which came up in Municipal court last Thursday afternoon was decided in favor of Hooper, defendant.

Charles Boughton, attorney for defendant, produced a check for $276 in payment of certain wares and merchandise purchased by Hooper from A. H. Pitkin when the latter was conducting a store at St. Hilaire. Mr. Boughton also produced a letter from Charles A. Pitkin, deceased, who was acting as administrator in the estate of his father, saying that the bill had been paid and the account closed.

The plaintiff asked for judgment in the sum of $69.09, and for the further sum of $100 with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and the costs of the action.

Highway Route Decided.

State Road No. 2, lying one mile east of and running parallel with the Range Line road, has been selected as the route over which the Jefferson Highway shall be built between Bagley and Clearbrook in Clearwater county. The selection was made by J. D. Clarkson and announced Tuesday at the regular meeting of the board of county commissioners at which road construction was chief among the business transacted.

Farmers living along the route have signified their intention of co-operating with the commisisoners in graveling the road and it is expected that the Jefferson Highway between Bagley and Clearbrook will be greatly improved during the coming fall and winter.

Thanked the Council.

A letter of thanks was read at the council meeting Tuesday evening from Mrs. Thomas A. Way, in behalf of the surgical dressing department of the local Red Cross, for the use of the south room on the second floor of the auditorium. The use of this room was given to the Red Cross ladies by the council during the war as a workroom.

"Prowler" Staff Changed.

Believing that alterations in the staff of the "Prowler", the annual book published by the graduating class of the Lincoln high school, was necessary and that it would result in a larger and better book being published, the Senior class met last week and took the proper steps to that end. The staff is headed by Clarence Veva, editor-in-chief and is as follows:

Supervisor, Miss Agnes Wilson; General manager, Norman Dybvik; Editor-in-chief, Clarence Veva; Assistant editor-in-chief, Alyce Berg; Business managers, Herman Aukre and Stanton Dahlen; Advertising managers, Dennis McGinn and Leland Schuster; Literary editor, Henry Stangleson and James Helle; Joke department, Jessie Barnett and Kathleen Ures; Art department, Hazel Welo; Miscellaneous department, Harriett Anderson; Alumni department Ruth Kiland and Alpha Bishop; Social department, Agnes Tandberg; Kodak department, Maybelle Ostby and Florence Gavin; Athletic editors, Roy Flattum and Henry Aastad. ALLEGED MURDERER ONCE WORKKD HERE MURDERED GIRL KNOWN IN CITY, HAVING VISITED FRIENDS HERE.

James Smith, one of the negroes charged with the murder of Miss Edna Werner at East Grand Forks on Tuesday of last week, was a few summers ago employed as boot black and porter in a local barber shop. Smith left the city after a few months' residence here for Grand Forks, according to local people who have seen him in Grand Forks at different times engaged in the same line of work.

Smith together with Tom Thomas are now incarcerated in the state penitentiary at Stillwater for safekeeping by reason of the fact that Ramsey county authorities feared violence and had the men transferred to the pen last Saturday.

Miss Edna Werner, the slain girl, visited in Thief River Falls last summer and was the guest of Misses Lottie Austin and Margaret Eichhammer, proprietors of Black's Sweet shop. While here she also formed numerous other acquaintances, all of whom were shocked to learn of the horrible tragedy that befell her.

Dance Well Attended.

The first annual dance given by Pennington county's post of the American Legion at the auditorium last Friday evening was well attended. There was a large number of ex-service men present from out of town and everyone enjoyed the evening's dance program. The music was furnished by Angell's five piece orchestra. The proprietors of Black's Sweet shop had a stand in the northwest corner of the hall and served refreshments.

Wanted Hydrant Moved.

Paul Midderigh, fire chief, appeared before the council Tuesday evening asking if it were possible to have the hydrant at the corner of Zeh street and Riverside avenue moved one block north to insure better fire protection. No action was taken as the water works are extended and another hydrant installed so the matter wil be well taken care of.

"THE SPITE BRIDE" LYCEUM TONIGHT

REMARKABLE RISE OF YOUNG WOMAN WHO STARS IN CAST.

Olive Thomas, the picture star, has accomplished more fame in about wo years than is allotted to many stage aspirants in their entire lifetime. Perhaps her Irish ancestry has something to do with it, perhaps one of her parents kissed the Blarney Stone, or did something with a four-leafed shamrock. Be that as it may, Miss Olive is able to say, like Lord Byron, "I awoke one morning to find myself famous!"

Miss Thomas was born near Pittsburgh about twenty years ago. There had never been an actor in the Duffy family—Duffy is her real name—and her parents were very much opposed to what they called the "stage fever" she developed about four years ago. But she refused to be discouraged, and going to Ne wYork, engaged in a dancing contest on the New Amsterdum roof. Here Florence Ziegfeld saw her and immediately engaged her for the Follies and Midnight Frolic.

When she was still at the zenith of her success on the stage, Miss Thomas made her film debut and was so well liked, although her role was supposed to be a minor one, that she was immediately engaged as a star by a western company. At the expiration of her contract with this concern she was engaged by Myron Selznick to star in a series of productions for Selznick pictures. One of these productions, "The Spite Bride," will be seen at the Lyceum theatre one day only, Thursday, Oct. 16th.

MARGUERITE CLARK "WIDOW BY PROXY"

PETITE STAR IN ONE OF THE CLEVEREST ROLES YET ATTEMPTED.

Marguerite Clark introduces a novel addition to her long list of charming screen heroines in her latest Paramount - Artcraft picture, "Widow by Proxy," which will be the attraction at the Lyceum theatre Friday, Oct. 17, with a special matinee for children on Saturday at 2:30. The story is from the Broadway stage success of the same name, written by Catherine Chisholm Cushing. Miss Clark has the role of a vivacious bachelor girl who pretends to be the widow of a soldier missing in action, so that her dearest chum may collect an inheritance which is due her, but which she is too proud to accept. Complications ensue thick and fast, and the climax is reached when the "late" husband walks in, very much in the flesh.

"Widow by Proxy" is crowded with wholesome comedy and provides just the sort of part that has raised Miss Clark to her present pinnacle of popularity. A capable cast supports the little star, including Nigel Barrie as leading man. Walter Edwards was the director. This is the second picture made by Miss Clark since arriving in Califonia from New York and is expected to prove one of her most attractive vehicles.

Anderson has been named as roll call chairman. The matter of conducting the membership campaign will be in his hands, with complete authority and jurisdiction over the entire county.

Still a Pedagogue?

Frank Wing, the cartoonist of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, is evidently bent on continuing J. H. Hay, assistant commissioner of agriculture, as a "teacher" of one sort of another. In a recent cartoon he has the former Thief River Falls school superintendent in a pose which suggests that he is laying down the law to those about him. The latter are Hugh J. Hughes, state market agent; John W. Lux, Adolph Michaud, of Michaud Bros., St. Paul, who, according to the description accompanying the illustration, "is an excellent judge of green peas;" N. J. Holmgren, state commissioner of agriculture; another Mr. Lux, and C. F. Trettin, secretary of St. Paul Grocers' association. The drawing was made during a recent inquiry into the high cost of living in this state, a matter in which Mr. Hay and his associates have taken a deep interest.

MEN BREAK JAIL; POLICE ON WATCH

ALLEGED HIDE THIEVES SAW THEIR WAY OUT OF JAIL AT GRAFTON, N. D.

"Be on the lookout for two suspicious looking characters, who broke out of the jail here tonight and are escaping in a five passenger Ford," said the Grafton, N. D., police chief over the wire to Chief of Police E. O. Erickson last Saturday evening. Chief Erickson has kept a close watch on outside cars entering the city and it is believed the men have crossed the Canadian line.

John Moore and Ed. Miles, charged with having stolen hides at Minot,, N. D., which they attempted to dispose of in Crookston but were arrested instead, sawed their way to liberty from the Grafton jail on Saturday evening, according to the information, and later stole a Ford automobile and made their getaway.

Moore and Miles are believed by the authorities to belong to a gang of thieves who are plying their labors in North Dakota. It is alleged that they made away with one haul of hides and sold it in Fargo. Another lot of hides was brought to Crookston. Sheriff O. K. Bolstad got on their track and arrested them at Benoit and turned the men over to the North Dakota officials.

Returns From Vacation.

Miss Marie Nelson returned Monday after visiting for two weeks with friends and relatives in Minneapolis, Eau Claire, and Chicago. She resumed her duties as teller in the First National bank the same day.

Move to Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brabender, who have resided in Thief River Falls for a long term of years, last week moved to Grand Rapids, Minn., where they will meke their future home. Mr. Brabender traveled out of Thief River Falls as a representative of the marble works here for a number of years, and before this time conducted a hide and fur store on Third street. Mr. and Mrs. Brabender leave a large circle of friends in the city, all of whom wish them success at their new home.

BRATRUD ASKED TO HEAD TICKET IN COMING RACE

FINALLY CONSENTS AND IS THUS FAR THE ONLY CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

NO SCRAMBLE FOR PLACES

PROSPECT IN SOME INSTANCES IS THERE WILL BE NO CONTEST.

Saturday is the last day upon which candidates may file for places on the city ballot to be submitted to the voters on the first Tuesday in November. Only a few filings have been recorded at the office of City Clerk, A. H. Akre. One of these is the petition of Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant, another is that of H. A. Brumund, candidate for councilman from the Third ward, and another has been submitted by friends of John Dahl, aspirant for similar honors at the hands of the people in the Second. Edward Ness as a candidate in the Fourth has also filed. No opposition has as yet developed to any of these candidates.

Bratrud Will Accept.

The petition of John Bratrud will be filed before evening, it is thought. Mr. Bratrud has been prevailed upon to become a candidate for mayor, although he has repeatedly stated that he would much rather be excused. During the past week the pressure has become so strong, however, that he feels as if it would hardly be proper for him to longer refuse the honor. He is up to the present time the only candidate seriously considered and it would not be surprising to find no opposition develop.

Mellby Positively Declines.

In spite of the fact that a number of people still persist in regarding Dr. O. F. Mellby as a possible candidate for mayor, that gentleman says positively that nothing will induce him to take the office. He is not unmindful of the honor implied, but states that he cannot and will not be a candidate. "You may state for me," said Dr. Mellby to The Times yesterday, "that nothing will induce me to change my mind on this subject. I am not a candidate, have not been a candidate and will not become a candidate." Dr. Mellby is now a member of the school board as well as the sanitorium board and feels that he should not be asked to take a greater amount of time away from his own business. He is definitely out of the race simply because he refuses to enter it.

Same Holds With Larson.

Carl B. Larson has been mentioned as a candidate for alderman at large and friends have already circulated petitions for the purpose of placing his name on the ticket. Mr. Larson yesterday said that he would be showing scant recognition of the high compliment paid him if he did not appreciate the efforts of his fellow citizens, but that so far as being a candidate for the place was concerned he was definitely out of it. He went further and stated that he hoped his supporters would cease their efforts in his behalf as he could not possibly accept the place under any circumstances.

Secure Many Signatures.

The most generally signed petitions are those of O. L. Ihle and Severn Brandon, candidates for reelection as aldermen at large. The withdrawal of Mr. Larson from this field leaves them without opposition up to the present time and no other active candidates are mentioned.

In the First ward Carl Froseth thus far has the field to himself. He is the only avowed candidate and as he has served satisfactorily for four years the probabilities are that he will be allowed to remain at his post without molestation.

Second is Mixed.

The retirement of M. N. Benson as alderman from the Second ward leaves a new man to be chosen there. Besides John Dahl, who already has filed, there is mentioned Otto Gullingsrud and it is expected that his petition will be in the clerk's office before five o'clock next Saturday. He is a traveling man and is strongly backed by the members of that fraternity in the city.

In the Third H. A. Brumund has the field to himself and this situation is not likely to change.

The Fourth ward is better off for candidates than any other part of the city. Edward Ness was early in the field with a petition containing the required number of signatures and it is understood that the supporters of Olaf Neset will see that his name is properly presented. A strong attempt is being made by the friends of W. W. Prichard, Jr., to have him make the race, but he has not definitely decided just what to do.

There seems to be no disposition to enter into a contest with E. M. Evenson for the city treasurer's post and it is likely that he will be permitted to continue without making a fight.

While the time remaining before filings are closed is very short, yet it may easily prove a very busy period. Things have been so quiet thus far that there are predictions to the effect that the last couple of days are liable to contain a number of surprises.

AN EXPLANATION.

The Times this week reaches its readers somewhat later than usual and considerably short of the regular supply of news. An accident in the press room put the large newspaper press out of commission just as the run was started for the edition on Thursday morning. The damage was such that it could not possibly be repaired in time to enable the publishers to print the paper on their own press this week. The situation was explained to Messrs. Christie & Cutten of the Red Lake Falls Gazette, who at once placed their outfit at the disposal of The Times. In granting this accommodation the Red Lake Falls publishers were greatly inconvenienced themselves, Thursday being also the day upon which their paper is issued, but they extended The Times force every aid and courtesy with the result that both papers are at hand, although in the case of The Times the product is not up to the usual standard.

We hope the above explanation will account for any shortcoming noticed in the paper this week, and assure our readers that every effort will be made to have the home plant in running order before another paper is printed. THE PUBLISHERS.

WANTED FOR WIFE DESERTION; CAUGHT

AUGUST GIEMER APPREHENDED BY BRAINERD POLICE AND LODGED IN JAIL.

August Wiemer, former employee at the Soo yards, was arrested in Brainerd Tuesday by the police of that city and is now on his way to Thief River Falls in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Paul Midderigh to face a charge of wife desertion. They will arrived tonight at 8:30 o'clock.

Wiemer left this city on the 19th day of May, telling his wife in the evening that he was going down town to buy some groceries. He went and Mrs. Wiemer never saw her husband from that time to this. A complaint was made by the woman and Sheriff LaBree has been working on the case for several months and sent out photographs of Wiemer to numerous police heads of cities in Minnesota. The sheriff made a trip to Hibbing recently, being called there to identify a man who was being held but it proved to be the wrong man.

The sheriff had him partially located and Tuesday a wire was received stating a man answering the description had been arrested. Paul Midderigh left yesterday morning to bring him back to this city.

Wiemer left his wife in rather bad straits, there being two small children in the family and during his absence a third child was born. She has been supported in part at least by the city during her husband's absence.

ST. HILAIRE OFFICE IS IN THIRD CLASS

NEW POSTMASTER WILL RECEIVE SALARY OF $1,100 PER YEAR.

The postoffice at St. Hilaire has been transferred from the presidential class and will hereafter be numbered among the third class offices. This is an advance in standing and places the postmaster on a salary basis instead of allowing him the cancellations. The salary is $1,100 per year.

There will be an examination of applicants for the position of postmaster in the neighboring village held at Thief River Falls on Nov. 19. The date for this examination was originally set for Sept. 26, but owing to the change in the status of the office it has been postponed.

POLICE ARREST CLEVER ROBBER AT SOO DEPOT

WANTED BY AUTHORITIES AT EMERSON FOR BREAKING OPEN CASH BOX.

POSED AS BIG DETECTIVE

POLICE GET WIRE HERE TO WATCH FOR MAN AND ARREST IS MADE.

Wanted by the Canadian authorities at Emerson for having broken open the cash box at the telephone pay station at that place, R. Wallace, thought to be one of the cleverest crooks in the Northwest, was arrested by the Thief River Falls police Monday night after he escaped across the international boundary line at Noyes.

Chief Erickson received a wire from Emerson Monday evening to be on the lookout for the man and when the train arrived Wallace managed to get off and was later found on the other side of the train, where he was arrested. His transportation was paid to this city but it is thought he was making ready to ride the rods the balance of his trip when the train pulled out but the police were on the job and frustrated his attempt.

He was lodged in the city bastile and held here until Wednesday morning when he was taken back to Emerson by Charles Brooks, police chief. On his way to jail he refused to say much but said: "That's what a poor soldier gets."

Refused to Talk.

On arriving at the jail the prisoner "faked" a faint and the officers summoned a local doctor to examine him. Wallace said he had been doped but an examination showed the contrary for he was breathing naturally. In the city jail Tuesday morning he was again put through an examination and still refused to talk until six o'clock in the evening when he engaged in a conversation with Patrolman Kelly and said he "knew all the detectives in Winnipeg." Wallace claims to be a returned Canadian soldier, a member of the 44th Canadian battalion, but the Emerson police chief believes his statement is false as he had no papers to show service and had taken his "For Service at the Front" button off and put it in his pocket.

In Emerson a Week.

Police Chief Brooks said Wallace came to Emerson about a week ago and posed as a detective and had tried to associate himself with an aluminum salesman in making sales. Discovering the fact that the salesman had made many collections on Saturday, which amounted to about $400, Wallace tried to engage the same room in the Russell hotel with the salesman with an intent to "rolling" him, the chief said. Failing to get the same room he sat up all night in the hotel and then broke into a garage, procured a hammer and broke open the cash box at the telephone pay station and took the money, throwing the box into the gutter. During the robbery he had dropped a slip of paper addressed to one Mrs. R. Wallace at the McClaren hotel in Winnipeg and this was presented to him for recognition during a brief cross-examination in his cell at the jail Tuesday evening by the Emerson chief.

Escapes Across Line.

Wallace escaped to Noyes Monday while the police chief was hunting for him in Pembina and dodged the American immigration officer at the line and made his getaway to this city.

Questioned By Chief.

When questioned by the Emerson chief in his cell in the jail Tuesday evening, Wallace denied ever having been in Emerson and said he had never seen the chief before, but recognized his handwriting and denied the woman was his wife.

"He is playing plain possum" said the Emerson chief, after the jail door had been locked and then Wallace yelled "what did you say my name was? It's not Wallace, it's Buerins."

The prisoner was taken to Emerson prisoner is one of the cleverest men he has ever had to deal with and thinks he has a record if they look him up.

The prisoner was tackn to Emerson yesterday morning, handcuffed, to answer a charge of burglary.

Against Wheat Guarantees.

Julius H. Barnes, United States wheat director, gave public notice last night that he would oppose any attempt to extend to another crop the present government policy of a guaranteed price on wheat. The announcement was made at a dinner in his honor given by the directors of the Chicago board of trade.

MAN IS KILLED BY ANGRY BULL AT FARM HOME

NELS ANDERSON, 55, FOUND DEAD ON FARM NEAR HOLT FRIDAY MORNING.

BELIEVED DEAD TWO DAYS

SECTION FOREMAN MAKES FIND ON GOING TO NOTIFY FARMER ABOUT CATTLE.

Nels Anderson, 55, bachelor farmer, was found dead in his pasture last Friday, after having been attacked and killed by a mad bull. Anderson resided alone on a farm three miles north of Holt and it is believed that he had lain in the pasture for two days before the discovery was made.

Anderson was found a short ways from the well in the pasture and it is believed that he was going to the house after having dipped out a number of pails of water for the cattle when the bull rushed at him. The bull had no horns but marks on the dead man's body showed that he had been severely trampled and beaten. The top of the dead man's head was badly mutilated while his chest was crushed in and his sides bore marks of the bull having stamped on him.

Makes Find.

The Great Northern section foreman made the discovery Friday morning when he went from the track through Anderson's pasture to notify him that his cattle had gotten out and were running on railroad property. It was at this time that the find was made and he immediately notified the coroner's office and at the autopsy it was declared that he had been dead for two days.

Fine Cattle on Farm.

The deceased was owner of a fine farm and had one of the finest herds of cattle in that vicinity, and also had a number of head of horses. He had lived at his farm home for a long term of years and was a man of high standing in the community and his sudden death came as a shock to all who knew him.

Funeral Saturday.

Funeral services were held Saturday in Holt and the body was buried in the cemetery at that place. He is survived by several relatives.

ARE PAYING TAXES FOR SECOND HALF

MONEY COMING INTO OFFICE OF COUNTY TREASURER IN GOOD SHAPE.

The last day for the payment of the remaining half of the 1918 real estate taxes for Pennington county is Oct. 31, and the money is already coming in at a highly satisfactory rate, according to County Treasurer John Gullingsrud. Making payments thus early is highly pleasing to this official as it will do away to a large extent with the rush incident to the last few days of grace.

There still remains about $75,000 to be collected on the 1918 taxes, the June payments having amounted to $121,167.17. The first half of the tax collections are always the heaviest, this being the case to an exceptional degree this year.

Treasurer Gullingsrud has his books and office arranged so as to take care of the late comers with the least possible loss of time but asks that where it is possible to do so the taxpayer will come in as early as possible. Nothing is to be gained by waiting until the last minute, and while the liability to error is at no time very great, it is much reduced for those who pay their taxes early.

PARENTS-TEACHERS HOLD FINE MEETING

OVER 200 PEOPLE ATTEND AND OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR ASSOCIATION.

There were over 200 people in attendance at the Parent-Teachers meeting held last evening at the Lincoln high school to carry out the first formal program presented.

Officers for the association were elected as follows, there being one vice president for each school building: President, Herbert Fuller; Mrs. D. Shaw, vice president for the Knox; Mrs. G. Halvorson, vice president for the Northrup; Mrs. W. J. LaBree, vice president for the Central; Mrs. Emil Zen, vice president for the Lincoln; Mrs. Bakke, vice president for the Washington; W. A. Boreen, secretary.

Mrs. Daniel Shaw gave an excellent talk on the better understanding between the parents and teachers so that the children will be benefitted.

Mrs. J. J. Richter spoke about the details of organization as a Parent-Teacher association has to be properly organized to insure results.

Both of the speakers were well received and there was a hearty round of applause for both.

The first and second grade children of the Knox school presented a little play under the direction of their teachers, Misses Everson and Aske.

The students of Misses Trogan and Benson of the Northrup and Washington school also rendered a short program and Miss Evans gave a vocal solo.

FIRE AT PRICHARD FARM BURNS HOME

EXACT ORIGIN OF BLAZE IS UNKNOWN—INSURANCE CARRIED AND PAID.

Mice gnawing into a box of matches, is believed to be the cause of a fire that on Saturday evening destroyed the residence on the W. W. Prichard, Sr., farm, known as the old Turndall farm, five miles southeast of Thief River Falls. The farm is being rented to Sam Johnson.

The blaze occurred when Mrs. Johnson and the two small children were home alone, while Mrs. Johnson was out milking when the flames broke out. Coming out from the barn Mrs. Johnson saw her two children standing outside the house crying while smoke was issuing forth from the house. The blaze was first noticed near the kitchen cabinet, where five boxes of matches had been placed a few days before and it is believed that mice gnawing into these started the fire.

Mrs. Johnson attempted to save a few household articles but the fire spread to all parts of the residence so rapidly that it was nearly impossible to save anything. All the household goods were destroyed and the house burned completely down.

Insurance on the house was carried with the Bray Mutual Insurance company and to show the dispatch used by this concern in paying losses, a meeting of the board was held Monday morning at 10 o'clock and an order was given for the payment of the amount carried.

A temporary home will be erected at once at the Prichard farm for the Johnson family, owing to the fact that it is too late in the season to start the building of a modern farm home, but this will be done early next spring, Mr. Prichard said yesterday.

FIRST NUMBER OF COURSE TUESDAY

MINNEAPOLIS OPERATIC COMPANY PROMISES TO BE FINE MUSICAL EVENT.

The first number of the Lyceum course, which has been secured for Thief River Falls by the public schools, will be given at the auditorium Tuesday evening, October 28, and promises to be one of the biggest musical events of the season.

The attraction is the Minneapolis Operatic company, which is distinctive not only for the high quality of its presentations, but for their variety and novelty as well. The personnel is made up of six musical stars, among whom are singers of unusual natural endowments of voice and dramatic ability developed to a high point of excellence by long, careful training. The instrumentalists of this group are of equal attainment.

The company's splendid musical renditions are enhanced and enlivened by attractive stage settings and colorful costumes.

The course consists of six numbers and season tickets can be secured for $2 while single admissions will be sold for fifty cents. By reason of the fact that these high class attractions are traveling on the Lyceum circuit, conducted by three state universities, the reasonable admission price is possible while if any one of the attractions were to come to the city outside of the circuit the admission price would cost practically half what it costs to see the six attractions on the present arrangement.

The proceeds will be turned over to the high school athletic association treasurer. A large number of season tickets have been disposed of and a packed house will no doubt greet the performers.

NORSE CHURCHES EFFECT MERGER OF ALL ASSETS

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHOSEN AS NAME FOR NEW CONGREGATION.

NEW BUILDING NECESSARY

OFFICERS ELECTED AND CALL FOR PASTOR WILL BE ISSUED.

The final act in an undertaking that has taken years to reach its consummation was closed on Tuesday evening when the two remaining Norwegian Lutheran congregations in this city formally amalgamated and the organizations were consolidated under one head. It is the culmination of an attempt inaugurated years ago to bring the three principal branches of the church in America—the Synod, the United, and Hauge's Synod—closer together. To the accomplishment of this purpose the leaders of each faction have striven with untiring energy and with a unwavering faith in the eventual success of their efforts, and the outcome is one that causes much gratification thruout the entire body of the church on this side of the Atlantic.

Has Three Properties.

The Norwegian Lutheran congregation is now the largest in the city, there being in the neighborhood of 200 contributing members. The former Synod church will be used as a place of worship, being the largest of the three structures coming under control of the new corporation. The probabilities are that all three will be disposed of and an entirely new building erected. Until such time as this program can be carried out it is likely that more room will be provided in the present building by the construction of a balcony.

Officers Are Chosen.

Rev. I. T. Aastad, who recently resigned the pastorate of the former Synod church after serving the congregation for 25 years, acted as chairman of the meeting on Tuesday evening, Dr. O. F. Mellby being chosen secretary. The committee previously appointed for the purpose of drafting a constitution and by-laws reported and the result of their work was duly approved.

Officers were elected as followsr Olaf Ramstad, president; H. O. Chommie, vice president. For trustees the following were chosen: One year—Olaf Tessum, C. B. Larson and Gilbert Sandum; two years—Lars Backe, Edward Ness and C. M. Carlson; three years—M. V. Evenson, H. S. Dahlen and Peter Hornseth. Lars Backe was elected secretary of the board of trustees and H. S. Dahlen treasurer. The first board of directors will be made up as follows: H. P. Sponheim, J. J. Aga, A. J. Anderson, A. Sanden and E. A. Mostue. As ushers were appointed Ole Ostby, J. O. Sathre, A. J. Anderson and John Gullingsrud. The Sunday school will be in chrarge of Gilbert Sandum and Gynther Tessum. H. O. Chommie was tendered the post of organist.

One of the first duties of the new congregation will be the calling of a pastor. This matter was left in the hands of a committee of 14, made up of the following members: Lars Backe, H. S. Dahlen, H. O. Chommie, Halvor Loken, C. B. Larson, Jorgen Eide, Oluf Tessum, Dr. O. F. Mellby, C. M. Carlson, J. O. Sether, Gilbert Sandum, M. V. Evenson, J. J. Aga. The congregation is now in a position to offer a liberal salary to whoever may be decided on besides placing him in charge of one of the largest congregations in this section of the state.

There will be services in the church next Sunday conducted by Rev. Iver Sandborg of Barrett, Minn. He will preach in Norwegian in the forenoon and English in the evening.

Inspects His Property.

E. J. Pfiffner of Stevens Point, Wis., has been in the city this week looking after his property interests. He is a son-in-law of James Meehan, former banker of this city, and is the controling factor in the management of the Meehan building on Second street and other valuable holdings in the business district. Mr. Pfiffner was surprised to find how fast the city is advancing toward metropolitan proportions, being particularly taken with the many fine business houses to be seen. M. C. Burns, his agent here, has been showing him around during his stay, which he claims has been most pleasant.

SOCIETY and Club

First Number of Special Feature Program Given

The Woman's club is to be congratulated on the success and general excellence of the first entertainment presented as part of a program which will extend thru the winter months. The attraction on Monday was John Seaman Garnes in a poetic lecture and recital and if the favor with which this initial presentation was met is a criterion of the future the series will prove the most successful effort of its kind ever engaged upon in this city.

Mr. Garnes, who is associated with McPhail's school, Minneapolis, took for his subject "The Changing Phase of American Humor." In his opening remarks he called attention to the undisputed fact that the American humorist of the future will be the interpreter of a national rather than a sectional school. He explained his statement by saying that practically all our humorous poets took for their subjects the characteristics and idiosyncrasies of the people residing in some particular section of the country, very few if any having attempted to embrace the national spirit in their writings. Quoting liberally from many of the most famous of our songsters he pointed out this feature in a most interesting manner.

Mr. Garnes aimed to give something from the representatives of each section. He began with Holman Francis Day, the Maine humorist, continued westward until he struck Ben King, to whom he seemed somewhat partial; read a few specimens of the really charming works of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro poet; paid his compliments to W. J. Foley in our sister state of North Dakota as a particularly fine portrayer of the robust humor of the far north, and passed on to Jonquin Miller, the singer of the Serins. None were slighted and enough was presented from each to give a good idea of both their style and motive.

Mr. Garnes is a most pleasant reader. Careful at all times lest he exaggerate and thus mar the beauty and symmetry of his subject, he nevertheless delivers his impressions with vigor and an apparent clear understanding of its values. The audience which packed the club room accorded him the closest attention thruout and heartily applauded at the close of every recitation.

It is possible that Mr. Garnes will visit the city again. He said he would like to devote one entire afternoon or evening to the works of Eugene Field and James Whitcomb Riley, and it may be that an opportunity will be presented whereby he will be able to do so.

A highly appreciated piano duet by Mrs. Oscar Sponheim and Mrs. Nat Harris preceeded Mr. Garnes' readings.

Callaway-Carlson.

The following item taken from the Minneapolis Journal of Oct. 16, is an account of the marriage of Miss Ethel Carlson and Craven Callaway, former residents of Thief River Falls:

"Miss Ethel O. Carlson of Thief River Falls, and Craven Callaway of this city, were married at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. E. C. Millbrath, 4334 Garfield avenue, Wednesday evening by Rev. Mark Sanborn of Judson Memorial church. Miss Elsie Millbrath and P. K. Callaway were the bridal attendants. The bride's grown was of white voile over white crepe de chine and she held a bouquet of bride roses. Miss Millbrath was gowned in pink and her flowers were pink Killarney roses. An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Callaway will be at home at 2030 Willow avenue north after Nov. 1."

Scene—A Gypsy Camp

SYNOPSIS

To a gypsy camp in the woodland, where Carlotta, Raina, and Gundalupe are engaged in the domestic duties of the camp, comes a stranger of distinguished appearance and debonair manner. After he has made a profound impression on the diffident girls, he suddenly removes a false beard he has been wearing and laughingly discloses himself as Rodriguero, Carlotta's sweetheart and Raina's brother, who has donned the disguise to play a prank on the girls.

The girls are much amused by the incident, and it occurs to Raina to play a similar joke on Ramon, her lover, who is absent from the camp at the time. At her suggestion, they agree that when Ramon returns Rodriguero is to resume his disguise and be introduced to Ramon as a distinguished guest. Then Rodriguero is to pretend to make love to Raina and thus arouse Ramon's jealousy to an amusing pitch.

The little scheme works out almost too well; for Ramon becomes so inflamed with jealousy that he determines to kill Rodriguere, and only a very prompt disclosure of the latter's true identity as Raina's brother prevents the joke from having a very serious termination.

While quality is the true test that counts in boys' clothing, style must be reckoned with seriously, too—if you get one without the other, then the measure of value is not true.

Our boys' suits and overcoats reveal boyishly-smart style at their best—pleasing, practical style in suits whose dominating features are service, quality and value. At $12.50 to $20 there is a wide range for choice.

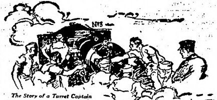
OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs.

This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be deferred and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.



The Story of a Turret Captain

Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1899 A. P. Nilsson enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class. In April 1907 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $165 76 per month.

A man's life — among men!

Reel them off—"Rio", Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and afloat that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas — sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll face life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Shore leave to see inland sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.

For Census Enumerators.

Postmaster John Morgan announces that there will be an examination of candidates for positions as census enumerators held at the Commercial club room on Monday, Oct. 27. Olaf A. Fedvedt, in charge of the enumeration for the Ninth congressional district, whose headquarters are at Fergus Falls, is anxious that all townships in the county as well as the city wards have candidates on hand to take this examination. The compensation will be placed so as to enable the enumerators to earn from $4 to $6 per day and there should be no trouble in securing competent men for the positions. Anyone wishing to apply for these posts should present himself at the postoffice in Thief River Falls next Monday.

Begin Work on Bank.

Contractor C. M. Carlson and a crew of men have begun the work of constructing the addition to the newly-acquired First and Peoples' State bank building; formerly the Scandia block. Eighteen feet will be added to the length of the room to be used as banking quarters, this being principally for the accomodation of the vault. The work will be hustled along as rapidly as possible in order that this part of the contract may be out of the way before real cold weather sets in.

Boy is Injured.

Reuben Haug, age 11, is at the Physicians' hospital suffering from a broken knee as the result of having had his foot caught in the wheel of a plow. The lad was working in a field on his father's farm and in some manner fell off the seat of the rig, his foot catching in the spokes of the turning wheel. He was working near the farm home and his parents hearing the moans uttered by the boy rushed out and found him on the ground.

Attend Conference.

Rev. R. L. Barackman last week attended a meeting of the Presbyterian Synod in St. Paul. The inauguration of Elmer Allen Bess, as president of Macalester college occurred on Tuesday. On that occasion the speakers were Dr. John A. Markus, superintendent of home missions of the Presbyterian church of the United States; Dr. J. Willis Baer, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly; Dr. Marion L. Burton, president of the Univeristy of Minnesota; Dr. James Wallace, head of the Bible department of Macalester college. An address was also made by President Bess.

The college contemplates adding $750,000 to its endowment fund by July 1. The sessions of the synod extended through Wednesday and Thursday and passed in review the organized work of the Presbyterian church thru the state, and also thru its mission agencies. One of the speakers on foreign missions was Dr. Brandt, who laid before the ministers of the state the terrible conditions that existed in Syria, Persia and Korea. The session of the synod closed on Friday forenoon.

"Twin Beds."

Thief River Falls will have the greatest theatrical treat in its history in the presentation of the funniest play in the World—"Twin Beds" with the same high class company and production that played Minneapolis and all the prominent cities, and on account of an open night Manager Halvorson was lucky to secure this date.

The San Francisco Examiner of the date of September 17th this year says: "'Twin Beds' opened at the Columbia Theatre last night to one of the largest houses of the season, and and it was the fifth time for the presentation, and years fail to dim the luster of this remarkable play. It kept the audience in a constant roar of laughter during the entire evening and was presented by the best cast ever seen on the Pacific Coast.' It will be presented here at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls on Monday evening, Oct. 27. Get your tickets now at Lambert's Drug Store. o23

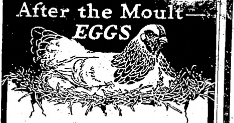
After the Moult— EGGS



REMEMBER, going through the moult is like going through a long spell of sickness. To force out the old quills and grow new feathers saps a hen's vitality.

If you expect your hens to be fall producers and winter layers, then feed them Poultry Pan-a-ce-a during and after the moult.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a

will start your pullets and moulted hens to laying

It contains Tonics that put your moulted hens in fine condition—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulted, run-down hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains internal antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. It pays to feed Pan-a-ce-a regularly.

It brings back the singing—it brings back the scratching—it brings back the cackle. That's when you get eggs; and it's eggs you want—fall eggs, winter eggs—when eggs are eggs.

DRUGGIST

Tell us how many hens you have. We'll tell you how much Pan-a-ce-a to buy.

Cannot Praise this Remedy too Highly

THE WAY ONE LADY FEELS AFTER SUFFERING TWO YEARS

Judging from her letter, the misery and wretchedness endured by Mrs. Charlie Taylor, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 144, Dillon, S. C., must have been terrible. No one, after reading her letter, can continue to doubt the great healing power of PE-RU-NA for troubles due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions in any part of the body. Her letter is an inspiration to every sick and suffering man or woman anywhere. Here it is: "I suffered two years with catarrh of the head, stomach and bowels. Tried two of the best doctors, who gave me up. I then took PE-RU-NA and can truthfully say I am well. When I began to use PE-RU-NA, I weighed one hundred pounds. My weight now is one hundred and fifty. I cannot praise PE-RU-NA too highly, for it was a Godsend to me. I got relief from the first half bottle and twelve bottles cured me. I advise all sufferers to take PE-RU-NA."

As an emergency remedy in the home, there is nothing quite the equal of this reliable, time-tried medicine, PE-RU-NA. Thousands place their sole dependence on it for coughs, colds, stomach and bowel trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins and to prevent the grip and Spanish Flu. To keep the blood pure and maintain bodily strength and robustness, take PE-RU-NA.

You can buy PE-RU-NA anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

Three New Rooms.

Supt. W. A. Ziegler of the city schools, states that the room shortage at the high school has been relieved some by the creation of three new class rooms. The boys lavatory on the first floor has been eliminated and has been converted into a neat little class room, while the room in the southwest corner of the building, formerly used by normal training students, has been cut in two through the erection of a partition.

Gave Readings.

There was a short interruption in the program of the school work at the Lincoln high Monday afternoon when Mr. Garnes, lecturer, gave several readings before the four classes. The readings were very much appreciated and he received many rounds of applause. Mr. Garnes came to the city under the auspices of the Woman's club and he appeared on their program at the Commercial club the same day.

Scene—A Gypsy Camp

SYNOPSIS

To a gypsy camp in the woodland, where Carlotta, Raina, and Guadalupe are engaged in the domestic duties of the camp, comes a stranger of distinguished appearance and debonair manner. After he has made a profound impression on the diffident girls, he suddenly removes a false beard he has been wearing and laughingly discloses himself as Rodriguero, Carlotta's sweetheart and Raina's brother, who has donned the disguise to play a prank on the girls.

The girls are much amused by the incident, and it occurs to Raina to play a similar joke on Ramon, her lover, who is absent from the camp at the time. At her suggestion, they agree that when Ramon returns Rodriguero is to resume his disguise and be introduced to Ramon as a distinguished guest. Then Rodriguero is to pretend to make love to Raina and thus arouse Ramon's jealousy to an amusing pitch.

The little scheme works out almost too well; for Ramon becomes so inflamed with jealousy that he determines to kill Rodriguere, and only a very prompt disclosure of the latter's true identity as Raina's brother prevents the joke from having a very serious termination.

Shoe Prices to Stand.

There is no indication of an immediate drop in footwear prices, J. Frank McElwain, president of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers association, said the first of the week. Mr. McElwain said "shoe prices have never reached the high peak represented by the August price of hides," although hides have declined 20 per cent in price since the August high point, shoe costs have been based on still lower figures, it was stated.

"It is my opinion that shoe prices for spring will be no lower than at present," the statement concluded.

The Changing World

NAPOLEON is quoted as having said, "Right is on the side of the heaviest artillery." In other words that might makes right.

This cynical remark was characteristic of the age in which he lived, and expressed the thought which dominated the world for many years after his death.

But a change has come over the world which has turned the whole thought of mankind into more wholesome, constructive channels. Where formerly he who had the power exploited his fellows, today the dominant idea is service and helpfulness.

In business particularly, is this idea apparent.

Today only those business institutions which render to the public a definite, specific service can hope to survive the changed ideals of the world.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is bending every effort to conduct its affairs in such manner as to conform to these modern ideals.

It is the ambition of the Company to broaden the scope and intensify the service it renders the public so as to make every man who buys even a gallon of gasoline feel that he is receiving the greatest possible value for the money he spends.

It is the Company's steadfast purpose to make every product it manufactures of the highest quality possible, thereby keeping its activities in step with the changing world.

Higher Prices Send Telephone Expenses Up.

About everything you buy costs more than before the war.

High freight rates and unusually high wages have caused the prices of nearly all raw materials to rise far above normal.

The increased cost of labor and of raw materials have advanced the price of manufactured products.

Prices generally are at a higher level than before the war.

We do not look for the price of labor and equipment to come down materially for several years.

Higher prices for equipment and generally higher operating expenses have increased the cost of furnishing telephone service.

MANY FAWNS HAVE ANTLERS ATTACHED

LOCAL LODGE OF ELKS TAKES ANOTHER SCORE INTO HERD.

More than 20 fawns were taken into the local herd of Elks last Thursday evening. The initiation was staged at the auditorium, the Masonic hall, which is also used by the Elks, being deemed too small to accomodate the crowd expected to be present. Those who anticipated a big turn-out were not disappointed. Not only did the local bunch appear almost to a man, but there were a large number of visitors, principally from points up the line.

Exalted Ruler L. R. Johnston was in charge of the proceedings, which were particularly well staged and impressive because of the large class and crowd. After the ceremony of initiation an excellent lunch was served by H. A. Brumund and a few reels of fine pictures run by A. J. Lawrence, former manager of the Lyceum theatre.

This was the largest class with one exception ever taken into the local lodge and brings the total membership well up towards the 400 mark. The Elks is the fastest growing lodge in this vicinity, according to the claims made by its officers, and the statement is not disputed. The members have a great program in mind for the near future—one which may wind up with the building of an Elks' home in this city.

Appreciated Bargains.

People know real bargains when they see them and are not slow in taking advantage of any offer that is out of the ordinary. Last week Loken Brothers put on a number of specials in ladies' shoes which attracted considerable attention. As a result it was the heaviest shoe day in the history of the department. The buying public found the values exceptional and took full advantage of the fact. The good work is continued this week. The proprietors of the big store find that they are heavy on some shoe lines and have decided to thin them out. Their method of doing so is to reduce the price. An announcement in another column gives the details.

BLOOMER GIRLS IN ACTION AT LINCOLN

HAVING GREAT TIME IN NEW "GYM" CLASS FORMED BY COMMUNITY GIRLS.

Girls, get your bloomers!

The class in gymnasium work inaugurated by the Community Girls club, met Tuesday evening at Lincoln high school and a large number of young women were on hand to start the class off.

The Community Girls met last Thursday evening at the high school to set the date for holding of the day class and they will meet each Tuesday evening hereafter at the Lincoln "gym." Tuesday evening a large class was on the floor under the direction of Miss Gunlagson, an instructor in the high school, and it is believed the work will meet with phenomenal success.

The Community Girls are desirous of having as large a class as possible and they extend an invitation to the girls of the city to join and bring their "gym." togs with them next Tuesday.

The pupils Tuesday evening had a great time, and one of the departures that should prove exceedingly popular is the development of a girls' basketball team. A number of girls' teams will be organized in neighboring cities and Thief River Falls will have a chance to get representation in this sport.

Director Gunlagson is putting her students through a stiff course, and many were the sore muscles Tuesday evening. All voted it a "lark."

The course for women comprises floor work with dumb bells, and Indian clubs, callisthenics and Swedish exercises.

"The Bondage of Barbara" New Mae Marsh Picture

A smashing climax involving Mae Marsh in a decidedly different role is the feature of the star's newest Goldwyn Picture, "The Bondage of Barbara," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre Monday, Oct. 27.

Miss Marsh in boy's clothes climbs up to the attic of a roadhouse, where her brother is kept a prisoner. He has been placed there by the men responsible for a theft, which Barbara has paid for with a year of her life in the reformatory. She takes her brother's place and induces him to go to the district attorney and explain everything.

When his captors find her they seek to hurry her out of the place. It is then that Miss Marsh puts up a fight such as will amaze the admirers of the erstwhile portrayer of altogether feminine types. She proves a match for the two men, her struggle being brought to an end only by the arrival of those cognizant of her plan to bring the criminals to justice.

The charm of "The Bondage of Barbara" is manifested in Miss Marsh's mimic home, her devotion to her brother and the love scenes with her lawyer sweetheart, all of which blend into an unusually vital photodrama.

Mrs. G. W. Eastman.

Early Tuesday morning, at the University hospital, Minneapolis, occurred the death of Mrs. G. W. Eastman, wife of the well-known Sanders township farmer. Deceased, who was 50 years of age, died from a complication of diseases from which she had been a sufferer since sustaining a paralytic stroke about two years ago. She was a resident of Pennington county for 16 years.

She was born in Appleton, Wis., where her girlhood was spent. She was the mother of seven children, six of whom, together with the husband, survive her. The children are: Elmer, who resides with his parents; Mrs. L. L. Kingsley, wife of a Pennington county farmer; Oscar, engineer at the Tri-County Sanitarium; Mrs. Jesse Thorstad and Mrs. Julius Swezer, who also reside in this neighborhood, and Gladys, who resides at home.

Gave Away Soap.

Zeh & Curran, consumers wholesale grocers, last week announced that they would on Wednesday give two bars of White Borax Soap to any woman who would come to their store and ask for it. Long before closing time the 1000 bars were gone and the demand still continued. People had read the announcement in The Times and altho the day was far from pleasant they came to get their allotment. These enterprising grocers are not giving this article away any more but they are still advertising it at a figure that should prove most attractive to the thrifty housewife. See their ad in another column.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our daughter and sister, Mayme Wiener.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And tho' the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.

M. V. EVENSON TO BE CONTENDER FOR MAYOR JOB

ACTION LATE SATURDAY PLACES TWO CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

3 ALDERMEN UNOPPOSED

J. J. AGA WILL TRY CONCLUSIONS WITH H. A. BRUMUND IN THIRD.

The Ticket

Mayor—John Bratrud and Martin V. Evenson.

City Treasurer—Ed. M. Evenson.

Municipal Judge—Nicholas W. Tarrant.

Aldermen-at-large—Ole L. Ihle and Severn Brandon.

Alderman, First ward—Carl Froseth.

Alderman, Second ward—John Dahl and Otto Gullingsrud.

Alderman, Third ward—H. A. Brumund and J. J. Aga.

Alderman, Fourth ward—Olaf Neset and Andrew Ness.

Last-minute filings insure there being some interest in the outcome of the city election after all. For a long time it looked as if there would be no contest for a number of the positions on the ticket, but opposition developed for about one-half of the places to be filled.

One of the last filings on Saturday was that of Martin V. Evenson, who shied his hat into the ring as a candidate for mayor. A few days previously John Bratrud had been prevailed upon by friends to permit the use of his name, so that there will be a contest at any rate and there are plenty of predictions to the effect that it will be interesting. Both are good men and have many energetic personal friends who will take up the campaign in their behalf even tho the principals themselves are not inclined to do so.

City Treasurer E. M. Evenson and Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant will not be required to make a campaign. They are the only candidates for their present posts and no effort on their part will be required in order to remain where they are. This situation is highly satisfactory, both having served most creditably.

Three Will Return.

The next council will only have fifty per cent of new members in its makeup, no matter how things turn out at the polls. Ole L. Ihle and Severn Brandon, present aldermen-at-large, have no opposition, the same being true in the case of Carl Froseth, representing the First ward. The fact of their having no opposition is evidence that their services are satisfactory.

In the Second a new man will represent the people. M. N. Benson retires at his own request after four years of service and he will be succeeded by either Otto Gullingsrud or John Dahl.

Aga Also Comes In.

One of the last-minute filings was that of J. J. Aga for councilman from the Third ward. He is opposing H. A. Brumund, the present incumbent, who has a good record to fall back on in his canvass for votes.

In the Fourth there are also two candidates—both new men. Olaf Neset and Andrew Ness will seek the suffrages of their neighbors for a place on the council.

Interest in the outcome is by no means keen at this time, but things may liven up before the day of election. Such is generally the case at any rate.

Farm Exhibits Wanted.

Olaf Tessum, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club, who was placed in charge of the work of getting grain and garden exhibits from Pennington county farms to replace the present display at the Soo depot, states that he has not received any exhibits outside of a few which came in over a month ago and is desirous of hearing from some of the Farmers' clubs and secure their aid in completing the display. The exhibit will contain only specimens raised on Pennington county farms and each exhibit, which is to be placed in a large jar filled with a preserving fluid, will contain the name of the contributor. The agricultural committee wants to complete the display soon and asks the co-operation of all those interested. Those who have some fine garden products and grain should bring them to the Tessum Seed Grain and Supply house near the Soo depot.

RAILROAD SUED BY C. HEDLUND'S HEIRS

WIFE DEMANDS $7500 FROM GREAT NORTHERN FOR CAUSING HUSBAND'S DEATH.

The case of T. P. Anderson, as administrator of the estate of Carl Hedlund, against the Great Northern Railroad company, will be called before the district court of Roseau county this week. Mr. Anderson left yesterday morning for Roseau to be on hand when the action is called.

Mr. Anderson is bringing suit on behalf of Mrs. Hedlund and her small child, demanding $7,500 as damages. Hedlund was killed by one of the defendant's trains last June while in the employ of the Thief River Hide and Fur company, the family being at that time residents of this city. The complaint alleges that no warning was sounded by the engineer before reaching the crossing of the road upon which Hedlund was traveling and that consequently he was not made aware of an approaching train. The machine was hit by the fast-moving train and Hedlund sustained injuries from which he died within a few hours. Hans O. Chommie of this city is attorney for the plaintiffs.

ST. PAUL CHURCH DESIRES REV. SELTZ

LOCAL PASTOR HAS NOT DEFINITELY DECIDED UPON HIS COURSE.

Rev. F. J. Seltz, pastor of St. Johns Lutheran church in this city for the past 13 years, last week received a call from St. Stephen's congregation, St. Paul, offering him the pastorate at that church. This is one of the largest Lutheran congregations in the Twin Cities, having more than 200 voting members, and the offer is a high compliment to the local pastor.

At a meeting of St. John's congregation last Sunday the matter was discussed and while the members expressed themselves as being fully aware of the importance to Rev. Seltz of such a change, yet they urged him to consider the matter fully and hoped he would decide to remain here. No definite action was taken and the matter will come up for final decision at a meeting next Sunday.

Rev. Seltz has served the church here since the charge was but a mission field comprising a large section of the surrounding country and has worked with energy and enthusiasm for the upbuilding of the church. This was his first call after graduation and he will leave with deep regret should he finally decide to accept the offer tendered.

LAYING OF STORM SEWERS TO BEGIN

HOLT & GEORGE HAVE LARGE CREW OF MEN AT WORK ON SEWER JOB.

"The laying of the storm sewers in the paving district of the city will begin the last of this week or the first of next week," said L. B. George of the Holt & George Co. today.

"This work will last about a week and with our present crew of men we will be able to cover about a block a day. 24 inch pipes will be used," he said.

At the present time the streets are being torn up and connections are being put in to all vacant lots; while a large number of the old iron water pipes are being replaced with lead pipes. Some of the pipes have been in the ground since sewers were first installed in Thief River Falls and are rusted.

The local firm is being held back with its work to a great extent owing to the fact that the material cannot be secured. In any large amounts as there is a shortage at the factory, and this added with insufficient freight service makes a hard nut to crack.

A report was circulated last week that Holt & George have the paving council that goes into office January first. The preliminary steps have been taken to finance the project by the present council, however, should the work be undertaken, next summer.

Farling May Come.

Negotiations between W. H. Farling, of Dayton, Ohio, and the Merchants' association are now going on in an attempt to secure this lecturer at a future meeting. Mr. Farling gives a lecture in conjunction with a moving picture called: "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them." This picture was recently shown in Winona and it was declared to be a very good number.

SCHOOL PROGRAMS FOR NOVEMBER 11

HONOR WILL BE PAID SOLDIERS, LIVING AND DEAD, ON ARMISTICE DAY.

"Armistice Day"—November 11—will be observed throughout the Thief River Falls public schools in an appropriate manner and programs are now being arranged and prepared for the occasion at which time the schools will pay honor to the soldier dead and living of the great World War.

The day has been proclaimed a public one by Governor Burnquist and as it is not a legal holiday the schools will not be given a full day off but many fine programs will be given at all of the schools.

A program of exceptional merit is being arranged by the Lincoln high school teachers and is one that will be well worth attending.

The day will be observed from the first grade up through the high school and it is planned to make it one of the biggest days in the history of the schools.

NOTED SPEAKER IS SECURED FOR NEXT MEETING

MIKE DOWLING, OLIVIA BANKER AND FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN TO TALK.

EMPLOYEES TO BE GUESTS

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED AT MEETING OF GENERAL COMMITTEE YESTERDAY.

Mike Dowling, banker of Olivia, former newspaper man and a speaker of international renown, has been secured by the Thief River Falls Merchants' association to give an address here at their second annual banquet to be held at the Commercial club room next Wednesday evening, November 5.

The general committee of the association met last evening and laid all the plans for the banquet next week, and it was decided that all merchants bring their employees to the banquet as their guests as was done at the last affair several weeks ago.

A ticket selling campaign will be instituted this week to insure a large attendance but tickets will only be sold to members of the association. The business section of the city has been cut into four parts and appointments were made to cover each part.

Fine Program Arranged.

Everything will be done to make the affair surpass all previous events of its kind. An excellent program of vocal solos, community singing and orchestra numbers will be arranged and the banquet will be on the same high order as heretofore. Only members of the association, their families and employees will attend. The banquet will start promptly at 7 p. m., and tickets will sell at $1.

Speaker of Renown.

The members of the Merchants' association feel especially fortunate in securing as the speaker for the evening, Mike Dowling, of Olivia, Minn., and his address alone would be worth the banquet price.

Many years ago Mr. Dowling became lost in a snowstorm and froze his arms and legs, which necessitated amputating his limbs and he is now provided with artificial legs and arms. He has just recently returned from England, where he spent considerable time lecturing at reconstruction hospitals filled with wounded soldiers and was also the principal speaker at a large bankers' meeting held in St. Louis lately.

A fitting tribute was paid him in one of the August issues of the Saturday Evening Post which described how his work went on in spite of his physical handicaps. Another article on his life appeared in the American magazine a short time ago.

Committees.

At the meeting last night Abe Sanero was appointed chairman of the committee on lunch arrangements and H. O. Loken will attend to the arranging of the evening's musical program. Gynther Tessum was asked to secure a leader to conduct the community singing and see that about 200 mimeograph copies of the songs to be sung were printed in order that each one present at the banquet will be provided.

The committee on general arrangements is as follows: Gynther Tessum, S. C. Simonson, W. W. Prichard, Jos. Charles Lieberman, Carl Christoffersen, Dr. H. B. Newell, Abe Sanero and O. L. Crenstrom.

The entertainment committee named is composed of C. L. Hansen, P. O. Mogensen and W. W. Prichard, Sr.

BIDS OPENED FOR WHITE WAY WORK

BIDS LAID OVER UNTIL NEXT MEETING, NOV. 11—NO SAMPLES SHOWN.

Bids for the relaying of a new cable for the white way, the installing of new posts and other work to be done on the downtown lighting system, were opened at the city council's meeting on Tuesday evening.

The bid of the Fargo Foundry company was $11,[illegible] and that of the Champlin-Nanson company, also of Fargo, was $10,733.60, making a difference of $614.65 in the two bids. Neither one of the firms had any samples of the cable for inspection at the notice called for and on motion of Alderman Benson the bids were laid over until the next regular meeting. A representative of the Fargo Foundry company said there was a shortage of the cable at the factory, and that they were unable to furnish samples but would try and arrange to secure samples of cable for the next meeting.

The Fargo company agreed in their bid to furnish and install remote switches of 50 amperes at $71.40, and 40 amperes at $54.40. Their bid on cable is as follows: To furnish and install No. 4 cable, per lineal foot, at $1.42, No. 6 at $1.23, No. 8 at $1.19, No. 10 at $1.12, No. 12 at $1.08, No. 14 at $1.05.

They also agreed to furnish and install 2 inch wrought iron pipes at 76c per foot; furnish and string No. 10 iron-clad copper wire at 8½c per foot; rewire present posts at $9.25; furnish and install control switches at plant at $11.40; furnish and install concrete posts at $11.

The Champlin-Nanson bid was as follows:

Furnish and install remote control switches of 50 ampres at $73; furnish and install remote control switches of 40 ampres at $59.75; furnish and install and place No. 4 cable at $1.48 per lineal foot; No. 6 cable at $1.25, No. 8 cable at $1.10, No. 10 cable at $1.07, No. 12 cable at $1.02, No. 14 cable at 97c; furnish and install 2 inch wrought iron pipe at 78c per foot; furnish and string No. 10 iron copper clad wire per foot at .03c; rewire present posts each at $8.35; furnish and control switches at plant each $12.60; paint posts at $3.25 each; furnish and install concrete posts at $11.75.

Coal Miners Go on Strike Friday Night

Half a million soft coal miners will go on strike tomorrow evening at midnight.

After a two hour conference in Indianapolis yesterday of the officials of the big union, they had no idea of modifying the call for a cessation of work, it was announced, and the strike order stands.

The government is prepared to take drastic steps to deal with the conditions arising in the coal fields if the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America permits the strike order to stand. Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield has been summoned to Washington to discuss the situation and the strike order may result in the re-establishment of the federal coal administration.

Dr. Garfield, who still has authority to function as fuel administrator, is in close touch with the situation and has expressed confidence a settlement could be reached without a walkout of the miners.

FAMOUS LECTURER SECURED BY LEGION

FRITZ OSTEN-SACKEN AND CONCERT COMPANY HERE NOVEMBER 21-22.

Fritz Osten-Sacken, former German nobleman, who appeared in Thief River Falls in July, 1918, when he made a flaying address on the dethroned monarch of the German empire, together with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, will be the chief attraction at the Auditorium next month and come here under the auspices of the local post of the American legion, on November 21-22.

This former German nobleman, now a full-fledged American citizen, is personally acquainted with ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, and all those who heard him talk here before will not want to miss the coming lecture, although it will be along different lines than his previous address. He had four sons serving in the American army during the war.

An added attraction to the lecture will be the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, composed of high-class musicians, and programs will be rendered on the afternoon of November 21 and in the afternoon and evening of Nov. 22.

Sub-Zero Weather Sunday.

Old Man Winter pounced down upon the Northwest in great fashion last Sunday and sent the mercury down to 11 degrees below, according to Louis Payson, local weather observer. This is the coldest day for October ever recorded and very few of the old-time residents can recall anything like it in previous years. The river had frozen over and people began crossing Sunday while a large number of youngsters enjoyed their first day skating.

Fargo and Crookston reported 11 below as did Bismarck, N. D., while at Mandan the thermometer registered 15 below.

Yesterday the snow began thawing and with a few more days of its kind the snow will go rapidly.

Duck hunters at the bigger lakes had the best shooting of the year, it is said, and all returned with their full legal quota. The freezing over of all the small water bodies sent the ducks to many of the lakes south of the city and all that was required of the hunters was to "get set" somewhere and bang away.

Candidates at Crookston.

Down at Crookston, where they still nominate candidates for municipal offices under party designations, there promises to be a very quiet election. The candidates selected at the Republican caucus in nearly every instance failed to file before the time of closing last Saturday, leaving the field clear for their opponents. Candidates for the various offices are: Mayor, James H. Morrisey; city clerk, L. Ellington; city treasurer, E. H. Rossberg; city assessor, S. L. Collins; alderman at large, O. Merell, Jr.; alderman, second ward, William Becker and J. J. Kelley; alderman, fourth ward, W. L. Ireland; alderman, sixth ward, O. J. Vaule; alderman, eighth ward, W. R. Low; justices of the peace, J. D. Ball, P. S. Hughes and S. K. Sorenson.

AIM TO BECOME SCHOOL CENTER FOR DISTRICT

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION WILL TAKE UP BIG QUESTION IN NOVEMBER.

NEW TRADE DEPARTEENT

SCHOOLS OFFERING THIS INSTRUCTION TO BE AIDED BY GOVERNMENT.

Shall Thief River Falls develop its schools to care for only the students of the district or shall it make provisions to take care of all those from over the Northwest?

This is the question that will be taken up by the recently organized Parent-Teacher organization at the next meeting which will be held about the middle of next month, Supt. Ziegler said today.

"This is a vital question" said Supt. Ziegler, "and the proper place for its discussion will be at the meeting of the association. I believe that the building of a trade school under the Smith-Hughes law means more for the city than a normal school. Here both boys and girls will attend, learn a trade and get high school credits," he declared.

Trade For Both.

Supt. Ziegler pointed out that a normal school provides training for only the girls, while a trade school here will provide for both boys and girls. The views of the people of the city will be found on the question and then it will be put before the school board. Supt. Ziegler is strongly in favor of developing work in the Thief River Falls schools under the Smith-Hughes act and believes it will be a boon to the city.

Course Now Going.

A nine and six month's term is now in operation at the high school under this law and a large number of boys, who were forced to drop out of school at an early stage are now enrolled and are receiving valuable education along practical lines. An addition is being built to the mechanical building to care for the mechanical end of it, where a great course in mechanics is to be inaugurated.

An Educational Center.

Thief River Falls is already famous as an educational center and the total attendance at the high school now is over 400, a large part of the students being non-residents. The developing of a trade school under the Smith-Hughes law will attract many to the city and cities offering this instruction are liberally aided by the United States government.

The subject of a greater school system for Thief River Falls will be brought up by Supt. Ziegler at the next meeting of the association at which time the taxpayers will have a chance to voice their opinions in the matter.

ASKS BIG AMOUNT FOR ROAD RIGHTS

ARNE VIK WANTS COUNTY TO PAY AT RATE OF $1,000 PER ACRE.

Pennington county farm land is advancing in price rapidly, but the county commissioners do not feel justified in paying for it at the rate of $1,000 per acre, particularly when the land wanted is to be used for road purposes. This is the amount asked by Arne Vik, a farmer residing just south of St. Hilaire, for a strip containing one and one-tenth acres.

The commissioners wished to eliminate a dangerous curve at the corner of the Vik farm and proceeded to cut across a piece of his land. They were willing to pay for the damage done, according to their version, and Mr. Vik was willing they should, but his price was somewhat extraordinary. It is reported that his first figure was for $1,200, this being later cut to $1,100, or exactly $1,000 per acre. The board did not feel justified in paying this amount and an injunction was secured by Vik stopping the work. The matter came up for consideration at the board meeting on Monday but no agreement was reached and Mr. Vik threatens to bring suit to compel the payment of his price.

POSTAL WORKERS TO GET INCREASE

ENTIRE FORCE AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE WILL BE AFFECTED BY AGREEMENT.

Uncle Sam's postal workers thruout the country will soon get a wage boost, retroactive from July 1; and the estimated cost to the government will be between $38,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Those to receive general increases will be assistant postmasters, clerks and carriers at first and second class postoffices, railway mail clerks, inspectors, mechanics, laborers, watchmen and third class postmasters.

Thief River Falls is in the second class and all the employees here will be affected when the new agreement goes into effect. The agreement of the increased pay was reached the latter part of last week by the Senate and House conference, a graduating scale ranging from $100 to $200 annually for general employees, with smaller raises for the rural mail service being approved.

The $200 increase will go to those now getting between $1,000 and $1,200; $150 to those receiving between $1,200 and $1,600; $125 to those between $1,600 and $2,000 and $100 to those between $2,000 to $2,500.

Carriers in village delivery service would receive an advance of 20 per cent and rural carriers will get an increase of from $37.50 to $200, according to length of their routes and frequency of trips.

Substitute clerks and carriers will be given 60 cents an hour.

DRAINAGE HEARING IMPORTANT EVENT

REPRESENTATIVES FROM LARGE SECTION WILL BE HERE ON NOV. 7.

Hearings on a petition for the formation of a drainage district embracing the watershed of the Red Lake river and tributaries will be held in Thief River Falls on Friday, Nov. 7. The hearing will take place at the court house and will be before Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, and Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji.

This call is the result of a petition presented to the two judges asking that the entire section be embraced in one drainage district under the Cliff law of 1917 and is the outcome of a preliminary meeting held in this city on July 22. At that time representatives from practically every township in the northwestern counties of the state were present and took the steps necessary for the formation of such district. Petitions were circulated in all counties and these were later submitted to the two judges, who set the date of hearing for Nov. 7 and named Thief River Falls as the place, this being the most conveniently located point for the gathering.

This will be the most important event in any way connected with drainage ever held in the state. The movement was started last summer immediately after the disastrous floods had destroyed a considerable crop area and has been pushed with determination since that time.

While this is only a step toward the ultimate carrying out of a vast plan, it is an important step and the expectation is that there will be a large representation of farmers present.

SHEEP CLUB SHOW TO BE HELD NOV. 15

LOBBY OF CITIZENS' BANK TO BE USED AS SHOW ROOM.

The Boys' and Girl's Sheep club contest conducted by the Citizens' State Bank of Thief River Falls, through the Pennington County Farm Bureau, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 15th, in the lobby of the bank. The lambs to be exhibited by these boys and girls are of such high quality that the bank has set aside its beautiful lobby for an exhibit room on that day.

Lambs will be on exhibit from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Fifty dollars in prizes will be offered by the bank.

Free trip and expenses to the large junior live stock show at So. St. Paul on Nov. 19, 20 and 21 will be offered by the state extension department to the best three sheep club members who will show their lambs there for splendid prizes.

The public is cordially invited to visit this show at the bank and it is expected that some exceptionally fine lambs will be exhibited.

The show will be under the management of County Agent J. J. McCann and A. J. Anderson, assistant cashier of the bank.

EVENSON MOVING VULCANIZING SHOP

NEW LOCATION ON SECOND ST. WILL PROVIDE EXCELLENT QUARTERS.

Work of moving the C. M. Evenson & Sons vulcanizing shop from their old stand on Main avenue to the new location on Second street began on Monday on a small scale. The entire plant will be moved by Saturday, Mr. Evenson said on Monday, and the factory will be in operation very soon.

The new quarters on Second street will provide an excellent place for a factory of this kind, and Mr. Evenson will use the entire basement floor exclusively for vulcanizing purposes, while the first floor will be for repairing cars and part of the second floor also. It is his intention to engage a first-class automobile painter for the winter and all those who wish to give their cars a new coat for next summer's season can have that work done right here in the city. The second story of the building will be used as the painting room. The cars are run upon an elevator platform and brought up.

PLAN ADDITION TO SEWER JOB COSTING $12,000

CITIZENS PRESENT AT COUNCIL MEETING VOICE SENTIMENTS IN MATTER.

DEMAND PERFECT SYSTEM

PROPOSED STORM SEWER SYSTEM WOULD BE AMONG BEST IN STATE.

Taxpayers present at the council meeting Tuesday evening voiced their opinions in the matter of the laying of a storm sewer in Thief River Falls and demanded nothing but the best and most up-to-date system obtainable.

Engineer Borrowman of the Bradley Engineering company of St. Cloud, explained the work that is going on at the present time and stated that he was under the impression that an expensive storm sewer system was not desired at this time but the property owners present said "the best was none too good."

During the discussion several prominent taxpayers of the city voiced their opinions in the matter and a plan was formulated for an addition to the present sewer work that, if carried out, will cause the outlay of approximately $12,000.

Best Time Now.

Engineer Borrowman explained his storm sewer plan and favored the laying of pipes in the alleys and said this was the proper time to do it before paving is begun. The engineer is now at work drawing upon a sketch of the proposed storm sewer system which will provide for Thief River Falls one of the best systems in the state. The plan is designed on an inch an hour rainfall and there will be no danger of backwater coming into the basements. The sketch will be presented to the council at their next meeting. A committee composed of T. P. Hamre, Rasmus Oen and Martin Evenson, was named to work in conjunction with the engineer by Severt Brandon, vice-president of the council.

Want the Best.

Engineer Borrowman figured the council was not willing at this time to expend too great an amount for sewer work but the property owners were all in favor of putting in the best system possible while they were about it. Mr. Oen, who has suffered severely from backwater in his basement at the store, believed it was the right step to take as did Mr. Hamre, Mr. Evenson and Olaf Neset.

"We must plan for tomorrow and not only for today," said Mr. Hamre, in favoring the building of an adequate storm sewer system.

Engineer Borrowman said it took years of preaching in St. Cloud before they were made to realize the importance and need of such a system and praised the property owners for the initiative taken by them.

HUNTER HOT AFTER DUCKS; IS DUCKED

COMRADES IN ATTEMPT TO GIVE AID ALSO BREAK THRU ICE AT LAKE.

"Jake" Grenagel, an employee at the Great Northern railroad office, was hot on the trail of ducks at Madison lake last Sunday and was "ducked."

It all happened after "Jake" had shot down a few of the birds. He attempted to walk out upon the thin rubber ice to get them and as a result broke thru. The temptation of leaving the ducks lie out on the ice, 75 feet from shore, was too much for "Jake." Leaving his gun on shore he walked out about 50 feet and went down, hitting the ice with his head on coming up. Trying to swim and break the ice away ahead of him was a strenuous job, he says, but he made it to shore safely. While he was struggling in the water, three of his comrades rushed out upon the ice to assist him but the weight of the three boys was too great and they also took a cold plunge not far from shore.

Reaching shore drenched to the skin, while the thermometer registering close to zero, the four boys hopped into a car and rode for eight miles before a change of clothing could be made and the warmth of a stove enjoyed.

Getting wet didn't bother "Jake" so much, for he put in over twelve months in France as an infantryman, but he doesn't like the idea of getting under the ice and having to break his way to shore.

Eats Rat Poison.

Immediate medical attendance for little Otto Horn, two and one-half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horn, saved his life last Friday after having eaten some rat poison which had been placed on pieces of bread. Mrs. Horn became aware of the child's mistake after she had been informed by one of the other children who happened to be upstairs with the little boy. She rushed upstairs and found her little son with his mouth full of the poison and had swallowed a large portion of it.

MANY FAWNS HAVE ANTLERS ATTACHED

LOCAL LODGE OF ELKS TAKES ANOTHER SCORE INTO HERD.

More than 20 fawns were taken into the local herd of Elks last Thursday evening. The initiation was staged at the auditorium, the Masonic hall, which is also used by the Elks, being deemed too small to accomodate the crowd expected to be present. Those who anticipated a big turn-out were not disappointed. Not only did the local bunch appear almost to a man, but there were a large number of visitors, principally from points up the line.

Exalted Ruler L. R. Johnston was in charge of the proceedings, which were particularly well staged and impressive because of the large class and crowd. After the ceremony of initiation an excellent [illegible] was served by H. A. Brumund and a few reels of fine pictures run by A. J. Lawrence, former manager of the Lyceum theatre.

This was the largest class with one exception ever taken into the local lodge and brings the total membership well up towards the 400 mark. The Elks is the fastest growing lodge in this vicinity, according to the claims made by its officers, and the statement is not disputed. The members have a great program in mind for the near future—one which may wind up with the building of an Elks' home in this city.

Appreciated Bargains.

People know real bargains when they see them and are not slow in taking advantage of any offer that is out of the ordinary. Last week Loken Brothers put on a number of specials in ladies' shoes which attracted considerable attention. As a result it was the heaviest shoe day in the history of the department. The buying public found the values exceptional and took full advantage of the fact. The good work is continued this week. The proprietors of the big store find that they are heavy on some shoe lines and have decided to thin them out. Their method of doing so is to reduce the price. An announcement in another column gives the details.

BLOOMER GIRLS IN ACTION AT LINCOLN

HAVING GREAT TIME IN NEW "GYM" CLASS FORMED BY COMMUNITY GIRLS.

Girls, get your bloomers!

The class in gymnasium work inaugurated by the Community Girls club, met Tuesday evening at Lincoln high school and a large number of young women were on hand to start the class off.

The Community Girls met last Thursday evening at the high school to set the date for holding of the day class and they will meet each Tuesday evening hereafter at the Lincoln "gym." Tuesday evening a large class was on the floor under the direction of Miss Gunlagson, an instructor in the high school, and it is believed the work will meet with phenomenal success.

The Community Girls are desirous of having as large a class as possible and they extend an invitation to the girls of the city to join and bring their "gym." togs with them next Tuesday.

The pupils Tuesday evening had a great time, and one of the departures that should prove exceedingly popular is the development of a girls' basketball team. A number of girls' teams will be organized in neighboring cities and Thief River Falls will have a chance to get representation in this sport.

Director Gunlagson is putting her students through a stiff course, and many were the sore muscles Tuesday evening. All voted it a "lark."

The course for women comprises floor work with dumb bells, and Indian clubs, calisthenics and Swedish exercises.

"The Bondage of Barbara" New Mae Marsh Picture

A smashing climax involving Mae Marsh in a decidedly different role is the feature of the star's newest Goldwyn Picture, "The Bondage of Barbara," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre Monday, Oct. 27.

Miss Marsh in boy's clothes climbs up to the attic of a roadhouse, where her brother is kept a prisoner. He has been placed there by the men responsible for a theft, which Barbara has paid for with a year of her life in the reformatory. She takes her brother's place and induces him to go to the district attorney and explain everything.

When his captors find her they seek to hurry her out of the place. It is then that Miss Marsh puts up a fight such as will amaze the admirers of the erstwhile portrayer of altogether feminine types. She proves a match for the two men, her struggle being curred the death of Mrs. G. W. Eastman, wife of the well-known Sanders township farmer. Deceased, who was 50 years of age, died from a complication of diseases from which she had been a sufferer since sustaining a paralytic stroke about two years ago. She was a resident of Pennington county for 16 years.

She was born in Appleton, Wis., where her girlhood was spent. She was the mother of seven children, six of whom, together with the husband, survive her. The children are: Elmer, who resides with his parents; Mrs. L. L. Kingsley, wife of a Pennington county farmer; Oscar, engineer at the Tri-County Sanitarium; Mrs. Jessa Thorstad and Mrs. Julius Swezer, who also reside in this neighborhood, and Gladys, who resides at home.

Gave Away Soap.

Zeh & Curran, consumers wholesale grocers, last week announced that they would on Wednesday give two bars of White Borax Soap to any woman who would come to their store and ask for it. Long before closing time the 1000 bars were gone and the demand still continued. People had read the announcement in The Times and altho the day was far from pleasant they came to get their allotment. These enterprising grocers are not giving this article away any more but they are still advertising it at a figure that should prove most attractive to the thrifty housewife. See their ad in another column.

In Memoriam.

In loving memory of our daughter and sister, Mayme Wiener.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And tho' the body moulders here,
The soul is safe in Heaven.
—Mr. and Mrs. Casper Wiener and family.

M. V. EVENSON TO BE CONTENDER FOR MAYOR JOB

ACTION LATE SATURDAY PLACES TWO CANDIDATES IN THE FIELD.

3 ALDERMEN UNOPPOSED

J. J. AGA WILL TRY CONCLUSIONS WITH H. A. BRUMUND IN THIRD.

The Ticket

Mayor—John Bratrud and Martin V. Evenson.
City Treasurer—Ed. M. Evenson.
Municipal Judge—Nicholas W. Tarrant.
Aldermen-at-large—Ole L. Ihle and Severn Brandon.
Alderman, First ward—Carl Froseth.
Alderman, Second ward—John Dahl and Otto Gullingsrud.
Alderman, Third ward—H. A. Brumund and J. J. Aga.
Alderman, Fourth ward—Olaf Neset and Andrew Ness.

Last-minute filings insure there being some interest in the outcome of the city election after all. For a long time it looked as if there would be no contest for a number of the positions on the ticket, but opposition developed for about one-half of the places to be filled.

One of the last filings on Saturday was that of Martin V. Evenson, who shied his hat into the ring as a candidate for mayor. A few days previously John Bratrud had been prevailed upon by friends to permit the use of his name, so that there will be a contest at any rate and there are plenty of predictions to the effect that it will be interesting. Both are good men and have many energetic personal friends who will take up the campaign in their behalf even tho the principals themselves are not inclined to do so.

City Treasurer E. M. Evenson and Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant will not be required to make a campaign. They are the only candidates for their present posts and no effort on their part will be required in order to remain where they are. This situation is highly satisfactory, both having served most creditably.

Three Will Return.

The next council will only have fifty per cent of new members in its makeup, no matter how things turn out at the polls. Ole L. Ihle and Severn Brandon, present aldermen-at-large, have no opposition, the same being true in the case of Carl Froseth, representing the First ward. The fact of their having no opposition is evidence that their services are satisfactory.

In the Second a new man will represent the people. M. N. Benson retires at his own request after four years of service and he will be succeeded by either Otto Gullingsrud or John Dahl.

Aga Also Comes In.

One of the last-minute filings was that of J. J. Aga for councilman from the Third ward. He is opposing H. A. Brumund, the present incumbent, who has a good record to fall back on in his canvass for votes.

In the Fourth there are also two candidates—both new men. Olaf Neset and Andrew Ness will seek the suffrages of their neighbors for a place on the council.

Interest in the outcome is by no means keen at this time, but things may liven up before the day of election. Such is generally the case at any rate.

LAYING OF STORM SEWERS TO BEGIN

HOLT & GEORGE HAVE LARGE CREW OF MEN AT WORK ON SEWER JOB.

"The laying of the storm sewers in the paving district of the city will begin the last of this week or the first of next week," said L. B. George of the Holt & George Co. today. "This work will last about a week and with our present crew of men we will be able to cover about a block a day. 24 inch pipes will be used," he said.

At the present time the streets are being torn up and connections are being put in to all vacant lots, while a large number of the old iron water pipes are being replaced with lead pipes. Some of the pipes have been in the ground since sewers were first installed in Thief River Falls and are rusted.

The local firm is being held back with its work to a great extent owing to the fact that the material cannot be secured in any large amounts as there is a shortage at the factory, and this added with insufficient freight service makes a hard nut to crack.

A report was circulated last week that Holt & George have the paving council that goes into office January first. The preliminary steps have been taken to finance the project by the present council, however, should the work be undertaken next summer.

Farm Exhibits Wanted.

Olaf Tessum, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club, who was placed in charge of the work of getting grain and garden exhibits from Pennington county farms to replace the present display at the Soo depot, states that he has not received any exhibits outside of a few which came in over a month ago and is desirous of hearing from some of the Farmers' clubs and secure their aid in completing the display. The exhibit will contain only specimens raised on Pennington county farms and each exhibit, which is to be placed in a large jar filled with a preserving fluid, will contain the name of the contributor. The agricultural committee wants to complete the display soon and asks the co-operation of all those interested. Those who have some fine garden products and grain should bring them to the Tessum Seed Grain and Supply house near the Soo depot.

RAILROAD SUED BY C. HEDLUND'S HEIRS

WIFE DEMANDS $7500 FROM GREAT NORTHERN FOR CAUSING HUSBAND'S DEATH.

The case of T. P. Anderson, as administrator of the estate of Carl Hedlund, against the Great Northern Railroad company, will be called before the district court of Roseau county this week. Mr. Anderson left yesterday morning for Roseau to be on hand when the action is called.

Mr. Anderson is bringing suit on behalf of Mrs. Hedlund and her small child, demanding $7,500 as damages. Hedlund was killed by one of the defendant's trains last June while in the employ of the Thief River Hide and Fur company, the family being at that time residents of this city. The complaint alleges that no warning was sounded by the engineer before reaching the crossing of the road upon which Hedlund was traveling and that consequently he was not made aware of an approaching train. The machine was hit by the fast-moving train and Hedlund sustained injuries from which he died within a few hours. Hans O. Chommie of this city is attorney for the plaintiffs.

ST. PAUL CHURCH DESIRES REV. SELTZ

LOCAL PASTOR HAS NOT DEFINITELY DECIDED UPON HIS COURSE.

Rev. F. J. Seltz, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church in this city for the past 13 years, last week received a call from St. Stephen's congregation, St. Paul, offering him the pastorate at that church. This is one of the largest Lutheran congregations in the Twin Cities, having more than 200 voting members, and the offer is a high compliment to the local pastor.

At a meeting of St. John's congregation last Sunday the matter was discussed and while the members expressed themselves as being fully aware of the importance to Rev. Seltz of such a change, yet they urged him to consider the matter fully and hoped he would decide to remain here. No definite action was taken and the matter will come up for final decision at a meeting next Sunday.

Rev. Seltz has served the church here since the charge was but a mission field comprising a large section of the surrounding country and has worked with energy and enthusiasm for the upbuilding of the church. This was his first call after graduation and he will leave with deep regret should he finally decide to accept the offer tendered.

Farling May Come.

Negotiations between W. H. Farling, of Dayton, Ohio, and the Merchants' association are now going on in an attempt to secure this lecturer at a future meeting. Mr. Farling gives a lecture in conjunction with a moving picture entitled: "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them." This picture was recently shown in Winona and it was declared to be a very good number.

SCHOOL PROGRAMS FOR NOVEMBER 11

HONOR WILL BE PAID SOLDIERS, LIVING AND DEAD, ON ARMISTICE DAY.

"Armistice Day"—November 11—will be observed throughout the Thief River Falls public schools in an appropriate manner and programs are now being arranged and prepared for the occasion at which time the schools will pay honor to the soldier dead and living of the great World War.

The day has been proclaimed a patriotic one by Governor Burnquist and as it is not a legal holiday the schools will not be given a full day off but many fine programs will be given at all of the schools.

A program of exceptional merit is being arranged by the Lincoln high school teachers and is one that will be well worth attending.

The day will be observed from the first grade up through the high school, and it is planned to make it one of the biggest days in the history of the schools.

NOTED SPEAKER IS SECURED FOR NEXT MEETING

MIKE DOWLING, OLIVIA BANKER AND FORMER NEWSPAPER MAN TO TALK.

EMPLOYEES TO BE GUESTS

ARRANGEMENTS PERFECTED AT MEETING OF GENERAL COMMITTEE YESTERDAY.

Mike Dowling, banker of Olivia, former newspaper man and a speaker of international renown, has been secured by the Thief River Falls Merchants' association to give an address here at their second annual banquet to be held at the Commercial club room next Wednesday evening, November 5.

The general committee of the association met last evening and laid all the plans for the banquet next week, and it was decided that all merchants bring their employees to the banquet as their guests as was done at the last affair several weeks ago.

A ticket selling campaign will be instituted this week to insure a large attendance but tickets will only be sold to members of the association. The business section of the city has been cut into four parts and appointments were made to cover each part.

Fine Program Arranged.

Everything will be done to make the affair surpass all previous events of its kind. An excellent program of vocal solos, community singing and orchestra numbers will be arranged and the banquet will be on the same high order as heretofore. Only members of the association, their families and employees will attend. The banquet will start promptly at 7 p. m., and tickets will sell at $1.

Speaker of Renown.

The members of the Merchants' association feel especially fortunate in securing as the speaker for the evening, Mike Dowling, of Olivia, Minn., and his address alone would be worth the banquet price.

Many years ago Mr. Dowling became lost in a snowstorm and froze his arms and legs, which necessitated amputating his limbs and he is now provided with artificial legs and arms. He has just recently returned from England, where he spent considerable time lecturing at reconstruction hospitals filled with wounded soldiers and was also the principal speaker at a large bankers' meeting held in St. Louis lately.

A fitting tribute was paid him in one of the August issues of the Saturday Evening Post which described how his work went on in spite of his physical handicaps. Another article on his life appeared in the American magazine a short time ago.

Committees.

At the meeting last night Abe Sagero was appointed chairman of the committee on lunch arrangements and H. O. Loken will attend to the arranging of the evening's musical program. Gyther Tessum was asked to secure a leader to conduct the community singing and see that about 200 mimeograph copies of the songs to be sung were printed in order that each one present at the banquet will be provided.

The committee on general arrangements is as follows: Gyther Tessum, C. Simonson, W. W. Prichard, Jr., Charles Lieberman, Carl Christofferson, Dr. H. B. Newell, Abe Sagero and O. L. Cronstrom.

The entertainment committee named is composed of C. L. Hanson, P. O. Mogensen and W. W. Prichard, Sr.

BIDS OPENED FOR WHITE WAY WORK

BIDS LAID OVER UNTIL NEXT MEETING, NOV. 11—NO SAMPLES SHOWN.

Bids for the relaying of a new cable for the white way, the installing of new posts and other work to be done to the downtown lighting system, were opened at the city council's meeting on Tuesday evening.

The bid of the Fargo Foundry company was $11,[illegible] and that of the Champlin-Nanson company, also of Fargo, was $10,[illegible], making a difference of $614.65 in the two bids. Neither one of the firms had any samples of the cable for inspection as the notice called for and on motion of Alderman Benson the bids were laid over until the next regular meeting. A representative of the Fargo Foundry company said there was a shortage of the cable at the factory and that they were unable to furnish samples but would try and arrange to secure samples of cable for the next meeting.

The Fargo company agreed in their bid to furnish and install remote switches of 50 amperes at $71.40, and 40 amperes at $54.40. Their bid on cable is as follows: To furnish and install No. 4 cable, per lineal foot, at $1.42, No. 6 at $1.23, No. 8 at $1.19, No. 10 at $1.12, No. 12 at $1.08, No. 14 at $1.05.

They also agreed to furnish and install 2 inch wrought iron pipes at 76c per foot; furnish and string No. 10 iron-clad copper wire at 3½c per foot; rewire present posts at $9.25; furnish and install control switches at plant at $11.40; furnish and install concrete posts at $11.

The Champlin-Nanson bid was as follows:

Coal Miners Go on Strike Friday Night

Half a million soft coal miners will go on strike tomorrow evening at midnight.

After a two hour conference in Indianapolis yesterday of the officials of the big union, they had no idea of modifying the call for a cessation of work, it was announced, and the strike order stands.

The government is prepared to take drastic steps to deal with the conditions arising in the coal fields if the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America permits the strike order to stand. Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield has been summoned to Washington to discuss the situation and the strike order may result in the re-establishment of the federal coal administration.

Dr. Garfield, who still has authority to function as fuel administrator, is in close touch with the situation and has expressed confidence a settlement could be reached without a walkout of the miners.

FAMOUS LECTURER SECURED BY LEGION

FRITZ OSTEN-SACKEN AND CONCERT COMPANY HERE NOVEMBER 21-22.

Fritz Osten-Sacken, former German nobleman, who appeared in Thief River Falls in July, 1918, when he made a flaying address on the dethroned monarch of the German empire, together with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, will be the chief attraction at the Auditorium next month and come here under the auspices of the local post of the American legion, on November 21-22.

This former German nobleman, now a full-fledged American citizen, is personally acquainted with ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, and all those who heard him talk here before will not want to miss the coming lecture, although it will be along different lines than his previous address. He had four sons serving in the American army during the war.

An added attraction to the lecture will be the Metropolitan Grand Opera company, composed of high-class musicians, and programs will be rendered on the afternoon of November 21 and in the afternoon and evening of Nov. 22.

Sub-Zero Weather Sunday.

Old Man Winter pounced down upon the Northwest in great fashion last Sunday and sent the mercury down to 11 degrees below, according to Louis Payson, local weather observer. This is the coldest day for October ever recorded and very few of the old-time residents can recall anything like it in previous years. The river had frozen over and people began crossing Sunday while a large number of youngsters enjoyed their first day skating.

Fargo and Crookston reported 11 below as did Bismarck, N. D., while at Mandan the thermometer registered 15 below.

Yesterday the snow began thawing and with a few more days of its kind the snow will go rapidly.

Duck hunters at the bigger lakes had the best shooting of the year, it is said, and all returned with their full legal quota. The freezing over of all the small water bodies sent the ducks to many of the lakes south of the city and all that was required of the hunters was to "get set" somewhere and bang away.

Candidates at Crookston.

Down at Crookston, where they still nominate candidates for municipal offices under party designations, there promises to be a very quiet election. The candidates selected at the Republican caucus in nearly every instance failed to file before the time of closing last Saturday, leaving the field clear for their opponents. Candidates for the various offices are: Mayor, James F. Morrisey; city clerk, L. Ellington; city treasurer, E. E. Rossberg; city assessor, S. L. Collins; alderman at large, O. Mercil, Jr.; alderman, second ward, William Becker and J. J. Kelley; alderman, fourth ward, W. L. Ireland; alderman, sixth ward, O. J. Vaule; alderman, eighth ward, W. R. Low; justices of the peace, J. D. Ball, P. S. Hughes and S. K. Sorenson.

AIM TO BECOME SCHOOL CENTER FOR DISTRICT

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION WILL TAKE UP BIG QUESTION IN NOVEMBER.

NEW TRADE DEPARTEENT

SCHOOLS OFFERING THIS INSTRUCTION TO BE AIDED BY GOVERNMENT.

Shall Thief River Falls develop its schools to care for only the students of the district or shall it make provisions to take care of all those from over the Northwest?

This is the question that will be taken up by the recently organized Parent-Teacher organization at the next meeting which will be held about the middle of next month, Supt. Ziegler said today.

"This is a vital question" said Supt. Ziegler, "and the proper place for its discussion will be at the meeting of the association. I believe that the building of a trade school under the Smith-Hughes law means more for the city than a normal school. Here both boys and girls will attend, learn a trade and get high school credits," he declared.

Trade For Both.

Supt. Ziegler pointed out that a normal school provides training for only the girls, while a trade school here will provide for both boys and girls. The views of the people of the city will be found on the question and then it will be put before the school board. Supt. Ziegler is strongly in favor of developing work in the Thief River Falls schools under the Smith-Hughes act and believes it will be a boon to the city.

Course Now Going.

A nine and six month's term is now in operation at the high school under this law and a large number of boys, who were forced to drop out of school at an early stage are now enrolled and are receiving valuable education along practical lines. An addition is being built to the mechanical building to care for the mechanical end of it, where a great course in mechanics is to be inaugurated.

An Educational Center.

Thief River Falls is already famous as an educational center and the total attendance at the high school now is over 400, a large part of the students being non-residents. The developing of a trade school under the Smith-Hughes law will attract many to the city and cities offering this instruction are liberally aided by the United States government.

The subject of a greater school system for Thief River Falls will be brought up by Supt. Ziegler at the next meeting of the association at which time the taxpayers will have a chance to voice their opinions in the matter.

ASKS BIG AMOUNT FOR ROAD RIGHTS

ARNE VIK WANTS COUNTY TO PAY AT RATE OF $1,000 PER ACRE.

Pennington county farm land is advancing in price rapidly, but the county commissioners do not feel justified in paying for it at the rate of $1,000 per acre, particularly when the land wanted is to be used for road purposes. This is the amount asked by Arne Vik, a farmer residing just south of St. Hilaire, for a strip containing one and one-tenth acres.

The commissioners wished to eliminate a dangerous curve at the corner of the Vik farm and proceeded to cut across a piece of his land. They were willing to pay for the damage done, according to their version, and Mr. Vik was willing they should, but his price was somewhat extraordinary. It is reported that his first figure was for $1,200, this being later cut to $1,100, or exactly $1,000 per acre. The board did not feel justified in paying this amount and an injunction was secured by Vik stopping the work. The matter came up for consideration at the board meeting on Monday but no agreement was reached and Mr. Vik threatens to bring suit to compel the payment of his price.

POSTAL WORKERS TO GET INCREASE

ENTIRE FORCE AT LOCAL POSTOFFICE WILL BE AFFECTED BY AGREEMENT.

Uncle Sam's postal workers thruout the country will soon get a wage boost, retroactive from July 1; and the estimated cost to the government will be between $38,000,000 and $40,000,000.

Those to receive general increases will be assistant postmasters, clerks and carriers at first and second class postoffices, railway mail clerks, inspectors, mechanics, laborers, watchmen and third class postmasters.

Thief River Falls is in the second class and all the employees here will be affected when the new agreement goes into effect. The agreement of the increased pay was reached the latter part of last week by the Senate and House conference, a graduating scale ranging from $100 to $200 annually for general employees, with smaller raises for the rural mail service being approved.

The $200 increase will go to those now getting between $1,000 and $1,200; $150 to those receiving between $1,200 and $1,600; $125 to those between $1,600 and $2,000 and $100 to those between $2,000 to $2,500.

Carriers in village delivery service would receive an advance of 20 per cent and rural carriers will get an increase of from $37.50 to $200, according to length of their routes and frequency of trips.

Substitute clerks and carriers will be given 60 cents an hour.

DRAINAGE HEARING IMPORTANT EVENT

REPRESENTATIVES FROM LARGE SECTION WILL BE HERE ON NOV. 7.

Hearings on a petition for the formation of a drainage district embracing the watershed of the Red Lake river and tributaries will be held in Thief River Falls on Friday, Nov. 7. The hearing will take place at the court house and will be before Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, and Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji.

This call is the result of a petition presented to the two judges asking that the entire section be embraced in one drainage district under the Cliff law of 1917 and is the outcome of a preliminary meeting held in this city on July 22. At that time representatives from practically every township in the northwestern counties of the state were present and took the steps necessary for the formation of such district. Petitions were circulated in all counties and these were later submitted to the two judges, who set the date of hearing for Nov. 7 and named Thief River Falls as the place, this being the most conveniently located point for the gathering.

This will be the most important event in any way connected with drainage ever held in the state. The movement was started last summer immediately after the disastrous floods had destroyed a considerable crop area and has been pushed with determination since that time.

While this is only a step toward the ultimate carrying out of a vast plan, it is an important step and the expectation is that there will be a large representation of farmers present.

SHEEP CLUB SHOW TO BE HELD NOV. 15

LOBBY OF CITIZENS' BANK TO BE USED AS SHOW ROOM.

The Boys' and Girl's Sheep club contest conducted by the Citizens' State Bank of Thief River Falls, through the Pennington County Farm Bureau, will be held on Saturday, Nov. 15th, in the lobby of the bank. The lambs to be exhibited by these boys and girls are of such high quality that the bank has set aside its beautiful lobby for an exhibit room on that day.

Lambs will be on exhibit from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Fifty dollars in prizes will be offered by the bank.

Free trip and expenses to the large junior live stock show at So. St. Paul on Nov. 19, 20 and 21 will be offered by the state extension department to the best three sheep club members who will show their lambs there for splendid prizes.

The public is cordially invited to visit this show at the bank and it is expected that some exceptionally fine lambs will be exhibited.

The show will be under the management of County Agent J. J. McCann and A. J. Anderson, assistant cashier of the bank.

EVENSON MOVING VULCANIZING SHOP

NEW LOCATION ON SECOND ST. WILL PROVIDE EXCELLENT QUARTERS.

Work of moving the C. M. Evenson & Sons vulcanizing shop from their old stand on Main avenue to the new location on Second street began on Monday on a small scale. The entire plant will be moved by Saturday, Mr. Evenson said on Monday, and the factory will be in operation very soon.

The new quarters on Second street will provide an excellent place for a factory of this kind, and Mr. Evenson will use the entire basement floor exclusively for vulcanising purposes, while the first floor will be for repairing cars and part of the second floor also. It is his intention to engage a first-class automobile painter for the winter and all those who wish to give their cars a new coat for next summer's season can have that work done right here in the city. The second story of the building will be used as the painting room. The cars are run upon an elevator platform and brought up.

PLAN ADDITION TO SEWER JOB COSTING $12,000

CITIZENS PRESENT AT COUNCIL MEETING VOICE SENTIMENTS IN MATTER.

DEMAND PERFECT SYSTEM

PROPOSED STORM SEWER SYSTEM WOULD BE AMONG BEST IN STATE.

Taxpayers present at the council meeting Tuesday evening voiced their opinions in the matter of the laying of a storm sewer in Thief River Falls and demanded nothing but the best and most up-to-date system obtainable.

Engineer Borrowman of the Bradley Engineering company of St. Cloud, explained the work that is going on at the present time and stated that he was under the impression that an expensive storm sewer system was not desired at this time but the property owners present said "the best was none too good."

During the discussion several prominent taxpayers of the city voiced their opinions in the matter and a plan was formulated for an addition to the present sewer work that, if carried out, will cause the outlay of approximately $12,000.

Best Time Now.

Engineer Borrowman explained his storm sewer plan and favored the laying of pipes in the alleys and said this was the proper time to do it before paving is begun. The engineer is now at work drawing upon a sketch of the proposed storm sewer system which will provide for Thief River Falls one of the best systems in the state. The plan is designed on an inch an hour rainfall and there will be no danger of backwater coming into the basements. The sketch will be presented to the council at their next meeting. A committee composed of T. P. Hamre, Rasmus Oen and Martin Evenson, was named to work in conjunction with the engineer by Severt Brandon, vice-president of the council.

Want the Best.

Engineer Borrowman figured the council was not willing at this time to expend too great an amount for sewer work but the property owners were all in favor of putting in the best system possible while they were about it. Mr. Oen, who has suffered severely from backwater in his basement at the store, believed it was the right step to take as did Mr. Hamre, Mr. Evenson and Olaf Neset.

"We must plan for tomorrow and not only for today," said Mr. Hamre, in favoring the building of an adequate storm sewer system.

Engineer Borrowman said it took years of preaching in St. Cloud before they were made to realize the importance and need of such a system and praised the property owners for the initiative taken by them.

HUNTER HOT AFTER DUCKS; IS DUCKED

COMRADES IN ATTEMPT TO GIVE AID ALSO BREAK THRU ICE AT LAKE.

"Jake" Grenagel, an employee at the Great Northern railroad office, was hot on the trail of ducks at Madison lake last Sunday and was "ducked."

It all happened after "Jake" had shot down a few of the birds. He attempted to walk out upon the thin rubber ice to get them and as a result broke thru. The temptation of leaving the ducks lie out on the ice, 75 feet from shore, was too much for "Jake." Leaving his gun on shore he walked out about 50 feet and went down, hitting the ice with his head on coming up. Trying to swim and break the ice away ahead of him was a strenuous job, he says, but he made it to shore safely. While he was struggling in the water, three of his comrades rushed out upon the ice to assist him but the weight of the three boys was too great and they also took a cold plunge not far from shore.

Reaching shore drenched to the sikn, while the thermometer registering close to zero, the four boys hopped into a car and rode for eight miles before a change of clothing could be made and the warmth of a stove enjoyed.

Getting wet didn't bother "Jake" so much, for he put in over twelve months in France as an infantryman, but he doesn't like the idea of getting under the ice and having to break his way to shore.

Eats Rat Poison.

Immediate medical attendance for little Otto Horn, two and one half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horn, saved his life last Friday after having eaten some rat poison which had been placed on pieces of bread. Mrs. Horn became aware of the child's mistake after she had been informed by one of the other children, who happened to be upstairs with the little boy. She rushed upstairs and found her little son with his mouth full of the poison and had swallowed a large portion of it.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OBSERVE T. R. DAY

FINE PROGRAMS ARE GIVEN IN ALL SCHOOLS FOR GREAT AMERICAN.

Appropriate exercises were carried out in the city schools Monday afternoon in the observance of Roosevelt day.

The pupils had worked conscientiously the week previous to perfect the programs and the amount of data collected by them on the former president of the United States proved a revelation to everyone. Everywhere from the grades up through the high school programs were rendered and in the grades Roosevelt corners were made. Here were pictures of the former president around which hung Old Glory, and all kinds of information on his life.

In the high school Reuben Hadrath and A. Peterson, students in Miss Evans' class in public speaking, each gave speeches on Theodore Roosevelt and covered his life in a fine manner. Peterson dwelt on Roosevelt's days in the west and brought out the fact that he was not strong when a boy but to his dogged perseverance to overcome his physical weakness through partaking in great outdoor sports overcame this weakness and became a strong man.

Reuben Hadrath spoke of Roosevelt as a man and told of his life at Harvard while preparing himself to practice law, how he objected to unclean politics and how he used "the big stick" on everything that was evil.

The grade schools also held flag exercises and many fine lessons in patriotism were brought out through the observance of this day, special emphasis being laid on Roosevelt's idea of 100 per cent Americanism.

PICKFORD COMING; "DADDY LONGLEGS"

FUNNIEST OF "OUR MARY'S" GREAT COMEDY SUCCESSES.

One of the funniest of all the humorous things with which Mary Pickford's new and best feature "Daddy Long Legs" which will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, is loaded in a series of scenes in which Mary, as Judy Abbott, takes too much hard cider.

The funny little "drunk" is not in- ice aforethought. It happens that she and a funny little orphan with a very freckled face have just led a "prune strike" in which they have sought to obtain better food for the children of the asylum who are fed on thin soup and prunes.

Prohibition Matron Spoils "Jag."

The tyrannical head matron has won the battle, being a large woman able to dominate the cowering little waifs who are charges of the institution, and to punish Judy, and the little boy, who aided her in encouraging the children to strike, the matron puts them out in the yard with nothing to eat. A thief who has been stealing from a passing wagon throws over the fence a jug of hard cider, and some sandwiches.

Judy and the boy have been praying for food. They think this dropped from Heaven, and proceed to eat and drink without inquiring into the nature of the donation. So it happens that in the most innocent way both children become "happy." Miss Pickford's portrayal of the surprised Judy, who punishes her enemies, gives jam to all the children and defies the ogre of a matron, is wonderfully done.

It is only one of the masterful "bits" she does in this picture which carries Judy, the orphan from her birth to her marriage to a rich man who sends her to college. O-30

WEDDINGS HELD UP BY H. C. L.? OH, NO

RECORDS SHOW RETURN OF ARMY BRINGS BACK OLD STANDING.

Clerk of Court Eklund was asked the first of the week whether or not the present unsettled conditions and high prices on all commodities of life had any effect on the issuing of marriage licenses, and he answered in the negative.

A perusal of the marriage license records shows a slight falling off in the last few years while in 1914, before the war, there were only 96 licenses given out. That the return of the army has any effect on the situation is shown by the figures starting in with May when the number of licenses issued during that month even exceeds those of the 1914, 1915 and 1916 years of the same month. The balance of the months average up well with those of previous years, but it is feared 1919 will fall short in the number of marriages.

The following is the record for the past six years with the exception of the last two months of 1919:

	'14	'15	'16	'17	'18	'19
January	7	7	8	6	7	4
February	6	4	8	6	7	4
March	4	11	5	3	13	3
April	10	11	7	7	13	3

ENFORCEMENT ACT VETOED BY WILSON

REMOVES RESTRICTIONS FROM TERRITORY NOT OTHERWISE DRY.

The President's veto of the prohibition enforcement bill was overridden by both House and Senate and the country will remain dry.

From the White House comes the statement that the wartime prohibition will be brought to an end immediately upon the ratification of the peace treaty by the Senate. This will probably be some time next month.

President Wilson on Monday vetoed the national prohibition act passed by congress to enforce both wartime and constitutional prohibition.

The president vetoed the bill because of that part of the legislation which refers to wartime prohibition.

"I object to and cannot approve that part of the legislation with reference to wartime prohibition," said the president in a statement addressed to the house explaining his veto.

"It has to do with the enforcement of an act which was passed by reason of the emergencies of the war and whose objects have been satisfied in the demobilization of the army, the navy and whose repeal I have already sought at the hands of congress."

The effect of this, unless congress passes the bill over the president's veto, will be to remove restrictions from the sale of liquor where same is not prohibited by state enactment.

STATE OFFERS AID IN PLAGUE FIGHT

SANITORIUM BOARD GRANTED SERVICES OF FULL TIME VISITING NURSE.

The Sanatorium Commission board of Oakland Park sanatorium, situated at Thief River Falls, has received an offer of state aid in the maintenance of a full time visiting nurse doing tuberculosis work in the sanatorium district comprising Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties.

This offer comes through the State Advisory Commission for consumptives, and proposes deeding one thousand dollars during the year from the state maintenance fund of tuberculosis sanatoria to further field endeavors in this important health work.

Should this nurse be supplied by the proper officials of the sanatorium district, the medical director must also give lectures to sanatorium patients and nurses, in addition to articles for the press on tuberculosis in general.

This is undoubtedly an excellent opportunity for assistance in uncovering and making proper arrangements for examinations and care of these cases.

It is sincerely hoped that the county officials will be able to use this offer in their efforts to wipe out this disease.

NEW REGULATIONS GOVERN FLU CASES

WARNED OF RECURRENCE BUT NO CASES IN CITY AT PRESENT.

While it has been predicted that there would be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this winter, the disease has as yet not made its appearance in this section and there is very little of it in the state. That its reappearance is not unexpected, however, is evidenced by the preparations being made for its reception as soon as the fact is established that the scourge is in the neighborhood. Dr. Jacob Biederman, city health officer, says that no cases of an even suspicious nature thus far have appeared.

The new regulations adopted by the state board of health provide for the prohibition of local public gatherings in case of influenza again becoming epidemic at any place. In brief the new regulations for the control of influenza adopted by the state board provide:

The disease must be reported.

Premises quarantined.

Quarantine maintained for five days after death or recovery.

Health officer to institute proper procedures.

Public meetings prohibited.

Exposed persons excluded from other gatherings.

Attention given to proper cleansing of eating utensils.

Foodstuffs must not be handled by infected persons.

In case of death, private funerals and sealed caskets.

MUCH INTEREST IN CLINIC FOR BABIES

TWO WELL-ATTENDED MEETINGS HELD IN MARSHALL COUNTY LAST WEEK.

The two baby clinics held under the auspices of the Marshall County Public Health association Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were well attended. Forty-one reported for examination at Warren, and 39 at Middle River. The results were equally gratifying. The babies were very well cared for generally and the mothers are to be commended for the sincerity with which they study their little ones.

Thirty-nine were found to be apparently normal, 10 underweight, three rickets, three mentally deficient, three suspected cases of tuberculosis, one bronchitis, one intestinal disturbances, one scabies, one eczema, two carious teeth, two umbilical hernia and four abnormal tonsils and adenoids.

Dr. L. VanMeysenburg, a pediatrician, formerly of Harvard university and at present an instructor in the pediatric department of the Minnesota university, was the examining physician. In Warren Mrs. Julius Olson, R. N., Miss Marie Olson, Mrs. A. L. Robinson and Mrs. August Johnson, assisted with the clinic. In Middle River, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Wright made the arrangements and also assisted with the clinic.

The county public health nurse had charge of the clinic, assisted by Miss Zelma Peterson, R. N. The eighth of the series of public health clinics held in the county will be held in Newfolden on Friday, Nov. 7.

Nurses Entertain Doctors and Wives

One of the most clever, unique and original parties ever given in this city was held last night at the nurses home on Knight avenue for the doctors of the city and their wives. As guests entered the house they were welcomed by a ghost, who ushered them up and down avenues made of sheets, encountering many other ghosts on the trip. They were taken to the living room where they met a most gruesome witch who took them upstairs. A fortune teller revealed all the peculiarities and prophesied the future of each guest. A gathering of nurses and doctors would not be complete without an operation, so each one was blindfolded and taken to the operating room, which had been made to resemble one as closely as possible, and an operation was performed on each. All had to concalesce while the other was going through the same ordeal which lent amusement for the rest.

Nuts and apples were served during the evening and at midnight a lunch consisting of sandwiches, done up in Halloween decorated napkins, pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee was enjoyed. The guests departed declaring they had had the best kind of a time, for it was a scream from the time they arrived until they left.

OBJECT LESSON IN GREAT PHOTOPLAY

"THE VOLCANO" IS A STIRRING DRAMA OF THE TIMES.

"The Volcano," timely and powerful American drama, starring Leah Baird, which will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre, Sunday and Monday, is the latest Augustus Thomas picture to be produced under Four Star Pictures auspices for W. W. Hodkinson distribution.

The plot deals with the machinations of Alexis Minski, a radical chief, whose efforts at creating a revolt against capitalism and government in the United States are concentrated in a crowded part of the city, involving, it appears for a time, teachers and others of the intellectual class.

Ruth Carroll, a pretty school teacher, who falls temporarily under the influence of Minski, becomes the sweetheart of Captain Garland, a returned United States army officer, who has been assigned by the government to hunt down the radicals. Minski almost succeeds in convincing the girl that Garland is plotting to arrest her and her grandfather, and in this belief she screams out his death sentence to the eager Minski, who tries to execute it, three of his followers attacking the young officer on a dock, where Garland has gone to tell Ruth's grandfather of his love for her.

Davy, Ruth's soldier brother, who saved the captain's life in France, again comes to the rescue. Explanations follow, the anarchist crew is arrested and Ruth restored to confidence in her soldier lover. O-30.

Lieut. Falk to Arrive.

Lt. Ralph Falk will arrive in the city tomorrow morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Falk, according to a telegram received yesterday. Lt. Falk graduated from the local high school with the 1915 class and entered the army as a private shortly after the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany. He enlisted with the First Minnesota, became a member of company K, later entered an officers' training school and was commissioned first lieutenant. He went overseas with a casual detachment and was stationed at a large training camp near Tours for a few months. In a letter to his parents two weeks ago Lt. Falk stated he was waiting to be discharged and intended to make them an early visit thereafter.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OBSERVE T. R. DAY

FINE PROGRAMS ARE GIVEN IN ALL SCHOOLS FOR GREAT AMERICAN.

Appropriate exercises were carried out in the city schools Monday afternoon in the observance of Roosevelt day.

The pupils had worked conscientiously the week previous to perfect the programs and the amount of data collected by them on the former president of the United States proved a revelation to everyone. Everywhere from the grades up through the high school programs were rendered and in the grades Roosevelt corners were made. Here were pictures of the former president around which hung Old Glory, and all kinds of information on his life.

In the high school Reuben Hadrath and A. Peterson, students in Miss Evans' class in public speaking, each gave speeches on Theodore Roosevelt and covered his life in a fine manner. Peterson dwelt on Roosevelt's days in the west and brought out the fact that he was not strong when a boy but to his dogged perseverance to overcome his physical weakness through partaking in great outdoor sports overcame this weakness and became a strong man.

Reuben Hadrath spoke of Roosevelt as a man and told of his life at Harvard while preparing himself to practice law, how he objected to unclean politics and how he used "the big stick" on everything that was evil.

The grade schools also held flag exercises and many fine lessons in patriotism were brought out through the observance of this day, special emphasis being laid on Roosevelt's idea of 100 per cent Americanism.

PICKFORD COMING; "DADDY LONGLEGS"

FUNNIEST OF "OUR MARY'S" GREAT COMEDY SUCCESSES.

One of the funniest of all the humorous things with which Mary Pickford's new and best feature "Daddy Long Legs" which will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, is loaded in a series of scenes in which Mary, as Judy Abbott, takes too much hard cider.

The funny little "drunk" is not intentional malice aforethought. It happens that she and a funny little orphan with a very freckled face have just led a "prune strike" in which they have sought to obtain better food for the children of the asylum who are fed on thin soup and prunes.

Prohibition Matron Spoils "Jag."

The tyrannical head matron has won the battle, being a large woman able to dominate the cowering little waifs who are charges of the institution, and to punish Judy, and the little boy, who aided her in encouraging the children to strike, the matron puts them out in the yard with nothing to eat. A thief who has been stealing from a passing wagon throws over the fence a jug of hard cider, and some sandwiches.

Judy and the boy have been praying for food. They think this dropped from Heaven, and proceed to eat and drink without inquiring into the nature of the donation. So it happens that in the most innocent way both children become "happy." Miss Pickford's portrayal of the surprised Judy, who punishes her enemies, gives jam to all the children and defies the ogre of a matron, is wonderfully done.

It is only one of the masterful "bits" she does in this picture which carries Judy, the orphan from her birth to her marriage to a rich man who sends her to college. O-30

WEDDINGS HELD UP BY H. C. L.? OH, NO

RECORDS SHOW RETURN OF ARMY BRINGS BACK OLD STANDING.

Clerk of Court Eklund was asked the first of the week whether or not the present unsettled conditions and high prices on all commodities of life had any effect on the issuing of marriage licenses, and he answered in the negative.

A perusal of the marriage license records shows a slight falling off in the last few years while in 1914, before the war, there were only 96 licenses given out. That the return of the army has any effect on the situation is shown by the figures starting in with May when the number of licenses issued during that month even exceeds those of the 1914, 1915 and 1916 years of the same month. The balance of the months average up well with those of previous years, but it is feared 1919 will fall short in the number of marriages.

The following is the record for the past six years with the exception of the last two months of 1919:

	'14	'15	'16	'17	'18	'19
January	7	7	8	6	7	4
February	6	4	8	6	7	4
March	4	11	5	3	13	3
April	10	11	7	7	13	3
May	3	7	5	11	9	9
June	13	19	14	14	9	10
July	12	9	10	7	7	5
August	6	5	7	9	9	9
September	8	13	13	9	3	9

November	3	13	18	9	10	....

Owing to unforseen conditions, Dr. Spofford finds it necessary to change his date at Thief River Falls, to Monday, Nov. 3, at the Evelyn hotel.

ENFORCEMENT ACT VETOED BY WILSON

REMOVES RESTRICTIONS FROM TERRITORY NOT OTHERWISE DRY.

The President's veto of the prohibition enforcement bill was overridden by both House and Senate and the country will remain dry.

From the White House comes the statement that the wartime prohibition will be brought to an end immediately upon the ratification of the peace treaty by the Senate. This will probably be some time next month.

President Wilson on Monday vetoed the national prohibition act passed by congress to enforce both wartime and constitutional prohibition.

The president vetoed the bill because of that part of the legislation which refers to wartime prohibition.

"I object to and cannot approve that part of the legislation with reference to wartime prohibition," said the president in a statement addressed to the house explaining his veto.

"It has to do with the enforcement of an act which was passed by reason of the emergencies of the war and whose objects have been satisfied in the demobilization of the army, the navy and whose repeal I have already sought at the hands of congress."

The effect of this, unless congress passes the bill over the president's veto, will be to remove restrictions from the sale of liquor where same is not prohibited by state enactment.

STATE OFFERS AID IN PLAGUE FIGHT

SANITORIUM BOARD GRANTED SERVICES OF FULL TIME VISITING NURSE.

The Sanatorium Commission board of Oakland Park sanatorium, situated at Thief River Falls, has received an offer of state aid in the maintenance of a full time visiting nurse doing tuberculosis work in the sanatorium district comprising Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties.

This offer comes through the State Advisory Commission for consumptives, and proposes deeding one thousand dollars during the year from the state maintenance fund of tuberculosis sanatoria to further field endeavors in this important health work.

Should this nurse be supplied by the proper officials of the sanatorium district, the medical director must also give lectures to sanatorium patients and nurses, in addition to articles for the press on tuberculosis in general.

This is undoubtedly an excellent opportunity for assistance in uncovering and making proper arrangements for examinations and care of these cases.

It is sincerely hoped that the county officials will be able to use this offer in their efforts to wipe out this disease.

NEW REGULATIONS GOVERN FLU CASES

WARNED OF RECURRENCE BUT NO CASES IN CITY AT PRESENT.

While it has been predicted that there would be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this winter, the disease has as yet not made its appearance in this section and there is very little of it in the state. That its reappearance is not unexpected, however, is evidenced by the preparations being made for its reception as soon as the fact is established that the scourge is in the neighborhood. Dr. Jacob Biederman, city health officer, says that no cases of an even suspicious nature thus far have appeared.

The new regulations adopted by the state board of health provide for the prohibition of local public gatherings in case of influenza again becoming epidemic at any place. In brief the new regulations for the control of influenza adopted by the state board provide:

The disease must be reported.

Premises quarantined.

Quarantine maintained for five days after death or recovery.

Health officer to institute proper procedures.

Public meetings prohibited.

Exposed persons excluded from other gatherings.

Attention given to proper cleansing of eating utensils.

Foodstuffs must not be handled by infected persons.

In case of death, private funerals and sealed caskets.

MUCH INTEREST IN CLINIC FOR BABIES

TWO WELL-ATTENDED MEETINGS HELD IN MARSHALL COUNTY LAST WEEK.

The two baby clinics held under the auspices of the Marshall County Public Health association Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were well attended. Forty-one reported for examination at Warren, and 39 at Middle River. The results were equally gratifying. The babies were very well cared for generally and the mothers are to be commended for the sincerity with which they study their little ones.

Thirty-nine were found to be apparently normal, 19 underweight, three rickets, three mentally deficient, three suspected cases of tuberculosis, one bronchitis, one intestinal disturbances, one scabies, one eczema, two carious teeth, two umbilical hernia and four abnormal tonsils and adenoids.

Dr. L. VanMeysenburg, a pediatrician, formerly of Harvard university and at present an instructor in the pediatric department of the Minnesota university, was the examining physician. In Warren Mrs. Julius Olson, R. N., Miss Marie Olson, Mrs. A. L. Robinson and Mrs. August Johnson, assisted with the clinic. In Middle River, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Wright made the arrangements and also assisted with the clinic.

The county public health nurse had charge of the clinic, assisted by Miss Zelma Peterson, R. N. The eighth of the series of public health clinics held in the county will be held in Newfolden on Friday, Nov. 7.

Nurses Entertain Doctors and Wives

One of the most clever, unique and original parties ever given in this city was held last night at the nurses home on Knight avenue for the doctors of the city and their wives. As guests entered the house they were welcomed by a ghost, who ushered them up and down avenues made of sheets, encountering many other ghosts on the trip. They were taken to the living room where they met a most gruesome witch who took them upstairs. A fortune teller revealed all the peculiarities and prophesied the future of each guest. A gathering of nurses and doctors would not be complete without an operation, so each one was blindfolded and taken to the operating room, which had been made to resemble one as closely as possible, and an operation was performed on each. All had to concalesce while the other was going through the same ordeal which lent amusement for the rest.

Nuts and apples were served during the evening and at midnight a lunch consisting of sandwiches, done up in Halloween decorated napkins, pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee was enjoyed. The guests departed declaring they had had the best kind of a time, for it was a scream from the time they arrived until they left.

OBJECT LESSON IN GREAT PHOTOPLAY

"THE VOLCANO" IS A STIRRING DRAMA OF THE TIMES.

"The Volcano," timely and powerful American drama, starring Leah Baird, which will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre, Sunday and Monday, is the latest Augustus Thomas picture to be produced under Four Star Pictures auspices for W. W. Hodkinson distribution.

The plot deals with the machinations of Alexis Minski, a radical chief, whose efforts at creating a revolt against capitalism and government in the United States are concentrated in a crowded part of the city, involving, it appears for a time, teachers and others of the intellectual class.

Ruth Carroll, a pretty school teacher, who falls temporarily under the influence of Minski, becomes the sweetheart of Captain Garland, a returned United States army officer, who has been assigned by the government to hunt down the radicals. Minski almost succeeds in convincing the girl that Garland is plotting to arrest her and her grandfather, and in this belief she screams out his death sentence to the eager Minski, who tries to execute it, three of his followers attacking the young officer on a dock, where Garland has gone to tell Ruth's grandfather of his love for her.

Davy, Ruth's soldier brother, who saved the captain's life in France, again comes to the rescue. Explanations follow, the anarchist crew is arrested and Ruth restored to confidence in her soldier lover. O-30.

Lieut. Falk to Arrive.

Lt. Ralph Falk will arrive in the city tomorrow morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Falk, according to a telegram received yesterday. Lt. Falk graduated from the local high school with the 1915 class and entered the army as a private shortly after the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany. He enlisted with the First Minnesota, became a member of company K, later entered an officers' training school and was commissioned first lieutenant. He went overseas with a casual detachment and was stationed at a large training camp near Tours for a few months. In a letter to his parents two weeks ago Lt. Falk stated he was waiting to be discharged and intended to make them an early visit thereafter.

"Why Smith Left Home"

By George Broadhurst
Scenario by Elmer Harris Directed by Donald Crisp

THEY couldn't fool Smith! No sir-ee! He knew a thing or two.

He could survive an elopement, a train wreck, a hotel fire and an earthquake—which he did—all for her. He could even hold his own with the lady who called him son-in-law. But there are some things which a regular man can not and will not endure.

What? That's "Why Smith Left Home." Bryant Washburn at his funniest and best in this smashing picturization of George Broadhurst's famous stage hit. You'll be sorry if you don't come.

SCHOOL CHILDREN OBSERVE T. R. DAY

FINE PROGRAMS ARE GIVEN IN ALL SCHOOLS FOR GREAT AMERICAN.

Appropriate exercises were carried out in the city schools Monday afternoon in the observance of Roosevelt day.

The pupils had worked conscientiously the week previous to perfect the programs and the amount of data collected by them on the former president of the United States proved a revelation to everyone. Everywhere from the grades up through the high school programs were rendered and in the grades Roosevelt corners were made. Here were pictures of the former president around which hung Old Glory, and all kinds of information on his life.

In the high school Reuben Hadrath and A. Peterson, students in Miss Evans' class in public speaking, each gave speeches on Theodore Roosevelt and covered his life in a fine manner. Peterson dwelt on Roosevelt's days in the west and brought out the fact that he was not strong when a boy but to his dogged perseverance to overcome his physical weakness through partaking in great outdoor sports overcame this weakness and became a strong man.

Reuben Hadrath spoke of Roosevelt as a man and told of his life at Harvard while preparing himself to practice law, how he objected to unclean politics and how he used "the big stick" on everything that was evil.

The grade schools also held flag exercises and many fine lessons in patriotism were brought out through the observance of this day, special emphasis being laid on Roosevelt's idea of 100 per cent Americanism.

PICKFORD COMING; "DADDY LONGLEGS"

FUNNIEST OF "OUR MARY'S" GREAT COMEDY SUCCESSES.

One of the funniest of all the humorous things with which Mary Pickford's new and best feature "Daddy Long Legs" which will be seen at the Lyceum Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, is loaded in a series of scenes in which Mary, as Judy Abbott, takes too much hard cider.

The funny little "drunk" is not in- ice aforethought. It happens that she and a funny little orphan with a very freckled face have just led a "prune strike" in which they have sought to obtain better food for the children of the asylum who are fed on thin soup and prunes.

Prohibition Matron Spoils "Jag."

The tyrannical head matron has won the battle, being a large woman able to dominate the cowering little waifs who are charges of the institution, and to punish Judy, and the little boy who aided her in encouraging the children to strike, the matron puts them out in the yard with nothing to eat. A thief who has been stealing from a passing wagon throws over the fence a jug of hard cider, and some sandwiches.

Judy and the boy have been praying for food. They think this dropped from Heaven, and proceed to eat and drink without inquiring into the nature of the donation. So it happens that in the most innocent way both children become "happy." Miss Pickford's portrayal of the surprised Judy, who punishes her enemies, gives jam to all the children and defies the ogre of a matron, is wonderfully done.

It is only one of the masterful "bits" she does in this picture which carries Judy, the orphan from her birth to her marriage to a rich man who sends her to college. O-30

By George Broadhurst
Scenario by Elmer Harris Directed by Donald Crisp

THEY couldn't fool Smith! No sir-ee! He knew a thing or two.

He could survive an elopement, a train wreck, a hotel fire and an earthquake—which he did—all for her. He could even hold his own with the lady who called him son-in-law. But there are some things which a regular man can not and will not endure.

What? That's "Why Smith Left Home." Bryant Washburn at his funniest and best in this smashing picturization of George Broadhurst's famous stage hit. You'll be sorry if you don't come.

RECORDS SHOW RETURN OF ARMY BRINGS BACK OLD STANDING.

Clerk of Court Eklund was asked the first of the week whether or not the present unsettled conditions and high prices on all commodities of life had any effect on the issuing of marriage licenses, and he answered in the negative.

A perusal of the marriage license records shows a slight falling off in the last few years while in 1914, before the war, there were only 96 licenses given out. That the return of the army has any effect on the situation is shown by the figures starting in with May when the number of licenses issued during that month even exceeds those of the 1914, 1915 and 1916 years of the same month. The balance of the months average up well with those of previous years, but it is feared 1919 will fall short in the number of marriages.

The following is the record for the past six years with the exception of the last two months of 1919:

	'14	'15	'16	'17	'18	'19
January	7	7	8	6	7	4
February	6	4	8	6	7	4
March	4	11	5	3	13	3
April	10	11	7	7	13	3
May	3	7	5	11	9	9
June	13	19	14	14	9	10
July	12	9	10	7	7	5
August	6	5	7	9	9	9
September	8	13	13	9	3	9
October	10	10	11	13	7	....
November	3	13	18	9	10	....
December	14	13	18	12	6	....

Notice.

Owing to unforseen conditions, Dr. Spofford finds it necessary to change his date at Thief River Falls, to Monday, Nov. 3, at the Evelyn hotel.

ENFORCEMENT ACT VETOED BY WILSON

REMOVES RESTRICTIONS FROM TERRITORY NOT OTHERWISE DRY.

The President's veto of the prohibition enforcement bill was overridden by both House and Senate and the country will remain dry.

From the White House comes the statement that the wartime prohibition will be brought to an end immediately upon the ratification of the peace treaty by the Senate. This will probably be some time next month.

President Wilson on Monday vetoed the national prohibition act passed by congress to enforce both wartime and constitutional prohibition.

The president vetoed the bill because of that part of the legislation which refers to wartime prohibition.

"I object to and cannot approve that part of the legislation with reference to wartime prohibition," said the president in a statement addressed to the house explaining his veto.

"It has to do with the enforcement of an act which was passed by reason of the emergencies of the war and whose objects have been satisfied in the demobilization of the army, the navy and whose repeal I have already sought at the hands of congress."

The effect of this, unless congress passes the bill over the president's veto, will be to remove restrictions from the sale of liquor where same is not prohibited by state enactment.

STATE OFFERS AID IN PLAGUE FIGHT

SANITORIUM BOARD GRANTED SERVICES OF FULL TIME VISITING NURSE.

The Sanatorium Commission board of Oakland Park sanatorium, situated at Thief River Falls, has received an offer of state aid in the maintenance of a full time visiting nurse doing tuberculosis work in the sanatorium district comprising Marshall, Roseau and Pennington counties.

This offer comes through the State Advisory Commission for consumptives, and proposes deeding one thousand dollars during the year from the state maintenance fund of tuberculosis sanatoria to further field endeavors in this important health work.

Should this nurse be supplied by the proper officials of the sanatorium district, the medical director must also give lectures to sanatorium patients and nurses, in addition to articles for the press on tuberculosis in general.

This is undoubtedly an excellent opportunity for assistance in uncovering and making proper arrangements for examinations and care of these cases.

It is sincerely hoped that the county officials will be able to use this offer in their efforts to wipe out this disease.

NEW REGULATIONS GOVERN FLU CASES

WARNED OF RECURRENCE BUT NO CASES IN CITY AT PRESENT.

While it has been predicted that there would be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this winter, the disease has as yet not made its appearance in this section and there is very little of it in the state. That its reappearance is not unexpected, however, is evidenced by the preparations being made for its reception as soon as the fact is established that the scourge is in the neighborhood. Dr. Jacob Biederman, city health officer, says that no cases of an even suspicious nature thus far have appeared.

The new regulations adopted by the state board of health provide for the prohibition of local public gatherings in case of influenza again becoming epidemic at any place. In brief the new regulations for the control of influenza adopted by the state board provide:

The disease must be reported.

Premises quarantined.

Quarantine maintained for five days after death or recovery.

Health officer to institute proper procedures.

Public meetings prohibited.

Exposed persons excluded from other gatherings.

Attention given to proper cleansing of eating utensils.

Foodstuffs must not be handled by infected persons.

In case of death, private funerals and sealed caskets.

MUCH INTEREST IN CLINIC FOR BABIES

TWO WELL-ATTENDED MEETINGS HELD IN MARSHALL COUNTY LAST WEEK.

The two baby clinics held under the auspices of the Marshall County Public Health association Tuesday and Wednesday of last week were well attended. Forty-one reported for examination at Warren, and 39 at Middle River. The results were equally gratifying. The babies were very well cared for generally and the mothers are to be commended for the sincerity with which they study their little ones.

Thirty-nine were found to be apparently normal, 10 underweight, three rickets, three mentally deficient, three suspected cases of tuberculosis, one bronchitis, one intestinal disturbances, one scabies, one eczema, two carious teeth, two umbilical hernia and four abnormal tonsils and adenoids.

Dr. L. VanMeysenburg, a pediatrician, formerly of Harvard university and at present an instructor in the pediatric department of the Minnesota university," was the examining physician. In Warren Mrs. Julius Olson, R. N., Miss Marie Olson, Mrs. A. L. Robinson and Mrs. August Johnson, assisted with the clinic. In Middle River, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Wright made the arrangements and also assisted with the clinic.

The county public health nurse had charge of the clinic, assisted by Miss Zelma Peterson, R. N. The eighth of the series of public health clinics held in the county will be held in Newfolden on Friday, Nov. 7.

Nurses Entertain Doctors and Wives

One of the most clever, unique and original parties ever given in this city was held last night at the nurses home on Knight avenue for the doctors of the city and their wives. As guests entered the house they were welcomed by a ghost, who ushered them up and down avenues made of sheets, encountering many other ghosts on the trip. They were taken to the living room where they met a most gruesome witch who took them upstairs. A fortune teller revealed all the peculiarities and prophesiesed the future of each guest. A gathering of nurses and doctors would not be complete without an operation, so each one was blindfolded and taken to the operating room, which had been made to resemble one as closely as possible, and an operation was performed on each. All had to concalesce while the other was going through the same ordeal which lent amusement for the rest.

Nuts and apples were served during the evening and at midnight a lunch consisting of sandwiches, done up in Halloween decorated napkins, pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee was enjoyed. The guests departed declaring they had had the best kind of a time, for it was a scream from the time they arrived until they left.

OBJECT LESSON IN GREAT PHOTOPLAY

"THE VOLCANO" IS A STIRRING DRAMA OF THE TIMES.

"The Volcano," timely and powerful American drama, starring Leah Baird, which will be the feature attraction at the Princess theatre, Sunday and Monday, is the latest Augustus Thomas picture to be produced under Four Star Pictures auspices for W. W. Hodkinson distribution.

The plot deals with the machinations of Alexis Minski, a radical chief, whose efforts at creating a revolt against capitalism and government in the United States are concentrated in a crowded part of the city, involving, it appears for a time, teachers and others of the intellectual class.

Ruth Carroll, a pretty school teacher, who falls temporarily under the influence of Minski, becomes the sweetheart of Captain Garland, a returned United States army officer, who has been assigned by the government to hunt down the radicals. Minski almost succeeds in convincing the girl that Garland is plotting to arrest her and her grandfather, and in this belief she screams out his death sentence to the eager Minski, who tries to execute it, three of his followers attacking the young officer on a dock, where Garland has gone to tell Ruth's grandfather of his love for her.

Davy, Ruth's soldier brother, who saved the captain's life in France, again comes to the rescue. Explanations follow, the anarchist crew is arrested and Ruth restored to confidence in her soldier lover. O-30.

Lieut. Falk to Arrive.

Lt. Ralph Falk will arrive in the city tomorrow morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Casper Falk, according to a telegram received yesterday. Lt. Falk graduated from the local high school with the 1915 class and entered the army as a private shortly after the outbreak of the war between the United States and Germany. He enlisted with the First Minnesota, became a member of company K, later entered an officers' training school and was commissioned first lieutenant. He went overseas with a casual detachment and was stationed at a large training camp near Tours for a few months. In a letter to his parents two weeks ago Lt. Falk stated he was waiting to be discharged and intended to make them an early visit thereafter.

After the Moult—EGGS

REMEMBER, going through the moult is like going through a long spell of sickness. To force out the old quills and grow new feathers saps a hen's vitality.

If you expect your hens to be fall producers and winter layers, then feed them Poultry Pan-a-ce-a during and after the moult.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a

will start your pullets and moulted hens to laying

It contains Tonics that put your moulted hens in fine condition—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulted, run-down hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains internal antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. It pays to feed Pan-a-ce-a regularly.

It brings back the singing—it brings back the scratching—it brings back the cackle. That's when you get eggs; and it's eggs you want—fall eggs, winter eggs—when eggs are eggs.

In Jean Webster's famous play
"Daddy Long Legs"

A new Mary Pickford is Judy Abbot in "Daddy Long Legs"—mothered by an ash can—christened by a telephone directory—reared on the wholesale plan—hating the orphanage trustees—an enemy of prunes and the victim of a kindly nature and Apple Jack. Judy blossoms into girlhood, the radiant product of "Daddy Long Legs," her unknown benefactor. Then comes the spite of the hot-house flower and Judy almost loses her happiness and her heart. Incomparably the greatest Pickford picture ever made.

IMPROVED BUILDING PROSPECTS.

The country is behind on its building program. From every city and village of any size comes the report that the demand for houses cannot be met, the situation being regarded as really serious in some cases. This is not to be wondered at. For four years building operations of every kind were curtailed because of the war and since the close of the conflict the market for materials has been in such unstable and unsatisfactory condition that people have held off even where the need for more houses was most keenly realized.

This condition cannot continue indefinitely. People must have houses in which to live and quarters for conducting their business. That this fact is on every hand fully realized is evidenced by the preparations being made for starting on a program of general construction in the spring.

In speaking of the causes for the cessation of *building operations and commenting on the out*look for the future the Grand Forks Herald says:

"All of these elements combined, together with others, have prevented it entirely. Before another cases have prevented it entirely. Before another building season is upon us the situation is likely to have reached a basis of reasonable certainty. Building costs are high, and are certain to remain high as compared with the cost of five years ago. It is possible that there may be reductions in some lines, but it is quite certain that no very great reductions may be expected. The bottom is not going to drop out of the price of lumber, the price of hardware, the price of labor, or the price of anything that goes into the building of a house, and any reductions which there may be are puite certain to be moderate and gradual. Before another year a good many of our industries will have readjusted themselves to peace conditions, and will be in a position to produce more largely for civil purposes than they have been doing of late. The labor situation seems to be the most complicated of any, but there is reason to hope that by spring the situation will have become adjusted in such a manner that there will be fewer of the interruptions in the production because of labor difficulties than we have experienced recently. The taxation situation will remain unchanged, and builders and renters must adjust themselves to it. They will have made a considerable progress toward this adjustment before the winter is over.

"The uncertainty, therefore, which has surrounded the building business is likely to have been largely removed before spring is upon us. On the other hand we have to recognize the fact that while our population has been growing our building operations have been almost standing still. From every city in the land comes the cry for more houses. The shortage of one year has been added to the shortage of the last, so that now we have an accumulated shortage of approximately five years together with the certainty of increased demands for the coming period. The demand has been piling up like water behind the dam, and there must come a time when the dam can no longer stand the pressure placed upon it. When the dam goes the deluge comes, and a deluge of building is what we are likely to have to face next year.

GET READY FOR THE CHICKEN SHOW

There are quite a number of things we do better in Thief River Falls, but of one we are particularly proud. There is no question but that our annual poultry shows are really great successes. Not only have we the largest number of chickins, ducks, turkeys and geese, but the quality is the best to be found any place.

Here is one achievement that is largely the result of boosting. Four years ago Pennington county people were satisfied with the ordinary run of farm yard biddy. A show was staged in the auditorium and it was found that a few progressive citizens had taken a little pains with their feathered stock and had been breeding toward perfection in some certain strain. At the same time newspapers and other publicity agencies began pointing out the posibilities of this particular kind of husbandry, and the results were astonishing.

There were about fifty coops of foul of all kinds at the first show, and the average quality was nothing to brag of. The following ear there were 110 entries, mostly thorobred stock. Last year there were over 700 entries of all kinds and the show was the best in the state. Competition was keen and interest in the exhibit general thruout the section. That's going ahead at a pretty fair clip for a community that had but three years previously been in the primary class so far as knowing anything about hen values was concerned.

It is predicted that there will be 1200 entries this year. Every bird shown will be an improvement on the prize-winners of three years ago. The scrub has been replaced by the barnyard aristocrat and everybody is highly satisfied with the change.

Some real smart chap once stated that the hen would pay the national debt if given the chance. That statement was made before the war, but it is probable that even now she would meet the interest charge if given a proper opportunity.

ONE CHANCE REMAINS.

Congress seems determined that John Barleycorn shall remain dead now that he has been in a state of suspended animation for so long. President Wilson vetoed the prohibition-enforcement bill passed by congress a short time ago, but his veto was overruled with a promptness that left no doubt as to where the legislators stand on the subject.

This practically puts an end to the hopes of those who were of the opinion that things would loosen up somewhat before the holidays. There is one chance yet that may enable them to secure a supply before the final curtain is rung down on the sixteenth of January next. It is that the President may declare demobilization completed and thus permit the sale of light wines and beer until national prohibition steps in.

It is hardly worth while. The country is getting along very well without booze of any kind and there appears no good reason for letting down the bars, even for a month. Those who favor such action had better keep the start toward total prohibition that they now have. A few days' leeway would do no one any good and might do a great deal of harm.

NOVEL USE FOR A BANK.

Lambs raised by the Boys' and Girls' Sheep club of Pennington county are of superior quality and are going to be given an unusual setting when the time comes for displaying them. The Citizens' State bank of this city has offered its spacious lobby for the purpose and it is perhaps the first time in the history of the state that a modern banking house has permitted the use of its finely appointed quarters as an exhibition room for live stock.

And why not? The raising of sheep and lambs is fast becoming a staple industry hereabouts. The bank getting in on the ground floor and encouraging the beginners in every way possible is directly helping in the development of a new industry, and this is in line with sound banking policy everywhere.

It is to be hoped that the boys and girls will indicate their appreciation of this unusual concession on the part of the banking officials by sending their lambs to the show in the best of condition as it is certain that more people will view this exhibit under such circumstances than would be the case if it were held in some uncomfortable or out-of-the-way place.

REMEMBER.

This is YOUR Red Cross. This is YOUR Roll Call.

The Red Cross, a national organization, is putting on this Third Enrollment of members at the same time all over the country because it can save all its chapters money and time and can make available a large amount of publicity which is nation wide.

The proposition for this year and for future years is a local one, and can be summed up in the question: "What can I do as a Red Cross member to make my home town a better place for my neighbor and me to live in?"

Public Health, First Aid, Disaster Relief, do they mean nothing to you?

Do you believe in insurance?

Then get behind and play the game to the last inning and watch the result.

You will say it is good. You can't help saying so.

WHY?

Because YOU helped to do it for YOUR family and YOUR town.

THE FARM LAND BOOM SUBSIDING.

(Minneapolis Journal.)

A rapid subsidence is reported of what promised to become a riot of speculation in farm lands. Throughout northern Iowa, southern South Dakota and southern Minnesota especially, there has been a veritable craze for buying and selling farm lands at inflated values. Farms have sold at an advance of twenty-five to one hundred per cent or more over a year ago. But in many of these transfers the first payment was not much more than enough to give an option on the land. But even so, the transactions have served to unsettle hundreds of farm families.

Well informed land men say that in the regions named not far from half these speculative sales have already flattened out. Some of these contracts involved payment of from fifty thousand to a hundred and twenty thousand dollars for a single farm. Comparatively few farms anywhere can earn a dividend on a purchase price of fifty thousand or more.

Read carefully the advertisements in The Times ~~this week~~. Merchants are already announcing the arrival of holiday goods and the person is wise who makes selections now. There is going to be a scarcity of appropriate wares for the holiday trade and the price on many lines is sure to advance before the middle of December. By making selections now the buyer will have the advantage of an unbroken line and can shop around pretty much as in years past. In a very short time this may not be possible. The demand will be great and the supply is not overly large. "Shop early" is good advice at this time in any year, but it is particularly important that some attention should be paid to it just now. The merchants of Thief River Falls have provided everything obtainable to meet the requirements of holiday buyers and there are no better displays to be found any place. Get yours while the getting is good.

The miners in the bituminous fields may be underpaid. If so the case should be looked into and the matter properly adjusted. When, however, these men threaten to go out on a strike at the beginning of winter, thus causing untold hardship and actual suffering as well as a crippling of the industries of the country unless their demands are at once complied with, they are pursuing a course for which the people will not stand. President Wilson has called their attitude "immoral and illegal," and will employ any and every agency at the command of the government in an effort to keep the mines running and the coal supply moving. In this determination he will have the backing of the entire country. When a set of men demand an increase in pay amounting to practically 60 per cent and a reduction in working hours that would mean a six hour day for five days a week, refusing at the same time to submit the matter to arbitration, they are taking a stand in which hey will not be supported even by their fellow-unionists in other lines of labor.

It is predicted that before winter is over butter will be selling at 80 cents per pound and may go higher. This means that the dairyman will receive at least that much per pound for his butterfat. At first glance this might look like a good thing for him, but it is doubtful if such is the case. Butter, the same as everything else, can become prohibitive in price and force the people into getting along without it. As a matter of fact there are more substitutes for butter being used now than ever before and the percentage will increase as the price of the genuine article continues to go up. Creamery officials and dairymen alike are united in saying that they would very much prefer to have a reasonable price placed on their product, providing this could be kept where they would be certain of a fair return at all times. Spasms of exceptionally high levels, alternating with long periods during which their product must be sold at little or no profit does not appeal to them as being particularly satisfactory. They have nothing whatever to do with the fixing of prices and must sell at the market figure. Just now they are on the crest of a wave of prosperity but all recognize that a break must come. They can only hope that it will not go to unreasonable lengths in the other direction when that time arrives. In the meantime they should exert every effort to increase their supply.

And She Isn't Striking.

(Baudette Region.)

Mother has a soft snap, hasn't she?

She gets up at six o'clock, feeds the fires, tunes up the kitchen orchestra and starts cooking breakfast.

Then she calls dad, and he rolls over on the other ear for another yard of sleep.

Then she calls the children and dresses the younger ones.

Calls dad again, and he gets up growling like a strange bulldog.

After breakfast she sends the children to school and washes the dishes.

Then she tidies up the house and gets a backache picking up things father has scattered around.

Then she digs up a couple of his shirts and chaperons a needle over the places where he has ripped them.

The children are hard on their clothes and she puts in an hour mending garments.

Then she cooks dinner, serves it and sends the children back to school.

Business of washing dishes again.

Then she puts up fruit and string bans or carrots.

The church is going to have a food sale, so she bakes a cake for it.

Dad's best suit, which she pressed the other day, is all over cigar ashes and has more wrinkles in it than an accordeon, so she presses it again.

Then she mends her own clothes.

It is nearing supper time, so she gets busy in the kitchen again.

Washes dishes again.

Now she has her daily vacation, so she hunts up her husband's peekaboo socks, gets out the knitting bayonets and mends the foot kimonas.

So it isn't much of a vacation after all.

The children are sleepy, so she puts them to bed.

By this time she is ready for bed herself, but steals a few minutes to look over the newspaper.

Reads that miners, who haven't taken out their citizenship papers, intend to strike for a six-hour day and a five day week.

Starts for bed envying the old maids and the foreign-born miners.

Goes to the children's room to see if everything is all right, stoops over and kisses them good-night.

Then she changes her mind.

She's glad she is a mother after all.

You say we have overdrawn the picture?

Overdrawn it, your grandmother.

It isn't every home of course, but some of you astigmatic laws look over your own home, and see if it doesn't fit.

Even out of the mouths of old bachelors sometimes comes the truth.

Advertising Maxims

Fortune soon outruns the faint-hearted, non-advertising merchant.

A square deal should be the basis of every trade circular and the foundation of every advertisement.

Let the mistakes of your neighbors bring wisdom to you and teach you it pays to advertise.

You never saw a real advertiser who was not a real optimist, not one. Thief River Falls advertisers are all optimists.

The public may forgive a fake advertiser but they will never forget, so be careful you do what you advertise you will.

No matter how close money may be, advertising will loosen it up. The street faker always manages to sell his goods, doesn't he?

You will find advertising a most sustaining force in the race for business. It is the gasoline in the motor.

Opportunity means nothing to the man who lacks brains, energy and nerve. Advertising is opportunity in type.

Even the most courteous merchant cannot succeed without honest merchandise. Nor can he advertise thru "satisfied customers." They are poor workers.

It is not so much who you are or from where you came as it is what you are doing and whether you are advertising what's on your shelves.

Kick in for more advertising and you won't have to kick about poor business.

Advertising will build the bridge of confidence that will get over the stormy waters of business.

REO

Consulting the Convenience and Comfort of the Driver

LEAVE TO YOUR best driver the decision as to which Motor Truck you shall buy, and we will rest our case on the certainty that he will nominate a Reo "Speed Wagon."

THERE ARE SEVERAL excellent reasons why the man of actual, intimate experience will so decide.

FIRST—YES, FIRST!—because we use Marshall springs in the seat cushions—the kind found in the best makes of automobiles, which includes Reo Motor Cars of course.

DOES THAT sound extravagant?

THEN JUST CONSIDER that the truck driver spends more hours in the seat of his truck than do you or your chauffeur in your automobile, and those times are his periods of rest between the heavy work of loading and delivering.

WE SAID "REST" and the term is justified by the well-known simplicity of control of all Reos.

THAT'S HIS SECOND reason for selecting this "Speed Wagon."

ECTRIC STARTING and lights is third reason and a vitally important ne in his opinion.

IS REO "SPEED WAGON" was ie first motor truck of its capacity which these features were incororated as standard equipment.

REO WAS ALSO the pioneer in mounting this "Speed Wagon" on Pneumatics, not even allowing the option of solid tires.

THE EXTENT to which these two features are now being copied is another tribute to Reo foresight and another endorsement of Reo progressiveness.

THE FINAL REASON why your driver will prefer a Reo is—the well known quality, the sturdiness and the reliability of the Reo product.

"50 PER CENT oversize in all vital parts" is his guarantee against troubles and delays as it is yours against upkeep cost.

SO, INASMUCH as you would retain the best drivers—and the good ones can always have their choice of the best jobs—is it not good policy to consult his preference in this matter?

IN THE DESIGNING and in the making of this Reo "Speed Wagon" we have devoted much attention to the convenience and the comfort of the driver. For you and he are seeking the same thing though from different angles.

YOU DESIRE greater efficiency with low upkeep—give him the things he desires and he will deliver that which you are seeking.

GREAT HOUDINI IN "THE GRIM GAME"

DEATH-DEFYING STUNTS AND UNUSUAL SITUATIONS ABOUND.

It takes the world-famous Houdini to present the ultimate in screen thrills. Beside his Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Grim Game," which will be shown at the Lyceum Sunday, Nov. 2, "stunt films" of the past seem quite commonplace. Not only does the master illusionist perform before your eyes all the amazing feats for which he has earned his fame on the stage, but he offers others even more sensational. He frees himself from a bear trap while hanging fifty feet in the air. He slips out of a strait-jacket while suspended from a flag pole on the top of a ten-story building. And, as if this were not enough, Fate took a hand and turned the climax of the picture into the most hair-raising air accident in the history of aviation. Two planes lock propellers 3,000 feet above the ground and come crashing, like rockets, to their ruin, the occupants snatched by merest chance from death at the last moment.

Arthur B. Reeve, author of the Craig Kennedy tales, and John W. Gray have built a clever mystery story around Houdini's daring stunts. The hand-cuff king is star reporter on The Call and plans a big scoop for his paper. According to the scheme, his millionaire uncle, Cameron, is to be ordered away to the mountains by his doctor. Houdini is to plant evidence for a seeming murder, implicating himself. After he has been thrown into prison, the uncle is to return, and The Call secures credit for printing the inside story. But three men are, unknown to Houdini, determined to make the dissembled murder a real one. Cameron is killed. The rest of the plot concerns the adventures of Houdini in trying to locate the murderer. A heart-appealing love story is woven into the theme.

Houdini, of course, is the center of interest, but an excellent cast has been provided for him. It includes Ann Forrest, Thomas Jefferson, Tully Marshall, Arthur Hoyt, Augustus Phillips, Mae Busch and Ed. Martin. Irvin Willat was the director.—O-30

What joyful shouts its brings. How exciting every hill—if a "feller" has a Bob Sled. And when the old pond is frozen solid—could any mortal boy ask for more? Why certainly. He would ask "dad" to drop in here and buy him a pair of Hockey Skates.

And "dad" would come in and buy them, because he knows sledding and skating make little boys healthy and strong.

Don't deny your boy one moment of Winter's exhilarating sports. Come in and buy both "Bob" and Skates. It will be a delightful surprise for him when the hill is ready for coasters, or the skating pond solid enough to try out the sharp, keen edge of his new skates.

The guests met at the home of Miss Ostby and attended the first number of the Lyceum course given at the auditorium that evening, after which they returned to the Ostby home for lunch. The balance of the evening's diversions were games, music and story telling. The rooms were artistically decorated with yellow and black crepe paper while small jack-o-lanterns distributed throughout the rooms furnished the light.

Those present were: Misses Hattie Anderson, Alice Berg, Luella Peterson, Marguerite Burns, Kathleen Ures, Jessie Barnett, Lillian Provencher, Dorothy Lane, Agnes Tandberg, Henrietta Isaacson, Gladys Nelson, Maybelle Ostby and Ruth Kiland; Messrs. Earnest Zeh, Leland Schuster, Henry Falk, Henry Aastad, Herman Aakre, Stanton Dahlen, Morris Mabey, Harold Smithers, Gordon Melby, Allen Fossum, Alfred Dybvik and James Parenteau.

Birthday Party.

The little guests arrived at 6 o'clock and after all had assembled partook of a most tasty luncheon. When all had eaten to their hearts' content they were taken to the kitchen to enjoy a good old fashioned taffy pull which caused much merriment. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games and telling ghost stories. One feature of the party was a huge pumpkin, all lit up, around which the children sat to tell their stories.

The decorations consisted of everything which would emphasize the spirit of Halloween.

At 9 o'clock the guests departed, all agreeing that they had the time of their lives and that it was an event always to be remembered.

Eugene was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

The best music procurable has been secured and everything points to a big time tomorrow.

Series of Parties.

A series of parties are to be given this week by Mrs. E. O. Mogensen and Mrs. H. O. Loken, the first one taking place this afternoon at the home of the former. Whist will be played at nine tables. The last party will be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Loken and needlework will form the chief diversion of the afternoon. The out of town guests will be Mrs. C. J. Kelly of Devils Lake, N. D., and Mrs. H. Edberg of Chicago.

Teachers Entertained.

Mrs. L. G. Larson acted as hostess on Friday evening at a party for the teachers of the Knox and Central schools. A Grocery Store That Serves You

Not one that just sells groceries.

But one that does everything possible to make your grocery buying easy, pleasant and economical.

And one which furnishes you with the best of everything for your table at honest prices.

That's the kind of a store we try to run. And our success proves we are on the right track. Not a day goes by but what customers tell us how they depend on us and appreciate our service.

We understand the grocery business and we know good groceries. And we don't keep our knowledge to ourselves.

We tell our customers about the various things we buy to fill their needs.

For instance, there's RYZON Baking Powder. We know this baking powder is ideal for home baking from every standpoint. It is pure and clean. It can always be depended on to give perfect results. It is economical because of its high leavening power and its reasonable price, 40 cents per pound.

Amusements

A Good Show.

"Twin Beds" played at the auditorium to one of the largest audiences ever greeting a road company in this city, Monday evening. Manager Gay Halvorson had made a special effort to see that this event was widely advertised and the result showed the wisdom of his course.

The play is a comedy of a high order and greatly pleased the big audience. Josephine Saxe, in the stellar role of Blanche Hawkins, was charming, giving a most realistic portrayal of the "baby doll" sort of wife, while Kathlyn Tracy, the somewhat stormy spouse of Italian tenor, crowded the star hard for first place in the estimation of those present. The balance of the cast was very much above the average, in fact there could be no criticism offered on any part of the performance.

Mr. Halvorson is to be congratulated on his first choice for the season. He states that it is his intention to bring some show of the better kind to the city at least once every month during the winter and there is not the slightest doubt but that he will make these ventures successful.

First Lyceum Number.

A large audience greeted the Minneapolis Operatic company when the organization appeared on Tuesday evening to present the first number of the lyceum course sponsored by the high school students. There are six people in the troupe and the program selected is well balanced and acceptably rendered. The class of music handled by the company is perhaps somewhat advanced for the ordinary mixed audience, but there are enough numbers of a more popular flavor to prevent the entertainment becoming stilted. The solo numbers were well received, this being particularly the case with those given by Donald Bennyhoff, tenor, who seemed to strike a responsive chord in his audience. The piano solo by Miss Lillian Dahl was perhaps the feature of the entertainment, while the violin selections by Miss Hazel Steven were very well received. Miss Ebba Norman, soprano, Miss Lael Johnson, contralto, and Clarence Scheibe, basso, are the other members of the troupe and all acquitted themselves creditably.

"The Gypsy Trail," a song comedietta, closed an evening of bright entertainment.

Dance Saturday Evening.

City Clerk A. H. Akre has been notified by the manager of the Hawaiian Concert company that the organization will be here for the purpose of giving a concert at the auditorium on Saturday evening, the musical program to be followed by a dance. This troupe will come here from Fargo after having appeared in the principal cities of the two Dakotas during the fall.

Railroad News Notes

RAIL MEN DEMAND CHANGES AT ONCE

FIREMEN BROTHERHOOD CHIEF MAKES VEILED THREAT AT BOARD HEARING.

Indications that the railway employees will insist on the granting of their demands for an increase in wages, time and a half for overtime, an eight hour day and changes in working conditions, before the railroads of the country are returned to private ownership is contained in the testimony of Timothy Shea, chief of the firemen's brotherhood before the railroad administration's board of railroad working conditions.

Shea told the board during its hearing of the firemen's demand, according to the testimony published last Friday, that to members of his brotherhood was due an increase in wages which he said: "If I can't get it out of this conference it may be necessary to use other means, but I'm going to get it."

Although Mr. Shea appeared before the board only in behalf on the firemen it was generally considered to increase the wages of the firemen would necessitate similar increases to all railroad workers and any action taken by the firemen to enforce their demands would involve other brotherhoods.

Fire Threatens Depot.

Fire threatened to destroy the Soo depot at Erskine on Monday, but through the use of several fire extinguishers, which were kept about the place, the blaze was put out in short order. The agent was out on the platform checking freight that was being unloaded and when he returned to his office flames were discovered in the wall behind the stove. The room was slightly scorched.

Division Jottings.

H. Carlson is on as second trick operator for the Soo here, vice L. E. Whiting, resigned.

The little baby boy of Agent and Mrs. O. R. Crawser died at Winger on Monday, after a brief illness.

SOO MAY OPERATE SOUTH SHORE ROAD

RUNNING OF DULUTH LINE AS DIVISION, REMOVAL OF OFFICES HERE PLANNED.

Operation of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway by the Soo Line will continue after the relinquishment of railway control by the government.

Plans whereby the road will operate as a division of the Soo will be worked out by officials of the Soo Line and the Canadian Pacific railway as soon as a definite announcement regarding the end of government control is made by Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, it was stated the first of the week. Offices of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway may be moved from Duluth to Minneapolis it was added.

Edmund Pennington, president, and George Webster, secretary-treasurer of the Soo Line, have held corresponding offices with the South Shore road since the inauguration of government control. They will continue their duties after the new operating arrangements are effected, according to present plans.

These plans contemplate continuation of the ownership of the South Shore line by the Canadian Pacific, as formerly, and leasing of the railway to the Soo Line officials, if this action is not prohibited by the Sherman anti-trust law, which has been suspended in most cases during the war.

Because of the uncertainty of the length of government control, only tentative arrangements have been made. Indefiniteness of the government in providing adequate financial facilities for the return of the roads to private ownership has also impeded negotiations.

Soo Brakeman Killed.

W. W. Travillion, Soo brakeman, was killed at Mandan, N. D., on Tuesday of last week when two trains crashed together at a junction point at 2:35 a. m. Travillion was at the head of the engine riding when the collision occurred. The deceased is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. John Dahl, who reside five miles southeast of Hazel. The remains were shipped to Baker City, Oregon, home of the deceased's parents, the latter part of last week for burial. The deceased had been employed by the Soo line for eight years.

The work of extending the Great Northern track across the river was begun.

The four steamers plying the river were laying idle because of low water. A dam at the head of the stream was being advocated.

Nine saloon keepers in the county were brought before the grand jury on a charge of breaking the law in one way or another. Two indictments resulted.

PUBLIC FORUM

Coming City Election.

The city election will occur on next Tuesday, Nov. 4. Every voter owes it to his city and to his self-respect to be at the polls.

There is a clear cut issue. A mayor for the city is to be elected to serve for a term of two years. Our mayor is the chief executive officer of the city. He appoints and directs the police force. He is responsible for the enforcement of the laws and the protection of the property and the people of the city.

The mayor also has the veto power in case of the passage of city ordinances. Because of his experience and influence he may be of special value in other matters.

There are two candidates for the office of mayor, Mr. Martin Evenson and Mr. John Bratrud. Personally both are honorable gentlemen. We like them well. How shall we choose between them? Party politics cannot decide our choice.

In American official life men respond consciously and unconsciously to the desires of the people that put them into office. Who are the people and what are the issues behind these men that are candidates for the office of mayor in the city of Thief River Falls?

Mr. Evenson has consented to be a candidate at the request of the good government crowd. If he goes into office it will be by the votes of men who are in the main good and public spirited citizens and who want to see the laws respected and enforced. He also is interested supposedly in the moral and physical welfare of the people of his community and would give his approval to any reasonable legal ordinance that might be passed by the council for the public good. The people behind Mr. Evenson's candidacy want this kind of a mayor.

There are doubtless honorable and good citizens who support Mr. Bratrud's candidacy. But where do the moving picture interests line up? How will the pool hall proprietors and rest room keepers vote? Who is the favorite candidate of the gamblers, the bootleggers, the grafters and those who are after something for themselves? You can depend upon it that these interests will form a solid unit. If they elect their candidate they will expect to get what they are after.

If the citizens of this city want a public spirited good city government they can get it by standing solidly together for the public good. We can stand together and win, or we can continue to divide and fail. Which bunch do you want to be counted with on election day?

The good government people are behind the candidacy of Mr. Otto Gullingsrud in the Second ward, of Mr. John J. Aga in the Third ward and of Olaf Neset in the Fourth ward.

Emerson Bags Monster Canadian Snow Goose

Ed. Emerson is the proud possessor of a Canadian snow goose, which he bagged while hunting along Thief river this morning.

"I have hunted lots of ducks and geese but I have never seen anything like this before," he said when he came into The Times office this morning with the big bird that filled his arms.

The plumage of the goose is something out of the ordinary and is a specimen of the feathered tribe that is seldom seen in this part of the country. The bird was flying low, Mr. Emerson said and downed it with one shot. He intends to have the bird mounted.

"Gets-It" Peels Your Corns Right Off

Two Drops Will Do It Without Fuss or Trouble. Never Fails.

There's only one way to get rid of a corn, and that is to peel it off as you would a banana skin. There is only one corn remover in all the world that does it that way, and that is "Gets-It." It is because of this fact that "Gets-It" is today the biggest seller among corn-removers on this planet. It means the end of "corn-fiddling." For hard corns, soft corns, very old corns, young corns, corns between the toes and calluses, it means a quick, certain finish. "Gets-It" is applied in 2 or 3 seconds. All you need is 2 or 3 drops. As easy to do as signing your name. It does away forever with tape, plasters, bandages, knives, corn-diggers, scissors, files and blood-bringing razors. Ease your corn-pains, be corn-free at last.

"Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Old Man Winter Makes Early Visit

5 INCH SNOWFALL RECORDED LAST FRIDAY MORNING. SLEIGHS OUT.

Thief River Falls awoke last Friday morning to find herself in the midst of regular winter surroundings.

Louis Rayson, local weather observer, states that five inches of snow fell from 8 p. m. Thursday until Friday morning. There was a sudden change in temperature late Thursday evening and with rain predicted an early snow fall was evident.

Flakes began falling Thursday night and continued until Friday morning. Snowshovelers were on the job early in the downtown district while the street department employees cleaned off the crossings and the old familiar scraping of shovels against the sidewalks was heard down all avenues.

Sleighs were numerous for the five inch snowfall provided fairly good sleighing and the jingling of sleigh bells added much to make the day a real winter one. Kiddies were out with their sleds and skiis enjoying themselves.

The wetness of the snow caused a run on the merchants for the necessary footwear which insures dry shoes, and dealers report a good business in the rubber line.

That the falling of snow in Thief River Falls was not local is indicated by reports from over the Northwest. At Grand Forks a four inch blanket covered the ground while a general snowfall was reported over northern North Dakota. Fargo also reported four inches, while half an inch fell at Duluth.

Saturday was generally fair but colder.

Product Going Well.

S. C. Coumbe, manager of the Oxogen Products company of this city, returned Saturday from an extended business trip thru Iowa and Illinois in the interests of his concern. He states that there is a steadily growing demand for Oxo, the great auxiliary fuel for gasoline and kerosene engines, and that by next spring its use will be general thruout the Central states. Mr. Coumbe succeeded in adding a considerable number to the list of agents handling the product and the factory here will be kept going at full capacity all winter.

Gopher Egg Men Must Get License

ALL MINNESOTA EGG DEALERS MUST FORWARD APPLICATIONS WITH $1.

State licenses under the law passed at the special session of the legislature last month have been issued by the state dairy and food department to only 500 out of the estimated total of 15,000 egg dealers in Minnesota, Commissioner James Sorenson announced last Friday.

All Minnesota egg dealers must forward license applications with the $1 fee within ten days, the commissioner said, to escape liability of prosecution.

The main purpose of the new law is to insure the candling of eggs when bought from the farmers. Every case shipped must contain the candler's certificate. Unless prescribed standards are followed, the state department will revoke the dealer's license, Commissioner Sorenson explained.

The daylight saving law which has been in effect for the past two years passed out of existence at that time with the result that darkness will come an hour earlier in the evening and daylight will come an hour earlier in the morning. The daylight saving feature will not come in force next summer, however, as congress repealed the act over President Wilson's veto. The clocks were turned ahead last April.

COSTLY PLACE TO MAINTAIN

White House, From Time of Its Original Building, Has Absorbed Millions of Dollars.

Just 100 years ago President Monroe indulged in a little extravagance. He "blew himself" to a bathtub. It cost $20, and for a long time thereafter was the only bathtub in the White House.

The historic mansion has been pretty expensive from first to last. Up to date considerably more than $3,000,000 has been spent on it, including repairs and refurnishing.

Its cornerstone was laid by George Washington in a bare field October 1, 1792. Since then it has been twice rebuilt—after the British burned it and again during the Roosevelt administration. It was commonly called in early days the Great House, or the President's Palace.

Recently Mr. Tumulty again gave out the announcement that the White House would be closed to visitors for some time to come, "because of necessary repairs." It seems forever to be needing repairs and refurnishing, and for the latter purpose much more than $1,000,000 has been expended since the beginning.

The original cost of the building was $333,207. Its reconstruction after the British raid of 1814 involved an expenditure of $246,490, the house being gutted and its walls so far destroyed that the greater part of them had to be replaced above the first story with new brick and fresh cut stone.

Inevitably there will be a third rebuilding some day. Plans and a model of the White House as it ought to be with wings added, have already been made. The wings are embraced by exterior colonnades. In the east wing is to be a great reception room; in the west wing the state dining room. On the second floor of each wing are to be five bedrooms. Thus the president will have about twenty bedrooms at his disposal, and will be enabled to offer a much freer hospitality. Conservatories in the rear will complete a magnificent quadrangle, and the whole effect will be very beautiful.

The cost of rebuilding the White House in this style will be in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

Diversions That Benefit.

In an address at the Royal College of Medicine to students about to start out in practice for themselves, Dr. George Steele-Perkins of Edinburgh gave this advice:

"Also learn to play lawn tennis, golf, bridge, billiards, or whatever games most appeal to you, and among other things do not neglect the noble art of self-defense."

This advice is as sound for the young man starting out as a lawyer or a broker or a business man. For every man needs some amusement to which he can turn in order to forget the worries of his working hours. No man is ever too busy to play; an hour's relaxation makes him work better. That is why Gladstone chopped down trees and studied Homer, why Wilson plays golf, why Charles Schwab plays bridge, why Cleveland went fishing, why Roosevelt rode, boxed, played handball; why the late J. P. Morgan was never too busy to devote an hour to talking art with some one who really knew.

Such diversions keep a man from going stale.—Exchange.

Boilers Heated by Electricity.

The curious anomaly of steam boilers heated by electricity is attracting serious attention in certain localities. Such boilers have been set up of capacities up to 1,500 kilowatts, or 2,000 horse-power, taking electric current of voltages up to 10,000, and offer advantages where coal is high and water-power cheap, as in certain woodpulp and paper factories of northern Europe. Steam is generated by passage of the electric current through water. Narrow vertical tubes of insulating material contain water, and are connected at top and bottom with the interior of the boiler. Alternating current is sent through the water columns, the tubes with three-phase currents being connected in groups of three. Moving the electrodes in the tubes regulates the current strength. An efficiency of 95 per cent is claimed and one watt of electric energy is stated to produce nearly four pounds of steam.

Friend Wife Laughed.

I was motoring along one of our country roads in my trusty little bus with friend wife, who was carrying a most unwelcome bit of grouch, when I pulled alongside of a large, lazy sedan with a man trying to fix it.

"Trouble?" I asked.

"Some," was the laconic answer.

"What power car is it?"

"Forty-horse," came the answer.

"What seems to be the matter with it?"

"Well, from the way she acts, I should say that thirty-nine of the horses were dead."

This must have been the funniest of experiences, for my wife actually laughed—right out loud.—Exchange.

DISCUSSES PAST AND FUTURE OF ELECTRIC PLANT

PRESENT EQUIPMENT WILL NO LONGER ANSWER, SAYS H. W. PROTZELLER.

DIRECT CURRENT A LOSS

CHANGE TO ALTERNATING CURRENT SHOULD BE MADE IN ANY EVENT.

The status of the water power in the Red Lake river at this point is one that is going to give our people a greater or less degree of concern before many moons have passed. That the people realize this fact and are making plans for meeting the question when it comes up is evidenced by the fact that it is already a subject of serious discussion, although the present arrangement for power will continue for more than four years unless otherwise agreed by the parties to the contract.

This matter was one of the subjects coming up for discussion at a recent Commercial Club luncheon. A paper was read by H. W. Protzeller, general manager of the Minnesota Northwestern Electric railway, perhaps the best-posted man on electricity and water power in this section. Mr. Protzeller's paper is well worth the careful perusal of every citizen as it deals to some extent at least with facts not heretofore recognized. The paper in part was as follows:

"From a technical and economical standpoint the city of Thief River Falls has long since outgrown its electric light and power plant. There is no question but what the plant we are now operating was alright ten or fifteen years ago; also that it has been kept in good condition and operated as efficiently as possible during its life. But that does not change the fact that the whole system, with the exception of the Diesel oil engines, is now out of date and practically obsolete. Every day that we continue to operate it means a direct loss to all concerned.

Consider Matter Now.

"At a not very distant date we will face the fact that the contract for water power has expired. It will then be up to the city to make arrangements for power and light under a very serious handicap. By taking time by the forelock we can surely make far superior arrangements in advance of that date than can be made after the contract has expired. We must also bear in mind the fact that questions of this magnitude take considerable time and the few years that the present contract still remains in force will pass very quickly.

"The whole question will resolve itself into one of dollars and cents. Will it be cheaper for the city itself and for the consumers in particular to generate electricity by means of artificial power, in the form of Oil Engines, or by using the natural power available right in the heart of the city? If the city of Thief River Falls has reached its full development and has absolutely no prospects of growing any larger, then I would say that the Diesel oil engines might furnish us with power as cheaply or even more cheaply than water power could, especially if the water power requires a large outlay, involving a heavy fixed annual charge. On the other hand if the city grows and the demands for power increase each year, then there is absolutely no question but what the water power, properly and efficiently developed, will greatly reduce the cost.

Water Power Costs Money.

"Many people figure that a water power plant generates electricity at no cost at all. To explain the above more fully let us consider two plants, one with oil engines and the other with water power. Suppose the water power plant has cost a total of $125,000 and the oil engine plant has cost a total of $50,000. These costs would represent very nearly plants of this character in Thief River Falls. We will assume that the demands for power and light amount to 2,000 kilowatt hours per day, which is approximately what is required in this city at present. The approximate cost of generating this power with the engines will be as follows per kilowatt hour: Fuel, 1 cent; lubricating oil, water and other supplies, 0.1 cent; labor, 0.5 cent; superintendence, 0.2 cent; miscellaneous and repairs, 02. cent; depreciation at 5 per cent annually, 0.35 cent; interest at 6 per cent annually 0.4 cent, making the total cost at the switchboard 2.75 cents per kilowatt hour. With the water power plant the cost will be as follows: Water, 0.0; oil and supplies, 0.1 cent; labor, 0.5 cent; superintendent, 0.2 cent; miscellaneous and repairs, 0.5 cent; depreciation at 3 per cent annually, 0.51 cent; interest at 6 per cent annually, 1.02 cents, making the total cost 2.83 cents per kilowatt hours. This is even higher than with the engines.

Is Water Dependable?

"Now assume that the requirements for power have increased to 4,000 kilowatt hours per day. The cost will then figure 1.86 cent for the oil engines and 1.45 cents for the water power. This simply proves that for small developments of power the water power may cost more than the oil engines. In order to get cheap water power it means that a sufficiently large amount of power must be consumed.

"One of the natural questions that arises regarding the water power situation on the Red Lake river is: What assurance have we that there will always be a flow of water available? Many people think that there will be very little water flowing at times and base their opinion on the fact that our present ditch system will drain off the water very fast and leave none to keep the river flowing. This may be true of part of the watershed, but they forget the fact that at the head of the river is the greatest storage in the world, namely the Red Lakes. These lakes have ample storage to keep a continuous steady flow of water all the year round if properly regulated, and there seems to be no question but what this will be done in the near future. In brief, there is considerably more assurance that there will be plenty of water available for power than there is that the present price of fuel will continue. It may happen that at times it will be necessary to operate an auxiliary plant in connection with the water power, but if we can get power and light cheaper for ten months in the year it would certainly be better than to have to pay more for the whole twelve months.

Change to Alternating.

"The greatest disadvantage of our present plant is the old style 220 volt direct current system. With this system it is absolutely impossible to distribute power at all times and keep the voltage up to normal. A very considerable amount of power is lost in transmitting. Also by this drop in voltage we do not get the amount of light that we should from each kilowatt of power. As a matter of fact when we consider the light that we get our power has cost us as much as 14 cents per kilowatt hour.

"In order to obtain the maximum efficiency from a modern generating plant requires the use of an alternating current system. Thief River Falls, if it does nothing else with its electric light situation, should take immediate steps to change over to an alternating current system. There is now a very large amount of copper wire strung thru the city that could be sold and would go a long way toward paying for the change. The common impression is that should such a change be made it would be necessary for everybody to throw away all of their present equipment and buy new. This is not the fact. A 200 volt lamp or iron or most other accessories, with the exception of motors of the larger size, will run and operate equally well on 220 volt alternating current as they will on direct. This would allow of extending the change over a period of several years, because the consumer could have 220 volt alternating supplied to him until he wished to change to the standard 120 volt. It only requires a few minutes to make each change. This is one of the big advantages of alternating current. It is possible to supply any consumer with almost any voltage he wishes. If only a few places of business could be wired and supplied with standard 120 volt alternating current everybody else would soon come to it when they saw the increased amount of light that was obtained with the use of less power."

HEALTH BONDS FOR MINNESOTA PEOPLE

WILL FORM SUBSTITUTES FOR RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS.

Minnesota is to be bonded for its health, not by the state government, but by its citizens.

"Health bonds" will be sold during the annual Red Cross Christmas Seal Sale, it is announced by the Minnesota Public Health association.

The "health bonds" are a new departure in health campaigns and it is expected that they will be purchased extensively. They are to be used as substitutes for seals in cases where persons who wish to aid the better health movement by contributing funds do not care to accept the seals at onep penny each, equal to the amount of their subscription.

The new plan thus makes it possible for a person who wishes to buy $50 or $100 worth of seals, but does not care to take 5,000 or 10,000 of them, to buy a "health bond" representing an equal investment in health instead.

This is the first year that the "health bonds" have been sold. The plan was adopted because the campaign, which embodies the greatest health education drive in the history of the nation, has awakened the country to the need of good health, and it was felt that there should be a substitute offered for large seal purchases.

More than 25,000,000 Red Cross Christmas Seals are to be sold in Minnesota to raise the state's $250,000 allotment of the national $6,500,000 fund.

NOVEMBER 11 IS "ARMISTICE DAY"

GOVERNOR MAKES PROCLAMATION ASKING FOR OBSERVANCE OF DAY.

Governor Burnquist late Saturday afternoon issued a proclamation designating November 11 as Armistice Day and calling for its observance in all circles and by all people. On that day twelve months will have passed since the time the Germans put up the white flag and signed the famous armistice articles at Spa.

The governor asks that on the Sunday preceding Armistice Day the churches should hold appropriate services in memory of those who did not return. The proclamation follows:

"In accordance with an announcement at the time of the reception to the 151st Field Artillery and pursuant to telegram to the American Legion on Sept. 1, I desire to proclaim Nov. 11, 1919, as Armistice day.

"On the anniversary of the armistice it is exceedingly fitting that the citizens of Minnesota should hold, in honor of all service men, the largest patriotic demonstration in its history.

"On that date the American Legion will meet in national convention within the borders of our commonwealth. This gathering should be made the occasion for the wide promulgation of the American principles for which this organization stands.

"The Sunday preceding Armistice day is a fitting time for churches and religious organizations to hold appropriate services in memory of those who served during the world war and for the dedication of such suitable memorials as will perpetuate their patriotism for the inspiration of future generations.

"Therefore I, Joseph A. A. Burnquist, governor of Minnesota, do hereby designate Nov. 11, 1919, as Armistice day, and urge that said day and the Sunday immediately preceding be observed as herein requested.

"In witness whereof I have hereto caused the great seal of the state to be affixed and have hereunto set my hand at the capitol in the city of St. Paul this 18th day of October, 1919.

—J. A. A. Burnquist,
"Governor."

ACTION IS BEGUN OVER LAND SALE

H. A. SPONHEIM ALLEGES COMMISSION WAS NEVER PAID FOR MAKING SALE.

Action has been started in municipal court by H. A. Sponheim, plaintiff, against Soren Bergeland, defendant, to recover the commission which he alleges is due him for selling the defendant's farm in Marshall county.

Mr. Sponheim alleges in the complaint that on or about the first day of August, 1919, the defendant hired and employed him to find and procure a purchaser for defendant's land and that instructions were given to him to find a buyer who would pay $35 an acre and who would be willing to convey to defendant some city property to-wit: A dwelling house or lots in Thief River Falls as part payment of the price of land and that defendant then and there in consideration of plaintiff's services, should plaintiff be successful in finding such a buyer, agreed to pay the plaintiff the usual commission customary given in such a transaction.

The land was sold by Mr. Sponheim and he alleges that the services of getting the buyer was worth $320 or $2 per acre for 160 acres and further alleges that no part of the sum has ever been paid, although demanded before the commencement of the action.

The defendant has filed his answer and claims that he listed the land with the plaintiff for $35 per acre and further claims that an agreement was made with Mr. Sponheim in which [illegible] above that figure. The land was sold for $35 per acre.

The case will probably come up next week the date having not been set. Attorneys W. J. [illegible] and J. M. [illegible] will act for the plaintiff and Attorney P. O. Chommie has been retained by the defendant.

RUSHING WORK ON SCHOOL ADDITION

DIGGING OF BASEMENT NEARING COMPLETION—CONCRETE WORK BEGINS.

The work of excavating ground for the basement of the new addition to the mechanical building at the high school is going on at a rapid pace. Several men and teams are on the job and the task of digging will be completed this week. The pouring of concrete for the walls will begin immediately after and this is the only part of the work that will be done by hired labor. The work of putting up the frame structure is to be done by the boys of the manual training classes under the supervision of M. A. Schmitt, instructor in mechanics.

The total cost of the building is figured to be $6,000, but this figure will be cut in two by reason of the fact that the boys will do all the constructing work.

Clarence Pope, '16 graduate of the high school, has been secured to assist Mr. Schmitt in the work of teaching manual training in order that Mr. Schmitt will be able to give more time to develop the work connected with the Smith-Hughes course.

MRS. BAUGHMAN GAINS 23 POUNDS

CEDAR RAPIDS WOMAN FEELS LIKE A NEW PERSON SINCE TAKING TANLAC.

"Besides getting relief from my awful suffering I have actually gained twenty-three pounds in weight and you may know by that what I think of Tanlac," said Mrs. Sadie Baughman, residing at 1252 F street, East Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in an interview, recently. Mrs. Baughman is the wife of Harry C. Baughman, a valued employee of the Quaker Oats company. Her statement while, indeed, remarkable, is by no means unusual as many thousands throughout the United States and Canada have testified to having used the Master Medicine with the same wonderful results.

"It has been something less than three months now," continued Mrs. Baughman, "since I began taking Tanlac and if anyone could feel like a new person I do. I had been suffering from stomach trouble, rheumatism and extreme nervousness for five years. My liver was also in a very bad condition as my skin was as yellow as a pumpkin. My food would sour on my stomach causing gas, pains and spells of palpitation of the heart when it just seemed like my breath would stop. It seemed that I was right on the verge of nervous prostration and my lower limbs ached so with rheumatism that I could hardly stand it. I could neither rest myself or let anyone else in the house rest. I was so nervous and miserable. These troubles had reduced my weight until I was almost a living skeleton and was so run down and felt so badly I could not attend to my household affairs.

"I had used everything in the way of medicines and had been told a number of times that an operation was my only hope of recovery, but I have gotten rid of it all by taking a few bottles of Tanlac. My husband had been trying to get me to try Tanlac for some time, but I refused to do so because I thought it was like other things I had taken and would do me no good. But I kept on suffering and getting worse until one day he brot home a bottle and insisted so that I begin taking it. Well, it wasn't long until I found Tanlac was altogether different from any other medicine I had ever used, for soon after starting on my second bottle there was a wonderful change in my feelings. I am now eating just anything I want and am never troubled the least bit with gas on my stomach, palpitation of the heart or any uncomfortable feeling afterwards. My complexion has cleared up until it is like new. The rheumatic pain has disappeared from my limbs and my nerves have quieted down until I can sleep just like a baby. I am really and truly feeling like a new person and owe it all to Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

No Football Game.

The football game scheduled for last Saturday between Thief River Falls and the second team of the North Dakota university was cancelled late Friday evening owing to the fact that the field was covered with a four inch blanket of snow. The boys planned on cleaning the gridiron off but later gave the idea up and the game also. Several games remain on the schedule to be played and with the passing of the snow, play will be resumed.

FIRST BOY TO GO IS LAST TO RETURN

WILLIAM MIDDERIGH ARRIVES FROM CAMP PIKE FOR BRIEF VISIT HERE.

The first Thief River Falls boy to enlist in the United States armed forces in the war against Germany will be the last to return. That boy is William Midderigh, who arrived in the city last week from Camp Pike, Ark., on a short furlough to visit his father, Paul Midderigh, in the city after which he will go to Coleraine to be the guest of his sister.

William recently returned from overseas service with the Third Regular division and was a member of an ammunition train. The division is now stationed at Camp Pike. Two weeks ago the lad was bitten by a tarantula while in camp and for a time he was in a serious condition.

William enlisted in April, 1917, for a three year period and after a course in training at different camps was sent overseas with the Third division. This division created for itself a reputation that stands about the highest of any division in the A. E. F. and the spectacular fighting of the 7th Machine gun battalion of this division at Chateau Thierry is regarded as the greatest work of any one American unit during the entire war. A monument has been erected at Chateau Thierry by the French people in memory of the many boys in this battalion who fell defending the city against the German hordes.

Young Midderigh was hit by a piece of flying schrapnel on the Rnee, but the wound was not of a very serious nature. His division fought on seven fronts and held the bridgehead at Coblenz for several months, keeping watch on the Rhine.

Midderigh still has several months to serve before his enlistment expires. He also has a brother who is a member of the United States Marines, stationed at a California training camp and expects to see service in China before long.

From Jelly Covering to Street Covering

WHEN you think of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) you visualize instantly gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oil.

True, these are the three fundamental products of manufacture, but the Company is proud of the fact that its service enters your life by many other doors.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service, by keen initiative and ceaseless effort, is able to supply you with more than 2000 useful products, all made from petroleum.

The humble paraffin which seals your jelly glasses against the inroads of ferments, and the asphalt which covers the streets you drive upon, are by-products of petroleum, and there are hundreds of others, all servants of your daily needs.

Scores of other products, each vital to some specific industry, which in turn supplies you with needed merchandise, are made, wholly or in part, from portions of the crude oil which otherwise would be waste.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products are delivered by a network of stations and distribution systems, so complete that every hamlet of the Middle West is supplied.

Notwithstanding the wide range of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service, the Company is constantly striving to increase the number of useful products, and to intensify its service, so that it may fulfill to the utmost its obligation as a public servant.

POULTRY SHOW TO BE GREAT AFFAIR

OUTSIDE ENTRIES TO BE EXHIBITED—POULTRY SPECIALIST MAY COME.

Indications are that the Pennington county poultry show, which is to be held in the auditorium at Thief River Falls, will be the largest of its kind in the Northwest.

A number of inquiries have been made at the Farm Bureau office during the week with regards to the big show and the promoters have every reason to believe that it will be a hummer.

The Red Lake county poultry association plans on sending a large exhibit of birds to this exhibition to represent their live poultry breeders from their county.

An effort will soon be made to secure H. E. Chapman or some other state poultry expert to give a lecture on "Poultry Raising" during the second day of the show. The annual meeting of the Pennington county poultry association will be held at the same time to elect officers for the ensuing year.

The date for this big show is Nov. 18.

GOOD SEED WHEAT DRIVE WILL BEGIN

TOWN AND COUNTRY ORGANIZATIONS PLANNED BY MILLERS IN MINNESOTA.

Wheat growing sections in Minnesota and North and South Dakota will be canvassed immediately by representatives of the Southern Minnesota Miller's association and other organizations interested in stimulating wheat growing, to determine the amount of seed wheat necessary for planting the 1920 crop. The action followed a meeting of the association this week with Minneapolis grain dealers.

Organizations will be fostered in town and country to interest farmers in the importance of good seed, it was announced by H. E. King of the committee. The object of the campaign is to promote uniformity of maturity, yield and growth of wheat throughout the northwest. The co-operation of agricultural colleges in the district will be asked in testing seed wheat for its germinating and milling qualities.

COUNTY AGENTS TO AID FARM CENSUS.

Director A. D. Wilson, of the extension service of the Minnesota college of agriculture, has been advised that the federal bureau of census is seeking the co-operation of county agents in distributing sample copies of farm schedules among farmers so that they may become acquainted with the questions and thus be prepared to answer them accurately and fully. The bureau is planning to make the next census "the most complete and accurate census of agriculture that has ever been made in this country."

STICKERS ORDERED FOR FARM BUREAU DRIVE

What is a campaign without its signs and its stickers? The Farm Bureau membership drive in Minnesota is to have them. A minimum lot of 10,000 stickers, bearing the words "Farm Bureau Member, State of Minnesota, 1920-21," has been ordered. When one bought a war bond the government presented him with a poster for display. Likewise those who now join the Farm Bureau may get an attractive sticker which can be easily attached to the inside of the windshields of automobiles and to window panes.

NEXT MEETING OF VALLEY DAIRYMEN

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION AT CROOKSTON DEC. 11 AND 12.

The sixteenth annual convention of the Red River Valley Dairymen's association will be held at Crookston on December 10 and 11. In view of the increasing shortage of dairy products the subject of increasing production will be discussed by eminent experts. Prof. C. H. Eckles, newly appointed chief of the dairy division of the university of Minnesota, will make his bow to Red River Valley dairymen at this meeting. Dairy Commissioner James Sorenson, Prof. McKerrow, Prof. Grout, A. J. Clover of Hoard's Dairyman, and other prominent men have accepted invitations to give addresses.

The Red River Valley Dairymen's association has been effective in promoting dairy farming in many ways. With over a hundred successful creameries in this section of the state and thousands of progressive dairy farmers it is expected that this convention will be one of the most successful in the history of the association. Leonard Houske, of Halstad, is secretary of the association. He reports increased interest along dairy production lines which means much for this section of the state.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE FOR FARM BUREAU

EVERY PENNINGTON COUNTY FARMER WANTED TO JOIN MOVEMENT.

A Farm Bureau membership campaign has been planned to take place from October 27 to November 1, inclusive, for the purpose of increasing the number of Farm Bureau members in the state of Minnesota.

The Pennington County Farm Bureau board met in the office on Tuesday evening to make definite arrangements for carrying on this campaign in the county. It was decided to stage the drive at the same time the state campaign is being made at the above named time, although it may take longer to call on everyone in this county.

Every citizen who is interested in agriculture will be given an opportunity to associate himself with one of the largest better-farming movements in the country at the present time.

W. C. T. U. Notes

Sound the Jubilee.

For God and home and every land.

You have heard it before, one million dollars. Won't you all help make the jubilee drive a patriotic, progressive and popular community movement. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has proven its worth and has justified its daring faith and accuracy of vision of its founders—a handful of temperance women in 1873—and since the ratification of National prohibition, men and women everywhere have been reading the story of that wonderful crusade. The little bands of praying women of the crusade with all their faith could never have anticipated that from their prayers and tears would arise an organization which today would reach a membership of half a million and which is organized in more than forty countries of the world. Had the Woman's Christian Temperance Union only one objective, prohibition in the United States could not yet stop. Total abstainence must be taught in the schools and in the home and in the Sunday schools or later years will see the repeal of the prohibition law. The enemy is not dead, is not even sleeping.

Would you for a moment have the women fold their hands and say our temperance work is finished? Work will be continued in child welfare, health, morality and Americanization. We must hasten in our work for world prohibition and dare not wait. We would not be worthy of the great spirit of the crusaders. We would be traitors to the boys who today lie on Flanders fields that the world may be safe for Democracy, if after securing the blessings of prohibition for ourselves we fail to take the message to the other countries and without protest permit the American brewers to take their products to South America, Mexico, China and other countries.

China first freed from degradation of the opium traffic is now threatened with invation by the United States brewers and special appeals have come from a number of countries that help must be given.

The W. C. T. U. with faith is asking for big gifts for big plans. This organization born of God, could not do otherwise than make big plans. It is gathering this fund that it may do its part in the great reconstruction work. It is gathering this fund to continue its temperance work in America. It is gathering this fund to help win prohibition for the world. Help the W. C. T. U. Sound the jubilee.

To Clean Diamonds.

Diamond dust is a fine dust produced from cutting diamonds. It is extensively used by jewelers, chiefly for cleaning diamonds. It may be procured in any jewelry store, together with instructions for its use. Another quite satisfactory way to clean diamonds is to make a lather of soap, add a little ammonia and apply this cleansing preparation to the stones with a tooth brush.

Territory Taken From Spain.

At the close of the war with Spain the American government obtained possession of Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines, agreeing to pay Spain $20,000,000 and give Spanish ships special trading privileges in the Philippines for ten years. Neither statehood nor citizenship was promised to any of the islands taken over and they are governed as territorial possessions.

The Crow Family.

The crow family is placed by ornithologists at the head of the bird world as being more highly organized than any other. Linnaeus gave the post of honor to the eagles, because of their kingly quality of rapacity, but two great authorities, Professor Parker and Professor Newton, agreed in assigning the highest place to the corvidae.

"Poor Man's Weather Glass."

The figures of which the leaves of the horse-chestnut are made up keep flat and fanlike so long as the fine weather is likely to continue. With the coming of rain, however, they droop, as if to offer less resistance to the weather. The scarlet pimpernel is known in England as the poor man's weather-glass, and opens its flowers only when the weather is fair.

Sought Trees for Protection.

Tree-dwellers are found among savages in various parts of the world. According to the scientists the first habitations of mankind were in the trees as the most adequate protection against the many enemies of the early type of man. It was only in the later period of man's evolution that he was strong enough to hold his own on the ground.

OPEN FILM FIRE ON ANARCHISTS

Catholic Council Lays Barrage to Teach True Americanism in Dark Quarters.

Washington.—Training thousands of batteries of movie machines on the quarters where ignorance and illiteracy hide true American democracy from nine million foreign-born or uninformed people, the National Catholic War Council has begun a nation-wide campaign of civic education that will enlist twenty thousand workers. Behind a barrage of patriotically educational films, fitted for the comprehension of every foreigner and of every illiterate, regiments of minute men, trained to the language and customs of these classes, will fight to bring to them the real meaning of democracy, their rights and obligations under the American democratic government and the fundamental principles of industrial justice. Until every district, darkened to true Americanism, is so enlightened that Bolshevism cannot breed there the civic campaigners of the National Catholic War Council declare that they will never let up in this most vital of all their post-war activities.

From the decks of a fleet of auto-trucks that will carry a "camionette" film service to the most isolated groups of miners and woodsmen as well as from every available platform in the congested quarters of the larger cities, the minute men of this movement have already begun to drive home the truths of democracy in the tongue and vernacular of their various audiences. Their itinerary is based on a special survey of the location of the five million immigrants who know little or nothing of America and its language and of the four million native-born illiterates. Between specially prepared patriotic, civic, social welfare and vocational reels, interspersed with clean comics, stirring talks on the history of the struggle of democracy in this land and among other nations, on the American's rights and obligations and on vocational opportunities and industrial justice will be given in the language of the hearers.

Although intensive drives to reach into the heart of the foreign and illiterate quarters throughout this country will be one of the main objectives of the civic educational campaign of the National Catholic War Council, its reels and speakers are also prepared to offer to all English-speaking audiences, such as groups of women who may desire more information of American civic fundamentals, comprehensive courses on the workings of our government. In every case these entertainments will be brought as close as possible to the people and will be entirely free and open to every one who cares to attend them. Beyond a preliminary course of six weeks and a continuation course of twenty-four weeks with films and speakers the National Catholic War Council is prepared to offer simple text books to all its auditors who are interested.

Summarizing the objects of their new civic campaign, leaders of the National Catholic War Council declare that "In civic education the following points should be emphasized: (1) All the people, both native and immigrant, should know what democracy means. (2) They should be acquainted with their rights under democracy. (3) They should have a knowledge of their obligations in a democracy. (4) They should be acquainted with the simple workings of the government. (5) They should know how to invoke the powers of the government for protection and understand the voting privilege. (6) Finally they should be acquainted with fundamental principles of industrial justice.

Dreaming of Cats.

With the exception of black ones, it is said that to dream of cats is unlucky. If the animals scratch, the dreamer must beware of a rival in love. To dream of chasing a cat means disappointment over something.

Inexpensive Fun.

Probably complaining about everything all the [illegible] does no real good. [illegible] only way [illegible]

Too Hasty.

"Mr. Crawley, can you lend me"—"No, sir, I can't! And if I could I wouldn't. I have been lending you money for a year, and you make no effort to return it!" "But I would like to know if you wouldn't lend me—" "And I told you beforehand I won't." "Well, then, don't! I wanted to borrow your fountain pen to make out a check for what I owe you; but if you're in no hurry, I'm not!"

Suggestive Hint.

A certain eminent lawyer was appointed head of a government department, and he was anxious that all the members of the staff should work together in unison. He summoned the leading officials, and after delivering an address on the desirability of thorough co-operation, concluded by saying: "Gentlemen, in my profession when a jury disagrees it is discharged, I think I need say no more!"

Useful Asset.

Poet—"I sent you some verses about three weeks ago. What have you done with them?" Editor—"I'm holding them. Every little while lately I get thinking that we are not getting out as good a paper as we ought, and then I take those verses and see how much worse the sheet might be, and that makes me cheerful again!"

The Lilac Tree.

The lilac is perhaps, all things considered, the most splendid of flowering trees. Everybody is familiar with its fragrance. The tree belongs to the olive family and is closely allied to the common privet, but it bears no fleshy fruit and is valueless except for the splendor of its blossoms.

The Eskimo's Smile.

The smile of the Eskimo is a continuous one. When he is hurt he smiles; when his kyack upsets and precipitates him into icy water he smiles; when he is friendly he smiles again, and when he is not friendly he smiles, too.

Furniture Polish.

This is a polish used by a cabinet maker who learned the trade: One-half pint raw linseed oil, three tablespoonfuls turpentine, two tablespoonfuls alcohol, three tablespoonfuls vinegar. Shake well before using.

Seems to Be General Opinion.

"Tell me what company you keep, and I will tell you what you are," is a proverb that is found in similar form among the French, Spanish, Italians, Dutch and others. Anything so widely accepted must be true.

Religion in a Dream.

To dream that you are taking part in a service in church with a large congregation is said to foretell riches late in life. But if the attendance is thin, beware, they say, of slander!

SUFFERED SINCE HE WAS A BOY

HAWLEY HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH FOR 20 YEARS—RESTORED BY TANLAC.

"I have been in bad health for over twenty years and my condition has gradually been getting worse all the time, but about a month ago I commenced taking Tanlac and now I feel like a different man altogether," said William Hawley, who lives at Deer River, Minn., while in Abbott's Drug Store in Duluth the other day.

"As far back as I can remember," continued Mr. Hawley, "I have been bothered with stomach trouble and indigestion. Even as a small boy I would often have spells of sick headaches after meals, and would have indigestion in the worst way. As I grew up I gradually got worse until I finally reached the point to where everything I ate would cause me to suffer something awful afterwards. Those terrible headaches kept up, too, and sometimes the pain was so severe it would almost drive me wild. This trouble just kept on until I was just about all in, and had to lose a lot of time from my work. Handling lumber is not an easy job, and I was simply too weak and run down to keep at it.

"Finally Tanlac came along, and to tell the truth, I had very little faith in it, but I thought I would try a bottle of it anyway, and that first bottle did me so much good that I just kept right on taking this wonderful medicine. The more Tanlac I took the better I got, and now I am in better condition in every way than I have been since I was a boy six years old. I haven't had a headache since I took my first bottle of Tanlac, and my stomach is in such fine condition that I can eat just anything I want and I never suffer any afterwards. It is simply wonderful to feel like this after suffering for twenty long years, and a medicine that will do that much for a man deserves all the good things that are said for it. I have gained eight pounds already, and am so well and strong that I am getting ready to go back home and get on the job again. I sleep like a top every night now, and I feel so fine every morning that I just know I can get around and handle as much lumber in a day as any of the boys. You can put me down as a regular booster for Tanlac, for it has been a godsend to me."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

BIG GAME SEASON OPENS NEXT MONTH

ONE DEER OR MALE MOOSE MAY BE TAKEN FROM NOV. 15 TO DEC. 5.

With the gradual cessation of hostilities against the feathered tribe, hunters are looking forward to Nov. 15 when the gong sounds which will open the big game season for a twenty day period.

Only one deer and one male antlered moose may be taken from November 15 to December 5, both inclusive of the same year, but the taking or killing of elk or caribou at any time is prohibited.

"No artifical light, snare, trap, saltlick, set gun, swivel gun or other device to entrap or entice deer or moose shall be used, made or set, nor shall any deer or moose be taken with the aid or use thereof. Deer or moose shall not be hunted, pursued or killed with dogs. The licensee shall after killing a deer or mose immediately affix to the carcass thereof coupon tag "B" of his license." Sec. 45 of the Minnesota state game and fish laws for 1919-20.

Sec. 46 of the game laws says: "No person shall take a dog of either sex into, nor shall any person keep or maintain a dog about any hunting lodge or lumber camp used by hunters in a locality frequented or inhabited by deer or moose. Any person may, and it shall be the duty of every game warden to kill any dog pursuing or killing deer or moose, and no action for damages shall be maintained against the person for such killing. The prohibitions of this section shall not apply to dogs on lands actually farmed or cultivated by the owner of such dog, or within the limits of an incorporated village or city."

Falls From Ladder.

Delos Douglas suffered a broken ankle Monday afternoon when the ladder on which he was standing, while putting on the storm windows at his mother's home, 403 Red Lake boulevard, slipped and caused him to take a fall from the second story. After the tumble Mr. Douglas managed to get into the house and his ankle started to swell. An X-ray picture was taken of the injured limb and it was declared to be broken. He is getting around with the aid of crutches. Delos is having more than his share of hard luck for it was just a year and a half ago that he broke his arm.

DUSTIN FARNUM'S BEST COMING SOON

"A MAN'S FIGHT" SAID TO BE HIS GREATEST PLAY.

Those who will have the opportunity of seeing "A Man's Fight," will declare it to be Dustin Farnum's best production to date.

In this United Picture Theatres production Dustin Farnum has opportunity to gratify the desire he has for some time expressed to lay aside his accustomed cowboy roles, and, in fact, he is seen in the first part of the picture in evening dress. The earlier scenes are laid in the East with Mr. Farnum in the role of a young and somewhat profligate only son of a wealthy and aristocratic New York family. Laboring under a misconception of a tragic event which occurred in the aristocratic household, Dustin Farnum sacrifices himself for the sake of his adored and adorable sister. His resolve to shield her at all hazards from a charge of crime involves his being sent to Sing Sing. The locale then changes to the virile West where the young aristocrat, having served his sentence, is essaying to begin life anew. At the very moment of assured success he is confronted with the record of his earlier career. The denouncement of the crashing crisis is said to form one of the most thrilling scenes of this big picture.

The magnificent cast in support of Dustin Farnum includes Loja Wilson, Dorothy Wallace, Aggie Herring, Joseph Dowling, Wedgwood Nowell, J. Barney Sherry, Charles K. French, Harry VanMeter, Bert Appling and Betty Bouton. To be shown at the Lyceum Saturday, Nov. 1st. 0-30

ANNUAL MEETING OF N. M. E. A. IN SESSION

LOCAL SCHOOLS WILL NOT CLOSE OWING TO SMALL DELEGATION GOING.

The three day session of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association opened in Crookston yesterday morning.

Owing to the fact that a small delegation of teachers from Thief River Falls are going to attend the meeting, the city schools will not close down for any one day but there will be no school in the rooms where the instructor is in attendance at the convention. At first it was thought that a large number of teachers would go, but owing to the high cost of living and expense in traveling many of them were unable to see their way clear in the matter.

The following week the state meeting of the Educational association will be held in Minneapolis and a number of local teachers will attend. Thief River Falls last entertained the N. M. E. A. in 1917, and it is quite probable that the 1920 meeting will come to this city.

J. F. B. RECOLLECTS OXEN HERE IN 1892

ANIMALS OF PIONEER DAYS IN THIS SECTION GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.

Pioneer days in and around Thief River Falls were recalled by a little jibe that appeared in "A Lino-O-Type or Two" column of the Minneapolis Journal last Friday, the item being submitted by J. F. B. It follows:

> Little Studies in Placidity.
>
> Sir: "Do not worry. Cultivate poise. Learn oxlike placidity," advises Doc Evans. Not having seen any oxen since visiting Thief River Falls, Minn., in 1892, one is rather at a loss for a precedent. However, one might imitate the average ticket seller in a theatre box office, when he yawns that he can give you a pair of nice seats in the 17th row.—J. F. B.

Twenty-seven years ago is a long time and many are the old timers in Thief River Falls today, who recall the days when the placid ox was used in the opening up of the country around this city. They were slow but they got there. The ox teams are now practically a thing of the past in this neck of the woods. They have gone but are not forgotten.

TRAIN WRECK IN "THE WHIP" CAUSES SENSATION, WHEN STAGED.

When the big train wreck, which forms one of the gigantic scenes in "The Whip," the world's biggest motion picture, was staged in Maryland for this tremendous film drama, a veritable sensation was caused. All the countryfolk in the immediate vicinity of the wreck, who had no idea that the catastrophe was staged just for the movies, came running to the scene. Doctors were called, a hospital in a nearby city was notified and altogether a huge amount of commotion resulted.

The train wreck in "The Whip" by the way, is absolutely the most realistic ever staged for the movies and is also the most costly single scene ever staged for a screen production. The cost was over $25,000 and it is but one of the many mastodonic scenes in "The Whip." This great play will be seen at the Princess on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 5 and 6. 0-30

MORE SUGAR THAN LAST YEAR, CLAIM

GREATLY INCREASED CONSUMPTION RESPONSIBLE FOR SHORTAGE.

In view of the current shortage of sugar a statement just issued by the United States Sugar Equalization board is most interesting. The report shows that instead of there being less of the product than last year there is vastly more. The shortage is laid entirely to increased consumption, and the figures submitted would indicate that this is the correct answer.

It is shown that during the first nine months of the present year the total sugar consumption was 3,263,000 long tons of refined sugar as against 2,661,000 pounds for the corresponding period a year ago, or an increase of 600,000 tons. The pre-war consumption was about 2,990,000 tons per year, so that the country consumed over 600,000 tons more than normal. This means that during the first nine months of the present year there was consumed as much sugar in this country as during the entire year of 1918.

Some of the figures in the report are rather startling and show that as a people we are prodigal in the use of sugar. For instance, it is estimated that the consumption for the year will reach the total of 4,100,000 long tons, which is over one-half the world's total exportable surplus for 1919 and over one-quarter of the total world's sugar production. There is still a surplus of 875,000 available for the last quarter of the present year, this being 100,000 tons more than for the same period of 1918.

As concerns cost the report states that the American people have been securing sugar at from 11 to 12 cents per pound, while those of France have paid 16.8 cents, England 13½ cents and other countries a much higher rate.

Ready For 3,000 Claims.

Approximately 3,000 bonus applications are ready for action by the state soldiers bonus board, according to an announcement made at bonus headquarters in St. Paul last Saturday. At the present rate 15,000 applications will be ready for allowance by the board after November 15.

An additional supply of blanks arrived in Thief River Falls the latter part of last week and men are coming in daily to the offices of G. Howard Smith, of the American Legion, and Clerk of Court Eklund. A large number of the Pennington county men have sent their blanks in but owing to the small number of blanks received at each time the work of filling them out has been delayed.

Bound Over.

August Weimer, who was brought to the city last Thursday evening in custody of Paul Midderigh, deputy sheriff, from Brainerd, where he had been arrested, appeared in municipal court Friday morning and was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He was given his freedom without bail with the stipulation that Mrs. Weimer should report to the court in case he should fail to support his family during this time.

YANK QUARTET TO SING TRENCH SONGS

FOUR YANKEE SOLDIERS NEXT BILL OF LYCEUM COURSE. HERE NOV. 5.

Songs of the Yanks in France will be heard at the Auditorium next Wednesday evening, Nov. 5, when "The Fighting American Quartet" appears as the second number of the Lyceum course, brought to this city by the Thief River Falls schools.

These four Yanks, all wearing wound stripes and two of whom wear the fourrage, a decoration for service with one of the crack French regiments, will bring to the people of Thief River Falls the songs of the boys as they were given in the barracks, on the march and in the trenches. It will be an attraction par-excellence and no one should miss seeing those returned defenders of democracy.

"The Fighting Quartet" filled a remarkably long Chautauqua season last summer and everywhere they appeared they were given great ovations. They are rated as being one of the finest male quartets before the public on the Lyceum circuit today. A large number of season tickets have been sold insuring good attendances at all six numbers of the course.

Remember the "Fighting Quartet" next Wednesday.

Building Permits Granted.

Two building permits were granted by the city council at its meeting on Tuesday evening, the first being given to the First and Peoples State bank for an addition to the Scandia block to be used as a vault and also for making several other changes to the building. The cost is estimated at $10,000.

The second permit was issued to C. Gustafson and Son for the re-roofing of their office on Main avenue at a cost of $46.

OLD ALDERMEN STAY; BRATRUD ELECTED MAYOR

MAJORITY OF PRESENT BOARD WILL REMAIN ON JOB ANOTHER TERM.

TOTAL VOTE IS VERY LIGHT

JOHN DAHL AND ANDREW NESS RUN STRONG FOR COUNCIL MEMBERS.

John Bratrud was on Tuesday elected mayor of Thief River Falls, receiving 406 votes against 260 cast for his only opponent, Martin V. Evenson. Four members of the present city council were re-elected, as follows: Ole L. Ihle, president of the council during the past two years and alderman at large; Severn Brandon, alderman at large; Carl Froseth, First ward (unopposed) and H. A. Brumund, Third ward. In the Second and Fourth wards new men were elected, the choice falling on John Dahl and Andrew Ness respectively.

Was Quiet Campaign.

The election was one of the quietest campaigns in the city's history. Whatever of issues there may have been were of a strictly local nature and the result has no political significance whatever. The question of whether or not the moving picture theatres should be closed on Sunday evening was practically the only subject coming up for discussion, the general impression being that Mr. Evenson was the candidate of those who favored such closing.

Vote Was Very Light.

The total vote cast for the head of the ticket was 666, this being 57 less than two years ago when there were three candidates for the office of mayor. The highest vote was polled for N. W. Tarrant, who was elected to succeed himself as Judge of the Municipal court without opposition. He received 523 votes, this being 183 less than was cast for the two candidates for mayor. E. M. Evenson had no opposition for the office of city treasurer and received 12 votes less than Judge Tarrant. The two aldermen-at-large were also re-elected without opposition.

The total vote cast for the mayoralty candidates in the different wards was as follows: First, 199; Second, 146; Third, 138, Fourth, 183. The highest total vote for alderman was cast in the Fourth, there being 183 recorded there.

Vote by Wards.

The vote by wards for the different candidates was as follows:

DRAINAGE HEARING BEGINS TOMORROW

PETITION WILL BE PRESENTED FOR FORMATION OF NEW DISTRICT.

Hearing on petitions for the formation of a drainage district to include the entire Red Lake river valley will be held at the court house in this city beginning at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, and Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji, are expected to be present for the purpose of receiving the petitions and hearing the arguments thereon.

The request for the establishment of this district has been signed by residents of Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Marshall and Beltrami counties. It is expected that a large number of farmers living in the counties named will be on hand to urge that the request be granted.

BEGINS RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

NO HOUSE-TO-HOUSE CAMPAIGN POSSIBLE AT THIS TIME.

Chairman T. P. Anderson of the Red Cross Roll Call committee will soon mail notices to every person in Pennington county, requesting that the annual membership fee be mailed to his office in this city. This plan was decided on for the reason that it would be next to impossible to secure solicitors willing to make a house-to-house canvass at this time of year. It would entail considerable hardship on the volunteers and it is thought that the other system will work as [illegible]

All you need is a heart and a dollar". This is the fee for membership in this great organization, and the money is badly needed. The entire sum collected will not go to the national association, however. Under a new ruling a portion of the money together with that now in the treasury, may be used for the purpose of employing a county nurse. This will doubtless be done, the people at home thus getting the direct benefit of a large share of the money contributed. This is an important matter and it is hoped that all of our people will spare a dollar to help the good work along. The fact that a person receives no notice does not in any manner bar him from contributing.

Send the dollar to Mr. Anderson immediately as the report must go in to headquarters on Nov. 11.

Returns to Camp.

William Midderigh serving a three year enlistment period with the United States army, left Saturday morning for Coleraine to visit for a short time with his sister, while returning to rejoin his company of the Third division at Camp Pike, Ark., after a pleasant visit in Thief River Falls with his father, Paul Midderigh, and friends.

AWARDED VERDICT AGAINST RAILROAD

CARL HEDLUND HEIRS GRANTED $7500 DAMAGES BY ROSEAU COUNTY JURY.

A jury in the district court of Roseau county on Friday returned a verdict for the full amount allowable under the law in the case of Mrs. Carl Hedlund against the Great Northern railroad company. Hedlund was killed last June by being struck by one of the defendant's trains while riding in an automobile near Greenbush and the widow brought action for $7500 damages, this being the maximum under the Minnesota statutes. Judge William Watts of Crookston presided.

Attorney Hans O. Chommie of Thief River Falls, was the attorney for Mrs. Hedlund and he has received much praise for the manner in which he conducted the case. Pitted against George W. Peterson of Minneapolis, who appeared for the railroad company, he presented such an array of evidence to substantiate his claim that the engineer failed to give the proper warning upon nearing a dangerous crossing that the jury took but a short time to decide in his favor.

While the probabilities are that the case will be appealed, no steps toward such action has yet been taken by the railroad company.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO OPEN DOORS SOON

WOMEN ORGANIZE CLASS AND WILL USE GYM EVERY WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The Athletic club organized by G. A. Fallness will open the doors to their gymnasium under the Citizens State bank sometime during November, it was announced this morning.

The equipment for the place has been so slow in getting here, Mr. Fallness said, that the opening has been delayed far beyond all expectations. The first shipment has been received consisting of a chest exercising machine, dumb bells, Indian clubs, boxing gloves and a fine line of steel lockers.

The gym has been thoroughly renovated for the opening and there are several others changes to be made before the organization will begin operations.

A gym class from the Woman's club has been formed with Mrs. A. S. Sapero as chairman and already twenty of the women have joined and it is expected that more will become members. The women will have full use of the gym every Wednesday evening and the class will be instructed by Miss Gunlagson, a high school teacher, who has had considerable experience in gymnasium work. She also has charge of the Community Girls' gymnasium class which meets at the Lincoln high school every Tuesday evening.

WILL LECTURE ON POULTRY RAISING

C. E. BROWN OF CROOKSTON, TO SPEAK AT AUDITORIUM NOV. 19.

A lecture on poultry raising will be given at 7:30 on the second day of the Poultry show, Nov. 19, by C. E. Brown, poultry specialist from Crookston. This meeting will be held in the basement of the auditorium and a poultry breeder's conference will be held at the same time so that everyone interested may have an opportunity to consult Mr. Brown in regard to the caring for, feeding and raising of poultry. Information on culling of non-producers and building of poultry houses can also be secured from Mr. Brown.

The Pennington County Poultry association is now a member of both the American Poultry association and the Minnesota State Poultry Breeder's association. Ribbons and medals from both of these organizations will be awarded as premiums at the big poultry exhibit to be held in Thief River Falls, Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

THIRD ANNUAL POULTRY SHOW NOV. 18-19-20

BIGGEST EVENT OF ITS KIND IN THIS SECTION OF THE STATE.

1,000 ENTRIES EXPECTED

EXHIBITION WILL TAKE PLACE IN AUDITORIUM—PREMIUM LIST OUT.

The annual show of the Pennington County Poultry association will be held at the auditorium, Thief River Falls, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 18, 19 and 20. It will be by far the most interesting and instructive event of its kind in the history of Pennington county and one of the most important in the state.

Interest Grows Steadily.

The first time anything in the nature of a poultry show was attempted by the fanciers of Pennington county was three years ago. At that time there were 57 entries of birds of all kinds and the quality left much to be desired. A year later there were 110 entries and the show was held in the auditorium. A great improvement was noted at this time and it was predicted that the county would before long be at the top as a poultry raising community in this section. Last year the entries numbered 700 and C. E. Brown of Crookston, who officiated as judge, stated that it was the best exhibition in the entire Northwest.

Expect 1,000 This Year.

Association officials say they will be disappointed if there are less than one thousand exhibits this year and every indication points to a considerably larger number. Interest in the event is everywhere keen and there are many who are devoting a good share of their time to the breeding of the finest kind of birds. Mr. Brown will be the judge again this year and it will be interesting to note his verdict on the progress made.

Premium List Out.

The premium list has this week been issued from the presses of The Times and may be had by application to Secretary J. J. McCann. Provision has been made for very good prizes covering every kind of fowl raised in the section and there will be special awards for unusual varieties.

Every bird entered and not disqualified, except ducks, geese, turkeys and pit games will be judged by score cards and the cards sent to the owner of the bird after the show is closed. Ducks, geese, turkeys and pit games will be judged by comparison.

Three places will be awarded on cock, hen, cockerel, pullet, young or old, and exhibition pens in all varieties as shown in the standard of perfection except that no pen premiums will be awarded on Classes 12, 13 and 14, which apply to turkeys, ducks and geese. Ribbon premiums will be awarded to first, second and third place winners designated as follows: Blue ribbon, first premium; red, second and yellow, third.

The Cash Specials.

A number of special prizes will be offered, this being a new feature. Five dollars will be given for the largest display and a similar amount for the best display in the following varieties: Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Rhode Island Whites. Four dollars will be given for the best in the following varieties: Leghorns, Orphingtons and Asiatics and for the second best display in the show. There will also be loving cups awarded for the highest scoring cockerel, cock, hen and pen, and the association will pay $3 for the ten highest scoring birds in the show and $2 for the highest scoring bird. Special cash prizes will also be awarded exhibitors sending not less than ten birds a distance of more than 50 miles in order to exhibit them.

Boys and girls will be permitted to exhibit one male bird and one female, both hatched during 1919. No premium will be paid in this department on ducks, geese, pigeons and turkeys.

Secure a Premium List.

Any person contemplating entering poultry in this show should at once secure a premium list. The information contained therein will aid them in making selections, prevent errors and avoid consequent delay and disappointment.

New Bill Introduced.

G. Howard Smith, secretary of the local Legion post, is in receipt of a new bonus bill recently introduced in the House by Representative Morgan of Oklahoma and provides for the loaning of a sum up to $4,000 to ex-service men to be used in the purchasing of a farm or home. The bill provides for the paying back of the money in from 20 to 60 years with interest at 3½ per cent on a 60 year basis. There are now over 37 bonus bills in Congress to recompense the former soldiers, but it is not thought anything will be done by the law-makers until after recommendations are made at the national convention of the American Legion at Minneapolis on Nov. 11.

A large supply of bonus application blanks are also on hand at the secretary's office and also at Clerk of Court Eklund's office.

Moves to Gonvick.

A. F. LaBudde, for three years assistant cashier of the First National bank in this city, left Monday morning for Gonvick having become interested in the Farmers State bank at that place. He will also assume the post of active manager for the Farmers Loan and Land company, a $50,000 corporation dealing extensively in real estate in Clearwater and surrounding counties.

Mr. LaBudde became associated with the First National bank about five years ago, remaining until he joined the army shortly after the outbreak of the war. He assumed his former place when discharged at the end of the conflict, being a highly competent and valuable man. His strict attention to duty and genial personality made him many friends who will be glad to note his advancement while they will miss him from the many activities with which he became identified while a resident of the city. Being a business man of the highest order he will be a success in his new field.

YOUNGSTERS TO DISPLAY LAMBS IN BANK LOBBY

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB WILL HOLD EXHIBITION IN CITIZENS STATE BANK.

CASH PRIZES, FREE TRIP

FIFTEEN TO TWENTY ENTRIES ARE EXPECTED—SOME FINE SPECIMENS.

It is probable that there is not far from one hundred boys' and girls' lamb clubs in the state of Minnesota at the present time, but none will be able to display their pets under such favorable conditions as the members of the Pennington county organization. The pens will be built along the wall in the lobby of the Citizens State bank and amid these unusual surroundings the judging will be done. The exhibition will take place on Saturday, Nov. 15.

Also Offers Cash.

The officials of this bank have taken a deep interest in the sheep industry which has received such impetus in the county during the past year and are giving $50 in cash prizes for the best displays. The judging will be in charge of A. J. Anderson, assistant cashier of the bank, and J. J. McCann, county agent. Very few conditions attach to the privilege of entry, it being sufficient that the animals exhibited shall have been raised by some boy or girl who is a member of a sheep club. SUPT. W. A. ZIEGLER OFFICER OF N.M.E.A.

THIEF RIVER SCHOOL HEAD HONORED AT CROOKSTON MEETING.

Supt. W. A. Ziegler of the Thief River Falls schools returned Saturday from Crookston where he had been attending the annual meeting of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association. He was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization for the ensuing year. N. A. Thorson, superintendent of the Polk county schools, was elected president and Supt. H. L. Bleeker of Stephen, is the new vice president.

This meeting was one of the best in the history of the association, every county and nearly every city in the district being represented.

Dean William F. Russell of the University of Iowa, spoke on "The Problem of Bolshevism and Education." Dr. Thomas F. Kane, president of the University of North Dakota spoke on "The Teacher's Place and Work," and Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Minnesota gave an address on "Three Types of Teachers."

Still in the Service.

Last week The Times stated that William Midderigh was the first boy to enlist from Thief River Falls and the last to return. The latter part of this assertion was not quite correct, a fact called to the paper's attention by friends of Godfrey Carlson. This young man is still in the army, being a member of the military police and stationed at Coblenz, Germany, when last heard of. He says nothing to indicate the probable date of his return.

COUNCIL WILL ACT SOON FOR POLE REMOVAL

NEW ORDINANCE TO BE DRAWN UP FOR READING AT NEXT MEETING.

WANT ALL POLES IN ALLEYS

PLACING OF WIRES UNDERGROUND SUGGESTED—PHONE COMPANY MAY BALK.

That the city council will take immediate action on the proposition of removing the telephone poles from the streets to the alley in the business section of the city preparatory to paving, was indicated last Thursday evening at an adjourned meeting, when City Attorney Quale read the ordinance prepared to cover the situation three years ago, and the council then advised Attorney Quale to rewrite the ordinance and present it at the next regular meeting on November 11 for its first reading.

The ordinance, which was prepared three years ago never received its first reading for some reason, and with a number of changes to fit present conditions the councilmen believe it will be satisfactory.

All councilmen at last Thursday's session were in favor of enacting the ordinance that will compel the telephone companies to remove the poles to the alleys, although it may be necessary to litigate. The city will remove the electric light poles from the streets and Alderman Froseth suggested that they be placed underground while the job was being done to eliminate any further changing in the future, in case the alleys should be paved.

Location of Poles

Section 2 of the ordinance read Thursday states that it shall be unlawful for any telephone or telegraph company to set telephone or telegraph poles in any of the streets of the city and that after passage of the ordinance all telephone and telegraph poles shall be placed in the alleys in such place and in such manner as designated by the city council and no wires shall be strung over any building or buildings without the consent of the owner of such building.

Height of Poles

All telephone or telegraph poles used in the city must be 29 feet in height above the ground and set at least 6 feet into the ground and shall be of sound good timber, white cedar or other timber equally good for that purpose.

Removal of Poles

Section 5 of the ordinance says: "Whenever the city council shall determine by majority vote that any telephone or telegraph pole or poles now set in any of the streets or alleys shall interfere with the public use of said street or alley, or shall so determine that any telephone or telegraph poles which may heretofor been set in any of the streets of said city shall interfere with the use and enjoyment of private property, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner to notify the telephone or telegraph company who may be the owner of such pole or poles, to remove same from the street within thirty days from such notice."

Three Readings.

The new ordinance will differ in some respects to the one read to the councilmen last Thursday and is being changed to cover the present situation. Three readings are necessary and it will be in force after its passage, approval and publication.

Noted Pastor Coming.

Rev. S. J. N. Ylvesaker, pastor of the Lutheran church, Fergus Falls, will be in Thief River Falls next Monday and will preach in Trinity Lutheran church in the evening. Rev. Ylvesaker is one of the best-known pastors of this denomination in the United States and a speaker of great force. The hour of service is 7:45 and a general invitation has been extended to all to be present.

Coal Prices Not Raised.

There will be no raise in the price of coal in Thief River Falls unless the situation becomes more acute than at present, according to local dealers. The price fixing policy applied in larger cities is not in effect here and the matter is almost entirely in the hands of the dealers. These say there will be no advance in price unless there is an increase all along the line.

COUNTY CREAMERY UNIONS ADVOCATED

CO-OPERATION OF ALL MILK DEALERS IN STATE IS PLANNED.

Specialists and farm bureau men of the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota have started a movement to bring about statewide co-operation by the co-operative creamery associations.

Under the plan proposed for more general co-operation by Minnesota co-operative creameries, the county is to be the unit and ultimately a statewide federation is to follow. Owners and managers of private plants will be offered membership in the county organization. Co-operative creameries of Minnesota number more than 600, or an average of seven such plants for every county.

Biscay, in McLeod county, organized the first co-operative creamery in Minnesota. Houston and Stearns counties have joined the movement. Meeker has been organized for the same general purpose, but along a little different line. Martin county has a preliminary organization. Many other counties will be organized before the first of the year. Each will have a president, secretary and an executive board composed of all the secretaries of co-operative creameries within the county. The general membership will consist of all officers of associations and all buttermakers.

Thief River Girl Leads.

Miss Olga Granum of Thief River Falls was the leader on Monday in the automobile contest of the Grand Forks Herald. Others were crowding her for first honors, however, and as the campaign still has some time to run the outcome is by no means certain.

SCHOOLS TO PAY VETERANS HONOR

PROGRAMS TO BE HELD IN HONOR OF SOLDIERS, LIVING AND DEAD.

> "I have one sentiment for the soldiers living and dead—cheers for the living and tears for the dead."
> —Robert G. Ingersoll.

Appropriate and patriotic Armistice day exercises will be held throughout the Thief River Falls schools next Tuesday, November 11 in honor of American soldiers, living and dead, who helped whip the Germans, and which brought peace back to this earth after four years of strife and bloodshed.

On November 11, twelve months will have passed since the Germans hoisted the white flag, the cannons ceased to send forth their iron-bound messengers of death, and the famous armistice articles were signed at Spa.

The day has been proclaimed a patriotic one by Governor Burnquist and the schools are going to pay homage to the World war veterans and show them they realize the debt they owe to the boys of khaki. The school rooms from the first grade thru the high school, will be ablaze with "Old Glory" and some programs of exceptional merit will be given at the other buildings.

Negotiations are now under way between Mr. Farling and G. Howard Smith, association secretary, in an attempt to secure him and word is expected shortly.

This lecture and picture has been a feature at many Merchants' association meetings and has been declared to be a very good number. In this picture is shown all the troubles a merchant has to deal with and also shows a way to deal with them effectively.

DOWLING GIVES GREAT ADDRESS TO MERCHANTS

ADVISED PEOPLE TO GO BACK TO OLDER TIMES AND TO BUY WISELY.

OVER 200 IN ATTENDANCE

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM RENDERED AND EXCELLENT MENU PROVIDED.

"I stand for one language in the United States and anyone who cannot understand that language cannot understand the meaning of the Stars and Stripes," declared Michael Dowling, Olivia banker, former newspaper man and a speaker of international renown, at the second social meeting of the Thief River Falls Merchants' association last evening at the Commercial club room.

There were over 200 people present to hear the address.

C. L. Hansen, president of the First National bank, was toastmaster and he carried out his end in a fitting manner. A three course banquet was served by the Methodist ladies and to them is due considerable credit for the excellent manner in which the banquet was handled.

Musical Program.

There were several short numbers on the musical program and those which were given were received with several rounds of applause it being necessary to respond to encores in each case. Between courses the Fighting Yankee quartet, which appeared at the Auditorium last night as the second number of the high school Lyceum course, sang several songs. Miss Zella Zeh and Mrs. Mauritz Brink sang a duet entitled, "Tales From Hoffman," and so well did they please the large audience that they were forced to return with an encore.

The banqueters were then asked to rise, after a copy with a number of songs were handed out and Mrs. Gay Halvorson led the community singing that followed.

Dowling's Address.

Toastmaster Hansen in introducing the noted speaker of the evening, told of his experience as a speaker both in this country and abroad.

In beginning his address, Mr. Dowling dwelt on the early days in southern Minnesota and told of the railroad service and the cost of the necessities of life as compared with today. He recommended that people get together and talk over the matters of the day. He laid special emphasis on the present labor unrest in the United States and showed the relationship between employer and employee, pointing out that the wages have not gone up in proportion to the living costs.

He made a plea for the school teachers of the country and said a line must be drawn between coal digging and teaching. Teachers are underpaid, he said. He favored the putting up of bars to halt the immigrants from Europe from coming over here and getting a foothold and then returning to their old homes to rejuvenate their motherland. He also made a plea for good American citizenship and scored anarchists. He believed that charity should begin at home in this country and that this country's needs be attended to first.

Below is a stenographic report of the main points brought out in his address:

"Mr. Toastmaster, Ladies and Gentlemen: "Problems of Today" is a very large subject. I will only try to reach it from a few viewpoints and in doing so I wish to call your attention to the necessity of having courage, convictions and conscience, if you are going to solve the problems of today.

"They are many, and there are more for the human race today than in Methusla's time. But it is better to live five years at this time than 500 years a thousand years ago. Methusla had nothing on us. We are experiencing in our life time much more than Methusla experienced in all the years he spent on earth. We need courage to face the solving of these problems, and we need convictions in order to be armed for the fray. We need conscience in order that we may recognize the rights that the other fellow possesses.

In Thief River Falls I am pleased to note all the signs that go to make an up-to-date city. I walked around your city today and looked at your stores and your banks and at the stocks of goods in the various stores, and sized up your town and came to only one conclusion and that was that Thief River Falls is a live, progressive and up-to-date town. And I want to congratulate you.

"There are a few things that come home to us in discussing the problems of the day and one just now is the question of the employer and the employee, which takes up the high cost of living and keeping up with the styles and the necessity for having gasoline.

"When I first came to Minnesota from Massachusetts in 1877 there wasn't an auto in existence. There was one railroad running thru the

Christmas Seals Life-Savers

Following is the toll taken in Minnesota by a single preventable disease, tuberculosis: 2,430 lives last year, 202 lives every month, 46 lives every week, 7 lives every day and 1 life every 3½ hours.

Of these victims of the great white plague the majority were persons between the ages of 15 and 45, many of them young mothers and fathers with children dependent upon them for economic support and moral guidance.

Tuberculosis is the greatest single cause of orphanage and widowhood.

Disease annually takes a greater toll in life and property than does war—even than did the World war. Accepted statistics give the economic [illegible] culosis as $10,000. That meant a loss to Minnesota last year of $24,000,000.

There are 21,000 active cases of tuberculosis in Minnesota. Of these 6,000 are men and women who should be residents of sanatoria, and more than 7,500 are children who should have hospital care. But Minnesota's 16 tuberculosis hospitals have a total bed capacity of but 1,050. That means that there are approximately twelve persons to each one of these occupied beds. Draft examinations revealed that one-third of the men rejected as physically unfit were victims of tuberculosis. There were approximately 1,500 such rejections in Minnesota.

Funds raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals are used directly, except for a very small amount used for general state administrative work, in each county. This fund is used for educational purposes, establishment of various health clinics, to promote beneficial legislation and for the many other public health activities.

TWELVE MONTHS will have passed next Tuesday at 11 o'clock p. m., since the great world struggle came to an end on the battlefields of France, when the Germans hoisted the white flag and the famous armistice articles were signed at Spa.

It is a day long to be remembered for amid all the hiss and shriek and clangor and roar of the deadliest shells ever fired in moral combat on this planet, there came the message on the eleventh hour, on the eleventh day and the eleventh month: "Cease Firing." The war was over. America's cause had been won.

In commeration of that day, The Times re-prints a poem, written by one who was there, Private Hilmar R. Baukhage. His poem follows:

NOVEMBER ELEVENTH

We stood up and we didn't say a word,
It felt just like when you have dropped your pack
After a hike; and straightened out your back
And seem just twice as light as any bird.

We stood up straight, and God! but it was good!
When you have crouched like that for months, to stand
Straight up and look right out toward No-Man's Land
And feel the way you never thought you could.

We saw the trenches on the other side
And Jerry, too, not making any fuss,
But prob'ly stupid-happy, just like us,
Nobody shot and no one tried to hide.

If you had listened than I guess you'd heard
A sort of sigh from everyone there,
But all we did was stand and stare and stare,
Just stare and stand and never say a word.

An Unusual Bargain.

Housewives are offered something of particular interest in an advertisement for Loken Brothers on page 4 of this issue. For one day only—Saturday, Nov. 8—a large variety of aluminum cooking utensils will be placed on sale at a uniform price of 99 cents each. Goods of this class at such a price are something out of the ordinary and there should be a demand that will break all records for specials at the big store. The advertisement is worth paying particular attention to at this time when everything seems to be increasing in price rather than going downward.

WHY, my dear the thing is perfectly scandalous. Imagine it! Sadie hadn't been married ten minutes till she said she'd made a mistake and began carrying on with that young Jimmie Wakely. Actually planning to marry him, too. And the minister hardly out of the house!

"Then, to make matters worse, who should appear but a wife that Jimmie had married somewhere? Is it any wonder folks are talking?

"You're sorry for Sadie's husband? My goodness! you needn't be. Dear me, what's the world coming to?—

"No!—At the Lyceum Theatre?—with Billie Burke?—You don't say? But the affair is so shocking, really I—come, let's get tickets!"

Schools Will Have Page in The Times

STUDENTS TO WRITE ARTICLES ON SCHOOL SUBJECTS FOR PAPER.

Beginning next week The Times will devote one whole page to matters connected with the Thief River Falls schools and this program will be carried out for the remainder of the school year. It will be known as the school page and the matter of naming it has been left to the Lincoln high students.

The arrangement was effected the first of the week and when the matter was submitted to the students by Supt. Ziegler, they were all enthused over it. It was at first thought that a separate school paper would be issued but the idea was given up and The Times' offer accepted.

Each school will be covered by the students themselves while the English classes at the high school will write special articles on school matters that are assigned to them. Supt. Ziegler expects some mighty interesting stories will be produced which will be of much interest to everyone. The students are expected to take full advantage of the offer and Supt. Ziegler doesn't fear there will be any shortage of material. While at the teacher's convention at Crookston Supt. Ziegler discussed it with several educators and he believes the idea will be taken up generally at other places. All stories will appear exclusively in The Times.

J. O. THORSTAD ILL AT HOME IN CITY

SUFFERING FROM TUMOR IN STOMACH AND CONDITION IS VERY LOW.

J. O. Thorstad, for the past fifteen years a continuous resident of Pennington county, is seriously ill at his home, 403 State avenue north, and his condition is considered very grave by attending physicians.

J. O. THORSTAD

He was taken ill the latter part of last week and was found to be suffering with a tumor of the stomach. Several doctors have been called in to attend to the case which has been declared to be a very serious one. Mr. Thorstad has also been suffering severely from rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorstad, who have been residing on a fine farm in Sanders township for the past fifteen years, removed to Thief River Falls early this fall, leaving the farm in the hands of one of their sons. They came to Pennington county from Iowa and are well known in the county.

Mr. Thorstad has a large host of friends both in the city and county all of whom wish him a speedy recovery to his former good health.

Attending Convention.

By invitation of the national board of the Young Woman's Christian association, Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls is attending the field conference of the North Central Field in St. Paul this week. This conference is one of a series of eleven that will include all the field associations of the association.

At each conference the same group of speakers which has been nicknamed the Flying Squadron or Big 4 will speak on the world educational and finance program of the association. These specialists have been selected from the headquarters staff for their complete knowledge of associational principles, practices and spirit and for their familiarity with one of the great geographical divisions in which the association is working and expects to expand its work.

Reward Offered.

$25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who stole the billiard balls and other property from the Commercial club rooms.—Thief River Falls Commercial Club. n6

Our success proves that service counts

We firmly believe that our success has been due to one thing.

Never being afraid of doing too much for our customers.

We've served our patrons instead of being satisfied with just selling things for a cash profit.

And we are always going to serve them.

We are always going to give them just a little more than they expect.

For instance, we are always going to give them the benefit of our knowledge of good groceries.

This means that we not only keep our shelves filled with the best groceries on the market, but that we suggest things to our customers which we think are especially fine.

One of these things is RYZON Baking Powder.

We recommend it because we are convinced that everyone who tries it will be a still better friend of ours.

It costs but 40 cents a pound.

We also secure for our customers the famous RYZON Baking Book at 80 cents (original price $1.00.) It's full of new and attractive recipes which have all been tested. Of course especially adapted to RYZON.

THE ELECTION RESULT.

There may have been quieter elections than that of last Tuesday held in Thief River Falls, but one would have to go to some of the old-timers to hear of them. One reason for this was undoubtedly the fact that no matter how things went it was certain that three members of the present council would be returned, with the propects most excellent for the fourth. This would leave matters pretty much as they have been for the past two years, which is stating that they will be generally satisfactory.

The candidates for mayor were both good men and the executive branch of the city government would have been well looked after no matter which one the majority preferred. The choice fell upon Mr. Bratrud and there is not the slightest doubt but that he will prove worthy of the confidence reposed in him. A young man of exemplary character, progressive tendencies and sound judgment, he is in every way qualified to fill the position for which he has been selected. He is pledged to no policy except that of giving Thief River Falls a clean, business-like administration in which all citizens and interests will be treated on strict terms of equality. Mr. Bratrud realizes fully that in order to achieve the best results he must have the support of the people in whatever is undertaken, and that it will be his aim to merit this support is certain.

A good council has been elected. Messrs. Ihle, Brandon, Froseth and Brumund are now serving in that capacity and their past records are such as to guarantee that the best interests of the city as a whole will at all times be the sole consideration dictating their course. Mr. Dahl and Mr. Ness, the new members are good, substantial citizens who will give a good account of their stewardship.

The next two years are going to be busy ones in Thief River Falls. More important municipal work will be carried on than during any similar period in the history of the city. It is important that the men at the head of affairs shall have broad vision and enter upon all undertakings with a view to the future. A pinching, niggardly policy at this time might work untold harm and give the community a setback from which it would take years to recover. On the other hand a policy of extravagance must be guarded against in order that our people be not unnecessarily burdened. We believe that the administration chosen will meet the requirements in both respects.

A LITTLE OF THE SPICE.

While it is true that it keeps most of us hustling to make a living these days, it seems that our people are nevertheless finding time to give some attention to the finer things of life. Never has there been such activity along lines entirely removed from actual business as at present. We are having concerts, plays and entertainments of various kinds in great variety and profusion, and all of a class different from most of those heretofore presented. These affairs are well patronized, which is decidedly gratifying.

The Woman's club, as might be expected, made the start in this direction. This organization contracted for five entertainments of a very high order to be given during the fall and winter months. Next came the high school announcing the booking of a Chautauqua series of exceptional merit. Following this came the news that the Auditorium would be used for high-class theatrical productions whenever these could be secured without too great a cost. The Merchants association also arranged for talks on interesting subjects by men of national renown, the second address in this highly interesting and valuable series having been delivered last evening.

All of which is distinctly worth while. Cities the size of Thief River Falls are often found remiss in supplying things of this kind, the mere function of growing seemingly taking up all the surplus time and energy left over from purely business pursuits. It is a good sign when a community stops to consider the value of providing something entertaining and uplifting, and an unmistakable indication of progress in the right direction when the people will give both time and money toward the providing of something really worth while in the form of diversion. There is no danger of getting too much of it.

STICK TO THE RED CROSS.

Do not get the idea that your duty to the Red Cross ceased with the end of the war. The organization is as necessary today as at any time during the past five years and your support is as necessary to its maintenance.

Every person living in the United States will soon be asked to give one dollar for the purpose of having his or her name inscribed on the rolls of the organization. It is a small initiation fee to pay for the privilege of joining the greatest humanitarian organization the world has ever known.

You may think that the Red Cross will go right on functioning whether you are a member or not, and this is undoubtedly correct. But you will be dodging a duty by keeping out nevertheless. Every dollar is needed, and yours is as necessary as that of any other person. There are millions of people all over the globe needing the assistance extended by the Red Cross and it is simply impossible to meet the demand, even tho Americans do their full duty.

Do not drop your membership in the Red Cross now. Your dollar will go toward helping save lives or to provide necessities in some corner of the world. You will feel better at Christmas time if this little matter is attended to.

In common with every other newspaper in the country The Times has been notified, in strict confidence, that Senator Miles Poindexter is a candidate for the nomination for president of the United States on the Republican ticket. The date on which this startling information might be released with safety was set for Monday, Oct. 27. This was a particularly wise provision as it would certainly have been difficult for most of us to retain the secret any great length of time without busting something.

Judge Tarrant at it Again with Big Hogs

Judge Tarrant is at it again. Several weeks ago The Times printed a story about his honor being a corn raiser and how after careful attention and care to the plot, raised some corn that measured over eight feet.

Anyway on Monday he butchered his two hogs that he had raised from infancy last spring. The first one weighed 325 pounds dressed and the other tipped the scales at 275 pounds.

Newspaper Best For Advertising Farm Sales

Only a few years ago the principal reliance of the farmer in advertising a sale was the "bill" or poster; now it is said he is doing most of his advertising in his local country newspaper. "This change is a change for greater efficiency in advertising," says the agricultural journalism department at Iowa State College. "When you consider the number of farmers reached," it adds, "the newspaper advertisement is much the cheaper. Wherever farmers have watched their sale advertising they are strong in their endorsement of newspaper space."

The Times has the best equipped mechanical department in this section and does the best job printing.

TEN AND 20 YEARS AGO

Twenty Years Ago.

Following was the result of the city election held on the seventh: Mayor, Carl Kretzschmar, 183; F. H. Kratka, 6. Treasurer, J. W. Wallin, 176. Alderman at large, Hans Langseth, 98; C. J. Knox, 139; George Williams, 83; S. T. Johnson, 18. The respective wards elected aldermen as follows: First, John O. Aos; Second, Math Barzen; Third, L. P. Strannahan. The following were chosen justices of the peace: First ward, C. E. Traverse; Second, N. W. Tarrant; Third, S. T. Johnson.

southern half of Minnesota, starting at Winona and going to Lake Campaski, that attempted to run a train from Sleepy Eye on Monday and was supposed to get back the next Sunday. This was a tri-weekly run, and tried to run once a week. The conductor was station agent, sold the tickets and sent the messages from the box car. He was the whole system outside of the engineer. And everyone knew the conductor and everyone knew the engineer. For instance, that old conductor is still alive and is now running a line out of Mankato.

"This shows the necessity to spend money and acquire money. It is just like a dog chasing its tail. There is no end to it and so we never catch up with the expenditures, and while we are chasing our tail around in a circle it is well once in a while for a body of men and women to get together on occasions like this to discuss some of the things that are preventing progress and one of the great things that you are accomplishing in this manner is to get a unified thought; to think along the same lines. Not to think the same thoughts but to have the community think of the same problems at the same time and to bring the feminine and masculine minds to bear on the same question.

The employer and the employee question has been fought out so many times in this and other countries that it is a large subject to handle. The present conflict between the steel trust and the steel workers and the coal miners and owners is playing a large part in our life just now. These show how important it is to consider the question of the employer and the employee. It is not my intention to delve into the depths of it but to call your attention to a few facts. We all belong to one class or the other and we nearly all belonged to the employee class before we became one of the employer class, and it seems to me that we will come to a common conclusion that the employer is nothing more or less than a graduate of an employee. That the employer, if not a graduate from the employee class himself, is an employer because some thoughtful father or mother, or grandfather or grandmother, gathered the fruits of their labor and came into the employer class long before you or I were born, and have fallen heir to the results of their labor. The employer is no different from teh employee, even though advanced a little farther because of intelligence, thrift, or because he was busy when someone else was lazy. Without employers there would be no employees. If we listen to the people who work only with their mouths it would be necessary for us to run over all the ambitions and desires and industry of people with a steam roller, and then we would all divide the good things of life. But then there would be no good things in life to divide. It is against the greatest life ever lived on earth. Christ taught us that we could not uplift a race by a single act or take hold of a race and lift it up, but we only do this by taking hold of an individual and lifting him up and by his life and example He told the world that this was the only way in which people could advance in life. Therefore I say, that people must do something together toward reaching the top or they will surely slip to the bottom. Therefore that teaching comes to us and says there is no need for individual effort, no need for work, no need to educate our children is wrong.

When they tell us these things we know their philosophy is not the philosophy of Christ, but the philosophy of lost hope, and that kind of philosophy does not make us better men and women and certainly will not make the world better.

"We may hope to live in the other life something that is born of our experiences here. If we believe in that thought and lend a hand to the other fellow we are exemplyifiing the teachings of Christ and I am always ready to put the teachings of Christ before the teachings of a Socialist who tries to teach people to lay down upon their job and go against the teachings of the schools and churches.

"Let us take the problem of the employer and employe right here in Thief River Falls. The clerks in the whole United States form the one class of our population that has received the hardest blow and has the hardest load to carry. Their wages have not increased in proportion to the cost of living. Why should a man or woman stand upon their feet or sit in an office chair and pound the typewriter without regard for hours for some less than one-half what a Syrian or Italian gets who can't read the language of this country, does not understand the meaning of the American constitution, yet who can go into the coal mines in Pennsylvania and pull out $6 per day while a school teacher, to whom we intrust that very flesh and blood of ourselves, are compelled to work for perhaps one half what one of those persons from the south of Europe can accumulate for the purpose of going away from this country.

"They take the money which they pull out of the earth in this country to go to Syria or Italy. Why aren't our school teachers worth more than our coal miners? Why aren't the store clerks worth more than the immigrant who comes here to fill up with the gold of our country and carry it over to the other side to spend in a lavish manner according to the methods of that country or the class from which he comes. We need a re-organization of the thought of this country and of the ambition of this country. And to draw the line between school teaching and coal digging.

"I should pay to the least of the school teachers in this state twice the money that is paid to the coal diggers in southern Illinois. I would merely say, that I would pay every store clerk who has the loyalty and intelligence to give service to his employer, more in proportion than I would to the person of a foreign language and thought who stays here only a few years and leaves us to take care of the future of our country. Some say that can't be done. Why not? Why should we invite the people from southern Europe to take twice the money we pay our own sons and daughters, to go back and rejuvenate their own homes in Europe?

"The employe and the employer should discuss their problems with each other. They both kick about each other but not to each other. It is necessary to come to understandings and talk things over. Before you express any desire to your employer to raise the wage scale, why wouldn't it be a first-class idea to take an invoice of yourself. Take down from your shelves your unused abilities and then put them to work. Look into your attitude toward the customers that you are in touch with. Consider the value to the institution of your services and if you can convince yourself that you are of greater value to the institution than you are paid for, don't hesitate to go to the boss and say that you are worth more money. Show him the way. If he says he can't pay you any more, look around for some fellow who can pay you and will appreciate your services. But first of all take your invoice. Be sure you have the stuff in you and are worth more money and then go ahead.

"The great successful men in business are the ones who pay for service in proportion to the value of those services and who recognize this before the employe does.

"We must get back to the simpler ways of life and the sooner we do that the more pleasure we will have in life. We all try to keep up with Lizzie. We all see somebody we want to get by and in this hurry we have forgotten the great things in life and have helped to undermine the great things in store in the future of this country. This is a simple sermon but it is as true as gospel, and it is not the low wages that is bothering most people but it is the lack of knowledge of the real need. We must have courage, conviction and conscience to solve the problem of this life and when an employer makes an abundance over and above a square deal, he should divide up a the next question that comes up va, little bit without being called upon.

"The next question that comes up before a body of this kind and in a city of this size and such a community, is the relationship between the farmer and the merchant. Is the underatanding good or are they suspicious of each other? Is the farmer suspicious that the business man is making too much money? Is the farmer's wife jealous of the business man's wife and thinking that she is higher in the social world? Again I call your attention to the matter of conscience and courage to tell the truth. The truth told at all times in the relation between men and women in a business way will make better communities and better understanding between the men and women in the town and country.

"Don't condemn the farmer because he belongs to the Non-Partisan league. He should belong to some organization just the same as the baker or the merchant has the right to organize, but they should choose their leaders from among their own members.

"The soap box orator goes out to the farmer and becomes a fellow-being with him and tells him troubles that are not troubles and tells him enough truth so that the man believes all the rest of it. What do you business men do in relation to the farmers? You hear his complaints. You hear him say that you rob him but do your explain that you have troubles of your own? No. Why not tell him the truth and tell him things as the soap box orator does, only hew to the line of truth. The average life of a mercantile establishment is seven years, while the average life on the farm of a family is a great many more years than seven. And for that reason the farmer is anchored to his community more securely than a man in business.

"You need the farmer and he needs you. What we want is good clean American citizens who will fight to the last drop of blood to protect and defend the institutions of the United States.

"We will have to get back to the simpler ways of life and all get behind the wheel and push. I'm not a pessimist and do not believe in pessimissim. Some people think about doing things right, some people talk about doing things right and some people write about doing things right, but some people translate all those things into doing things right, and Theodore Roosevelt did that. We do not need a crank to keep things going here in America and the sooner we let the cranks know that we do not need them, the better it will be for us all."

Great Picture Coming.

Manager Brumund of the Princess theatre has made arrangements for the presentation here of "The World Aflame," perhaps the greatest photo drama of the year. It recently closed a phenominal run in Minneapolis after having been the sensation of the hour in the larger cities. This will be the first presentation of this picture in a city the size of Thief River Falls and it is doubtful if our people will have another chance of seeing it, at least until after it has made the rounds of the larger theatres. The play will be the feature at the Princess on Wednesday and Thursday.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS WILL COME FOR CONSIDERATION AT THAT TIME.

Pennington county's post of the American Legion will meet at the Commerical club next Tuesday evening, November 11—just twelve months from the time the great war ended.

There are also several other matters that will come up for consideration at the meeting and it is highly important that everyone should be there.

Pennington county's post now has a membership of 215, this being just seven members short of the allotted number of 220. The following is a list of new members who have joined the last week:

Have Her Sympathy.

A little friend of C. S. Simonson's has been under the weather during the past week and has had considerable time to read. She ran across the following in a magazine and sent it to the merchant to prove that the trials of his kind have been duly noted and are appreciated. The verses are by William F. Kirk and are as follows:

Who feeds the inner man each day?
 The Grocer.
Who hopes the other man will pay?
 The Grocer.
Who puts your food stuffs in a sack
And sends you on your homeward track
Not knowing when he'll see you back?
 The Grocer.
Who closes up each night and sighs?
 The Grocer.
Who goes to bed with heavy eyes?
 The Grocer.
Who walks all day from aisle to aisle
And seldom gets a pleasant smile?
Who longs to stop and rest awhile?
 The Grocer.
Who gets fresh eggs and fruit each day?
 The Grocer.
Who gets more promises than pay?
 The Grocer.
Who listens to your daily roar,
Your threats to try another store
Without a sign that he is sore?
 The Grocer.
He tries to do the best he can,
 The Grocer.
He's kinder than the average man,
 The Grocer.
When days are hot and tempers flame
And wild words take the place of tame,
Who nearly always is to blame?
 The customer.

Railroad News Notes

85 Cents Per Hour Demanded.

The convention of railroad shopmen adjourned last Friday at Pittsburg after appointing a committee of three to confer with the members of the railway employes' department at Washington, with a view to obtain a new wage scale. The scale which the shopmen voted last August to strike for if necessary, carries a wage of 85 cents an hour for craftsmen and 60 cents an hour for helpers. The wage scale committee going to Washington was instructed to ask for action on the request before the railroads are restored to private ownership.

Division Jottings.

A loose tire on sleeping car "Duluth" necessitated the car being taken off 110 Monday evening for repairs. The tire could not be repaired without causing a big delay in the departure of the train so it was detached and placed in the car yards and was taken on Tuesday evening.

The snow storm of Monday was general over the Northwest and reports coming in from over the Wheatline stated that the line was snowed in heavily at different points. The large cuts that the railroad runs thru on this west line is a big proposition in winter time and considerable money is spent annually fighting the snow in order to keep the line open.

F. Patton, machinist at the round house, left Monday evening for Marshalltown, Iowa, being called there by the death of his brother.

Eugene Hance, store room employee, and Carl Norquist passed Saturday and Sunday at Glenwood on a duck hunt.

John Eliason, machinist apprentice at the round house, passed Sunday at Detroit as the guest of his parents, returning Monday morning to resume his duties.

Carl Hovie and David Torreson, locomotive firemen for the Soo, left for Enderlin, N. D., the first of the week to work out of that place.

John L. Gasow, Soo engineer, was taken to the Physicians hospital Saturday morning with a severe case of appendicitis. An operation was performed and he is now getting along nicely.

J. W. Hicks has been added to the telegraph operating staff at Detroit, for the Soo on account of the large number of stock rtains.

L. E. Whiting is on a third trick operator at the Soo office here, being relieved at Henning by A. P. Johnson.

Director General Hines has not reached a decision on the wage demand of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Details of the recommendations made by the board of railway wages were discussed last Friday in Washington by railroad administration officials and President Lee, and the union strike committe to develop how the recommendations would work put id practical application.

PUBLIC FORUM

Mr. Evenson's Statement.

Editor Times: I wish to express my thanks to the voters of Thief River Falls who stood by me during the recent election in spite of all the false reports and stories circulated as to my stand on different issues in case I was elected to the office of mayor.

The issues referred to seem to me insignificant, believing as I do that there are things of far more importance to be considered at this time, and it is my purpose to sound a warning to the citizens and taxpayers. I ask that they get posted on what is going on around them. Improvements are contemplated that will cost the taxpayers approximately one hundred thousand dollars and I consider this fact worthy of more attention than the closing of the pool halls and moving picture houses on Sunday, which overshadowed all other interests in this election.

I also wish to say that I bear no ill will toward any person by reason of the outcome of this election, and I shall continue to work for the best interests of the community and for a bigger and better Thief River Falls. I also wish to extend to Mayor-elect Bratrud my sincerest wishes for a successful administration.

HAD TO LAY OFF MONTH AT TIME

PETERSON SPENT $500 FOR MEDICINES THAT DID HIM NO GOOD—RESTORED BY TANLAC.

"I have spent over five hundred dollars for medicine during the past five years, and Tanlac is the only thing that has done me any good at all," said P. F. Petersen, a well known fireman who is employed at the Milwaukee Novelty Dye Works, and who lives at 1557 Third Street, Milwaukee, the other day.

"I had about made all arrangements to be operated on," continued Mr. Peterson, "and after reading so much about Tanlac, I decided to postpone the operation and give this medicine a trial. I had suffered so long from stomach trouble without getting any relief, that I was finally told that an operation was the only thing left. I had reached the point where I would have terrible cramping spells in less than thirty minutes after every meal. I would often almost lose my breath on account of gas forming so bad, and the misery I suffered from headaches will never be known to anybody except myself. This trouble just gradually got worse all the time until I got to where I couldn't retain anything I ate—not even a glass of milk. I never slept well, in fact, there were many nights when I just had to walk the floor all night long and not sleep a wink. I was so nervous at times that I couldn't stand to have anybody talk to me. I finally got to where I could hardly get about, and would be laid up for a month at a time.

"Well, as I have already said I took Tanlac as a last resort before submitting to an operation, and I am mighty glad I did, for it overcame my troubles, and I am now a sound, well man again without having to go under the knife. You may believe it or not, but it's the truth if I ever told it, I haven't had a pain of any kind since I finished my first bottle of Tanlac, and I can sit down now and eat a big, square meal and it never causes me the least bit of trouble afterwards. I have gained ten pounds already and am back at my work and never lose a minute's time. A hard days work doesn't hurt me, either, for I just hustle home and wash up and eat as hearty supper as anybody, and go to bed and stretch out and sleep like a school boy all night long. Those headaches and smothering spells have left me, too, and in fact, I am in a fine condition in every way, and I'll tell the world that Tanlac is responsible for it all."

Tanlac is sold in Thief River Falls at Lambert's Drug Store.—Adv.

U. S. BUTTON MUST COME OFF COATS

LAW SAYS EITHER RED CHEVRON MUST BE WORN OR BUTTONS CHANGED.

Button, button, who's got the army buttons on his army overcoat?

If he has not a red chevron on the left sleeve he must change the buttons.

That's regulations except for men in the service.

Minneapolis recruiting officers are urging all former service men who are wearing their army overcoats to comply with this requirement. A penalty for violations of this military law is provided and the government might demand its enforcement one of these days, they announced.

Old Settler Dead.

Patrick Ford, for thirty-one years a citizen of Red Lake county, died last week at his home in Brown's Creek at the age of 81, following a general breakdown. He was born in Ireland in 1838 and came to the United States when a young man, settling at Hastings, Minn. When the Civil war broke out he enlisted in a Minnesota regiment and fought thru the entire war. He lost his right eye in one of the battles. In 1869 he married Miss Elizabeth Kink at Hastings and to them were born eleven children nine of whom are living, one being Mrs. Albert Kolp of St. Hilaire. The funeral was held from the Catholic church in Red Lake Falls, Rev. Thomas G. Morrill officiating.

Grady Elected.

Frank A. Grady, independent candidate, was elected mayor of Crookston over J. E. Morrisey, citizens' ticket, in Tuesday's election, by a majority of 258.

W. C. T. U. Notes

The Woman's Christian Temperance union has a distinct work for Americanization. It serves and protects our foreign-born sisters who toil in industries, the foreign speaking mothers and the foreign speaking home with the teaching of English. Moral education, contentedness with prohibition makes Americans. Two hundred thousand dollars of our Million Dollar Jubilee fund is for Americanization.

The Woman's Christian Temparance union will hold a Mother's meeting in the basement church on Horace Ave., on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 11, and every mother is urged to attend this meeting. One very interesting feature of this meeting will be a report on "The League of Women Voters" by Mrs. Hardisty. This league was just recently organized in Minneapolis and will be of special interest to every woman of Thief River Falls. Lunch will be served.

Card of Thanks.

We hereby wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors who so kindly helped us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother.—G. O. Gustafson, Mrs. Ole Lian, Gust Gustafson and Mrs. J. Odegaard. n6p

Begins Salesman Duties.

Arthur Granum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Granum, has accepted a position with the Western Importing company as traveling salesman and began his duties last week. Arthur's territory covers the entire state of Minnesota with the exception of the iron range and he sells only imported cutlery from the famous Swedish factories. He will make his headquarters in Minneapolis. Arthur has been a member of the local band for many years and will be missed by his friends, all of whom wish him success in his new position. He returned in June after service in France with the 88th Division, being a member of the 352nd Infantry band.

BEAULIEU WILL TALK AT CLUB ON THURSDAY

OPENING OF INDIAN LANDS NOT NEEDED FOR ALLOTMENT IS SUBJECT.

INDIANS DESIRE LIBERTY

30 YEARS HAVE PASSED AND INDIANS HAVE NO ALLOTTED LANDS.

Thomas H. Beaulieu, vice president, Society of American Indians, of White Earth, will address a meeting at the Commercial club rooms next Thursday evening, November 13, on the opening of certain parts of Indian reservations for sale and settlement.

In a letter to the Commercial club asking for a date on which he could put the matter up, Mr. Beaulieu states that there are now 1,500,000 acres of valuable timber and agricultural lands inclosed within segregated areas, designated as Indian reservations.

His letter follows:

Gentlemen:—Do you know that there are over 12,000 Chippewa Indians in this state, 90 per cent of whom are self-supporting and tax payers. These people are struggling for self-determination and full liberty as citizens.

Do you know that over 11,000 Indian boys answered the country's call in the recent great world war, a large number fought, bled and died for humanity, liberty and world democracy; many of these loyal Americans were Minnesota Chippowas. Today these boys are calling for self-determination, liberty from Governmental paternalism.

Do you know that there are upwards of 1,500,000 acres of valuable timber and agricultural lands inclosed within segregated areas, designated as "Indinn reservations" when the legislation of 1889 specifically provided that "all of the Minnesota Reservations, excepting the White Earth and Red Lake reservations as was not needed for allotment would be thrown open for sale and settlement, and so much of the White Earth and Red Lake as was needed for allotment would be open for sale," etc. Thirty years have passed and the Red Lake Indians have not yet been allotted lands. These and other equally interesting topics of vital import not only to the Chippewa Indians but to the people of the state likewise. And we would like an opportunity to talk and inform you on these subjects if you are interested and will arrange to give us a hearing on some evening as will be agreeable to your Club.

High School Lads on Job as Coppers

"Everything was very quiet" said Chief of Police Erickson Saturday morning when asked about the manner in which Halloween evening was observed in the city.

Halloween is explained by Daniel Webster as being the evening preceding All Hallow or All Saints day, which in many countries is traditionally devoted to merrymaking, with playful ceremonies and charms to discover future husbands and wives.

Very few pranks were played although there were a number of business houses where the windows were given a thorough soaping.

In former years several men have been added to the police force to see that too much distrubances is not caused while this year Chief Erickson tried a different system. Four high schools lads offered themselves to the chief Friday afternoon and were sworn in to act as special policemen for the night. The boys were Milford LaBree, William Herron, Stanley Sorenson and Reuben Hadrath.

The boys were on the job all evening and paraded proudly up and down the alleys in pairs and kept a close watch with their eagle eyes. Chief Erickson is well satisfied with their work.

Ed Korstad Returns.

After spending about two and a half years in Montana, E. M. Korstad last week returned with his family to Thief River Falls and will make this city his home. While not particularly regretting his Western experience, Mr. Korstad is now satisfied that this section holds out greater promises for an active and ambitious man than any other section of the country. He found things quite conveniently arranged for him here, being at once engaged as a salesman by E. O. Mogensen at the location where he formerly conducted a similar business. The family has gone to housekeeping in the Trovaten flats.

Turning in Poultry.

Last Tuesday was poultry day at Highlanding and the farmers in that neighborhood brought in 2300 pounds, which was taken by the Peterson-Biddick company of this city. The stock was brought to the store of Karl Korstad and taken care of without any hitch in the proceedings. So successful was this collection that another will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at the same place. As will be noted by the advertisement of the company, there are a few slight changes in price—all in favor of the man who has poultry to dispose of.

Announcement.

We wish to announce to our patrons that we are now located at first door south of Ogahmah Hotel.

Chairs Fly in Fight at Cafe; Sheriff Steps In

A fight in which chairs were thrown and other articles used, was pulled off at the Jefferson Highway cafe Tuesday evening. The battle was assuming a rather bad aspect when Sheriff LaBree stepped into the fray and stopped it. One of the participants received a bad cut on his head which necessitated medical attendance, while his opponent also got in some licks.

Sheriff LaBree closed the place up for the evening to allow the unsettled conditions to quiet down.

The principals in the fight, Fred Larson and Bernard Williams, were arrested yesterday morning for violating the city ordinance which prohibits fighting. Larson appeared before Municipal Judge Tarrant in the afternoon but because Williams was unable to appear, owing to the injuries he received, the case was continued until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

It was necessary to take five stitches in Williams' scalp, which was badly cut as the result of Larson having used a hatchet, it is alleged.

Competing For Maps.

The following rural school pupils have, thru their teachers, submitted essays on the subject of "Thrift" in competition for the United States geological survey map known as The New Europe. The figures following the name indicates the district to which the pupil belongs: Marie Blaska, 54; Tordis Swensgaard, 46; Alice Swanson, 38; Orlouine Osgood, 7; Ella Nelson, 7; Emma Kasea, 57; Agnes Peterson, 51. The essays were marked and graded by the normal training students of the Thief River Falls high school. These pupils are not personally acquainted with any of the contestants and were therefore in a position to do impartial justice to all concerned. After marking and grading, the essays were forwarded to the war savings department for the final tests with instructions that the best essays be returned for publication in The Times.

For Roosevelt Fund.

County Superintendent Geo. M. Gunderson reports as follows on the collections for the Roosevelt Memorial fund among the rural schools:

After the Moult—EGGS

REMEMBER, going through the moult is like going through a long spell of sickness. To force out the old quills and grow new feathers saps a hen's vitality.

If you expect your hens to be fall producers and winter layers, then feed them Poultry Pan-a-ce-a during and after the moult.

Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a

will start your pullets and moulted hens to laying

It contains Tonics that put your moulted hens in fine condition—Tonics that tone up the dormant egg organs—Iron that gives a moulted, run-down hen rich, red blood and a red comb. It contains internal antiseptics that destroy disease germs that may be lurking in the system. No disease where Pan-a-ce-a is fed. It pays to feed Pan-a-ce-a regularly.

It brings back the singing—it brings back the scratching—it brings back the cackle. That's when you get eggs; and it's eggs you want—fall eggs, winter eggs—when eggs are eggs.

Cutting the Corners

IN discussing the Standard Oil Company, a well-known lawyer said: "The underlying causes of whatever trouble this organization may have had are to be found in its efficiency and its advanced methods, which make competition difficult. As a producer and distributor of petroleum products the Standard Oil Company leads the world."

It is a matter of pride to those responsible to the 4649 stockholders that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to so operate its business as to insure a maximum production of useful products at a minimum of cost, and it has always been the policy of the Company to sell its products to the consumer at a minimum price.

During the past five years when the industries of the world have been disorganized by war, and the cost of production has been increased tremendously, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) by reason of its advanced methods has been able to keep the price of petroleum products at so low a point that the people of America can afford to use the output of the Company in ever increasing quantities, while elsewhere in the world only the wealthy can enjoy the comforts of these commodities.

This condition has been brought about by largely increased facilities, and by careful conservation of raw materials.

Thus, in spite of tremendous increases in cost of crude oil and labor, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to fulfill its obligations in a manner satisfactory and beneficial to the stockholder, the employee and the public.

STORY OF MIKE DOWLING AND HOW HE OVERCAME DISCOURAGING HANDICAPS

Speaker at Merchants Association Banquet Last Evening Shows What Pluck and Determination Will Accomplish.

The life story of M. J. Dowling of Olivia is almost as well known to the people residing in the far corners of the land as to his near neighbors in the county of Renville. His achievements in the face of handicaps that would have discouraged most men are so remarkable as to have been made the subject of magazine stories and articles by special writers all over America.

Those who heard his address to the merchants and their guests last evening need not be told that he is a remarkable man and the following story of his life, together with the circumstance which resulted in the loss of his hands and feet will be read with more than the usual interest now that they have had an opportunity of meeting the man himself and listening to his cheering message.

Difficulty, trial, hardship, obstacles are all necessary factors in the evolution of a great soul. A triumph over these obstacles in life's pathway furnishes the theme of our soul stirring literature.

If you want a man, who has been through them all and more, handicaps that make beggars of most men, yet who has succeeded, let me introduce you to M. J. Dowling of Renville county, no, I mean of America.

M. J. Dowling was born in Huntington, Massachusetts fifty-three years ago. Like many of America's great men, his parents were poor. He was left motherless at ten. He went west with his father to St. Louis, thence to Chicago, where the boy attended school, sold papers and learned the mysteries of the great city. Wishing to become a cowboy and kill Indians, little Mike at the age of twelve decided to shift for himself and left for Yellow Medicine county, Minnesota, and for two years worked as a farm hand.

In the summer of 1880 he collected a large herd of cattle to herd during the season. During this summer, with no company but his pony, he had time to reflect, learn the ways of nature and to plan his future. He was going to be a stockman, get an education and have a home.

The season of herding over, Mike went to Canby to collect his pay. Canby was the trading center of the farmers whose cattle he herded. December 4th, 1880, the boy was to go out in the country six miles away to complete his business. Be it remembered that 1880 was known throughout the Northwest as the "Big Snow Winter." He rode out in the country with two farmers in a lumber wagon and met the unheralded blizzard. When it reached its height, the men could not see their horses. The team could not keep the road and in racing across a plowed field, the boy was jolted out. The rattling wagon and seventy mile gale drowned his cries. He was alone in the storm and knew that some time that night his life was likely to end. Houses were scarce and he walked for hours. At last stumbling over a wood pile, he knew a house was near. He threw sticks in all directions, hoping by sound to locate the buildings. Failing in this, he moved in a circle, hoping again to locate shelter. In his search, he came upon a strawstack. Its inviting shelter could not be denied. So he burrowed in. In this stack he spent the rest of the night, fighting the slumber that foretells approaching death.

The storm over, the morning sun sent its dazzling light into the small mouth of his burrow. The boy Mike crawled out but found he could not stand. He crawled to the farm house less than a hundred feet away and on the door sill, he found a stick of wood. He had missed his mark by inches. This six inches was the margin between safety and disaster. Kind and willing hands took him in and the agonizing process of thawing out began.

Again a storm and three days elapsed before a doctor could be had and when he arrived he sadly shook his head. With little hope the doctor placed poor Mike on the kitchen table. All went well as long as the chloroform lasted, then the boy had to bear the completion of the amputation without its benefits. When the trimming was over, Mike was minus both legs below the knees, the left arm below the elbow, the greater part of his thumb and right hand.

With these handicaps, poor Mike was to make his way through life. Dr. J. W. Andrews of Mankato, still living, still says this was his greatest piece of surgery.

The homeless Mike became a county charge and was sent to Granite Falls. Here he met a kind and loving folk and was taken into the home of Ole Lende, as one of the family and here he also attended school, walking on his knees assisted by a cane held in his cripple right hand. Mike, though loving Mrs. Lende as his second mother, did not care to longer be an object of charity, so he made a proposition to the commissioners. If they would get him some artificial limbs, and send him two terms to Carleton college, he would relieve them from further responsibility. His plea was taken up by a newly arrived Norwegian who had both great faith and heart. This new arrival in America little dreamed that this homeless, legless, handless boy was to be his future son-in-law, but such was the case, for in 1896 he was married to Miss Kennie Bordewich.

Two hard, yet productive years at Carleton, then seven years a teacher, he decided to go out as a business man. He sold life insurance, owned and edited a newspaper; became Secretary of the National Republican League during the McKinley campaign; became special educational commissioner to the Phillipine Islands; Chief Clerk in the House of Representatives; in 1900 became a member of that body and was twice honored by being elected its speaker; is now a member of the Great Lakes & St. Louis Tide Water Commission. These are some of the many public trusts he has held. Mr. Dowling was a "good roads booster" before it became popular and was President of the Yellowstone Trail Association.

For the past two years he has done almost constant speaking for the Red Cross and Loyalty programs, the latter part of which he has been Uncle Sam's "cheer up" evangelist. He has talked in all our large hospitals for crippled soldiers, giving cheer and comfort and some mighty good advice.

His efforts have started some needed legislation to assist in the reconstruction and rehabilitation of crippled soldiers and industrial workers. In the New Jersey legislature, a bill of this sort was up for consideration. It was seemingly lost, Mr. Dowling addressed both houses and the bill was immediately passed.

England recognized his work as something they needed and invited him to come and tour their country.

He has now returned from a very successful tour, we mean successful only from the standpoint of results. Mr. Dowling says that the day is fast approaching when all cripples will be self-supporting and taxpayers, an asset to the state instead of a liability.

A Dowling Club was formed in his county, unknown to him and are boosting him for governor.

The idea of this little story is not to capitalize his handicaps as a means of attracting popular favor, but rather to add the personal note and to show the character of this remarkable man. Had these things never happened his public and private life, patriotism, experience, education and ability sufficiently commend themselves to make him a desirable candidate.

PE-RU-NA

This Lady TELLS Her FRIENDS

Mrs. Mary Fricke, 537 Bornman St., Belleville, Ill., is just one of the many thousands of ladies throughout the country who, after an agony of years, have at last found health, strength and vigor in PE-RU-NA.

Her own words tell of her suffering and recovery better than we can do it: "I suffered with my stomach, had awful cramps and headaches so I often could not lay on a pillow. Saw your book, tried PE-RU-NA and got good results from the first bottle. To be sure of a cure I took twelve bottles. I have recommended PE-RU-NA to my friends and all are well pleased with results. I will not be one day without PE-RU-NA. Have not had a doctor since I started with PE-RU-NA, which was about fifteen years ago. I am now sixty-three years old, hale, hearty and well. Can do as much work as my daughters. I feel strong and healthy and weigh near two hundred pounds. Before, I weighed as little as one hundred. I hope lots of people use PE-RU-NA and get the results I did." An experience like that of Mrs. Fricke is an inspiration to every sick and suffering woman.

MRS. MARY FRICKE

If you have catarrh, whether it be of the nose, throat, stomach, bowels, or other organs, PE-RU-NA is the remedy. It is not new; it is not an experiment. PE-RU-NA has been tried. PE-RU-NA has been used by thousands who once were sick and are now well. To prevent coughs, colds, grip and Influenza and to hasten recovery there is nothing better.

It will tone up the nerves, give you health, strength, vigor and the joy of living. Do what Mrs. Mary Fricke and thousands more have done—try PE-RU-NA. You will be glad, happy, thankful.

Citizenship Hearing.

Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund has received a number of inquiries from ex-service men, who are eligible for citizenship, and who desire to know if a special hearing will be held in Thief River Falls before February 17.

Clerk of Court Eklund has been informed by Naturalization Examiner R. K. Doe that he will not be in the city until Feb. 17, but that he will hold a hearing at Red Lake Falls on the 17th of November, and all those who failed to become citizens while in the army and who do not want to wait until the next hearing here can get their citizenship papers at Red Lake Falls by appearing before the court on November 17, 1919, with two witnesses.

Ex-soldiers can now get their citizenship papers in any county whether they live there or not. All they have to do is to appear before the court with two witnesses who can identify them and present their certificate of honorable discharge.

They must, however, appear at a time when there is a hearing on citizenship and the naturalization examiner is present as they must be examined by him.

FAIR ASSOCIATION LEADS IN SECTION

STATE REPORT ALSO SHOWS ATTENDANCE TO BE BEST IN NORTHWEST.

In point of attendance the Pennington County fair last summer was the leader in this section of the state by a considerable margin. The county association is also far ahead of any similar organization in northwestern Minnesota in membership. These facts are disclosed in the annual report of the Minnesota State Agricultural society, which was issued last week.

A comparison of the attendance and membership figures for all counties in the northwestern part of the state follow:

	Memb.	Attend.
Clearwater county	60	1,500
Kittson county	85	2,500
Marshall county	150	8,000
Pennington county	250	10,000
Polk county	55	....
Red Lake county	149	820
Roseau county	65	3,500

The report shows that the Pennington fair received $500 as county aid and $400 from other sources. The gate and grandstand receipts totalled $1,602.63, according to the state statistician's figures, which certainly does not correspond with the admission figures. The total receipts from all sources was $4,491.73. Polk county contributed only $250 toward the Fertile fair, the admission receipts were $1,842.50 and the total receipts $3,662.13. In Red Lake county the commissioners appropriated $1,000 for the annual exhibit, $558.55 was taken in as gate and grandstand money and the total from all sources footed up $6,824.54—more than $2,000 over the amount received in this county in spite of the fact that the attendance was only one-quarter as great. Marshall county also appropriated $1,000 as aid for the fair, the admission receipts were $3,069.79 and the total $5,687.49.

As the admission price to these fairs were all nearly alike and the appropriations fail to account for the difference in totals it is probable that the report is incorrect in many important details. About the only thing proven without a doubt by the above figures is that the local attendance was the best in the entire section and that the Pennington county association is the largest of the seven referred to.

TEACHER PRAISES EDITORS IN ARTICLE

SAYS TEACHER ONLY RECEIVE JUSTICE IN NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

Claiming that teachers as a whole are underpaid and that they do not receive as much as a man who trains a dog to jump thru a hoop in a circus, Miss Evelyn Day, of Lakota, N. D., in a communication to the Minneapolis Journal, pays a nice compliment to the newspaper editors and says that only in newspapers and periodicals do the teachers receive justice. The article follows:

Treat the Teacher Better.

"Only in the newspapers and periodicals do the school teachers receive justice. Now and then a clever cartoonist brings out scanty wages, our steel bowed glasses and our high necked waists to the gaze of the public. Occasionally an editor remarks that the school teachers, being human, ought to have better rooming and boarding conditions. And the editor and cartoonist are right. A person who trains a dog to jump through a hoop in the circus gets more pay than a teacher. Barbers, dishwashers and scavengers obtain greater compensation from the hands of humanity than the school teacher. When a teacher requests board and lodging in a town she is repulsed as if she were a case of scarlet fever. You do not know all these things because you are not a school teacher, but I do know them all.

The average teacher comes from a modest family—otherwise she would not be teaching; the average teacher comes from a home of refinement also, else she would not have an education that would warrant teaching. A community that employs a teacher owes her a place to room, a place to eat and a living wage."—Evelyn Day.

Contract Ordered Paid.

The city council at an adjourned meeting last Thursday evening passed a resolution authorizing the payment of $4,700.01 to the firm of Holt & George for sewer work which has been completed on the East Side.

BASKET SHOOTERS START PRACTICING

WINTER WEATHER NECESSITATES THE CANCELLING OF FOOTBALL SCHEDULE.

With the concellation of the football season, due to the early appearance of Old Man Winter, Coach Tomreansen's proteges are turning their attention to basketball and already a crew of aspirants for the 1919-20 team are working out at the Lincoln gym.

Prospects are bright for a ripping good team this season, for practically all of last year's men are back but just the same there's going to be a fight for positions. There is sufficient material in the high school this year to form three or four teams and some of the new men show signs of making fast players so every one will have to be on the job.

Paranteau, who starred at end on the football team, will be a candidate for one of the forward positions and is as clever a basket shooter as he is in kicking the pigskin. Then there is Schuster, McGinn and Penney, all crack players, and other good men to choose from. It is planned to stage an inter-class basketball tournament when the teams get going while the first team will get plenty of hard workouts with the different class quints.

The last football game of the season was scheduled to be played at the fair grounds Tuesday afternoon, but on account of the cold weather and snow-covered field, the contest was cancelled. This would have been the biggest game of the season and would have decided the championship of Northwestern Minnesota. Out of the football games played this year Tomreansen's men won two and lost one while Warren, Crookston, Stephen and Bemidji still remained on the schedule. Next year's eleven will be made up of mostly new men for a large per cent of the 1919 team is composed of boys who will be graduated with the 1920 class of the high school.

AMY ELLERMAN TO APPEAR HERE SOON

NOTED CONTRALTO WILL BE HEARD AT AUDITORIUM ON NOV. 15.

Miss Amy Ellerman, who is announced to sing at a joint recital with the Fleming Sisters Trio at the Auditorium on Nov. 15, is a notable example of the success a determined American girl can win for herself by patience and perseverance.

When the now famous contralto decided that her voice was worth training she also decided to make the experiment at her own expense. So first she learned fancy needlework.

For years while studying she supported herself by her needle. She took her needlework round the state fairs and the prizes it won for her brought her all the orders she could fill, and enabled her to save sufficient money to take her to the best masters in New York.

ARE EXPECTED TO SHOW 1,000 BIRDS

POULTRY FANCIERS WILL DISPLAY STOCK THREE DAYS NEXT WEEK.

The greatest poultry show in the state will open at the auditorium in Thief River Falls next Tuesday and continue until Thursday afternoon. County Agent J. J. McCann, who has the arrangements in charge, says that he is certain now that there will be 1,000 birds of all descriptions placed on exhibition, making the affair easily the most important in the history of the entire section.

The number of coops required to house this quantity of feathered stock will tax the capacity of the big building, but by narrowing the alleyways and piling coops up in tiers of three ample space will be provided. When the whole show is arranged it will be a sight worth beholding.

All poultry exhibitors should send in their entry blanks completely filled out as soon as they have decided on the number of birds that they intend to exhibit. Entries must be in before 10 a. m. on November 17. Birds must be in the exhibition room before 10 a. m., on November 18 as the judging will begin at that time. Exhibits may be removed any time after 1 p. m. on Thursday, November 20, and must all be out of the auditorium before 4 o'clock of that day as the hall is to be used for a lecture the same evening.

ENTERTAIN UNDER LEGION AUSPICES

DR. OSTEN-SACKEN AND METROPOLITAN OPERA COMPANY HERE NOV. 21-22.

An entertainment of unusual interest and merit will be given in this city on Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 21 and 22. Dr. Fritz Osten-Sacken, lecturer, will appear with the Metropolitan Grand Opera company under the auspices of Elmer J. Eklund Post, American Legion.

Dr. Osten-Sacken was formerly a [illegible] nobleman who came to this country because he objected to the conditions surrounding the people in the land of his birth. He was married here, became an American citizen, had two sons on the side of the United States in the late war and did a great deal himself to assist in its successful prosecution. He delivered an address here which is still remembered as one of the most noteworthy of the many to which our people were treated. His lecture now will deal with Americanism in general and with the conditions growing out of the war.

The Metropolitan Grand Opera company is an organization that has received a great deal of praise wherever it has appeared. The program is made up of numbers to please every taste and meet every musical development and has pleased the most critical audiences in many of the larger cities in this section of the country.

MERCHANTS BOOK FEATURE FOR DEC. 5

PICTURE ACCOMPANIED BY LECTURER WHO TELLS FASCINATING STORY.

The Thief River Falls Merchants' association on Tuesday booked the next feature for their third social meeting to be held on Dec. 5. The attraction consists of a lecture and moving picture entitled: "The Troubles of a Merchant and How to Stop Them." There will also be several stereopticon views.

Mr. Farley tells a fascinating story together with the movie, dealing with retail failures and causes, store organization, effective newspaper advertising for stores, window displays, credit business, salesmanship, store arrangement.

Arrangements are now being made with Mr. Farley to give a social welfare lecture and motion picture, giving a complete story of the Dayton Clean-up campaign. This lecture will be given under the auspices of the Woman's club in the afternoon of December 5.

The Merchants' association extends an invitation to all the retail dealers and clerks in Pennington, Marshall and Red Lake counties to attend this big feature which will be highly entertaining as well as instructive.

18 WILL COMPETE FOR PRIZE LAMBS

REPORTS SHOW THEIR PROFITS ON SHEEP RANGE FROM $7 TO $34.

Eighteen boys and girls are planning to exhibit their lambs at the sheep show to be held in the lobby of the Citizens State bank on Saturday, Nov. 15. The three highest exhibitors will be given a free trip to the state show at South St. Paul on Nov. 19. Twenty premiums will be awarded by the Citizens bank, so that all exhibitors are sure of a prize.

Each contestant is required to send in a story of how they raised their lambs and reports now at farm bureau office show profits ranging from $7.00 to $34.00 on the ewes or lambs owned by the club members. These records are to be sent in to the state department where they will be checked for premiums awarded for the best record. There will also be awards for the best lamb shipped to South St. Paul. All contestants are working hard for this honor.

WEATHER CAUSE OF SEWER WORK HALT

HOLT & GEORGE WILL ATTEMPT TO FINISH UNCOMPLETED JOB IF POSSIBLE.

The weather man has put such a crimp in the sewer work operations in Thief River Falls that the city council has notified Holt & George, holders of the sewer and water contract, to cease work until spring.

L. B. George stated this morning that the firm will try to finish up the jobs that are now uncompleted and fill in the trenches already dug. Two blocks of storm sewer has been laid while five blocks remain to be put in when the work will again be started in the spring of the year. They also have several water connections to make in the paving district, but this work will also be left until spring.

The firm had expected to finish up the entire job this fall but the subzero weather and large amount of snow made the work impossible.

Kirkwood In the City.

W. P. Kirkwood, who as chief of the office of publications of the university farm extension division, sends out the interesting matter contained in newspapers on crop and farm conditions in the state, is in the city today. Mr. Kirkwood has not visited Thief River Falls since he was assigned to write up a meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association held here some years ago and is surprised at the progress made since that time. His mission here now is to confer with County Agent J. J. McCann and other farm leaders with a view to making his department of more direct value to the people of the county. He has been doing a great work and is anxious to find ways of making it greater.

CITIZENS TALK WITH COUNCIL ABOUT POWER

COMMERCIAL CLUB COMMITTEE PRESENTS VIEWS AND FAVORS CHANGE.

ENGINEER MAY BE HIRED

MATTER OF CHANGIN SYSTEM TO ALTERNATING CURRENT IS DISCUSSED.

Shall the present 220 direct current be changed to an alternating current and what is to be done regarding the electric light and dam problems?

These are bugbears that have been staring city councils in the face in past years and the matter was again brought to the attention of the city dads at their meeting Tuesday evening by a committee from the Commercial club and interested citizens. H. W. Protzeller was chairman of the committee.

At a meeting of the Commercial club held October 16, a committee composed of Messrs. Herrick, Sapero, Anderson and Protzeller was named to confer with the council on behalf of the club regarding the electric light and power situation in Thief River Falls, believing that the time had come when something should be done. The duty of this committee is to offer to the council any aid which is in their power and to discuss the situation with a view to securing the most satisfactory answers to the problems which will face the city in the very near future regarding the electric situation.

Citizens Present.

At the time the delegation arrived the council was discussing the telephone pole removal and the laying out of a district in which the poles will be ordered removed to the alley, through the enactment of an ordinance. Attorney Quale had prepared such ordinance but when the councilmen began discussing the removal of the poles, it developed that they didn't want the poles in the alleys and wanted the wires placed underground instead when the change is being made. Attorney Quale was then instructed to draw up another ordinance.

Zeh to Seventh.

The councilmen in drawing up the district where the poles will be effected, favored the extension of the district beyond the paving section by reason of the fact that in other cities where paving has been started it has always been proven that the work is continued in succeeding years and the city dads want to be prepared. The council believes that if they have to litigate to cause the wires being laid underground, they might as well make one big fight now and have the wires placed underground outside the paving section for a few blocks, to eliminate any trouble in the future.

Protzeller Speaks.

H. W. Protzeller, chairman of the Commercial club's electric light committee, in his opening remarks stated a meeting had been held at the club rooms on October 16 and that everyone there felt as if he were a stockholder in a large corporation and the council acting as the board of directors.

"As long as nature has placed the power right here at our doors," said Mr. Protzeller, "we should not fail to develop it to the maximum efficiency. We are losing one-third of it through the present system, where if we had a modern equipment it would be different. The plant is old style and we ought to make a clean sweep of it all if we change it from the direct to an alternating current," he continued.

Mr. Protzeller gave a clear and concise summary of the whole situation and said the plant should be scrapped. He told of the superiority of an alternating current over the present direct current.

Take Vote.

A vote was called for by President Ihle of the council of those present, asking all in favor of the change to rise. The vote was unanimous. Another vote was taken as to whether an engineer should be secured to make a complete survey of the plant and find out the cost of furnishing power, and it was carried.

The awarding of bids for the White Way work was up at the meeting but this was laid over on account of the possibility of a change in the kind of current looming up.

COURT WARNS ICE CUTTERS TO FENCE

PUBLIC MUST BE PROTECTED AGAINST DANGEROUS PLACES ON RIVER.

Ludwig Strand, manager of the Red Lake Ice company in this city, was arrested Monday morning on complaint of H. J. Rustad, who resides just east of Squaw Point, charging him with having neglected to provide the necessary protection, required by law, at the place where the company is now cutting ice on Red Lake river.

According to the complaint the ice company had made several large cuttings and had failed to put up a fence that surrounded the entire opening.

Strand appeared before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant Monday afternoon and a fine of $25 was imposed but upon recommendation of City Attorney Quale the sentence was suspended.

Attorney Quale pointed out to the defendant that openings made in the river must be sufficiently guarded by a fence and that this fence must be left standing until the water has again frozen to the depth of six inches. Strand agreed to erect the fence immediately and said six inch boards would be nailed to the posts instead of stringing wire and also agreed to put up signs.

It will be recalled that about a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Rustad lost one of their children by drowning in Red Lake river as the result of an opening being made by ice cutters and left unprotected.

INDIAN LANDS IS SUBJECT AT CLUB MEETING

T. H. BEAULIEU OF WHITE EARTH, SPEAKS TODAY; OTHERS THIS EVENING.

MEANS MUCH TO THIS CITY

PRACTICALLY 200,000 ACRES WOULD BE LEFT FOR CITY TO DRAW FROM.

The opening of 1,500,000 acres of valuable timber and agricultural lands, inclosed within segregated areas, designated as "Indian Reservations," for sale and settlement will be discussed by Thomas H. Beaulieu, vice president of the Society of American Indians, at the Commercial club rooms this afternoon at two o'clock. The subject will also be the principal topic of discussion at the regular meeting this evening, when other speakers from the reservation will be on hand.

The opening of Indian lands not needed for allotment at the Red Lake reservation would mean practically 200,000 more acres for Thief River Falls to draw from besides the settlement of these lands would mean a road to Red Lake and would assist greatly in the proposed drainage project.

Mr. Beaulieu is well known to many local residents having been here in the early days twenty-six years ago, and was at one time employed by the government at Red Lake in estimating the amount of pine before it was sold to the lumber companies.

90 Per Cent Independent.

In a letter to the Commercial club asking for a speaking date Mr. Beaulieu pointed out that there are today 12,000 Chippewa Indians in the state, 90 per cent of whom are self-supporting and are paying taxes. He also pointed out that there were over 11,000 Indian boys in the American army during the World war and many of these were loyal Minnesota Chippewas.

30 Years—No Lands.

Mr. Beaulieu stated that 30 years have passed and the Indians at Red Lake have not as yet been allotted any lands, in spite of the legislation of 1889 which specifically provided that "all of the Minnesota reservations, excepting the Red Lake and White Earth reservations as was not needed for allotment would be thrown open for sale and settlement, and so much of the White Earth and Red Lake reservation as was not needed for allotment would be open for sale."

These are but a few of the many vital subjects that Mr. Beaulieu will take up.

28 EXAMINED FOR CENSUS-TAKER JOB

ALL SECTIONS OF COUNTY REPRESENTED—WILL BEGIN WORK JAN. 2.

Olaf A. Fetvedt, supervisor of the census for the Ninth district of Minnesota, conducted an examination of candidates for the positions of enumerator at the postoffice in this city last week. There were 28 applicants and all took the examination. The selections will be announced in time to permit of the successful ones getting ready to start work on Jan. 2, which is the date announced by the department for beginning the enumeration.

Mr. Fetvedt was much pleased with the interest shown here. There were a larger number of applicants present than at any other point he had visited and all seemed to be men of a high order of intelligence. He is expected to return to this city today or tomorrow.

Three hours were allowed in which to complete the examinations. The first part of the work was gotten out of the way in two and a quarter hours and the remainder finished well within the time limit.

Returns to Minneapolis.

IMPROVEMENTS SLATED BY SOO LINE FOR CITY

BUILDING PROGRAM CALLS FOR ENLARGEMENT OF ROUNDHOUSE AND SHOPS.

TO BUILD 8 MORE STALLS

NEW MACHINERY FOR SHOPS AND OTHER IMPROVEMENTS ARE ON SLATE.

Improvements, entailing the expenditure of thousands of dollars by the Soo Line for the enlargement of the roundhouse and shops in Thief River Falls have been slated by the railroad, it was announced to The Times this morning.

The improvement building program may begin next year, it was announced, but can be extended until the following year, according to present plans.

Eight additional stalls at the roundhouse are contemplated besides installation of a large amount of new and up-to-date lathes and other machinery, costing thousands of dollars. A drop-pit of the most modern pattern will be built in the new addition and the building program may include other improvements before actual work is begun. Although no definite time has been given out when the program would begin the work of enlarging the present roundhouse has been decided upon and will begin soon.

House Outgrown.

At the present time there are fourteen stalls in the roundhouse, but this establishment has been completely outgrown and engines must be kept outside on the sidetracks. With the addition of eight more stalls this would give the round house accommodations for twenty-two engines.

Twenty Millions.

During 1920 the Soo Line has planned extensions and improvements on its system that will mean the expenditure of 20 millions of dollars, as was announced in The Times two months ago. The extension will add about 500 miles to the Soo system and will be made in Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin. The program which has been held up by the war, has been awaiting only adequate legislation to permit the sale of securities for the financing, upon the return of the road to private ownership. Other extensions will be short additions and double tracking in three states, according to present plans.

Cover Several Years.

In addition to the extensions as outlined by railroad officials, general improvements to repair damage done in the last four years on the Soo system to provide for increased business, costing from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 a year, are planned.

NORWAY SONS HEAD TO LECTURE IN CITY

JUDGE T. O. GILBERT WILL BE HEARD AT AUDITORIUM NOVEMBER 20.

Judge T. O. Gilbert of Willmar, president of the grand lodge, Sons of Norway, will deliver an address at the auditorium, Thief River Falls, on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 20. The address will be in the English language and the subject will deal with the important issues now confronting the world in general and the people of America in particular.

Judge Gilbert is an orator of renown and has at this time a message that should be of interest to every citizen. He is a student of events and will give his view of the eventual result unless certain tendencies at present strongly in evidence are checked.

There will be no admission charged for this address and a general invitation is extended to the public.

NORTHWEST IS HIT BY SEVERE STORM

OLD TIMERS DECLARE IT TO BE WORST STORM IN YEARS.

Thief River Falls began digging itself out of the snow Tuesday morning, after a 48 hour snow fall accompanied by a 36 mile an hour gale that blew the snow around and caused drifts to form to the depth of five feet. Old timers state it was the worst storm in years.

It began raining Saturday evening shortly before six o'clock and later turned to snow and this continued for 48 consecutive hours. The total snowfall during the storm is placed at 7.7 inches on the level, according to Louis Rayson, government meteorologist. The amount of precipitation in the snow was 1.05 inches.

Monday morning the snow began falling thick and a strong wind came up, causing a blizzard that has seldom been equaled in this part of the country. The air was filled with snow and it was impossible to see more than a block ahead. Sidewalks drifted over and the storm did not subside until early Tuesday morning. City mail carriers had one of the toughest days in years wading thru the snow and in some places the drifts reached to their hips.

Considering the weather conditions the trains made a good record in spite of the severe storm. The Wheatline arrived about 2 hours late, while the morning train bound for Kenmare, N. D., tied up after reaching Overly. Trusty old 110, Soo flyer, was about an hour late as was the northbound morning flyer.

The Great Northern snow plow was sent out of Crookston to cut through the snow piles that had formed in the cuts out of Red Lake Falls. The morning passenger was only one hour behind schedule time.

The storm was general over the Northwest and the snow line reached as far down as Glenwood, while below that point it rained for two days. Grand Forks reports a heavy snowfall and a blinding blizzard.

LAIRD APPOINTED TO MAKE SURVEY

TESTIMONY WILL BE TAKEN IN PRINCIPAL TOWNS AND CITIES.

Scott Laird of this city has been appointed by Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to represent the state relief board in the matter of the Northwestern Minnesota districts damaged by flood last summer.

He will make an immediate survey and the board purposes to provide funds to prevent any suffering this winter among unfortunate settlers in the flooded area. Testimony from settlers will be taken probably in Thief River Falls, Goodridge, Grygla and other towns and cities in the flood area in making the survey.

A report to J. A. O. Preus stated that damage totalling $15,640 from floods during July and August and $4,775 from a tornado July 26, resulted in Koochiching county alone. Roseau, Pennington and Beltrami county settlers also suffered heavily in the flood.

Word was received in the city today from Mr. Laid that he has received the appointment but did not state when he would begin his duties. He will return tomorrow.

PHONE OFFICE AT GREENBUSH BURNS

OPERATOR POURED GASOLINE IN STOVE THINKING IT WAS KEROSENE.

The operator in the Northwestern Telephone company's exchange at Greenbush attempted to help the fire in her stove along by the application of kerosene last Saturday and succeeded in burning down the building. That she escaped with no greater injury than a rather severe scare is remarkable when the circumstances are taken into consideration.

The stove in the room refused to function properly and the operator attempted to assist combustion by pouring what she believed was kerosene on the embers. It now develops that she made a mistake in the can and used gasoline instead. An explosion followed which blew out both the front and back ends out of the building and set the place on fire. So rapidly did the flames gain headway that nothing in it could be saved.

Elmer Anderson, owner of the building, who conducted a jewelry store in one part, was able to save but one wrist watch out of his entire stock, his loss being estimated at $2,800, of which $2,000 represents goods on hand. He had no insurance on the latter and only carried $100 on the building. The telephone company's loss is about $600 on which there is no insurance.

G. L. Sterns, manager of the Northwestern exchange in this city, was notified of the fire at once and proceeded to get the office into working shape with the least possible loss of time. A switch board was sent up on the Great Northern at noon and by night new quarters had been procured and partial service established. By Saturday evening all the lines, including the farm service, were in running order. No similar job undertaken under such circumstances was ever put thru in better time, the service for the most part being interrupted but a few hours.

Public Health Clinic.

The eighth public health clinic, which was held in Newfolden last Friday, was very well attended. Of the 51 persons who attended this clinic, 44 were examined with the following results: Tuberculosis, 5; suspects, 2; negative, 22; other serious illness, 14; abnormal lung conditions other than tuberculosis, 1. It is an accepted fact that Minnesota leads her sister states in clinical work, and it is evident that Marshall county is doing her part.

The next public health clinic will be held in Strandquist at a later date.

An Instructive Show.

The moving picture film to be shown at the Princess next Monday under the auspices of the public health association, the Community club and the Woman's club, announcement of which is made in the regular advertising space of the theatre, should be seen by every man and woman in the community. The picture is of the highest educational value and it is particularly desired that the teachers of the city shall witness its presentation.

DISTRICT TAKES FIRST STEPS IN DRAINAGE PLAN

LARGE DELEGATION PRESENT AT HEARING IN THIS CITY LAST FRIDAY.

GENERAL IDEA APPROVED

ADJOURNMENT TO JAN. 29 TAKEN TO PERMIT PERFECTING DETAILS.

The petition for the organization of the Red Lake Drainage and Flood Control district came up for hearing last Friday in the court room in this city before Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, and Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji.

This proceeding was brought for the purpose of organizing the Red Lake river watershed into one flood control district under the provisions of the so-called Cliff Law, having for its purpose the control of the flood waters of the district after these are cast into the streams which are the natural outlets for all drainage projects in this immediate territory. The drainage features of the law, outside the care of the natural outlets for flood waters, are of secondary consideration only. The governing board will have no control of the drainage of the district as the present drainage laws are in no manner disturbed by the new proceedings.

Large Delegations Present.

The meeting was well attended, large delegations from the surrounding counties being present for the purpose of boosting the project. Supt. G. O. Selvig of the Northwest Experiment station, Crookston, headed an enthusiastic delegation from Polk county; J. A. Duffy and Chas. E. Boughton of Red Lake Falls, were present with a number of representatives, all of whom stated that they were enthusiastically in favor of the project. Julius J. Olson of Warren and other interested parties from that section of Marshall county likewise voiced their approval of the undertaking, as did representatives from Beltrami and Clearwater counties.

Wanted Immediate Relief.

Some slight opposition to the project developed on the part of residents of the Mud Lake and Thief Lake districts in Marshall county and a few residing to the east of those neighborhoods. The principal complaint voiced was that the project under consideration did not offer any immediate relief, it being set forth that the needs of that region were very acute. There was practically no opposition to the general plan even by these parties, however, and their case, which requires special consideration, could hardly be taken up at the general hearing.

Government Interested.

A great deal of testimony was taken in the matter. An important phase of the situation is the interest in the undertaking shown by the Interior Department and War Department of the Federal Government, particular attention having been paid to that portion of the proposed district relating to the Red Lakes and the Red Lake river. Plans and estimates have already been prepared by these departments aiming at the improvement of the river and control of the waters in the lake. These plans and recommendations are known as Document No. 61 of the Sixty-sixth congress and can be obtained by application to Congressman Steenerson or other representatives interested in the district. They are for free distribution.

Establish Permanent Level.

These plans contemplate the dredging of the Red Lake river and the establishment of a permanent level in Red Lake so as to constitute the same a reservoir for the storage of waters in order that these may be impounded at times of high flood and released gradually when the river is low, in this manner providing at all times a steady flow in the stream.

Would Lower Lake.

The government's report shows that the high water level of the lake is 1177 feet and the low level is 1173 feet—a range of four feet. The plans for the proposed control fix the high water level at 1174 feet and the low level at 1171 feet, a range of three feet and providing for a lowering of the lake level of three feet from the high water mark. War Department engineers estimate that this range of three feet in the storage reservoir of Red Lake will provide a capacity of thiry-six billion cubic feet of water, while the entire run-off of the Red Lake watershed is only twenty-six billion cubic feet a year. It is further maintained that such reservoir would hold the entire rainfall and run-off of the watershed for a whole year and still have a margin storage capacity of seven billion cubic feet to take care of emergencies. In other words, the storage reservoir would be 44 per cent larger than the maximum requirement.

Do Away With Seepage.

This feature of the enterprise should be of great interest to the settlers in northwestern Beltrami and the extreme east end of Marshall county—in the Grygla vicinity and east and southeast of that village. Settlers in that section maintain that a large quantity of water percolates thru the porous soil to the northwest of the Red Lake and ultimately finds its way into the system of drainage ditches in that region, thus lessening the value of these as conveyors of flood waters. The lowering of Red Lake by three feet should entirely eliminate this condition and secure a discharge of all Red Lake waters into the natural outlet for that body—the Red Lake river.

Flow Varies Greatly.

The War Department figures show that the amount of water discharged from the Red Lakes through the Red Lake river varies greatly with the seasons. A glance at the data submitted on this point are most interesting and demonstrate of what great value it would be to have these waters released gradually thru a regulation of the discharge at all times instead of having flood conditions at certain periods of the year and an insufficiency of water for industrial purposes at others. Following are the figures for the discharge at the outlet of Red Lake during the months from January to September, 1918: January, 49 cubic feet per second; February, 35; March, 257; April, 248; May, 279; June, 276; July, 128; August, 136; September, 76.
